

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 341– 342

Chapter 341

Ignoring her ridicule, his eyes fell on the girl's slender arm.

Qi Feng was holding his cheek in one hand, smiling while observing Miller, who was ignited on the side, without noticing Bryan's unfathomable eyes.

After a long while, he made a faint comment: "Your watch is very beautiful."

An internationally renowned brand, with a pale white dial, surrounded by broken diamonds, reflecting the hazy feeling of a few glaze under the light of the restaurant.

A very familiar watch.

Qi Feng didn't seem to mind that Bryan would set his eyes on him. Hearing the sound, he couldn't help putting the rolled up sleeves down, covering the wrist watch, "I'm wearing it for fun."

This word fell in Miller's ears and caught his attention. The man instantly leaned over and grabbed her by the arm. He squinted his eyes and observed for a long time. At last, the corners of his mouth evoked a strong sense of teasing. This watch is at least 200,000? It seems that the newly opened photo studio of the little madman is a lot of oil and water. Can Minger take me to mix one?"

Qi Feng's wrist was firmly grasped by him, his cheeks were slightly red under the light, and he broke free several times, and responded with a low voice: "Master Gu's salary, I can't afford it."

The soft fingertips slipped from the palm of the palm, and the man seemed to shake his mind for a moment, but he quickly sorted out his emotions and sat down again with his eyebrows raised, "Well, I don't take my young master to play, it seems I can only start my own business. The way out."

Most of his body curled up into the sofa seat, looking like a fool, Bryan's eyes sank slightly, and he slapped his thigh with a slap, "Stop talking nonsense, didn't you say something was wrong with me? Didn't you..."

After a pause, he didn't ask if Qi Feng was there.

The man nodded slowly, his expression was not as dignified as Bryan, turned his head to Qi Feng, who was opposite, winked, "Didn't you say you asked someone else to come? Hurry up and call to remind..."

Qi Feng was holding his cheeks to listen to her ears, but when Miller obviously wanted to distract her, he curled his lips slightly, grabbed the bag at hand and went downstairs.

Seeing the delicate figure disappearing at the corner of the stairs, Bryan's face completely sank. He poured a glass of wine and took a sip, "Why did you bring her too?"

Miller shook his head with a very helpless expression, "No way, the old man won't let go, don't use the little madman as a guise, and I don't know how to stealth, so how come out?"

Seeing his slightly raised brows, he seemed to be really helpless.

Bryan opened up, "You don't know what she thinks of you, do you?"

Suddenly remembered something, and then reminded: "She is no better than the other girls you provoke outside. If you are interested, please confirm it as soon as possible."

Miller seemed to have heard something funny, and pointed to his nose, "Please, look at her three-and-two flesh, brother likes plump, don't you know?"

Speaking of making a lift with both hands on the chest, the meaning is quite clear.

Bryan was skeptical, looked at him suspiciously, and solemnly warned: "I reminded you, don't wait for the loss and regret it again."

He knows the painful taste of this kind of regret best.

Seeing that the man still seemed indifferent, Bryan stopped saying more and turned the topic back to the focus, "What did you find?"

Miller raised his eyebrows, and took out a USB flash drive from his pocket, with a successful smile in his eyes, "Meng expected."

My heart sank, and he reached out to pick it up, but Miller deliberately avoided him. He watched Bryan with a smile, "I can give you the information, and you can help my brother?"

A bad hunch swept through my mind.

Withdrawing his hand, his body slowly leaned towards the back of the chair, so as to look at him in time, "Go ahead."

It doesn't seem to be unexpected. It just changed my posture and moved closer, "In fact, it's nothing. I heard that Longteng is expanding its shares recently. I happen to have some spare money on hand, so take me?"

Bryan saw through him, "Are you still trying to hide the old man from you?"

Miller slapped Bryan on the back, and he was so happy that I liked him, “You also know that his old man stops my card at every turn. I am also forced to find a way out for myself...”

After speaking, he put on a look of aggrieved expression, “I make investments and barely make ends meet.”

Bryan held his forehead silently for a while and agreed, “No more than 15%.”

“No problem!” Miller laughed happily, handing out the USB flash drive in his hand, but regretted it when he touched the man’s palm, “In this case, do you mind helping your brother again?”

Bryan regretted immediately, and there was no room for discussion. He got up and walked away. Miller under him hugged his thighs, his body twisted, and he looked like a pair of entangled men and women from a distance.

