

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 363– 364

Chapter 363

The meeting finally reached Miriam's ideal result. After the meeting, all the people in the room disappeared, leaving only two women sitting opposite each other.

There was a pale smile on Zheng Yun's face, "Miriam, you are so scheming."

Miriam didn't refute it, she smiled lightly, "Anyone who can sit in such a position, who dares to say that she doesn't have a refresher."

Besides, she now understands that "scheming" is really not a bad thing.

Zheng Yun reluctantly supported his body and corrected his sitting posture again. At this time, he no longer concealed anything. He covered the slightly protruding abdomen with his hands, "Did you wait for this day long ago? During the rest of the year, I went here. After learning marketing, I got all the international certificates, and finally came back with Mr.'s large list, so Mr. Henry immediately promoted you to the position of deputy director of the marketing department."

Miriam didn't explain anything when she heard this, because most of Zheng Yun's guesses were correct. For today's achievement, she did hide her powers and bide her time for a year, and the days she gritted her teeth during this period are still vivid.

But there was one thing that Miriam didn't agree with, so she slowly clarified, "My original intention of returning to the marketing department has nothing to do with you. After I come back, if you can work with me steadily, I won't move you, but you will challenge you. My bottom line, when I'm still the same as before, let you do it?"

At this time, Zheng Yun suddenly realized that Miriam now is different from the one she was a year ago. His eyes were a bit more ruthless, and his judgment of things became more rational and cold-blooded.

Realizing this, Zheng Yun's eyes trembled, and a self-deprecating smile appeared at the corner of his mouth, "I see, you mean the case of Zhiheng Jewelry."

Miriam was noncommittal, but the coldness under her eyes became more intense. When she got up and was about to leave, she coldly glanced at her lower abdomen, "Bai Shaoqing is impossible to divorce. The friendship between him and her wife is deeper than you think. He wants to use a child. Come and tie him, I think you are not only stupid."

After speaking, she lifted her foot and left, leaving Zheng Yun to sit there alone in a daze. She didn't know how long she sat there until she was swept by a chill and the sights around her slowly darkened. Then she was repressed. After a long time of emotions, I immersed myself in crying.

Miriam returned to the office. Soon after, Song Bo knocked on the door and came in again, first prying his head inside, as if confirming Miriam's mood.

She was holding a cup of coffee for a drink. When she looked up, she noticed the head sticking out from the door, and she called people in, and waited for them to approach. Then she said: "As an assistant, can you look more stable?"

Song Bo scratched the back of his head and smiled embarrassedly, "I will pay attention next time."

After he finished speaking, he gave Miriam a tentative look. There was a look of uncertainty in his eyes. Miriam saw through him, "Just say what you have."

Song Bo stiffened his back, pretending to cough twice, and then lowered his voice and asked: "I have a question that I have never understood. I am not the most suitable candidate for the position of assistant director. Why did you choose me? Have you studied together for half a year?"

The man who had just graduated felt a little embarrassed after asking this question, and lowered his head a bit. This question has lingered in his mind for a long time. He would feel uncomfortable if he did not ask, but he was more afraid of getting it after asking. The answer will disappoint myself.

Miriam unexpectedly froze for a moment because of his problem. Her thoughts seemed to be trapped in some kind of memory. After a long while, she came back to her senses, her mouth curled up with a faint smile, "A person's ability will accumulate over time. And get promoted, and a person's nature will not change much due to time. This is the reason I like you."

It was also the lesson she learned from Mu Ming, to be precise, Mu Ming.

He changed back to his original name, and has started to mix up some famous names in the past six months.

Song Bo seemed to understand what he said, but he didn't seem to understand very well. He just nodded to himself, and then suddenly remembered something, "By the way, Miss Kristy called when you were in the meeting. With regards to clothes, listening to the voice, she felt that her mood was not very good..."

Speaking of Kristy, Miriam suddenly remembered something, her expression stiffened, and she waved to let Song Bo go out before she hurriedly packed her things out of the office.

After more than 20 minutes, he arrived at the entrance of the bridal shop. When he entered the door, he saw Mr. Huo making a call on the sofa in the waiting area. After he saw Miriam, he pointed to the stairs behind him and motioned for a look.

Miriam understood and went straight to the second floor.

When I went upstairs, I saw a figure wearing a white veil skirt facing her. The woman was slender. The white embroidered flower in her hand was close to the texture of plain yarn, and her back was carved very smoothly and smartly. Miriam For a while, he was a little dumbfounded, and he paused for a while.

An inexplicable emotion flashed through her heart, but she was quickly covered up, only bending her eyes with a faint smile to appreciate this back.

Kristy turned her head when she heard the voice, her expression was not very clear, “Miriam, I made an appointment to try on the bridesmaid’s dress today, and I said hello to you three times in advance. Can you forget it? Did you intentionally not want to come?”

