

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 347– 348

Chapter 347

I got in the car and dialed Bryan's phone before starting the engine, but there was no one to answer. On the way to Jincheng by car, he understood the deep meaning of Mu Ming's words, and unconsciously stepped on the accelerator a little more fiercely.

Before entering the hospital, I bought fruit baskets and flowers in a nearby store, and then I went to the nurse's station to inquire, and as expected, I found out where Shao's mother was.

"The old man has a bad temper these days. When you go in, keep your voice down." The young nurse pointed towards the ward, and kindly reminded Miriam.

The air was full of moisture, and there was already a lot of rain on the way from City Two. Miriam was inevitably stained with a little bit of damp, and the hair on his forehead was rolled into a wet ball and stuck to his forehead. .

With a low ponytail tied behind his ears, with the faint expression on his face, the whole body is full of cold to the extreme aura.

The sound of footsteps echoed in the corridor, and soon came to the door of the ward, stood there for a while, heard nothing inside, paused, and knocked on the door.

Mother Shao's face was not good. She was leaning on the hospital bed and closed her eyes for a sleep sleep. She opened her eyes slowly after hearing the sound of pushing the door, as if she did not expect that the person coming in would be Miriam, her expression became apparently stiff, and then her entire face collapsed. Down.

"Get out."

The two faint words stopped Miriam's footsteps, and then she turned around in the ward, leaving half of her back facing the direction of the entrance.

Miriam stood there and put the fruit basket in her hand on the table at the entrance, with a calm tone that was surprising, "I heard that you are sick, I'll come and have a look."

Mother Shao closed her eyes, her brows tightly locked, "Come and see if I am dead? I really disappoint you, old lady, I still have a living."

There was an obvious sneer in the words, Miriam's expression remained the same, as if he hadn't heard it, and put down the flower, and stepped closer.

"What good is it for me to die?"

She squeezed an orange that had just been taken out of the fruit basket in her hand. After sitting on the edge of the bed, she peeled the orange and spoke lightly.

Shao's mother was so angry that she turned around and stared at her, "You knowingly ask, will you be able to follow your wish when I die and be with Achen?"

Miriam chuckled, her eyes hanging down, her delicate fingertips split the orange bit by bit, "You are living well now, don't I still live with Bryan?"

A burst of orange peel fragrance slowly spread in the space.

Shao's mother got angry, got up, waved and slapped the back of the woman's hand, and saw that the orange bones in his hand rolled into the bed.

With his hands still hanging in the air, I heard the old man asking angrily: "You are very proud to be an unfair lover by his side?"

These words sting Miriam a little bit, but seeing that she still maintains a calm expression on her face, she took out a tissue and wiped her hands. "Auntie, Bryan and I did not remarry. Part of the reason is indeed because of you. , But more of the crux lies in ourselves, as long as the knot in my heart is solved..."

Before she finished speaking, Mother Shao seemed to have guessed what she was going to say later, and snorted coldly, "Then you can't get married, unless Bryan wants to see me die."

Miriam lowered her head and said nothing.

Suffocating some words and never uttering them, I saw my face pale, and I heard the voice in my ears, after a ridiculous chuckle, and continued to speak: "Miriam, I know your purpose, but you may It's too simple to think about. There are many reasons why I can't accept you, some of which you can't change for the rest of your life."

"For example, my father." She pressed the corners of her lips lightly, and looked up at Shao's mother's sharp gaze.

Women in their fifties, well-maintained, have no obvious wrinkles on their faces, and some of them can't tell the specific age.

Mother Shao's eyes shook, "You know it."

After that, he sighed, his eyes lifted slightly, his eyes showed a little hollow, "You are filial and decent, I know all of these, but you are no longer suitable for Bryan. Please reflect on yourself. After the divorce, we have been entangled together for nearly a year. What did Bryan do for you and what did you do for him?"

Having broken through the deepest meaning, these words hurt people's hearts more than Shao Mu's previous bad words. Miriam's expression was slightly startled, and he couldn't find a line of refutation.

If she only takes a tough and determined attitude, she will be better able to deal with it, even if it is said that her image or quality defects are much more pleasant than this.

He nodded slightly, and was about to get up and leave, when he heard Mother Shao's expression relax a little bit, she raised an arm slightly and stretched it towards her.

"I'm tired after lying down for almost a day, don't you mind helping me out for a walk?"

Miriam couldn't help being stunned, her eyes widened for a few minutes, as if she couldn't believe it. The next second she saw Mother Shao's eyes cold again, "Why, not willing?"

