

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 311– 312

Chapter 311

Bryan didn't speak, as if he hadn't heard: "You are tired from running so many places in a day? It's too early. I will let Lin Shui take you to the hotel and return to Jincheng tomorrow."

Mother Shao was obviously really angry. Seeing Lin Shui moved, she immediately slapped the table off the table and sneered: "I heard that you just bought a house, and instead of letting me stay at home, you want to go to the hotel?"

Bryan's brows darkened, and he sneered in his heart. He now has no privacy at all. The Qi family and Shang Rui are watching by his side, and there is really no dead end.

His lips raised slightly, and he blinked: "If you really want to go, then I will take you off. It's just a house, and empty is empty."

Lin Shui was stunned. Why was it empty? Father and mother Lu were still living there. They asked if Miriam didn't go home yesterday, and lied that she had spent the night with him in the company.

There was suspicion in Mother Shao's eyes. Qi Feng said that Miriam was living there. Although she was hospitalized now, she was not empty. It was obvious that Bryan didn't care at all, as if she had never lived.

"Where do you live? I live with you today." Shao's mother changed the conversation.

Bryan smiled and said, "You may not look up to the place where I live, but the last time you saw Miriam in the neighborhood."

Mother Shao stopped talking, her eyes flashed and she was shrewd. After a few seconds, she sneered and said, "I'm still going to accompany Miriam. Are you planning to accompany Miriam all night?"

"You are not suitable to meet now, and she can't be too emotional."

Mother Qi sat down instead and laughed: "I didn't plan to quarrel with her. Do you think I would do that? It's just that I came here to see her exclusively. Didn't I run away for nothing? Even for the children. I want to see it."

She was quite sincere, and she was quite a mother-in-law.

Bryan touched his brow with his fingertips, only glanced at Mother Shao, then turned his gaze to other places.

“With the lessons learned from the previous meetings, how can I trust you any more? I will take her to see you when she is ready.”

The anger in Mother Shao’s heart rose again, but she pressed her and said in a good voice: “Son, even if I harm anyone, I won’t harm you, let alone have children? I won’t make any noise after I go. , I won’t make trouble, I can tell when it is now, and I won’t make fun of children.”

Bryan turned his eyes to look at her. This is his mother. There is no doubt that she has used herself for so many years. She is almost imploring.

After a while, he opened his mouth and said: “You can go and talk with me for a while.”

Mother Shao nodded, picked up her bag and got up.

When he arrived at the hospital half an hour later, Miriam was eating dinner when she suddenly saw the person following Bryan, her chopsticks stopped, her face instantly stiffened.

Shao’s mother did what she said, with a peaceful face, and with some smiles, she passed the supplements she had brought to the caregiver next to her.

“Eat this for dinner?” Mother Shao glanced at the table on the bed and asked.

Miriam did not answer, but stared at the man as if questioning him.

“Mom, come and have a look, and leave later.” The man explained.

Miriam smiled sarcastically, but said nothing.

Bryan stopped talking. Mother Shao’s expression did not change. She turned to Bryan and said, “Go to the restaurant in Lujiazui to send some pregnant women to eat, as well as help to recuperate.” After thinking about it, he said, “Go in person, they Will drag and drop.”

Bryan stood still and said, “Lin Shui can also arrange it, so you don’t have to go personally.”

Mother Shao smiled and glanced at Miriam: “He is worried about his mother, thinking that I will harm you.”

Miriam smiled faintly, lay down, waved his hand to let the caregiver take away all the food, and said to Bryan: “Go ahead, I also want to taste what Lujiazui has.”

Bryan frowned, saw Miriam insisting, turned around, and told Lin Shui to look at the door, and tell him if there was anything wrong.

When he left the door, Miriam smiled and blinked, her face calm, her voice cold: “Just say anything.”

Mother Shao also got up from the hospital bed, patted her clothes lightly, and put on an arrogant expression: “You see, my son is only obedient to you now, do you feel very proud? Your vanity is also satisfied. Right?”