Miriam’s smile was gentle and clear, but she nodded her head at all when she heard this. This is the third time she confirmed with Kristy, “Are you really planning to let me be your bridesmaid at your wedding? I’m divorced. .”

Divorced, gave birth to children, and entangled with her ex-husband for a year to no avail, Miriam really didn’t think she was the right person to be a bridesmaid. Although she is not very trustworthy, it is related to the life-long happiness of her best friend, and she still hopes that the other party can consider it carefully.

So I sat down on the sofa chair next to him, raised his eyes and smiled, “You can arrange a VIP seat for me, and I promise to give you a big red envelope.”

Kristy’s face sank, and then she raised her chin proudly, and put on a gesture of being beaked, “Miriam, I told you that this matter has not been discussed. If it’s a big deal, if I and Lao Huo can’t get along Now, don’t put the blame on you, the bridesmaid, okay?”

Miriam was a little speechless at the moment. Before she wanted to say anything, she heard Mr. Huo’s voice behind her dull and a little bit pampered, jokingly: “How can a bride talk like this?”

Miriam looked up at Mr. Huo, and then consciously unified the front, “Mr. Huo, your wife must take care of her, don’t give birth to a little prince and spoil her lawlessly.”

Kristy picked up her skirt angrily, took the bridesmaid’s dress that had been prepared a long time ago from the waiter on the side, and stuffed it into Miriam’s arms, “Don’t mess with me, hurry up and change your clothes, otherwise I’ll take it tonight. Xiao Bao sent it to your home.”

After speaking, he couldn’t help but push the person into the locker room.

Reluctantly, Miriam changed her clothes and came out, holding her deep V neckline a little embarrassingly, murmured in her mouth: “Lin, I don’t think this dress is suitable...”

As if perceiving a strange breath, my heart trembled for a second, and at that moment there was some courage to look up.

She seemed to hear a person's voice, just a soft cough, but it caused a lot of inexplicable sensations in her heart, and the numbness that spread from the heart to the limbs swept her over.

Looking up, I saw Bryan.

The man was originally talking with Mr. Huo, and when he heard the sound, he turned his head, and the light under his eyes suddenly became deep, as if all the sounds around him were swallowed up at that moment.

After a year of facing each other, the two men tacitly endured most of their emotions.

After a while, the man moved his gaze down and landed on the bloody scene on her chest. After that, he closed his eyes silently, and looked at Kristy with an unfriendly look, "This bridesmaid is generally dressed."

Chapter 364

After Bryan entered the dressing room, Miriam collapsed and looked at Kristy with a questioning look: "Is that what you meant?"

Kristy blinked her eyes twice. Before she said anything, Mr. Huo, who was very protective of her wife, stood up, "I invited Mr. Shao over. I didn't think about this matter well. I'm sorry."

Miriam raised her eyes and glanced at him indifferently, unsparingly, "I think Mr. Huo and Bryan's friendship has not reached such a deep level."

After speaking, she glanced at Kristy calmly. This time she had no emotions, she just covered her chest again. "The size of the clothes is OK, but the style is too exaggerated. If you don't find me a decent one, on the wedding day I just wore the same body I usually go to work."

After finishing talking, she re-entered the changing room to change her clothes. Before Bryan came out, he simply greeted him twice and left.

After returning to the company, I took a shift and got a call from my aunt about nine o'clock, and got up to get off work.

When I was packing my things, I suddenly remembered that my bag had landed in the bridal shop. I called Kristy and said that I didn't see it. So when I drove back, I drove a long way past the shop. I was surprised to find that the shop was already there. rest.

I had no choice but to call the aunt again, "I didn't bring the key, and I have about ten minutes to get home."

Going upstairs about ten minutes later, when I just came out of the elevator, I seemed to see a shadow of a figure in the shadow of the corner of the stairs by the faint light, and my heart suddenly became alert.

Subconsciously reached out and touched the bag, after reacting, he could only slow down, his body pressed against the wall, and grabbed the ashtray in the nearby public area.

He swallowed silently, raised the ashtray above his head, and approached tentatively.

Suddenly, the lights in the corridor turned on, and the darkness of the room was swallowed up. The man sitting in the corner with a slightly slumped figure appeared in front of him for a moment, with a few cigarette butts lying around his feet, and he could smell him after he calmed down Faint smoky flavor.

“Shao, Bryan.”

Miriam put down the ashtray in her hand. At this time, Bryan had already got up and looked at her calmly, deliberately holding back some thick emotions in her eyes.

As he approached, Miriam frowned slightly, “Did you drink?”

He didn't deny that, leaning against the wall next to him, his whole body showed a little fatigue, “There is a wine board at night, it just ended.”

“Just finished?” Miriam caught a glimpse of the cigarette butts on the ground, and didn't have any feelings of inquiring about this issue. She just glanced at him and asked for proof: “Kristy told you I moved here, right?”

