

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 427– 428

Chapter 427

About a week later, the cooperation between Zhiheng Jewelry and Yingxin was finally signed. Mr. Henry was very happy. Miriam was mentioned in the small meeting of the conference and she fully affirmed her ability.

Miriam also breathed a sigh of relief. She was more realistic and cared more about the performance bonus that was about to arrive.

Because this case is negotiated, except for her, the quarterly bonuses of the marketing department and the entire company will become a considerable number. The old men who originally followed Zheng Yun's attitude towards Miriam are also relaxed at this time. Slow down a lot.

That day, Miriam came out of the conference room and went straight to the bathroom.

She was leaning on the sink and vomiting a stomach of sour water. When she was rinsing her mouth, she saw Liao Qiu who came in through the mirror in front of her. She noticed her footsteps, and the two looked directly at each other through the mirror.

Miriam spit out the water in her mouth, then took a handful of water to wash her face, and asked her, "What's wrong?"

Liao Qiu swallowed before remembering something, "The colleague in the secretarial department just said that Henry always looked for you. I saw you enter the bathroom, so I came in and let me know."

Miriam wiped her face, holding the counter with her hands, her face turned pale, and she made a deep "um" before turning around to go out.

Liao Qiu stopped her stepping out. She looked over with a worried face, "Director, I think you have a bad face lately, and it hurts your stomach if you always spit out acid. Or should you go to the hospital?"

Miriam curled her lips and nodded slightly, "I can't take care of the work these two days. I will make time to go there on weekends. Don't worry."

She said, patted the other person on the shoulder, and walked around her.

In President Henry's office, the man's smile never faded from the moment she walked in, and his eyes were full of appreciation.

Miriam calmly responded and sat down at his desk, "Henry, what can I do?"

President Henry put his arms and hands on the desk flat, crossed his fingers together, and pushed a document in front of her when he saw it, "I won't say much about other things. I have notified the personnel department of the performance bonus this time. I did it for you."

Miriam glanced down, did not open it, just smiled lightly, "Thank you, Mr. Henry, I feel honored to be able to work under your hand."

As she said, she pushed the file back again, and tried to find the main point of the topic, "Is there any other orders, please mention it, as long as I can do it at work, I will try my best."

Seeing that she was also unambiguous, President Henry continued to say, "That's it, Fengrui's Longteng company, are you familiar with it?"

Miriam didn't expect that Henry always mentioned Long Teng suddenly, his expression changed uncontrollably, and it took a long time to recover calm, and said lightly: "I heard it, I didn't talk about cooperation before, but in the end, there was a change in President Shang. Nothing more."

President Henry's eyes deepened, his face still smiling, "It's it, but I heard that Long Teng's current person in charge has changed, no longer Shang Rui, do you know who it is?"

"I don't know, who is it?" Miriam tugged at the corner of her mouth, her expression unchanged, but instead showed a bit of unnatural stiffness.

"Mu Ming." President Henry smiled even more, and slowly let out a sigh of relief after proposing the name, "It's the Mu name that followed you a year ago. I didn't expect to mix so well now. I think you and him The relationship is good..."

When Mr. Henry mentioned this, he suddenly lengthened his tone and didn't continue.

Miriam knew instantly, her hands hanging in front of her clenched silently, her nails embedded in the flesh, "Henry always wanted to let me talk about the cooperation with Long Teng?"

When Mr. Henry heard the words, he smiled comfortably, and then nodded.

He turned his gaze back to the computer, tapped twice and then turned the screen to her.

"Longteng is a subsidiary of Fengrui. If we can negotiate a cooperation with them, we may infiltrate the entire business of Fengrui in the future. We used to think it would be too difficult for a large enterprise like Fengrui to get a share, but this After all, Mu Ming has worked in Yingxin for a while, and he is familiar with you..."

Miriam's face gradually turned pale, and he heard him hesitate to say: "And I heard that Zheng Yun once talked to Long Teng about cooperation when he was there, but it didn't stop at the end. It may be because she left, but the files should be all. Is it with you?"

Miriam's eyes trembled. At this time, listening to Henry Zong's words, I always felt that the rumbling in his head was very unreal.

With a dumb voice, she barely curled the corners of her lips, "Maybe there is too much information to sort out before there is time, I will check it out."

When President Henry raised his hand, he didn't seem to care very much, "That said, go back and look for it. If you have any questions, you can ask Zheng Yun again. I'll leave this case to you to arrange and try to get it. , Our City Two business should be able to set a new high in the evaluation of the head office at the end of the year."

Miriam was speechless, squeezing a smile.

There was a thin layer of sweat on her back. When she came back from Henry's office, she kept thinking about some questions. Why did Henry suddenly become so interested in Long Teng? The case of Zheng Yun also He did not report to the company's database, but Mr. Henry is also clear.