Miriam turned her head to the side in annoyance, she didn't want to listen to such words.

Mother Shao continued: “You haven't had anything less since you were pregnant. Don't think I don't know. This time it's a big fate. I picked three lives. But there are still three months left. Can you guarantee that the baby will be born intact?”

Miriam widened her eyes and smiled playfully: “You know everything, is it possible that you did it?”

Shao Mu's face changed, her eyes widened, and she glared: “What nonsense are you talking about!”

Miriam grinned, as if making a small joke.

Mother Shao calmed down for a moment, looked outside and lowered her voice again.

“It is a good thing that a child can be born. I will give you enough money to thank you, and I will take care of the child. In the future, I will train them to be no less than Bryan.”

Oh, it means she has to get out, sell two children for a sum of money, and will never interact with them in the future. In the future, the children will grow up and become famous, and she can look at them from a distance. By the way, thank this one Mrs. Shao's kindness.

Miriam looked at Mother Shao and smiled sarcastically.

Mother Shao looked indifferent, put her bag on the sofa, and walked two steps in the ward: “I know you are reluctant, but this is also the most appropriate way. The person who is worthy of standing next to Bryan is definitely not you, Qi Yun is me. The daughter-in-law I've identified since I was a child, I will do it no matter what method I use.”

Miriam sneered, staring at her firmly, saying, “Even if I die myself, I won't let them fall into the hands of your Shao family.”

Shao's mother didn't think she would be so fierce, she was shocked, and she was relieved: “He came to City Two to let go of Jincheng's key business for you. Now he is so indifferent to me, you want people to call him fascinated by s3x. The asshole with his head?”

“I don’t know about business matters. It has nothing to do with me if it is good or not. However, it is not my unilateral cause that the relationship with you is getting worse. I know this best.” Miriam’s attitude is extremely cold.

Mother Shao said that she didn’t please for a long time, and she couldn’t help feeling irritated: “You can’t keep your child in this way. Have you ever seen an ordinary pregnant woman experience something like you? If you agree with what I said, I can provide it to you. The safest environment, consider it carefully!”

Just after speaking, Bryan came back and took a look at Lin Shui. Lin Shui shook his head and opened the door.

Seeing him back, Mother Shao picked up her bag and was leaving soon.

Chapter 312

The man was holding food in his hand, and seeing that Miriam’s expression had not changed, he did not stop Shao’s mother.

While putting things on the table, she turned her head and asked her: “What did you say?”

Miriam looked at the pile of food, and the fragrance exuded was particularly attractive.

“Just talk about the kids,” he blinked, and pointed his chin to an exquisite pastry, “I want to try that.”

Bryan squeezed a hand to her mouth.

“What’s the matter with the child?” His eyes were deep, looking at her.

“Is Aunt Cai discharged from the hospital? Ask her to come and see me before I leave. If something like this happens, I’m sorry.” Miriam changed the subject.

The man didn’t say a word, and ate something with her. Seeing that she had no appetite anymore, he put down the chopsticks.

“She is at the police station now and can’t see you.”

Miriam was surprised, her eyes widened unconsciously, “When did it happen? Because of what?”

Bryan looked at her too much, and his thin lips opened slightly: “What are you asking her to do? Didn’t you doubt her?”

Miriam shut her mouth, he probably knew everything.

“How did you know?”

The man didn't say much: “Check it.”

I'm afraid she hasn't realized that if it wasn't for people who were not seriously injured, I'm afraid this would be a very serious accident. Police investigation is a normal procedure, and it is impossible for him to miss any details.

Miriam pursed her lips, watching him move the table aside and lift her quilt.

“Get up and walk, don't you feel uncomfortable lying down all day?”

Miriam silently glanced at the injured leg and broken wrist.

In the next second, the man picked her up by the waist, hung in the air without warning, startled her.

“Will you go like this?”

Miriam twitched her eyes and said nothing.

The man stepped out, Lin Shui pushed his wheelchair and waited outside.

“There is a wheelchair.” Miriam saw it at a glance, but Bryan glanced at Lin Shui gloomily without a trace.

