

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 399– 400

Chapter 399

Zhang Quan sat in the car, listening to the crackling rain on the roof, looking out the window with heavy eyes.

The man in the driver's seat put his hand on the steering wheel, turned half of his face, mockingly said, "My buddy, don't go back yet, do you plan to stay here all night?"

He saw the direction facing the hospital gate, and a black car had just driven in.

Zhang Quan pinched his eyebrows, his voice was exhausted, "Go back."

Miriam leaned on the seat, as if he heard the sound of approaching footsteps in a daze, she tried to open her eyes with strong will, but it was in vain.

The eyelids are heavy, and the head is heavy, and there are waves of chill from the soles of the feet, and the palms of the hands and forehead are hot.

She thought, Huo Qiyuan was here.

Thinking about this, his eyes were still closed, but one hand stretched out, and it stuck something straight, hard.

"Huo Qiyuan, get out of here!" She just opened her mouth when she realized that her throat was sore, she felt an unbearable hotness when she spoke, and her voice was hoarse.

Leaning back, his hands dropped, and he whispered: "Go..."

The man lowered his eyes, his eyes filled with distress, his brows curled into a ball, he dragged Miriam's head against the cold wall, and yelled softly, "Miriam."

Bryan's voice seemed to be coming from the bottom of the deep sea, dull and unreal, but it hit Miriam's eardrum straight.

"Bryan..." The corners of her lips opened slightly, but she didn't shout because her throat was so painful.

She fell asleep again in a daze, and when she woke up the next day, with her eyes closed, the picture of last night suddenly appeared in her mind.

I still remember that in the blurred vision, it seemed to see Bryan's face that was not real.

The next second he opened his eyes, adjusted slightly to the environment in front of him, and saw the man leaning on the window asleep quietly.

It really is him.

Miriam's heart sank in an instant.

There was a numb pain in his arm, and he saw the potion hanging on the back of his hand. With a slight movement, the man suddenly woke up and straightened up instantly.

His eyes were covered with cobwebs of red blood, and his chin was stained with some green beard, and his whole person showed a rare fatigue.

"Are you awake?" He reached out and probed her forehead, and he sighed silently when the temperature receded.

The air in the morning was still a bit chilly, the rain outside the window was clear, and a ray of sunlight came in from the window sill, just covering most of the man's body.

Looking at it from Miriam's perspective, she felt that Bryan's whole body was radiating light, and the light fell into her eyes and disturbed the uncontrollable throbbing in her heart.

She opened her mouth, her throat still hurt a lot.

Pursing lips, holding back the discomfort of the body and asking: "Why are you here?"

Bryan got up, went to the bedside to pour a glass of warm water, and handed it to her lips, "I saw the real-time news and learned about it. The nearest hospital to the mall is here, so I drove over."

What he said was an understatement, and his eyes were flooded with soft light.

Miriam took a sip of water, her eyes fell on Bryan secretly, her heart trembling.

She thought, there is only one Bryan in this world, and no one can replace it.

She suddenly thought of Huo Qiyuan, her head suddenly awake, supporting the edge of the bed and getting out of bed.

Bryan reacted and pressed her shoulder with one hand, preventing her from pulling out the needle.

"Is Mr. Huo here? I can't let her see Kristy easily..." Her lips were pale, and she bit each word extremely hard.

Bryan pressed her to the bed, "Miriam, he is already in the next ward."

Miriam's movements paused slightly, but she still managed to convince herself to accept the current situation. After calming down, she gave up fighting against Bryan. Instead, with the help of his arm, she got up and pushed the sling to the door.

"I have to go take a look."

Bryan looked down, but finally did not stop, and followed him alone.

In the ward next door, Huo Qiyuan piled up a table full of the breakfast he bought, and the fragrance diffused. He held a spoonful of porridge to Kristy's lips, "Take a sip."

Kristy didn't have the slightest blood on her face, and she pressed her lips without saying a word.

The man's movements were deadlocked for a long time, and finally gave up this kind of resistance, put the porridge bowl aside, and said in a low voice: "I am very sorry about this matter, I will give you an explanation as soon as possible."

Kristy hugged her chest with her arms around her chest, and even a little hard breathing would cause a tingling pain in her chest. At this time, she had to endure the turbulent loss and sadness in her heart. The suffocating breath hurt her almost suffocated.

Tears rolled over her face silently, she turned her head away, "Huo Qiyuan, let's break up."

She has been forbearing since the two were together. She has tolerated a lot for Huo Qiyuan, but she couldn't bear the charge of killing her original partner because of the fact that this junior was in the high position.

The last beam supporting his heart collapsed suddenly, and his heart instantly became barren.

The man's eyes trembled, and he said in a deep voice, "I don't agree."

He stood up, seemingly tolerated certain emotions, and repeated it again, "I will solve the matter. You can remember my lifelong hatred, but I don't agree to break up."

Miriam stood outside the door and listened. Originally, he put a hand on the doorknob and hesitated to enter the door, but after hearing this, she couldn't help but pushed the door and walked in.

