

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 315– 316

Chapter 315

The man was stunned for a moment, and then the corners of his mouth opened with a smile: “You can scream for me twice, I won’t hurt anymore.”

Miriam’s eyes twitched, not understanding his logic.

“It’s all hurt like this, and my mouth is so poor!” Miriam glanced at the man lightly, and said casually.

It took a long time before the bandage was completed. The entire upper body was covered with bandages. The man was very awkward, and his sculpted eyebrows were more serious than when he was injured.

There was no clothes to wear, the doctor kindly took out a piece of his own clean clothes for him, but he didn’t accept it.

Miriam knew with his toes that he was abandoning others.

He smiled and said, “Maybe I feel uncomfortable for a while. Give me the clothes and I will let him put them on later.”

The doctor went to greet other patients without saying much.

Bryan glanced at the washed white blue and white striped shirt in her hand, turned her head to the side, with some awkwardness: “Yan Ke is coming soon.”

Miriam hung his head and folded the clothes with one hand. Anyway, it was kind of others.

Ten minutes later, I put on a brand new high-definition suit, but I can still see the bandage inside him, which is somewhat unnatural.

Miriam was pushed back to the ward. After settling down, she asked him, “I smashed the vase. Why did you say that it was you? Is Sophia’s injury serious?”

If you examine the vase carefully, you will definitely find that she took it.

The man poured a glass of water and handed it to her with his left hand.

“What you admit is not a legitimate defense, it will be more troublesome. It is not convenient for you to deal with those things now.”

There was nothing wrong with this explanation, but he did not answer Sophia's question directly.

"Did your mother and Sophia have any news?" I saw him answer the phone, but didn't speak in front of her.

"It's okay, Sophia is slightly injured, don't worry," the man watched her drink half a glass of water, shook her head down after receiving the glass, and continued, "You sleep for a while, I'll go over and take a look."

Miriam saw that there was nothing unusual about him from beginning to end, and was a little relieved. After experiencing so much just now, he suddenly relaxed and closed his eyes and became sleepy.

Bryan waited for her to breathe evenly before leaving the house, closing the door quietly.

Lin Shui was standing at the door glaring at him, a little anxious could be seen on his face.

He walked further down the corridor without making a sound before stopping.

Bryan asked in a deep voice, "How's it going?"

"The old woman is already awake, and Sophia is still in a coma. The doctor said that she didn't know when she would wake up, and...not sure if she would wake up." The muscles on Lin Shui's face almost wrinkled.

"Where is the police station?" The man continued to ask without showing any emotion.

"Yan Ke has passed, there should be no problem, but," Lin Shui hesitated, looking at the man carefully and asked, "If you push things to you, the media will definitely not be able to keep it from you. By then, they will be promoted and promoted. , The impact on Longteng... immeasurable."

President Long Teng was seriously injured and unconscious. If he is unlucky, or even severely injured to death, no matter how innocent the incident is, he will be able to find a lot of points that can be attacked.

The man's brows were heavy, and after a while, he suddenly turned his head and asked him: "Do you have a better way?"

Lin Shui was taken aback.

He definitely didn't dare to say that Miriam was responsible, otherwise he would be unlucky first before Long Teng got into trouble.

"No...no."

Bryan turned his head back unsullenly, stood still for a while, turned his head and glanced at the ward before raising his foot to leave.

After getting in the car, he told Lin Shui: "Go to Qi's house."

Lin Shui glanced at the rearview mirror, the man's compelling aura appeared slightly, and the cold breath that only Miriam was absent could be felt far away, I am afraid the Qi family would suffer.

Half an hour later, Bryan saw Qi mother.

"Bryan! Just now I heard that you had an accident in the hospital, and Yun'er hurried over! Didn't you meet her? Are you all right?" Qi mother greeted her at the door.

Bryan was expressionless and stepped back.

"I'm not interested in where she is going. My mother returned to the hospital after coming here just now. It must have been a sudden rise to see Miriam."

Mother Shao accepted her smile.

"Bryan, what do you mean by this..."

"You have experienced so many things. I will understand what I say. Miriam is my wife. She is now and will be in the future. Don't tell my mother anything that hasn't been done. In the end, she won't thank you. , I will not be polite to you."

Qi Mu's face became ugly.

"I'm only talking for her good, but also for your good."