Bryan still didn't deny it, slightly stepped away, took the bag hanging on the fire door handle of the stairs behind him, and handed it to her, “You left this in the bridal shop.”

Miriam fell silent, stretched out her hand to take it, and said awkwardly, “Thank you”.

At this time, the aunt who opened the door craned her neck and looked out for a while. After confirming that she heard Miriam's voice, she asked in the direction of the sound source: “Ms. Lu, are you back?”

Miriam looked back when she heard the sound, and said, “It's me.”

Then he turned his head and glanced at Bryan.

Her mood was a bit complicated. She didn't plan to see Bryan again after a year. She pinched the bag in her hand and groaned for a long time. In the end, she narrowed her eyes slightly and said calmly and almost indifferently: “I'm going in.”

“Yeah.” Bryan's voice was a little dull, and his response was very decisive, without any hesitation.

Miriam nodded when she saw this. Before turning away, she inevitably caught a glimpse of the cigarette butt on the ground. Her brows wrinkled slightly, "Stop smoking."

After speaking, he folded and exited the small space in the stairwell. After turning, he entered the house, deliberately amplifying the sound of closing the door.

In the huge living room, Father Lu was sitting on the sofa watching TV with dull eyes, Mother Lu and auntie surrounded the two children.

An Yan leaned on the edge of the sofa with her hands and pushed her hips high. An Xi was sitting on the velvet carpet on the floor playing with toys. After hearing the sound of opening the door, her big eyes blinked twice, and she looked up to see Miriam entering the door, she was milking. Cried out loudly: "Mom..."

Miriam leaned back against the door, and the gloomy uneasiness in her eyes was completely melted by the not-smooth "mummy" after entering the door. She changed her shoes at the door, and stepped forward to hug An Xi in her arms. .

Mother Lu was a little jealous when she saw this, and muttered, "Why would you call me a mom? This 'grandma' can't learn it after teaching hundreds of times."

After speaking, I heard a "bang" behind me, and when I turned my head, I saw An Yan slumped on the floor, scratching the back of his head in confusion, the little guy was not doing well, and the grandmother was frightened and hurriedly went over and took the child. Hold it up, "Is it hurt?"

Miriam couldn't hold back the smile on her face, "Mom, you are a little too used to them."

After all, I sat down on the sofa with Anxi in my arms. The family sat side by side and watched TV. When the aunt saw this, she followed Matsushita and turned around and went to the kitchen, carrying a bag of garbage and walking towards the door.

After opening the door, there was a short scream outside the door, which scared the family very much. Miriam frowned and put down the child to check the situation. When the door was opened again, the aunt fled in panic. Come, point your finger outside the house.

The voice was panicked, "First, sir..."

Miriam stepped up and pushed the door open. She saw Bryan standing by the door, most of her body shrouded in shadow, and she couldn't see the specific expression.

His throat moved, Miriam's heart softened in an instant, and she gave way to the side and walked out of the way behind her.

She roughly guessed what he was thinking, and before putting the person in, she reminded him almost indifferently, "It's okay to watch the children, but I won't be allowed to show up here in the future."

“Yeah.” His response quickly reached his ears, and the eyes shrouded in shadow almost fell on Miriam.

As she stepped in, her eyes couldn't adjust to the light of the room for a while. Mother Lu saw the person coming, her expression visibly lowered, and she glanced at Miriam with a complicated expression.

“Mom, take your dad back to the room to rest.”

Miriam didn't notice it, she spoke in a deep voice, and only slightly signaled in the direction of the sofa after the door closed in the room, “Sit down.”

She went into the restaurant and poured a cup of warm water. When she came out, An Yan was already holding Bryan's trouser legs with her hands and feet, and was about to climb on top of him. The man's eyes flashed with a faint and surprising light, and his body was stiff and he didn't move. It's like a sculpture, just looking at the little guy under him.

“Why don't you hug?” Miriam put the water cup in front of him, and hugged An Xi, who was playing with toys, to his side.”An Yan has gradually been able to walk, so he is more active, but he has a talent for language. It doesn't seem to be too high, and he doesn't know how to call people. Anxi is the opposite of him. He is usually quieter, but he is very smart and can already speak.”

As soon as she finished speaking, Anxi seemed to understand, she twisted in Miriam's arms, turned her head to look at Bryan, her eyes flickered twice, and she yelled, “Mom.”

Miriam's face turned black, “Xiaoxi, this is Daddy.”

He blurted out the words, and regretted it after speaking. An embarrassing atmosphere spread in the air. Miriam lowered her eyebrows, never looking up.

Bryan couldn't describe his mood at the moment. This kind of shock was something he had never experienced in his life. The light in his eyes trembled, and finally got up, “I'm going now, you have a good rest.”

After speaking, he lifted his foot and left.
