

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 359– 360

Chapter 359

Bryan had a clear look and a respectful attitude towards the old man, but he did not lose his aura, “I know that old lady, you have always maintained the reputation of the Qi family. The prestige accumulated over the years, the innocent scholarly family, never Hope is ruined in the hands of one person, right?”

The old lady grasped the cane tightly, “What evidence do you have about Yun’er’s foreign affairs?”

Bryan opened his lips and teeth slightly, and said unhurriedly, “The evidence is naturally there. If you need it, I can ask the assistant to make a copy of the courier, or...” He raised his eyebrows and glanced toward the door, “It is more convenient. Yes, you will be clear when you ask your aunt, she must be very clear about these things.”

The old man fell silent, and an indescribable anger gradually gathered on the old cheeks, and finally he sighed deeply, as if suppressing certain emotions in his heart.

When Bryan saw this, he picked up the topic more clearly, “I came to visit you today. I didn’t want to discuss any terms. I just thought that when you are old, you have taken care of me before. You should always tell me personally. You say it.”

The old man slowly raised her head, slightly muddy eyes flowed with some strange emotions, her throat moved, and finally did not pull down this old face, just asked faintly: “Is this thing imperative?”

“It’s imperative.” He looked firm, leaving no room for negotiation.

Seeing this, the old man no longer forced anything, and slowly exhaled a suffocating breath, his eyes were empty, and he looked around in the entire space. Some emotions that have been hidden in his heart for many years can no longer be suppressed at this moment.

“For this family, I’m cautious in my words and deeds, walking on thin ice. I’m old and tired, and I can’t toss them anymore.” After saying this, there was a faintly sharp look in my eyes, “but it ruined the lintel of the Qi family. His sins cannot be forgiven.”

Bryan said in a deep voice. He was still noncommittal about what the old lady said, until she sighed slowly and waved to herself before he stood up and nodded slightly to the old man in the seat, “Then I will go first, you take care.”

After speaking, he turned around and stepped towards the door of the room. At this moment, he heard the sound of more and more clear footsteps outside the door. Bryan’s footsteps paused slightly. After that, the door was opened, and Qi Yun flashed a red flap. Face come.

Seeing Bryan, Qi Yun's eyes trembled uncontrollably, and with one hand on the doorknob, he diverted his eyes with difficulty.

"Grandma." She straightened up and greeted the old lady Qi who was sitting on the sofa.

The old man's face was so gloomy and scary, he stood up slowly, his eyes were quickly covered by the monstrous anger, "Grandma?"

She sneered and walked two steps forward with her cane. She passed Bryan and walked to Qi Yun. Her eyes were muddy, but she still looked at Qi Yun carefully, "Do you still know to call me grandma? What a pity, you will not be a descendant of the Qi family from tomorrow!"

He couldn't help but picked up his cane and hit Qi Yun hard.

The girl subconsciously stretched out her hand to stop her, her arm was still hurting, and she avoided her body and shouted "grandma" several times, but the old man didn't have any soft intentions, knocking up one by one, harder than ever.

Mother Qi, who had been lying by the door listening to the sound, rushed in, and embraced Qi Yun with her hands. She suffered several sticks from the old lady, and then with scarlet eyes, she snatched the stick and threw it away.

The old lady was faltering, and was finally held by Bryan.

"Mom?" At this moment, Qi's mother could not hide her feelings for many years, and snarled like crazy, "I know you have not waited to see that I gave birth to two daughters for the Qi family, but our Yunyun is also the Qi family anyway. Your blood, your granddaughter, did you beat your child like this?"

The old lady Qi held her chest and panted for breath, "I don't beat her, I just regret how you let you, a silly kid, entered the house."

The old man's scarlet eyes looked at Qi mother, his eyes full of anger.

Qi's mother suddenly felt wronged when she heard the words, her eyes were red, and she wiped two tears, "I know you don't want to see me, but I have been married to Qi's family for almost 30 years. I have asked myself diligently for the past 30 years. Honor your in-laws, there is no place to be sorry for Qi's family."

The old lady laughed when she heard this, and her smile was ironic and sharp, "I'm sorry Qi family? Did you spend money on Qi Yun's overseas study quota to let her replace others? Are her papers at school fake? Is there any real ink in her belly, is she worthy to be the granddaughter of the Qi family?"

After saying this, Qi Mu and Qi Yun's faces paled.

Qi Yun trembled twice, and quickly reacted. He raised his head and asked Bryan's always cold and indifferent eyes: "Did you say that?"

Bryan constricted his eyes, "All the news in the afternoon will be published in the newspapers, Qi Yun, you are not the only one who can do this."