Thinking about it, she clenched her fist silently.

All the way back to the office, she accidentally discovered that the door was half open when she pushed the door. She twisted her eyebrows slightly, and observed that there was indeed a problem with her state during this period of time, and she was sweating all the way down, and even her memory became a problem.

Pushing the door open, she sat in the office chair for a while, and then took the phone next to her and dialed out, "Trouble, please come to my office for Xiao Zhang from the data department."

After she hung up the phone, she waited for a while before Xiao Zhang knocked on the door and came in.

As soon as the man entered the door, he glanced over the messy desk in front of him, and finally hit the pink packing box, subconsciously curling his eyebrows and saying: "Pregnancy test..."

Miriam heard the sound, her gaze fell along his gaze, her eyes trembled instantly.

Her eyes were quick, she grabbed the red package, stuffed it into the drawer next to her, and coughed twice in embarrassment. At this time, Xiao Zhang hadn't been relieved, and her eyes were awkward, "Director, you won't ..."

He stretched out a finger and pointed at Miriam.

Miriam's cough turned red, and finally calmed down without explaining, but simply responded: "No, you don't need to be surprised."

Xiao Zhang has always been relatively slow in this regard. Hearing this, he didn't continue to pursue it. Instead, he asked: "Come over with me, what's the matter?"

Miriam returned to her usual cold expression, and motioned to the front seat, "Sit down first."

Xiao Zhang sat down and heard Miriam continue to ask: "How many years have you been to Yingxin?"

"Three and a half years. He answered without hesitation.

Miriam narrowed her eyes slightly, tapped her fingers on the desk, and waited for a while before she said: "This time the case of Zhiheng is taken down, and you have seen it. The leaders above are very happy. Both you and Liao Qiu performed well, I I also fought with President Henry. There is no vacant position in the data department for the time being, but the marketing department still lacks a deputy minister. Would you like it?"

Xiao Zhang was obviously stunned, his expression unclear whether he was surprised or horrified.

"What about Liao Qiu?" After a long while, he asked a nonchalant remark.

Miriam saw through and smiled, "Are you interested in other girls?"

After finishing speaking, she leaned back and said seriously: "Liao Qiu, after all, has shallow qualifications and insufficient work experience. First, she will not pass at the leadership level, and second, rising too fast may not be a good thing for her career. So this time, I want to promote you first."

Chapter 428

On the weekend, Miriam checked out in the hospital and took a look at Song Bo. When she left the house, she received a call from Bryan and drove directly to Jincheng.

In the Children's Hospital of Jincheng City, Mother Shao hugged Anxi, who was crying, her expression worried and helpless.

The doctor took the little guy's body temperature and performed a basic checkup. Finally, he sighed helplessly, and looked at Mother Shao as he filled out the form, his eyes full of questions.

"Who are you a child?" He squinted, tore off the opened order, and held it in his hand.

"grandmother."

Mother Shao caressed Anxi's back, the little guy in her arms cried and coughed, her face flushed, but she didn't mean to stop, her mouth was babbling, as if she was saying something.

The young and alert male doctor twisted his eyebrows, as if he could hear it, and asked, "Where is the mother of the child?"

Mother Shao paused, her expression instantly condensed, "Our Boer's parents are divorced, now I will bring them."

The doctor paused, and pushed out the medical list in his hand. "The child seems to be in a bad condition. Does he often cry during this period? I have a bad cough but it doesn't look like a cold. I can judge malnutrition and the possibility of pneumonia. You follow this list to give her a blood test, take another film, and check it in two hours."

When Mother Shao heard this, her face changed again, "Is it that serious?"

She was not sure, but her eyes were full of anxiety.

The doctor originally didn't want to say more, but I have to say something more here, "I can see that you really feel sorry for the child, but I think this little guy misses her mother and grandma, and he kept shouting when he was crying, you Didn't you fail to hear it?"

Mother Shao was speechless, but her hands were tight, and she was about to go out holding the baby.

As soon as he went out, Tao Waner greeted him, holding a half bottle of prepared milk powder in his hand, and wanted to take the child over, "Anxi hasn't eaten it since last night, so I must be hungry."

As she said, she handed the pacifier to the child's mouth, but the little guy refused to eat, tilted his head to the side, stretched out his arms to block it, and groaned and shouted "Mummy".

Mother Shao's face was so gloomy, she snatched the bottle over when she saw it, and looked at Tao Waner's eyes somewhat dissatisfied, "Forget it, the doctor said that she would take her to have a blood draw. Let her eat."

"Blood?" Tao Waner hugged Anxi in his arms, and walked behind Shao's mother to the examination department. Because the little guy had been struggling hard, her steps were also swaying, and the rhythm of high heels stepping on the floor was all Become chaotic.