As a result, Qi Feng, who was back in his footsteps, stood there for a while, his fingers traversing between the two men, his face was shocked that could not be hidden, “Brother Chen, you...”

The eyes that looked at Bryan suddenly turned a little bit hostile, “Don’t you two?”

Bryan rarely panicked. He pushed Miller’s head aside in disgust, and explained quietly for a while, “Misunderstandings are all misunderstandings.”

Miller also arranged his clothes when he saw this. At this time, he pretended to be serious, smiled just right, and turned his head, “Little madman, has the person you mentioned come?”

Turning around, he was stunned, and saw the figure slowly approaching behind Qi Feng, wearing a sapphire blue long dress, with hair scattered behind his ears, and his steps were light. When he walked closer, he could see a distant smile on the corner of his mouth.

“Qi Yun?” He exclaimed, “Why are you back?”

Bryan also saw her, his eyes became a little uncomfortable, his gaze shifted to one side, and his voice was lowered with a slightly accusing tone, “Miller, it’s a good show you arranged.”

Miller was wronged, so he glared at Qi Feng. Seeing that she was pouting her mouth and looking innocent, he made a silent gesture to her to cooperate with her.

He quietly pushed away the chair under him, but when his body was about to withdraw, Bryan suddenly grabbed his collar by the collar, “Where are you going?”

Before he could answer, he extended a hand again, “Where is the USB flash drive?”

Miller thought for a while, then stood up, "Then you promised me two conditions?"

Bryan's face darkened to the bottom of the pot, his fists were squeezed tightly, but Yu Guang caught a glimpse of Qi Yun on the side, and was not in the mood to deal more with it, so he whispered "um".

When the man saw this, he was in a good mood, handed out the USB flash drive in his hand, and arranged his clothes to face Qi Yun, "Since I'm back, I will invite you and the little madman to have a drink. A new bar nearby is good, let's go."

When taking a step forward, he patted Bryan on the shoulder. A pair of brothers can only help you here.

Qi Feng's footsteps followed, but unexpectedly, Qi Yun folded his arms around his chest, so he could look at it in his spare time, and his eyes fell on Bryan.

"You two, go, I'm here to find Brother Chen."

Bryan narrowed his eyes slightly, picked up the coat on the back of the chair with one hand, got up and walked out the door, "I'm going home first, you play slowly."

Speaking of taking the lead to leave everyone behind.

Chapter 342

Qi Yun hurriedly followed, without the slightest intention to stop, and finally stopped him in front of Bryan's car, holding the door with one hand to prevent him from leaving.

Bryan's eyes were not friendly, "Qi Yun, I remember I warned you."

Qi Yun chuckled, her smooth fingers tightened slowly, "Brother Chen, you think too much, I have no other thoughts about you."

This was a little unexpected, Bryan's expression was slightly stagnant, he looked up suspiciously at the woman in front of him, and slightly curled his lips for a long while."That's the best."

Speaking, he set his eyes on the fingers that clasped the door edge, and his dark nails reflected a strange light under the street lamp. His tone eased a little, "Sorry, I'm still in a hurry."

Qi Yun noticed something. His five fingers gradually loosened, but his body was blocked in front of the car door."After all, you met with Qi Feng and you are not so hostile to Qi Feng. Don't you seem to be very special when you avoid me like this?"

He glanced slightly, raised his eyebrows before the man's face was completely gloomy, and put on a somewhat arrogant look, "I don't want to come to you either, if it wasn't for Auntie, please me..."

Before he finished speaking, Bryan's eyes trembled slightly, "What is she looking for?"

After regaining the initiative, Qi Yun couldn't help but smiled and sneered, "What do you think she can do with me? Want me to tell you to be more sober, now that the child is gone, you are still focused on that woman. , Your own mother was hospitalized for a week, and you didn't go back and take a look, you only care about what she is looking for with me?"

The color of sarcasm gradually deepened, and slowly turned into deep contempt and contempt in the eyes, "Bryan, why didn't I find that you are such a person before? Why did my aunt disagree with you and Miriam? The deepest reason is that What, have you thought about it?"

Not intending to say something like this from Qi Yun's mouth, Bryan's brows wrinkled inaudibly, and his face became gloomy at a speed visible to the naked eye.

Seeing his delay in responding, Qi Yun smiled even more, and she relentlessly exposed, "Because after falling in love with her, you have become unlike you. As long as it is related to her, you will become Lose your judgment and use the whole Longteng and even your own life to play with her."