Lin Shui scratched his head. He was worried about General Shao's physical strength. The pregnant woman's weight was already a lot heavier. He would definitely be exhausted after walking around. But some people didn't appreciate him, and thought he had broken the atmosphere.

Pushing down the stairs, Miriam absent-mindedly, the man glanced at her.

“Although there is no monitoring in that area, but there is in that car,” his voice suddenly rang in his ears, “Yesterday a car appeared from the intersection with a license plate blocked, and the speed was very fast. You could have avoided it, but because Her wrong command caused you to hit the railing directly, and that angle can only make you hurt more severely.”

Miriam was silent for a long while after hearing the explanation.

“Is there any evidence?” asked again.

“The police interrogated, she said it herself.”

Miriam looked up: “What did you say?”

The man's throat moved.

Telling her is not necessarily a good thing, but she must know what kind of people can trust and what can't.

“She took other people's money to prevent the child from giving birth. It has nothing to do with her mother and the aunt, but she still doesn't know who hired her.”

“Can't find it?!” The voice rose a lot, “Or she didn't say it?”

Bryan noticed that her mood was not right, and stopped.

“She said it was Sophia, because she hated me and my mother, and my mother was in a lawsuit with her in Jincheng during this period. It is very likely to be true. The police have already gone to Jincheng to do Sophia's transcript.”

Miriam didn't believe that Sophia could do such a tricky thing. Thinking about it so carefully, she deliberately let herself see that scene that night, then quarreled with the man next to her, and finally got in the car, and she was the only one who followed her.

“Sophia definitely denies it, even if she did it, she would not admit it, let alone not.”

Bryan put his big hands on top of her head, pierced her long soft hair with long fingers, massaging slowly: “Whether it is or not, I want the person behind to know that hurting you is a painful price.”

Miriam was stunned, when he said this very naturally.

“There are still a few months left, just go through safely.” This is her only desire now, the older the child, the more worried.

What Shao's mother said just now rang in her ears.

...

However, I saw Sophia in the hospital the next day. She was wearing a white dress, but she was not ironed, so she was a little wrinkled, she had no makeup on her face, and her hair was a little messy. When she saw Miriam, she smiled and carried Leng Ran and happy from the heart.

She looked up and down, and smiled sarcastically: “Why, I'm not getting better yet, it's your turn? I heard that I ran over to see it, and I was really not disappointed,” she still wanted to say something as always Just say nothing.

Miriam didn't care. Now, anything she said would not easily arouse her anger.

She changed her expression and was a little fierce: “But it won't work if I have to frame me. I was in a lawsuit with that old guy and suddenly said that you had also intervened, which I can't bear.”

Bryan stood behind the wheelchair, his thin lips lightly opened, and did not say much: "Tell the lawyer these things. We are not obliged to listen to you here."

Miriam didn't care, turned to look at him, and said calmly: "Let her talk, maybe she can provide any clues."

Sophia smiled weirdly, and mocked: "I didn't expect you to be considerate of me in the end, but don't expect me to be grateful."

Miriam shrugged.

"I don't know any Aunt Cai, and I've never seen it before. She insisted on me, thinking someone has an enemy with me, or thinks I am a bully," she said with a sneer, closed her eyes, "Let me see Your mother, I will tell her the rest."

Bryan frowned: "Why do you see her again? Now I will thank you and tell her that I may not get anything."

Sophia smiled, except for her pale face and the haggard who had just been discharged from the hospital, she couldn't see anything unusual.

"I want you, can you give it?" She gave a weird smile. Seeing the man's eyes darkened, she chuckled: "As far as I know, she came here yesterday. It shouldn't be difficult to call out immediately. Give you an hour. time."

"If you have anything to tell me, it's the same."

Sophia had made up her mind and only wanted to see Mother Shao.

Mother Shao was finally picked up in a hurry, and her face changed for a moment when she saw Sophia.

"You asked me to see her?!" questioned the two.

Without saying a word, Bryan asked Lin Shui to stay and pushed Miriam to leave.