Shao's mother arrived at the elevator first, wringing her eyebrows and waiting for the elevator, she didn't notice Tao Waner behind her. Because the little guy wanted to break free from her arms, he kept leaning most of his body forward. As a result, his body slipped out of her grip and fell straight to the ground.

At this time, the elevator happened to reach the floor. Mother Shao turned her head and urged. She saw this scene and felt her heart pop out of her chest, and she exclaimed in surprise.

Tao Waner stretched out his hand and chased it out, and at the same time, his back was instantly soaked in cold sweat. After the reaction, the child was finally caught by her, and he took a deep breath.

“God, smile, are you crazy?” Mother Shao walked over, unable to conceal her dissatisfaction, took the child from her hand and held it firmly in her arms, “She is my granddaughter, No one can take responsibility for hurting her.”

Tao Waner smiled bitterly when he heard the words, and his throat moved hard, but finally he didn't say a word. After I wanted to get up, I felt that the knee I was kneeling on the ground was so painful, and when I moved a little, I felt a piercing pain.

Just because he cared about the child, he didn't pay attention to his feet, and his knees slammed on the floor with a terrible muffled sound.

Mother Shao didn't notice this at all, all her thoughts fell on her baby granddaughter, and after she carried her back, she turned around and headed for the elevator again, and then she was stunned.

The elevator door was open, Miriam was standing inside, her eyes condensed, and she looked at the two men solemnly.

“Lu...Miriam.” Shao Mu's face changed suddenly, her lips and teeth opened, her voice trembling unconsciously when she spoke.

Miriam smiled mockingly, her eyes fell behind the old man first, and she stared straight at the place where the incident just happened. Mother Shao didn't know how much she saw what happened just now.

She walked over in twos or twos, bent over and raised Tao Wan'er's arm, and helped her up from the ground.

With the help of Miriam's strength, Tao Waner reluctantly retracted the injured knee, and after standing up, she supported the wall next to her, slowly slowing down for a while.

I don't know if she was deliberately avoiding Miriam's eyes, her voice was faint, and she said, “Sister Miriam, I'm sorry.”

Miriam didn't have any expression on her face, but she heard the mother Shao who was next to her suddenly mad, and snorted: “What are you apologizing to her? The child is in our Shao's house now, and it has nothing to do with this woman...”

While she was talking, she was precautionary, holding the child back and retreating, even pressing her head in her arms, not letting her look at Miriam more.

Miriam's emotions that had been pressing hard on her heart faintly exploded at this moment. She turned around and approached Shao's mother bit by bit. At the same time, she gritted her teeth, and the blue veins on her forehead burst.

"You know, how much effort did I just take to endure not doing it with you? If there is any accident in Anxi, I promise I won't give up with you." She spoke word by word, and after a while, the bottom of her eyes covered by the thick mist, the eye sockets followed by a big red circle, looking very horrible.

Shao's mother had never seen Miriam's fierce aura, her blood-red eyes were full of vicious aura, as if she could swallow people. She paled in shock, and she still moved backwards, and was finally stopped by a wall behind her.

"Lu, Miriam, let me tell you..."

She unknowingly loosened the strength of her left hand, the child in her arms twisted her head and saw Miriam all of a sudden, her big tearful eyes flickered twice, and her eyes were full of doubt and shock.

Then he reacted and cried aggrievedly with his small mouth, his whole body turned around and stretched out his fleshy arms towards Miriam, yelling, "Mommy, Mommy..."

Miriam's tears could no longer be concealed at this moment, and her face rolled all over, and she was involuntarily wiped. The self-blame and distress in her heart made her almost suffocated.

"Little Creek..." She sniffed, her voice hoarse to the extreme.

Miriam stretched out her hand towards the child, but Shao's mother, who had reacted, blocked her with her hand. Seeing her defensive expression, she glared viciously, "Miriam, you don't want to take the child away."

Miriam had to turn her gaze back to Mother Shao, her eyes full of sarcasm and contempt, "You don't think it's a good thing for my mother and children, and you tried to take them back and bring them back. Is this the result of your taking?"

She paused, and her tone relaxed a little, "You are the child's grandmother. I never deny that. If you can take them well, there will be no problem with both of them in the future."

"Two?" Mother Shao's eyes trembled, as if she didn't believe it, but because she was still thinking about her grandson in her heart, she had to verify it.

But Miriam's face suddenly cooled down, and he glanced at the reddened little guy with tears and snot on his face, sarcastically: "But you want to take them as your own, and you can't take care of them. How can I give them all to you?"

"Anxi has stayed with you for less than ten days. Do you think she has a good time with you? Did you understand her habits before you took her back? She and Anyan are both premature babies, and they have not been completely weaned yet. The resistance is poor, there are many things to pay attention to when taking care of them...”

As she said, she immersed herself in flipping through something in her bag, and then she flipped through a thick notepad. “These are the notes my mother took care of the two children. Ask yourself, did you do it?”
