

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 435– 436

Chapter 435

After Miriam finished lunch, she met Liao Qiu who was in a hurry when she went upstairs.

“Didn’t you go to the cafeteria to eat today?” Miriam came to the elevator door first, pressing the door and waiting for her.

Seeing this, Liao Qiu hurried to catch up in threes or twos. After entering the elevator one after another with Miriam, he adjusted his breathing slightly, smiled and dialed the scattered pieces of hair back, and said: “An old classmate came before. , Invite me to dinner.”

Miriam looked down and saw her nervous look, and couldn’t help but joke, “Male classmate, right?”

“Ah, how do you know?” Liao Qiu touched his hot cheek with his arms, “It’s a male student.”

The elevator went up, and soon reached the predetermined floor. Miriam shook her head, “It seems that Xiao Zhang is going to be sad.”

After she finished speaking, listening to the sound of the elevator door opening, she walked straight out and headed towards the office. Liao Qiu chased up with a blushing face, “Director, what are you talking about, I don’t understand.”

Miriam didn’t look back, and walked very fast. Seeing her pretending to be stupid, she didn’t expose her, she said, “If you don’t understand, you can’t force it. You can’t force it. You follow your own will. Go, as long as you have a clear conscience.”

After speaking, his body had already passed the door of the marketing department office, and Liao Qiu had to pause and watch that figure quickly continued to move forward, and soon disappeared into the corner of the corridor.

She lowered her head neatly, her eyes flashed with a seemingly non-existent light, and then she turned her teeth and turned into the office as if she had made a lot of determination.

Miriam returned to the office, felt sleepy after working for a while, so she pushed away the pile of documents on hand, got up and paced to the French window.

Looking down through the glass windows on the top floor, the picture is as usual, and the pedestrians and vehicles on the side of the street appear tiny.

She curled her lips unknowingly, raised her foot and withdrew two steps back. When she was about to fold back and take a nap on the sofa next to her, she suddenly glanced across the glass window directly opposite.

An electric current suddenly ran across the head of her heart. Miriam curled up her hands on her side, her eyes were staring blankly, unable to move away.

“Why...” She seemed a little bit unbelievable.

The office, which had been in the dust for a year, was illuminated with dazzling lights at this moment. Miriam’s lips and teeth were slightly open, and thousands of thoughts flashed in his mind.

Without turning her eyes, she took out the phone from her pocket with one hand and dialed Bryan’s number.

“Hey...” Accompanied by a low voice, the man’s long and tall figure slowly appeared in front of the French window opposite. He hooked up an affectionate smile and waved to the opposite woman.

“How could you...” Miriam’s throat moved, her voice a little bit harsh when she spoke.

“I miss you.” The man replied frankly, “I hope that within my abilities, I can take care of my family and career as much as possible.”

Miriam’s heart slowly loosened at this moment, and it would be false to say that it was not touched by his words.

The action at this moment was completely smooth, and she saw that she closed the curtains with one hand, picked up the coat on the sofa, and opened the door to go out.

While walking all the way, the man’s voice on the phone was still flowing softly.

“I originally planned to postpone this plan for some time in the future, but yesterday I suddenly realized that I was separated from you and I couldn’t even know the trivial things like your illness for the first time. This touched me a lot.”

“Then, have you ever thought about your aunt’s side and want to repeat the same mistakes of the past?” During the call, Miriam tried her best to maintain her voice calm and kept her steps extremely light.

“The advice you provided is good, with Tao Wan’er as cover. She is not as defensively towards me now as you think. I heard that the little guy has accepted her more and more in the past two days with one mind at home. You are not afraid. ...”

“Afraid?” Miriam chuckled, “Unless she doesn’t want grandson anymore.”

Bryan turned around and turned to the sofa behind him, and sat down comfortably, his eyes closed with seeming appreciation, "After two days, the old lady may find an excuse to let you go back to Jincheng."

"Bryan." Miriam said jokingly, "Are you a lobbyist sent by her old man who wants to deceive my son too?"

