

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 321– 322

Chapter 321

Miriam took a sip of water in silence when he saw his calm look, without saying anything.

At this time, I couldn't understand him very much. Is it to prevent her from worrying and pretending to be relaxed, or is there another plan?

In the evening, when the three Lu family were walking in the hospital garden, Lu Mu suddenly mentioned Aunt Cai.

"She went home and recuperated for a few days, and she was almost fine. I asked Bryan that she had already given her a sum of medical expenses and mental damage. I called her yesterday and I just picked it up. I haven't said yet. What? She said right away that she had found a new employer and she was really scared if she didn't come to us!" Lu Mu said as she used to talk, but Miriam suddenly turned her face.

"When did she leave the hospital?"

Mother Lu thought for a while: "The next day after the car accident, she left shortly after she woke up. A mild concussion will be fine after a couple of days."

Father Lu suddenly asked, "I haven't dared to ask you two days ago, how did the car accident happen and what was the situation at that time?"

Bryan asked her about the car accident from the first day, and never mentioned it again. She was really scared at the time, and she didn't want to tell him that after so many days, her vague memory became more chaotic.

"I didn't drive fast at the time, but from the rearview mirror I saw a fast-driving car suddenly came out from the side, I subconsciously hid, and Aunt Cai called next to me, but then I couldn't remember..." Miriam raised her eyebrows. She didn't really feel the moment of the crash. She just felt a pain in the back of her head, and the following things were no longer clear. These days, she had been wondering whether it was a terrible scene that was too exciting and automatically blocked.

"Have you asked Aunt Cai?" Miriam asked.

Mother Lu shook her head: "We didn't even know when she left, only Bryan knew. Now that I think about it, it really feels strange. It stands to reason that I should tell me how."

Miriam faintly felt that Bryan knew something but didn't tell her that things were not that simple.

Lin Shui was stopped by her when she delivered the meal at night.

“Where is Mr. Shao?” Miriam asked.

Lin Shui was taken aback, she rarely asked him about Bryan’s whereabouts.

“Still at the company, are you looking for something to do with him?” Miriam didn’t wait for Miriam to speak, and immediately said diligently, “It should be back soon, I will pick him up at the company immediately.”

“Don’t worry,” Miriam said, “I’ll ask casually.”

Lin Shui stopped, scratching his head, not knowing whether to go or stay.

“By the way, did you handle Aunt Cai’s affairs?” After thinking about it, he added, “She went home.”

Lin Shui nodded quickly: “Yes, I handle medical expenses and other compensation.”

Miriam nodded, and then asked, “Why let her go?”

Lin Shui was startled, and his face was puzzled: “Mr. Shao said that she had already talked to her, and she wanted to leave on her own initiative. Maybe she felt...a bit dangerous.”

“I see, you can go out.” Miriam picked up the spoon with one hand and prepared to eat. Lin Shui suddenly said when he closed the door, “By the way, I am recovering very quickly. I can go through the discharge procedures in these two days. I go home and rest.”

Lin Shui immediately looked distressed: “Well... you should tell Mr. Shao yourself, I dare not go through the formalities without authorization.”

Miriam curled her lips and secretly scolded herself for being so stupid. How could Lin Shui help her if he didn’t speak.

After Lin Shui left, just after eating, the unexpected guest arrived.

Qi Yun still dressed up intellectually and elegantly as always. Needless to say, she was so talented and clever that she might not be able to learn in this life.

Putting down the fruit basket, standing by the hospital bed, very naturally said: “How is the injury?”

In any case, Miriam couldn’t pretend that nothing happened like her.

But he didn’t have the energy to fight wits and courage, and replied incomparably: “Fortunately, please come here specifically.”

Qi Yun didn't use lipstick today, and his faintly colored lips smiled softly: "Yes, I will also take part of the responsibility if you are injured." After stopping for a moment, the air was a little stagnant.

Miriam was silent, but the atmosphere became a little awkward.

Miriam wondered what her purpose was. She should know if Bryan is not there.

After a while, he said, "I will leave Longteng soon. I apologize for the confusion I caused you before."

Miriam was a little surprised, but there was still no change on the surface, and she would never be grateful to thank her for understanding.