The moving rod of the hanging water made a harsh sound on the floor. Miriam pushed the rod and walked straight to the bed, separating Kristy from Huo Qiyuan alone.

"Mr. Huo." She said hoarsely, and said Shen Shen, "I don't question your feelings for Kristy, but from an outsider like me, you can't be considered a qualified husband."

She darkened her eyes, her eyes fell on the door of the ward, and Bryan stood alone and stared at her.

“From a selfish point of view, Kristy is my best friend. It is only natural for me to protect her. If you are lucky enough to see the scene last night, I don’t know how you will feel, or if you can say such a justified statement. Come.”

When she said this, she suddenly remembered some scenes from last night, her body was a bit unsupported, her five fingers curled up into a ball, and most of her body relied on the power of the moving rod nearby to barely stand firm.

“Miss Lu...” Huo Qiyuan opened his mouth, with an indifferent expression, “This is a matter between Kristy and I. You don’t even know your feelings, so why do you intervene in other people’s stories.”

He asked with a cold face, “In your eyes, Mr. Shao is not worthy of you, is he?”

Miriam was dumb, the expression on her face stiffened a little bit.

Huo Qiyuan hit the nail on the head, stabbing the most untouchable boundary in Miriam’s heart.

“I think I am the only person in the world who can match Miriam.” During the stalemate, Bryan’s footsteps came slowly, his voice was steady and strong, he paused, and his uncertain eyes fell on Huo Qiyuan. Body, “But I will fully respect her thoughts, she said I am not worthy, then I will wait.”

These words passed through Miriam’s heart silently, like a warm current, and at the same time solved her current dilemma, it was equivalent to giving Huo Qiyuan a loud slap in the face.

Huo Qiyuan narrowed his eyes, his face did not show too much emotion.

Kristy lay on the hospital bed, coughing with a dull head, and her eyebrows trembled with pain. She narrowed her eyes and rebuked, “You all go.”

After that, she stretched out her plain knuckles and held Miriam’s clothes, “Miriam will do it with me.”

The two men looked at each other and exited the ward tacitly. Huo Qiyuan stopped Bryan, who was about to leave, with a pale smile, “Mr. Shao, are you free?”

Not unexpectedly, Bryan stopped, turned his head and turned his eyes to face each other, and finally nodded.

Miriam in the ward was a little unsupported after the person left, and took advantage of the situation to sit down beside her. Before she could comfort her, the woman beside her spoke first.

“In contrast, Bryan is impeccable. Are you sure you won’t accept him as soon as possible?” Kristy leaned on the hospital bed, still feeling ridiculous.

Chapter 400

In the afternoon, Bryan picked up Miriam and was discharged.

The two sat in the car and were silent for a short while.

Bryan leaned over to fasten Miriam’s seat belt, and took advantage of the trend to poke her forehead again. His outstretched hand touched the woman’s warm skin, and her delicate knuckles snapped back in the next second.

“What’s the matter?” He looked at him and noticed something.

Miriam smiled reluctantly, thinking about the conversation with Kristy in the ward before.

“It’s just a test to say that breaking up is just a test. I want to know his attitude. I, Kristy, met Mr. Huo in this life. It was a confession.” There was no blood on her face, but her eyes were immersed in memories, but she smiled peacefully. Yi said, “Even if I know that this road will be completely spurned, as long as he doesn’t give up, I definitely can’t escape.”

She laughed again, her eyes full of unconcealed envy when she looked at Miriam, “Do you know why you can separate from Bryan? Because he is a rare good man in this world. He loves not selfishly, fully understands and Respect your feelings, so that you can rather endure the pain and torture yourself. Mr. Huo is different. He does not agree to break up. He respects his own will. He thinks that he loves deeply and cannot give up, so he uses’love ‘The excuse to circle me around.”

“Bryan, how have you been this year?” She pulled away from the messy thoughts, she clasped his hand, pressed tightly to her cheek, and rubbed it carefully, trying to perceive this existence.

Looking at each other for a while, Miriam’s eyes gradually spread a little wet, but the corners of her lips curled up with a soft smile.

Bryan’s heart fell into her gentle eyes instantly, unable to extricate herself, her throat became astringent, and three words rolled out: “Not good.”

Because the deep thoughts will always take advantage of his inadvertent time to get involved in his lungs, and when his sanity is restored, he must restrain all his emotions, pretend to be indifferent and ruthless, and use day and night work to fill in the gaps that may be invaded at any time. It has become an incomprehensible working machine in the eyes of everyone.

He had a bad life. For a year he tolerated restraint, never used alcohol to paralyze himself, and occasionally smoked to relieve fatigue. When overlooking the whole city in Jincheng, he knew that his favorite person was not there, and he treated everything. There is no sense of belonging.

Miriam's tears rolled down, and she leaned forward and kissed him.

"Sorry, me too."

Before she pressed her lips together, she whispered in a low voice, turning all the emotions in her heart into this uncontrollable deep kiss.

She is too selfish. Although she loves Bryan deeply, she still inevitably ranks Bryan, who belongs to the category of love, to the end in front of her family.