Qi Yun's eyes were scarlet, and his body swayed two steps, finally holding on to the edge of the door behind him, and looking up at him in despair, "Bryan, you came to Qi's house today for this. Is it just to hear your humiliation?"

She said that her reason was beginning to be swallowed by anger, and her body moved forward and lifted her slap. She was grasped by the man as expected. He squeezed her chin and leaned over his stern eyes. Guang stared closely at her delicate cheeks.

"Qi Yun, it is very simple to want to destroy a person. Without the Qi family as a backer, you are like an ant. I will stare at you closely."

After speaking and letting go, the woman's jaw suddenly showed five obvious fingerprints.

Bryan wiped the palm of the hand that had just squeezed Qi Yun's cheek, turned his head and glanced at the old lady Qi again, warmly greeted: "Old lady, if it is inconvenient to bother you, I will leave first."

After saying that he lifted his foot and left, before he stepped out of the living room, he unexpectedly heard the determined and stern voice of the old man behind him: "You and Qi Yun will get out of me from today. From then on, Qi family has nothing to do with you. If you dare to make trouble, I will kick Feng'er out together."

Qi's mother almost collapsed when she heard this, her body was swayed and held by Qi Yun, her face was pale, she opened her mouth and wanted to say something, but was finally stopped by Qi Yun's hand.

Knowing the temper of the old lady, she regarded Qi's reputation as more important than her own life. There was no room for negotiation on this matter, and she was also insulting herself.

Qi Yun quickly helped her mother to leave, and ran out of the Qi family courtyard before he could say anything. After getting in the car, he stepped on the accelerator to the bottom. With the roar of the engine, a voice echoed repeatedly in his mind: "Tomorrow afternoon. Hold Bryan, and you have a chance to get him completely."

She didn't expect to get him now, but she would not hesitate to destroy him.

Destroy the lives of him and Miriam.

The car drove fast all the way, and after turning two streets, she saw the black car that Bryan was driving in front of her. She had a wide view from the side of the street. She curled her lips and slowly increased the throttle. After catching up with the car, she suddenly changed lanes. .

He heard a “bang...” and the body began to slip under the violent impact. Bryan, who reacted, stepped on the brake and was hit by a taxi coming behind him.

Qi Yun’s car finally stopped slowly on the side of the road under her pre-control preparations in advance, but her body still received a lot of impact. Before losing consciousness, she gently pulled her lips and slowly closed her eyes.

Chapter 360

That afternoon, Miriam was in the hospital to accompany Lu’s mother. During this period, she received a call from her aunt at home, and her face suddenly changed. Putting down the phone to explain, the person has already rushed out of the ward.

After taking a taxi and returning home, he found that the courtyard door was open and his steps were beginning to be unstable. He staggered through the front courtyard. Before stepping into the house, he heard the noise in the living room.

“Let’s go, I said that our husband and wife are not at home, I am just a cooking aunt, I don’t know anything.”

The aunt opened her arms alone to try to persuade the people, but she was weak and apparently unable to beat the dozen young people. After a while, she was driven by the crowd and fell onto the sofa, and a microphone came towards her.

“Excuse me, is this Bryan and Miriam’s home?”

“Do you know Miriam’s junior status?”

“As the aunt at home, you must have some friendship with the hostess here. Is she a hypocritical woman?”

The words made the auntie pale, but she was vaguely able to tell that the words were all aimed at Miriam. When she heard this, she finally couldn’t listen to it. She frowned and defended, “Our wife is very nice, very Kind, please don’t talk nonsense.”

“In other words, Miss Lu is good at gathering people’s hearts?”

The aunt didn’t dare to say anything more, a group of people blocked her solidly, and it didn’t take long for a suffocation illusion to come.

At this time, a baby's cry was caught off guard in the room not far away, temporarily blocking the noise in the room, and everyone who didn't know the truth looked at each other.

"child?"

It was as if they had unearthed some great news, the eyes of a group of people lit up, and then one by one swarmed towards the baby's room, leaving the aunts who hadn't reacted to get up from the sofa with difficulty.

A group of people had blocked the door, and the baby's cry was getting louder and louder. The aunt tried to push the group away from behind, but it was obviously to no avail.

At this time, Miriam, who quietly touched the kitchen, grabbed a kitchen knife and came out. She walked to the door with scarlet eyes and pushed the kitchen knife out, "You who are not afraid of death will come."

Her hair was messy, her eyes were soaked with anger, she seemed to be a little bit irrational, and the kitchen knife swung wildly in the air twice, the group of people finally calmed down and backed away one by one.

The aunt reacted and hid behind Miriam in a panic. She suddenly felt a bit wronged. She had never seen such a battle in decades after she lived. At this time, she realized helplessly that sometimes people can really eat people. .

