

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 385– 386

Chapter 385

Miriam's kiss to Bryan stopped at the point-to-stop level, and the two of them did not entangle each other too much, they separated calmly and looked at each other.

Bryan looked at the woman in front of him with a deep gaze, and listened to her quietly whispering: "Bryan, I am actually happy to see you today."

Miriam thought to herself, why did she get drunk if she didn't drink.

Later, when she turned her head and saw Tao Wan'er sitting in a wheelchair not far away, she suddenly understood.

In fact, she is still jealous at the bottom of her heart. It is not Bryan's true heart that is jealous, but Tao Wan'er, who is at this age, can show her sincerity without any worries, and she can use some means to gain peace. The opportunity for him to get close.

And these privileges and careful thoughts are something that Miriam doesn't possess anymore.

After thinking for a while, I couldn't help but jealously teased, "Does the perfume on Miss Tao smell good?"

Bryan looked down, quickly distinguished the meaning of her words, and suddenly couldn't hold back a smile, lowered his voice and asked: "Are you jealous?"

Tao Wan'er was stunned, and saw that the two of them were standing five meters away and looking at him. There was neither a word of concern nor the intention to move forward. They were still mumbling to each other, as if they were treating her. Gorilla in the zoo.

She curled up her fingers, her feelings of loneliness could not be suppressed.

At this time, I finally saw Miriam approaching her, took the wheelchair from the nurse, and pushed the person toward the ward while asking, "How is the injury?"

"Don't worry, the epidermal scratches have been disinfected, but you have to pay attention to your diet in the near future, otherwise it is easy to leave scars." With a gentle smile on the face of the nurse, after explaining, she folded back and returned to the nursing station.

Tao Wan'er allowed Miriam to push her into the ward, and when she saw Bryan's steps coming in, she suddenly said, "Sister Miriam, I want to talk to you."

When Bryan heard this, he stopped subconsciously, then turned back and took the opportunity to close the door.

“What are you going to say?” Miriam helped Tao Wan’er onto the hospital bed, and then leaned against the bed and waited for her to speak. It seemed that she didn’t have the mood to stay longer.

Tao Waner leaned on the hospital bed, her face was still pale. She seemed to hesitate for a while, and finally frankly said: “I was at the mall just now and I fell on purpose.”

Her gaze drooped and she didn’t observe Miriam’s expression much. The reason for her confession was mostly because she saw her little trick and didn’t escape the eyes of either of them. After tossing, she was injured. Not to mention, it’s like a funny clown.

“I know.” Sure enough, Miriam’s response was not too emotional, and the expected disputes and misunderstandings did not occur at all.

Tao Waner suddenly laughed at himself, his pale face even worse, “When I was in the jewelry store today, Chen Ge made everything clear to me, so that I don’t have the slightest hope for him, but I always want to. After all, you are already divorced. He is single now, and I have the right to pursue it, right?”

Miriam’s eyes dimmed, Tao Wan’er’s words, she had also heard similar words in Qi Yun’s mouth for a long time. After thinking about it in a deep voice, she finally responded simply: “Yes, you have this right.”

But Tao Waner shook his head, and the self-deprecating meaning in his eyes was even stronger, “You are wrong, I don’t have this right, he already belongs to you, not from the legal relationship, but from his heart. He was supposed to be. It’s not a warm-hearted person. There is only a little space in my heart that can hold feelings, and it’s all filled by you. Of course, I still think so. If it wasn’t because you first met him, I might not be able to fill that position.”

Tao Waner, who understood this fact, knew how ridiculous what he had just done.

Tao Wan’er’s words seemed to hit Miriam’s heart, involving a burst of tearing pain, and she secretly replied, yes, she was so lucky to be the only one in Bryan’s heart. If you wait until the end The ending is bright, so what is the hardship of the middle process.

The corners of her lips curled slightly, and the bed was tucked away smilingly, “The process of liking someone is bitter and sweet. I can understand your behavior today and thank you for your frankness, but I am sorry. Bryan is also my fate, and I cannot give my fate to you.”

When she said these words, there was a little bitterness in her gentle smile.

“You rest first, we will pick you up tomorrow morning.” Swallowing the bitterness, lifted his foot and walked outside the ward. At this time, I couldn’t wait to see that person.

Opening the door of the ward, he looked up and saw the man standing leaning on the opposite wall. His eyes were full of fatigue, as if he pulled out of a certain thought after hearing the door opened, and raised his eyes to look at her. A slight smile appeared in an instant.

She also laughed, and the two stood facing each other, as if suddenly a lot of emotions were conveyed with a silent smile, and they didn't need to say much to each other, but they understood each other.

"Let's go." Finally, Bryan raised his foot and walked in the direction of the elevator. "There is a hotel on the opposite side. I booked two rooms."

Miriam followed silently.