"I am not interested in Miss Qi. Since you condescended to tell me, I wish you a good start in your career." Miriam smiled faintly at her and blinked after she said it.

Qi Yun didn't care about her attitude, she suddenly lowered her head and laughed, then raised her eyes again, her beautiful black eyes were bottomless, but the smile at the corner of her mouth Miriam could see clearly, with a hint of sympathy.

"Do you know? I often envy your luck, but most of the time I feel more sympathetic... and even hate you. I don't know how to cherish. You, which I desperately wanted, grabbed it in my hand without any effort, while still complaining about it. Complaining about that," the smile darkened, the curvature of the corners of the mouth decreased, and there was a little more coolness, "If you really don't love him, then you will completely disappear. If I leave, it does not mean giving up. Don't forget that he is single now. I have The reason is qualified to continue to approach him."

Miriam's face was completely gloomy and expressionless: "Of course, I haven't taken the initiative to stop you from beginning to end, haven't I? Also, I warn you that you have no right to guess other people's feelings."

"But you are forcing him." Qi Yun's eyes were stained with cold anger.

Miriam sneered, tit-for-tat: "That was also his voluntary."

"Haha..." Qi Yun smiled Shen Shen, "You'd better always maintain this confidence. If you don't have it, you may never laugh again."

After speaking, gracefully turned and left.

It wasn't until the door of the ward closed with a 'bang' that Miriam blinked, and her sore teeth loosened, but the breath was still in her heart, and the anger in her eyes became more angry, she picked up the pillow and smashed it out.

When Bryan came in, he saw the two pillows lying on the ground. Miriam lay on his side with his back facing him.

She knew she was not asleep just by feeling.

Walked over and gently straightened her body: "What's the matter?"

The moment Miriam saw him, the breath suddenly disappeared, knowing that there was no reason to get angry at him, and Qi Yun's departure must have been his favor.

After blinking, his voice was slightly hoarse: "Supper is not delicious, I want to go home to heal my injury."

After speaking, the man couldn't help laughing.

It seems that I have suffered a great grievance, but it is a trivial matter to say it.

She doesn't know how cute she looks like this.

"That's it?" The man smiled.

"What do you mean?" Miriam frowned. It was too difficult for her to live in this place where anyone could appear casually.

Chapter 322

Seeing that she couldn't stand the teasing, the man didn't continue joking. He slightly straightened his face and said gently: "Lin Shui has already gone through the discharge procedures. We will go back later."

Miriam opened her mouth in surprise.

The man had already started to pack up her personal belongings. After a while, he was carried into a wheelchair. Father Lu and Mother Lu downstairs were already waiting.

"It's been less than a week since the injury, can I go back?" Mother Lu looked at her worriedly.

Bryan said gently: "The doctor will check up every day, and the nursing staff will also go back to take care of you. Don't worry."

After hearing this, Mother Lu's expression slowed down, and she lowered her head to tell Miriam: "Go back, you can't do any more mischief, your body and the child can't stand the toss."

"Mom, the car is here, you go up first, and Miriam and I wait for Lin Shui to come over." Bryan picked up Miriam's words, and Miriam didn't lose face.

Mother Lu glanced at Miriam and said to Bryan, "Don't be too used to her."

The man smiled and nodded. Miriam frowned. When did she become a kid?

It is also a happy thing to be able to leave the hospital. Miriam was in a good mood. The man glanced at her from time to time, and his heart moved slightly when he looked at her soft profile.

“Recently, being bored at home can allow friends to be guests. Parents should also like the excitement.” The man suddenly said.

Miriam turned her head and blinked.

“I know, I’m planning to contact Kristy, and haven’t asked her how she prepared for the wedding.”

More than a month has passed, and there is almost no news about Kristy and her Mr. Huo.

“Then let them come home tomorrow, so you don’t want to run around.” Bryan glanced at her feet and said.

It was getting dark, Miriam suddenly saw the big screen about Longteng’s latest information on the roadside through the car window, and his eyes moved.

In the news, Fengrui has secretly taken over many of Longteng’s business. The six months that Longteng laid down in City Two made wedding dresses for Fengrui, and may soon withdraw from City Two.

“What news is Shang Rui recently?” Miriam asked abruptly.