"Enough." At this point, the man interrupted in a deep voice, his eyebrows dyed with deep anger.

Qi Yun seemed indifferent, chuckled and stopped the conversation. At this moment, a gust of wind passed and brought up the woman's long hair. A few strands of hair scattered around the corner of his mouth. He stretched out his hand and brushed it gently, and his body was slightly beaten in the cold wind. Chills.

Turning to the front with a little bit of ridicule, "You think I am willing to spend this time with you, but it would be pitiful to see my aunt in the hospital alone..."

As if she couldn't bear to speak any more, she raised her eyes and gave him a fierce look, "What's wrong with the two and the first of the Lu family?"

Although he tried his best to suppress his mood, Qi Yun's words still touched Bryan's heartstrings, his eyes loosened, "I didn't know she was sick."

Qi Yun didn't seem to buy it, but he was even more disgusted, "If you usually know more about caring for her old man, will you even hear the news that your own mother is sick from outsiders like me?" "

Bryan said in a deep voice, without responding for a while. Qi Yun hid the successful smile under his eyes when he saw it, and said with a bit of pain and regret: "Also, how come Qi Yun is also Qi's parents and daughter, don't say yes. How rich you are, at least you are innocent, you can look down on Bryan, but you don't look at me from the eyes of secular women. I won't stalk you like that."

After speaking, he slowly moved away to make room for the door, and opened the door a bit further, "I have finished what I have to say. If you have anything else, please go back first."

Returning to the look of the arrogant girl in the memory, with a pretentious aura exuding all over her body, Bryan narrowed her eyes slightly and lowered her head to step into the car when she heard the woman speak again.

"By the way, tell my aunt about the trouble. I hope she will stop trying to use my hand to separate you and Miriam. After all, you are willing to be with her without the child. This is enough to explain the problem."

Saying the pace, he stepped back and made a gesture of "please" with his arms slightly forward. Then he chuckled his lips and smiled, raised his wrists and looked at the time, "You go first, my boyfriend should also come and pick me up. ..."

As soon as the voice fell, there was a roaring engine sound in my ears, the speeding motorcycle brought a strong whirlwind on the street, the body almost rubbed Qi Yun's body past, and the unexpected force pushed the person forward. Stagger.

Bryan subconsciously stretched out his hand, and after a few twists, the woman steadily rushed into his chest and hugged the man's shoulders in panic.

At this moment, his heartbeat was inexplicably uncontrollable, but he still tried his best to suppress his inner emotions, and slowly pushed his body away in nostalgia.

"Are you OK?"

He lowered his head and straightened out the messy hair, and the man's concern rang in his ears.

"It's okay." She raised her pale face and smiled faintly.

Bryan pondered for a moment, but finally he said: "Get in the car, I'll take you back."

Unexpectedly, I heard a woman's rejection.

Qi Yun just stood to the edge of the road and urged with a faint smile, "You go first."

Just as he was talking about a black car turning around the street intersection, and steadily stopped in front of Qi Yun, the next second he stepped out of the car with a tall stature, "Yun Yun, get in the car."

Under Bryan's gaze, the woman raised a slightly shy smile at the corner of her mouth, and passed from the front of the car to the passenger seat. During the period, she even forgot to say hello to the man who was always standing not far away.

The smile on the corner of the woman's mouth slowly faded until the body turned the street corner again, and she nodded slightly to the man in the driver's seat, "Thank you."

Xun Yang evoked a wicked smile, his gaze just shifted back from the rearview mirror, "That kid, you have a good vision, a little worse than me..."

Qi Yun didn't have the thought of teasing with him, slowly rolled down the car window, letting the cold wind enter his body, only felt a little more awake, and repeated everything in his mind.

I thought that all the performance just now was not leaking, and the mood that I had been pulling into a group was also relaxed a bit.

Slowly curled his lips, listening to the man's question in his ear almost being blown away by the wind that was constantly pouring in, "You like him, why don't you just chase him, and let me pretend to be your boyfriend, this way is wrong..."

"He is not an ordinary man." An unfathomable emotion gradually filled his eyes. "If you want to get back to him, this is the only way."

His eyes widened, the emotions in his heart were unpredictable, and the hair that was constantly being blown tortured by the wind hovered back and forth in the air several times, unwittingly deducing a kind of unspeakable beauty.

The man's gaze was almost completely attracted, and his face was filled with a deep smile.