"Miriam, we..." After the deep kiss, Bryan's five fingers merged into the hair on the back of Miriam's head. He looked down affectionately, and some words that had been lingering for a long time came to his lips, and suddenly remembered his previous promise to Miriam, so He swallowed again.

Miriam noticed something and gave a low "um", waiting for him to continue speaking with her eyes down.

After waiting for a long time, he smiled to himself, but turned the front of the conversation when he spoke, "Mr. Huo should be deliberately used by someone. He promised to shift the focus of work in Kyoto back to City Two as soon as possible. Kristy may need you. Unlock it more."

The topic did not progress in the direction of Miriam. She was a little dazed and calmed down for a while. After a sound of "um", she couldn't help but question: "Are you sure Mr. Huo is worth it?"

Bryan constricted his eyes, and confided in two words, "It's worth it."

Miriam believes in Huo Qiyuan, but he believes in Bryan. Hearing such an answer, my heart was a little looser.

"I see." She stared blankly, then suddenly remembered something, her eyes narrowed a little, "There is one more thing..."

Bryan looked down and frowned when she saw her solemn expression, "What's the matter?"

"I suspect that Rania is not suffering from depression." She grabbed her eyes and held her breath, holding the seat belt in her hand. "I accidentally found her medicine bottle in Kyoto. The medicine body stated that it was bupropion. The test results of the pills inside are different."

Bryan looked around, and then slowly started the body. The engine roared and the car poured into the traffic. He said solemnly, "What is the result?"

"Cloning. Rania either has high blood pressure or..." She glanced at Bryan sideways. The man held the steering wheel with both hands and drove the car extremely securely, with calm emotions.

She did not intend to continue speaking, and he understood her meaning very tacitly, and responded: "I know."

Miriam's words just confirmed Bryan's conjecture that his heart is not enough for the following conclusions. At this time, the emotions slumped in his heart eased a little, and he curled his lips and turned to stare at the woman's bright and clear side face.

Miriam noticed the look in his eyes, and suddenly became a little uneasy, and pointed forward, "Can you drive with peace of mind?"

When Bryan heard the words, he turned his gaze back, and at the same time, the knuckles holding the steering wheel tightened, and his smile deepened, "You are so smart and make me feel uneasy."

Miriam didn't understand what he meant, "What's upset?"

"Smart women have a fatal attraction to some men." He was frank, and at the same time frowned a little. "I'm worried that someone will always have the same vision as me."

Miriam reacted and laughed blankly, "Unfortunately, Mr. Shao is the only one in the world."

As soon as these words came out, the two looked at each other briefly, and both laughed out loud.

Because he cared about Lu's mother, Bryan only sent Miriam downstairs, and the two of them did not say much in tacit agreement, and they said goodbye after a simple greeting.

I took the elevator upstairs. As soon as I opened the door, I heard the child crying loudly. I saw Lu mother rushing around in the living room. The aunt coaxed Anxi and An Yan, and the two little guys stared with big eyes very tacitly. Seeing Huo Jue who was crying and howling, it seemed that he could not understand the behavior of this alien creature.

Miriam changed his shoes at the entrance, because he was afraid of having a fever just now, so he didn't dare to get too close, so he could only watch from a distance and saw his mother put the baby bottle into the child's mouth. Then he calmed down and slurped hard Milk, legs kicked.

Miriam raised her forehead and looked at her mother's thin figure, feeling dumb, "Mom, thank you very much."

She walked over, wrapped her mother's waist from behind, leaned sideways on her back, carefully perceiving this rare silence. Mother Lu paused slightly, and then smiled, "The little guy is also poor, I have seen the news, how is that girl Kristy now?"

Seeing that the topic turned here, Miriam simply continued, "She's okay, but I plan to let her come here to recuperate after being discharged from the hospital, and then go back when the injury recovers."

Mother Lu nodded, expressing understanding, and then embarrassed again, "But..."

Miriam understood her concern, her head tilted on her mother's shoulder, "It happens that I am going to travel to Kyoto in two days, about half a month. Let her live in my room during this time."

Seeing this, Mother Lu couldn't say anything. Miriam got up and went to the kitchen, "I took a leave today. I will prepare what to eat tonight."

Mother Lu hugged the child and followed. The two squeezed in the kitchen. Miriam noticed something and twisted her brows to look at her mother, "Mom, just tell me if you have anything."

Mother Lu frowned, she seemed unsure, but she still hesitated to say: "I saw the Vice President Zhang with you in the hospital before. I think he always feels a bit familiar. I thought about it all night and didn't remember anything. , Miriam, how did you meet?"

Miriam looked down and didn't seem to take her mother's words too seriously. While taking the ingredients from the refrigerator, she casually replied, "It's just a work relationship, there is no friendship."

"Mom thinks this guy looks good, or you..."

Miriam suddenly understood that, knowing that her mother would be here waiting for herself, she couldn't help but stretched out her hand to push the person out, "I have a lot of fumes here, you take your baby to rest outside."