Bryan raised his eyebrows: “Why ask him suddenly?”

“Is it his counterattack this time? Did he do something secretly? Everyone can see that the biggest beneficiary is Feng Rui.” Miriam’s face was calm, her beautiful eyes flashed bright.

After hearing this, Bryan leaned back comfortably, looking at her for a while, “If it were him, can you see how he did it?”

Miriam lowered her eyes brightly, her eyes flowed, and she thought for a moment.

“Public opinion is just superficial skills, not so lethal. It can only give Longteng’s original customers tangible benefits, but I am very curious about what this benefit is and who provided it.” Miriam’s smooth forehead Exposed, frowning slightly between the eyebrows.

The man smiled at the corner of his mouth, touched his chin with his finger, nodded slightly, and continued: “You can guess.”

Miriam pursed her lips, pondered for a moment, and her eyes suddenly lit up: “The bank! He would never be so stupid that he would pay for the profits to those customers, cooperate with him, and rely on Fengrui’s great business to always get more loans from the bank. A lot of money, but the name is Fengrui, but they have to pay back the money themselves, but,” Miriam puzzled, “Why did Longteng not do this before? Since it is an investment company, these are inevitable?”

Bryan’s eyes were appreciative, he closed his smile, his eyes were deep, and his thin lips lightly opened: “Because this is just a quick move, Shang Rui’s unwise move in order to win City Two as soon as possible, he probably won’t I know, my father has already walked these roads, and the results are not very good.”

“What happened afterwards?”

She didn’t know much about finance, so she was very curious.

“It is impossible for all customers to make money with the loan. Some lose their money, and some are forced to die. At that time, it will not be easy to close the market. The first to launch is Longteng.”

These are all experiences he experienced when he was a child. Father Shao has been working hard for so many years and has never missed, but at that time he was still young and his father didn’t understand this, but when he really took over Long Teng, he became more and more grateful for his father’s detours. .

“How did you solve it in the end?” Miriam couldn’t help but sigh, even more curious.

Bryan smiled: “What else can I do? Spend money.”

Miriam had a meal, then these capitalists were still playing money.

Back to the immediate question: “But you can’t wait until then, I’m afraid that Longteng’s market in City Two is gone.”

Bryan suddenly reached out and touched her earlobe, with fine fluff, and it felt great.

Miriam’s body trembled and was touched by him before hiding behind him.

The man laughed: “What can you do?”

Miriam squinted at the man, he was clearly confident, and he still had to ask himself this financial idiot?

“You are the boss, always ask me what you are doing.” Miriam glared at him.

Bryan has no temper at all, and is still very gentle. Miriam feels that he has changed too much recently.

“Rania made an appointment with me to meet tomorrow. I thought about it. It’s not good to meet alone. It’s better to have an appointment at home. Would you mind?”

Miriam choked: “What does it have to do with me? That’s your house. You are the master.”

The man smiled but said nothing.

But what he meant was obviously related to Long Teng’s affairs. How could Rania ask him to meet him alone at this critical moment?

“She is hiding Shang Rui? What is the purpose?”

The man did not throw the question to her this time: “The Song family has never been simple. Shang Rui also relied on Song Lao to grow up step by step. Song Lao should have seen it, but Shang Rui is a radical activist willing to take risks. The Song family is not.”

“Then you shouldn’t come to you, just stop Shang Rui.” Miriam disagrees, talking to her husband is easier than talking to others.

But think again, isn’t Rania no longer in the business world? How can you care about this...

“She has taken over nearly half of the Song family’s property now, and she still has a lot of weight. She can come to talk to me and she has a bargaining chip.” Bryan looked deep.

Miriam was slightly surprised.

Bryan continued: “Rania won’t let Shang Rui suffer, but now he must talk to me behind his back. What can be used in the process is the relationship between the two of them.”

Miriam probably understood that even though Rania was a strong woman again, she was definitely frustrated with Shang Rui, but as long as she didn’t openly divorce or tear her face, she would still only help Shang Rui.

Shang Rui has great ambitions in the market and would not want to be interfered by her, so he can only act in secret.

“Do you want to make the two of them feel too fine?” Miriam raised her eyebrows, but this approach was not quite authentic.

The man sniffed, quite disdainful.