"What do you mean?" He paused, as if to touch his nose in a disguised manner, "I am not interested in your son, but there are more and more opponents who think you are potentially threatening to me, I don't doubt The charm of your own personality is just that you don't have much confidence in your concentration."

Miriam laughed, "Mr. Shao's love story is a bit disappointing..."

She could imagine the deep affection and gentle smile in Bryan's eyes on the phone. Then I heard the man's teasing voice, "If Mrs. Shao is not satisfied, please feel free to give advice on the spot."

"Okay." Miriam smiled and knocked on the door.

Bryan twisted his eyebrows, and listened to the sound of the "cang-dang-dang-dang" on the phone and the sound of the office door at this moment. He suddenly understood, got up and walked over and opened the door.

As soon as the door opened, the warm breath inside the door and the cold air wrapped around the woman's body opposed each other, dispelling the chill, and at the same time aroused full desire in this huge space.

Miriam closed the door easily, leaning against the door panel behind her, raising her eyes and looking at the man affectionately.

Bryan's throat moved, unable to extricate himself from her eyes. In the end, she slowly raised her red lips, smiling and joking: "I'm here to give advice, is it really welcome anytime?"

Without waiting for the man's response, she took the initiative to stand on tiptoe, grabbed the man's neck, and bit his lip deeply. Bryan was instantly addicted, picked her up, raised his foot to the sofa, and picked up the switch of the curtain next to him.

Accompanied by the slowly darkening gaze around, the woman turned over and pressed the man under her body. She curled her lips, her eyes were charming, "Then I will not hesitate to enlighten me."

When Miriam returned to the company downstairs, just past the point of work, she hurriedly walked, but by accident she met Shelly, who was about to go upstairs, and the woman took her off and covered most of her face as soon as she walked in. With black sunglasses, raised his hand to greet Miriam.

“I already told that Liao Qiu, let her send the latest case of the company to my office in the afternoon, and I will sort out a paper report for you before I get off work. Look at it. If there is no problem, I will start from the next case. Began to formally intervene in related work.”

Miriam’s eyes flowed, and he uttered three words lightly, “No problem, the case is not complicated. With Director Gong’s efficiency, one hour is enough.”

After returning to the office, Miriam called Liao Qiu in. She flipped through a file with some coffee stains from the top of the filing cabinet behind her and handed it out, “Thank you for running twice in the past two days. This is the palace. You send her the information that the director wants.”

Liao Qiubi respectfully took it, staring at the word “Longteng” on the cover, and was a little dumb, “Director, Longteng’s case, do you plan to let it go to the deputy director?”

Miriam had a relaxed expression and nodded slightly, “Is there any problem?”

“It’s nothing.” Liao Qiu held the document in his arms and rolled his eyes. “It’s just that you handed this case to her. Don’t be afraid...”

When she said this, she stopped talking. Miriam faintly curled her lips and leaned back in her chair. “Are you afraid that she will not be able to do so, or are you worried that her work will affect my work? ?”

Liao Qiu’s face paled a bit, and she maintained her composure with a faint smile, “Now there are all kinds of speculations in the company, Director, you don’t know if this case becomes in her hands...”

Miriam heard what she meant, waved her hand faintly, and made a gesture of carelessness, “Director Gong has a strong ability to do business, graduated from the University of British Columbia, and then worked directly at MK for three years, in the position of deputy director of MK. It’s more than enough to come to our Yingxin even if she sits on the position of director.”

She waved her hand, showing a bit of fatigue, “I, Miriam, respect people who are capable of doing things. You shouldn’t worry about these things. Just leave the files to her.”

Liao Qiu squeezed the file information in his hand, his face became white again, and he squeezed the cover of the kraft paper into a deformed shape, and then covered the deep emotions under his eyes. He said lightly “Yes” and then withdrew. Her office.

Chapter 436

“This is a paper report compiled by me and handed to Director Lu for me.”