Bryan couldn't help sneering: "I respected you as my elder since I was a child, and I came here to say more. If you don't listen to me, I won't come again next time," he turned around, "Take care of your body. Hello, madam."

Mother Qi watched him driving away from a distance, panting heavily in her chest, her eyes like torches.

Old lady Qi didn't know when she arrived in the yard, and walked slowly over on crutches.

"People still have to be kind, after all, no one is a fool, let alone such a good young man." When passing by Qi's mother, his slightly old voice carried a wise way of seeing everything.

Mother Qi returned to her senses, glanced at the old lady's back, a ray of light flashed by in her eyes.

Sophia was in a coma for two days without waking up, and the Fu family came over, and a big uproar was unavoidable. Bryan made preparations in advance and was taken away before letting them do it for long.

“What are you looking at?” Miriam was staring at the scenery outside when Bryan came in from outside.

Seeing him in casual clothes, it seemed that he hadn't gone to the company.

“How to deal with Sophia?” Miriam asked immediately in the next second.

Bryan took out the same things she had brought from home, ranging from pillows to underwear.

As he tidied up, he replied: “Knocking and hurting people must be sentenced. The Fu family is still tossing in the middle, waiting for the sentence to be pronounced.

“What about her injuries?” Miriam asked.

“For defense, you can't give a light penalty just because you're injured,” he said, walking up to her with long legs, “don't think about it, how about these two days? Is there any discomfort?”

Miriam looked helplessly at her lower abdomen. It didn't feel good that her hands and feet were tied up. What's more, she was pregnant with a child, and it was a bit unbearable to sit all day long.

Bryan raised her brows and saw her thoughts: “Take you out for a drive?”

Miriam looked up: “The doctor will definitely not let me. Let's be honest.”

Even so, the desire in his eyes cannot be concealed.

The corner of Bryan's mouth bends, he leaned over and picked her up slowly, and kissed her on the lips: “Listen to the doctor, you won't be able to get out until you have given birth.”

Miriam smiled faintly.

He took her to the ring road by the sea. It was the evening, with the sea breeze and the setting sun. I am afraid there is no more romantic moment than this.

I arrived at the top of the mountain after half an hour, and the unobstructed scenery was breathtaking.

Chapter 316

The man lifted Miriam out of the car and let her sit on the rock next to her.

Miriam remembered that his arm was still hurt, feeling a little guilty, and glanced.

The sea breeze blew her hair into disarray, and her hair floated to her mouth, raised her hand to shake it away, before touching it, the man stretched out his hand.

Fingertips ran across her side face, the white and smooth skin was reflected blush in the sunset, and the long eyelashes and beautiful nose made the whole facial features more three-dimensional and delicate.

As soon as the hair was hooked, it hung behind the ear, but did not move his hand, stroked the ear, his eyes were deep and focused, as if to impress her in his heart.

“If she pierced her heart today, what would you do?” The man’s voice was faint, without any emotion, but his fingers were still hovering in her ears, and he could feel a touch of charm.

Miriam was stunned. She hadn’t thought about this problem, only that she didn’t want to experience it again at that moment.

He opened his mouth and didn’t know how to say it.

The man lowered his eyes, his lips curled slightly, as if he was saying to himself: “There is no such possibility, I will not leave you alone.”

Miriam’s pupils shrank, blinked, and her lips closed.

“Does it still hurt?”

Miriam stretched out her hand towards his shoulder, her voice very soft.

The man’s eyes flashed, filled with a smile: “Distressed?”

His face became quicker and he was more joking.

Miriam said: “You can’t help it hurt me.”

The man raised his eyebrows, slid his fingers to the bridge of her nose, shaved lightly, and narrowed his eyes: “The truth?”

Miriam’s eyes widened, facing him, with a slight smile, beautifully picking: “I’m good at saying things against my heart?”

The man laughed and stood up straight.

“I haven’t said a few truthful words to me.” The magnetic voice looked at her with affirmation.

Miriam hated the feeling of being oppressed and seen through, turning her head to the side, but couldn't help thinking about what he said.

Didn't you really tell him the truth? how is this possible.

When I was newly married to Yaner, I mustered up the courage to show his favor countless times, but I got almost expressionless responses, or just a faint "Don't make trouble", and after a long time, no matter how passionate people are, they will be defeated.