There was an unprecedented panic in my heart, and he hurriedly reached out to help him, "Not really, it's just raining outside..."

"If I don't go downstairs, I will go around next door."

She opened her mouth to interrupt her, and at the same time she stood up with the strength she stretched out, and brushed the folds of the hospital gown. Although it didn't work, it seemed like an elegant habit that she had always cultivated.

There was a small smile inadvertently at the corner of his mouth, and Miriam was allowed to help out of the room door, walking slowly along the slightly empty corridor, and finally stopped in front of the door of the ward at the end.

After a pause, it seemed that he heard the voice of the woman inside, and his brows wrinkled inaudibly.

Before she could react, Mother Shao had already turned the doorknob and pushed the door in. After the door opened, the sound inside was more real. The woman's gentle voice sounded, "Auntie, why are you here? I'm talking to Bryan. I'll see you in a while."

Then came the man's dark voice, "Mom, I will help you go back."

Miriam stood outside the door, a cold breath spread all over her body, her eyes trembled inaudibly, as if she was stepping back subconsciously.

Mother Shao didn't seem to give her this opportunity.

Before leaving, I saw the half-covered door slowly open until it hit the wall on the side and made a noisy sound. In the gradually clear sight, he met Shao's mother's unfriendly eyes, "Come in, what are you doing in a daze?"

Miriam squeezed her fist, looked over the old man, and met the man sitting in the chair not far away. At this time, her eyes were half astonished, and she looked straight at him.

It's rare to see such an expression on his face, and it was not long before it was well covered up by him, and he whispered: "Miriam."

Miriam pondered for a moment, walking slowly while a group of people were waiting to watch the good show, with a soft smile at the corners of her mouth, and approached: "Bryan, I heard you say that Miss Qi is injured, I'll take a look."

Chapter 348

He glanced at the ankles wrapped in white gauze on the hospital bed, and his heart became clear instantly, he slowly moved his gaze away from Bryan, and looked at Qi Yun with a light smile, "Miss Qi, are you okay?"

The smile under his eyes was unfathomable, Qi Yun's smile froze at the corner of his mouth, but he could deal with it calmly, "It's not a big problem, it's just a sprain when going down the stairs. I don't want Miss Lao Lu to take a special trip. I really bother."

Miriam pursed her lips and took a look at Bryan who had already got up and walked over to him. She put her wrist around his arm and chuckled, "Miss Qi is thinking too much. I'm here to find Bryan and visit him by the way."

He turned his gaze and fell on a strange man on the other side of the bed.

With an unclear smile at the corner of the man's mouth, his narrow eyes slightly hooked, his body leaned against the back of the chair, and his whole body was laid-back, somewhat similar to that Miller.

It's just that there are more emotions hidden under his eyes, and the smile that evokes at the corner of his mouth deepens as he meets Miriam, with a touch of charming interest.

Miriam retracted her gaze, her smile remained unchanged, "This one is?"

Xun Yang stood up and stretched out an arm towards Miriam with a bright smile, "Xun Yang, Qi Yun's boyfriend."

A suspicion flashed in Miriam's eyes, but he didn't mean to stretch out his hand to hold it. Bryan, who never said a word, seemed to accidentally cover a hand on the back of her hand, gently kneading his fingertips, and smiling. In the past, "I will seriously consider Mr. Xun's proposal just now, but Miriam and I have things to do, so we will leave first."

She said that she was about to leave Miriam's pace. Unexpectedly, Mother Shao stepped out slightly behind her, blocking the path of the two by herself, "Whatever you walk, Yun'er is also because of my injury. How can you be so Conscience, just leave?"

Bryan's eyes sank, and his body was straight, but the hand holding Miriam always carried no lightness or weight.

"Mom, if she needs any remuneration, she can mention it to me at any time. There is no need to hold me by her side. After all, you have a boyfriend by your side. You are a bit too much."

The wording made Shao's mother's face suddenly changed. When Xun Yang heard these words, he also gave Qi Yun a look, and then slowly said, "I don't mind very much. After all, Mr. Shao and Yun Yun are old friends. I made an appointment with an important client in the afternoon and gave Yun Yun to Mr. Shao to take care of him. I am also more relieved."

Without waiting for Qi Yun's response, Shao's mother said as if seizing a good opportunity, "See you, Master Xun has a job to be busy, you will take care of my family."

Miriam looked at Xun Yang with a grin when she curled her lips and looked at Xun Yang, "Master Xun has a hearty heart."