After they got out of the hospital, the two walked all the way along the street. During the period, they kept a short distance, and slowed down in a tacit understanding with each other, expecting the road to be longer and longer.

Until they walked all the way to the front desk, the two of them checked in. When they took the elevator upstairs, Miriam's brows wrinkled inaudibly, and there was a slight cramp in her abdomen, and she could not help but congeal her eyebrows. After calculating the date, the frown deepened.

Bryan seemed to be aware of something. Before Miriam could react, he reached out and poke her forehead, "What's wrong, where is it uncomfortable?"

Miriam suddenly felt the pain more obvious, and at the same time warm liquid was running through her body, she took a breath of cold air, her expression a little embarrassed, "Maybe...that's here."

"Which one?" Bryan just asked, and he would react in the next second, "That?"

Miriam pursed her lips. At this time, the elevator door opened, and her steps were a little slow. For fear that the amplitude would cause a blood collapse, she thought about it and planned to rush back that day, so she didn't bring anything, and she felt a little upset.

Bryan helped Miriam take two steps. In the end, he couldn't stand it, so he hugged the man with a big hand. Miriam didn't have time to react. After an exclamation, his hands clung to the man's neck. At the same time, he said quietly: "Bryan ,Leaked....."

Bryan's face became stiff, and he moved quickly.

Sending Miriam to the room, she couldn't wait to get into the bathroom as soon as her feet hit the ground. Bryan leaned on the door and waited for a while, "Is that right?"

There was a woman inside with a dull "um".

The corners of his lips curled up unknowingly, and he walked out of the door while asking: "Wait for a while, I'll be back soon."

Chapter 386

In the supermarket, Bryan brought the stuffed shopping basket to the checkout counter. The aunt at the checkout scanned the code while looking up at the man in front of her. Her expression was cold and boring, and she looked like she was accustomed to it. The key is also rare. I don't know which daughter-in-law is so lucky.

"Sir, this is a baby diaper, are you sure you want it?" The aunt raised the package in her hand. Among the piles of ladies' sanitary napkins, this diaper looked very eye-catching.

Bryan was expressionless, "No, thank you."

"Then there is this one, this is for pregnant women only." The aunt raised the ladies' underwear in her hand again.

"Nor."

Bryan's complexion did not change, and he looked calm, but in fact, the palm of his palm was already wet with sweat.

After the checkout was over, he carried two heavy bags and walked out of the supermarket vigorously.

About ten minutes later, Miriam stared at the sanitary napkins that covered the entire bed, feeling dumb.

Bryan didn't seem to care about it, "I don't know which brand you are used to, so I bought them all. Just pick the one you like."

Miriam was silent, pursing her lips and finally said nothing, grabbing a bag and reentering the bathroom.

After coming out, Bryan had rearranged the bed and put a warm water bag in her arms, "You can rest early. I'll be next door. Call me if you have a problem."

Miriam stared at the warm water bag in his arms, and with a soft "um", he opened the quilt and went to bed, closing his eyes and pretending to sleep.

Bryan waited quietly for a while before raising his foot to leave.

The next day, Bryan and Miriam went to the hospital to pick up Tao Waner, but the nurse at the hospital told them that they had been discharged from the hospital early in the morning. Miriam condensed her eyebrows and asked Bryan to make a call to her, and the phone was dialed out. After waiting for a long time, no one answered. After hanging up, the sound of SMS reminder came.

“The hospital has emergency arrangements, I’m leaving first.”

The explanation was calm and calm, and there was no emotion between the lines. Bryan retracted the phone and raised his eyes lightly, “She is back to Jincheng.”

It’s no surprise that Miriam turned to think about the conversation with Tao Waner last night.

The most recent ticket was booked on the phone, and he gestured to the man slightly, “I have to go too.”

Miriam didn’t wait much, and went downstairs to stop a taxi. After getting in the car, she caught a glimpse of Bryan catching up from behind and patted the front cover when the body was about to start.

The driver was taken aback. He rolled down the window and was about to curse, when he saw Bryan walking in two steps, opening the co-pilot’s seat and entering directly, “Qiaoyuan Airport.”

Miriam stared at him, and coldly said between the driver’s hesitation: “Let’s drive.”

After arriving at the airport, Miriam realized that Bryan had booked a flight back to City Two. He turned around and glanced at him. As soon as what he was about to say fell to his lips, the man explained first as if he was afraid of her misunderstanding: “There is something to deal with when returning to City Two.”

Miriam held the ticket, half-believing what he said, but didn’t pursue anything. Hearing the announcement from the radio station, she raised her foot and walked towards the ticket gate.

After getting on the plane, Miriam found her seat, passed the young man beside her, and closed her eyes after taking her seat. Because of the severe abdominal pain last night, she didn’t sleep well and felt extremely tired at this time.