Miriam was holding a kitchen knife in both hands, eyes full of alert, and motioned to the aunt behind him, "Call the police."

On the way, she had already called Bryan. It was almost time to calculate the time, so she had more confidence. She moved forward and moved a little bit to the door, blocking the baby room door with her body."If you don't leave, just wait for the police to arrest people."

Some of the people in the group were suspicious and seemed to be planning to leave, but there were others who had fixed their eyes and did not intend to evacuate for a long while. Miriam's brains swiftly moved, and seeing this posture, he understood, "I would rather be detained than leave. , How much did the gold master give you?"

The said people were a little guilty, and they avoided Miriam's gaze.

The man who always stood at the end of the crowd wore a black peaked cap, and most of his face was covered under the brim of the hat. He just answered a call a minute ago. At this time, when Miriam said this, he slowly curled his lips. , Took off his hat.

Miriam couldn't help but be attracted by him. After seeing the face under the brim of the hat, her face suddenly turned pale, her palms were sweaty, and the strength of her body leaning on the door almost couldn't support it.

“Mu, Mu Ming...what do you want to do?” The corners of her mouth twitched, and the knife in her hand trembled a little, but she still squeezed it as hard as she could, watching people approach her a little bit.

Mu Ming crossed the crowd and walked less than an arm's distance from her. She was so shocked that she put the knife holder on his neck. He seemed to be not afraid of it, and he looked up and down, and even a wicked smile appeared at the corners of his lips. meaning.

“Tell me that the child is dead?” His eyes gradually turned dark and his smile stiffened. He lowered his head and glanced at the knife on his neck, and even scratched a thin wound on his neck with his hand.”Miriam , If you have the ability, really cut it down.”

Miriam's cold sweat soaked her whole body, and her despair at this time could not be described in words.

Miriam shook her body, warning: “Don't force me.”

Mu Ming sneered, “Do you want to delay waiting for Bryan to save you? Tell you, he was in a car accident on the way back, and he is still lying in the hospital, and his good bodyguard has no time to take care of you now.”

These words were spoken out of Mu Ming's mouth like an understatement, but when they fell in Miriam's ears, they exploded, causing her head to hum.

“I don't believe it!” she yelled, holding her hands for a long time and letting out a numb pain.

Mu Ming raised his eyebrows slightly, and received the woman's collapse in his eyes, a very ambivalent emotion crossed his mind. He turned his head and turned his eyes away from her, “Believe it or not, I don't have to believe it. .”

After speaking, she reached out and pushed the person away while she didn't react, and opened the door in front of her.

The two children in the baby's room seemed to have sensed something, each of them cried loudly. This sound really irritated Miriam. She was pushed away, but the knife was still firmly in her hand.

The group of people just saw that the door was opened. Except for a few hesitating ones, they had already left. All the others swarmed in behind Mu Ming. The flashlight flashed at the child, and the little guy's cries intensified.

Mu Ming walked around the crib, staring straight at the two crying children, the yin bird breath in his eyes became stronger and stronger, and his fingers gently ran across the face of one of the children. Her thin lips curled slightly, “It's a fate to be born after so many hardships.”

Miriam stumbled in, screaming when she saw Mu Ming holding one of the children in her arms, her eyes filled with despair, "Mu Ming, you put the child down."

Mu Ming seemed to have not heard it. He held the child in his arms and weighed it twice, and then softly coaxed a few words. The child stopped crying. He blinked his big tearful eyes and stared at Mu Ming.

At this moment, the man's heart was touched fiercely, and an inaudible light flashed through his eyes. He quickly forced himself to calm down, looked away, and looked at Miriam pretendingly, "It's nothing to be born. Whether you can grow up is the key."

Miriam's psychological defense gradually collapsed under Mu Ming's little bit of pressure.

She stared at the children, tears rolling down her eyes, "Don't hurt them, if you really need someone to pay for your mother's life, then use mine."

After speaking, the kitchen knife reached his throat, and he almost dashed it up without hesitation.

The shock in the man's eyes finally couldn't be concealed at this moment, and his subconscious roar stopped Miriam's hand movement, "I don't want your life!"

"It's Lu Shaokun who really deserves his fate. She lied to my mother to make up for the crime, but now I want him to live, I want you to live, and I want you to live in endless regrets all your life!"

After speaking, the broad palm slowly approached the child's neck, he deliberately slowed down this movement, and waited firmly and confidently for the scene he was looking forward to.

Sure enough, the woman broke down and raised the knife and rushed towards him.

When I saw this moment, I didn't avoid it, and even slightly moved the child aside, revealing a strong chest.

In the next second, the scent of blood filled, and the crowd dispersed. Miriam took the child back from Mu Ming for the first time. Only then did he take care of the scene in front of him, and then he began to feel scared.