Xun Yang was about to leave in a hurry and was forced to stop. Hearing this, he looked at Miriam. At this time, he heard Shao's mother scolding: "Shut up!"

Bryan's brows wrung up quickly and he increased the strength of his hands a little bit, his eyes were already filled with anger, "Sorry, Mr. Xun's attitude, I am afraid it is not a bit sincere to treat this feeling, since you I have work to be busy, and I will send someone to find two nurses."

The space of the room suddenly aroused a bit of tension. Qi Yun, who had never said a word, said coldly when seeing the situation: "Don't make a noise, you all go."

The air became quiet for a while, Shao's mother stretched out a finger and pointed at Bryan angrily. The corners of her mouth twitched and she couldn't speak, and she cast most of her cold eyes on Miriam.

Seeing that Shao's mother still had the meaning of persistence, Qi Yun followed his gaze and cast a deep disdain in his eyes, "I don't need other people to accompany me, so that no one would think that my motives are impure."

After a pause, he stretched his arm in the direction of Xun Yang, and waited for the man to lean over and hold her hand before he said shallowly: "You also go to work, I'm not that delicate, and I need a little injury. Someone to accompany."

Seeing that the people in the first room hadn't moved, they looked at Bryan, "I don't really want to meet you if I don't need it. Some things have been made clear that night, right?"

That evening?

Thoughts overlapped, and there seemed to be a familiar perfume scent pouring into the nose, matching the memory of one night.

This is as if it was meant to someone, intentionally or unintentionally.

Miriam narrowed her eyes slightly, and when she was about to step out, she saw the woman turning her gaze on her. She looked it up, her expression of disdain became more intense, "Do you remember the incident when you had a car accident? This time she hurried over again. What do you want to prove? Do you need me to swear by the heavens before you can believe that there is really nothing between me and him?"

The ridicule in the words was strong, and there was a bit of grievance in his tone, as if he really felt humiliated because of Miriam's arrival.

Unknowingly, his cheeks were stained a little bit pale, and he sensed that the man next to him had turned slightly to his side, and he suddenly grabbed his arm and tightened his strength a bit, causing Bryan to look back at her.

Something flashed in my mind, "I really misunderstood it. Two days ago, I heard our aunt said that I met Miss Qi in the supermarket and asked her about baby formula. At first I didn't believe it, but now it seems that something good is coming. ?"

Ignoring the faint flash of the woman's eyes, her eyes were tightly set on her flat belly, and her lips were curled to look at Xun Yang soon, "Mr. Xun, congratulations. If you are willing to enjoy a glass of wedding wine on the day of great joy, it will be even more important. Okay, then I will definitely make amends in person."

Qi Yun's face paled a bit, but he didn't deny anything. It seemed that he didn't mind that Miriam even knew about this. When he reacted and was about to argue, Bryan had completely pulled his face down.

"Are you serious?" Subconsciously vigilant, looking at Qi Yun, the topic in front of her is about the bottom line. If she is deliberately exploring something, then Bryan will never tolerate such things from happening.

Qi Yun caressed her lower abdomen. For a while, it was difficult to ride a tiger. At this time, she heard Xun Yang's Langrun voice ringing in her ears, "After all, it has been less than a month. It seems that there is such a coincidence that there is no way to hide it."

There was a burst of joy in his eyes, and he leaned forward and dropped a light or heavy kiss on Qi Yun's forehead, "tell me where I want to go in the future, don't run around alone to make others suspect."

Five fingers curled up silently, smiled for a long while, and looked straight at Miriam, "I didn't expect such a coincidence..."

Miriam was stunned. Seeing that the situation continued to develop in an unexpected direction, the corners of her lips moved, and she didn't say anything. Mother Shao behind him seemed even more surprised, with deep pain in her eyes: “Yun’er, is this true?” “

Qi Yun gritted his teeth, “Auntie, I have already told you that it is impossible for me and Brother Chen to come to see you purely because I am worried about you...”

Shao’s mother was a little unacceptable, and she managed to maintain a steady exit from the ward. After returning, she slammed the door of the room and stopped the two people who followed.

When everyone left, Qi Yun threw the pillow in his hand fiercely in the silence of the room, hitting the man’s chest, “What are you talking about nonsense?”

Xun Yang stood straight, let the pillow fall on his feet, and slowly curled his lips, “Otherwise, how did you get through this level? Bryan is such a cautious person, if he knows what you are doubting, he will see you again. ?”

The man analyzed lightly, and hidden his selfishness without revealing a trace in the process.