In a daze, she felt a noisy movement next to her. She half-opened her eyes to look and saw Bryan’s handsome side face.

Unconsciously, his eyes widened for a few minutes, and he blinked twice, his face was calm, and he stared at that side face in a daze.

Bryan noticed her gaze, and did not look back at her, but quietly explained: “There is a couple over there. They asked me to coordinate their seats.”

Miriam was half-believing again and had no desire to pursue it, so she gave a quiet “Oh” and turned her head to continue sleeping.

Bryan temporarily decided to change his route to City Two, half because of Miriam, and half because he received a call from Miller.

After getting off the plane, he took a taxi and went to the hospital. Then he saw Miller lying on the bed, with gauze wrapped around both arms, and his face was beaten into a pig's head. He did not see the half-heartedness of the past.

Bryan leaned against the door of the ward, seeing this scene in front of him, and suddenly became quite speechless.

Miller has made a lot of money by investing in Bryan's company for more than a year. Gu's father can no longer use financial means to control him, so now things are going smoothly, and things are becoming more and more confusing for Bryan.

He stood at the door for a while, watching the man on the bed squirming, and finally took out his mobile phone from his pocket and planned to call Father Gu. Unexpectedly, Miller happened to see this scene and shouted in panic: "Brother, Don't betray me!"

Bryan lifted his gaze from the screen of the phone when he heard the words, with the phone still in his hand, only indifferently replied: "You have made things clear to me, I will think about it."

He said that he raised his foot and walked in front of him, relentlessly stretched out his hand to poke his pig's face twice, "Drink too much again?"

"It's really not this time." Miller was wronged and explained the matter clearly.

It turned out to be beaten by Qi Feng.

The more Bryan listened, his brow furrowed deeper, "You said someone was following Qi Feng?"

Miller was so painful that his mouth was cold. He didn't take this matter to heart like Bryan did. He just gritted his teeth severely, "It seems that our little lunatic is too beautiful. I drove to see it. A few people followed a few streets, and they couldn't get past before they shot."

Bryan pressed down on the topic and did not continue to ask, but raised his eyebrows and asked, "Your family?"

Miller sniffed, taking it for granted, "I grew up behind my ass when I was a child, and I was raised by my own sister, so why didn't it belong to my family."

After a pause, I thought Bryan was thinking about Qi Yun because of Qi Yun's affairs, so he pointed at his nose with great care, "I tell you, Qi Feng is different from her sister, not so much. Huahuachangzi, and because of this incident, she has been very sad recently. You are not allowed to make trouble for others."

Bryan pursed his lips and reminded him thoughtfully: "Don't take Qi Feng too simple, and don't be too self-righteous."

What he said was very cryptic, and when Miller was thinking about it, he heard footsteps approaching from outside the door.

Looking back, I saw Qi Feng carrying a thermos bottle, standing at the end of the bed, with a faint smile on his face. The smile was only on his face, not even in his eyes. It looked like a skinny smile. Don't laugh.

"It's not easy for me, Brother Chen, you can talk about it." She and Bryan looked at each other, and walked closer together, knocking the thermos bottle on the side of the table, making a sound.

Bryan was silent, there was no extra expression on his face, nor did he answer the conversation.

After a standoff for a while, he got up and adjusted the hem of his suit and glanced at Miller, "I'm going back first. If you have anything to do, let's talk on the phone."

Without waiting for Miller's exit, he already lifted his foot and walked away.

When people walked out of the ward, Qi Feng's gloomy breath had not disappeared yet, and he stared at the entrance of the ward in a daze.

Miller saw this and reluctantly explained to Bryan, "Your sister shouldn't be blamed on him. You should know that he is not doing well now."

"I know." Qi Feng turned his back to Miller, with a cloud of mist in his eyes, gritted his teeth for a long while, holding on without letting his voice choke.

Qi Feng knew that Qi Yun could be regarded as self-inflicted in the end, but after all, she was her own sister, she could understand it intellectually, but could not accept it emotionally.

Peeling from her current thoughts, Qi Feng turned her head and stared at Miller, with a rare seriousness in her eyes. She looked at the man in front of her carefully, and Jie Er's crimson lips curled up.

I can't understand why I am so immersed in this obsession that I can't extricate myself.

"Little madman, what's the matter with you?" Miller realized something was wrong and shook a stiff arm in front of her.

Qi Feng thought, as if made up his mind, "Miller, I will be twenty-eight after this year's birthday. I don't have the energy to be your shield forever, and I don't have the confidence to be your mouth for a lifetime. Little madman..."

After a short silence, she exhaled a long breath, "If you have been pretending to be stupid, then I will tell you clearly. I like you. I will give you a day to think about it. We will either re-determine a new one. Relationship, or let each other make a living."

After she finished speaking, she seemed to be afraid that Miller would give an answer too soon, so she lifted her foot and left the ward.