The waves were blowing, and there was silence between the two of them, listening quietly to the slap of the water. The stones standing in the water may have existed for tens of thousands of years, and they accompanied the waves.

Where are the two of them? Can you stay with me like this?

When he returned to the hospital, Father and Mother Lu had been waiting for a long time. When he saw Miriam, he ran over in a hurry. Seeing Lu Bryan holding her, he was even more anxious.

Father Lu was really angry this time, his face was heavy, and Mother Lu did not speak when he complained.

Miriam sat on the bed and comforted Mother Lu. Lu Bryan went to arrange dinner and set aside time for them to speak.

Miriam hadn't been afraid of Father Lu since she was a child, but once he got angry, it was much more frightening than Mother Lu's noise, so she didn't dare to speak for a while."Okay, who do you show your face! If your daughter is hurt and still in pain, don't put pressure on her." Lu mother groaned.

Miriam followed with a smile, her eyes crooked and childish: "Dad, I didn't tell you that I was not afraid that you were worried, but that I was afraid of seeing your poker face. I made my own mistakes and I knew it myself."

Mother Lu smiled helplessly and shook her head, then nodded her head.

Miriam stuck out her tongue.

"You can still laugh, you don't want to think about the consequences! You don't ask me and your mother when you go out in the middle of the night, and you have to drive your own car with two babysitters! Ask which pregnant woman can do such ridiculous things!"

Miriam lowered her head, feeling that what she had done recently was really absurd, so she could only nod her head continuously.

Although the belly is big, it looks like a child.

Father Lu cursed a few words, and he couldn't bear to continue to say what she looked like.

"From now on, I know that you will give birth to your child and you will not be able to leave the sight of your mother and me. You and Bryan will wait a few months before talking about everything."

Mother Lu did not agree or object, and took the fruit to the kitchen.

"It's all about Dad. Just do whatever you say. Don't be angry."

Father Lu sighed helplessly and looked at her: "I have figured it out in the past two days. If you are not at ease with Lu Bryan, you might as well be separated. Although there are all kinds of bad things, it is better than tossing every day."

Miriam was silent, and he could hear that Father Lu was talking about this very seriously.

"I won't talk about him, but do you have the energy to deal with those things about those people in his family now? It's still early."

Miriam pursed her mouth, her eyes were obedient, but she never said anything.

After a while, he said: "I have considered these more than once, and what you said is not wrong, but," the eyebrows were ethereal, remembering something, "the moment he was injured yesterday, I didn't lie to myself. , I haven't deceived others, I really can't let it go."

Father Lu sat quietly, looking at her as if he understood but was entangled, sighed for a long time, and turned around and went out.

As soon as the door opened, Lu Bryan stood quietly outside.

When Father Lu saw him, he nodded respectfully, and said warmly: "The food is ready, you and your mother will eat first, and Miriam's will be delivered right away."

Father Lu's face was strained and he nodded invisibly and left.

Seeing him coming in immediately, he blinked, and saw that he looked the same, and closed the door.

"Are you always at the door?" couldn't help asking.

The man did not answer, came to the hospital bed, leaned over and held her back of the head with his hands, not allowing her to be repeated, the next second he domineeringly covered her thin lips, attacking the city, and instantly sweeping everything.

Miriam's eyes widened, shocked and too late to react, so she could only let him pick her up.

The man slowly let go when he kissed the ground. The thin lips had not yet left, and they drifted to her lips, and the breath was blowing gently.

A slightly dumb voice sounded: "Yes."

Miriam's head stuck, and he didn't realize what he meant for a while, but immediately remembered that he was answering the question just now.

His face flushed, and his ears were pink, causing the man to bite twice.

"Don't tempt me." Shen said.

Miriam gritted her teeth, who tempted him...

But his lips couldn't help but smile.

"I'm hungry, where's the meal you ordered?" He leaned back and met his eyes.

The man's thin lips curled, and his eyes were charming: "I can feed you."

Miriam was calm on the surface: "..."

The man narrowed his eyes, and a dangerous aura spread: "Don't believe it?"

Miriam is a little bit empty, she has seen a man's tiger-wolf attitude, he won't really want to...

"I'm really hungry, go and remind you." His eyes dodged.

The man laughed deep: "Yeah."