In Shelly's office, she handed a sealed document to Liao Qiu's hand, and then paced to the window with coffee, her eyes filled with laziness.

Liao Qiu was holding the materials, a little dumb, "So fast?"

Hearing this question, Shelly turned half of his body unconsciously, and took a sip of coffee, "Hurry? This case is so simple."

As she spoke, she smiled faintly, and her eyebrows were slightly bent when she laughed, which was quite in conflict with the fierce aura that had always been when she first joined the company.

"Go ahead, I'm still waiting for get off work." She urged, turned her face and looked out the window.

After finishing the documents in her hand, Miriam raised her watch to check the time, then got up and went to the marketing office.

"Tang Yan." Miriam quickly stepped to the office area, and everyone shivered with a roar, and they all looked over.

Tang Yan cleaned up the files on the desktop, and seemed to be preparing for the end of get off work. After hearing Miriam's voice, she slowly turned around and said with a smile: "Is there anything Director Lu is looking for?"

Miriam approached in two steps and slapped the table with a slap, "Say the report that you will give me again before get off work, what about the report?"

"I gave it to Deputy Director Gong." Tang Yan glanced at her disdainfully."According to the company's articles of association, such B-level reports should be handed over to the deputy director for review and management, and then the deputy director will report to the director. Centralized reporting. Before, we didn't have a deputy director so that you could dominate the monopoly, but now it's different."

As she said, she looked at Miriam solemnly, with a strong provocative meaning, "So I did this completely in accordance with the company's articles of association. There is no problem, right?"

Miriam stared at the woman in front of her, the anger in her eyes slowly extinguished under the suppression of reason, and she stood up slightly, "Do you think that I will be leaving soon, so you can't wait to find a new partner?"

Now that she had torn her face, Tang Yan no longer concealed anything. She looked like you could not understand but I can't help. I am proud of the gesture, "All my work is in accordance with the company system. I do not arrive late or leave early, and do not damage the company. By law, Director Lu doesn't always have this right. You can eliminate people you can't understand from the company at will, right?"

The five fingers that Miriam patted on the desk slowly curled up, then his eyes turned away from Tang Yan, and she scanned the entire office, nodding to indicate, "Very well, you have a good eye for market judgment."

After saying that he was about to leave, he just turned around and saw Liao Qiu coming in from outside the door. He was holding a document in his hand. He raised his head and was caught off guard to see Miriam, so he subconsciously put the document behind him, and his eyes swayed. One sentence: "Director."

"What is that?" Miriam lowered her eyes and asked without emotion.

"Some of the obsolete materials are about to be processed." Liao Qiu's expression was calm. Seeing Miriam's intention to pursue investigations, he stretched the documents forward with a calm expression on his face.

Upon seeing this, Miriam retracted her gaze, and said, "Director Gong's report, help me follow up."

After she finished speaking, she was about to leave. Seeing Liao Qiu next to her with a hesitant look, she stepped back and said: "I think Director Gong has left work. She said that the report will be handed to you tomorrow morning. There is something tonight. Can't get off work overtime."

After hearing this, Miriam paused, but didn't pursue anything. Without even looking at the face of Liao Qiu next to him, he responded "OK" and then walked out of the office without looking back.

I was so depressed. When I packed my things and got ready to get off work, the phone rang suddenly. Seeing the call reminder on the interface, the whole person instantly relaxed.

Pressed to answer, before speaking, I heard a faint voice over there, "Eating together tonight?"

Miriam put her hand in one hand, and roughly sorted the things with the other hand, she took the bag to go out, and at the same time refused unhurriedly: "No today, I have to go home."

Bryan stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling windows of the office and noticed that the light in the office on the opposite floor had gone out, so he followed out.

"Then I will go too." His voice was persistent, and his steps were firm.

Miriam curled her lips with a smile in her eyes, "Are you sure?"

Bryan thought she was worried that she would not be able to pass Lu Mu's test. In order not to embarrass her, she hesitated. Unexpectedly, she chuckled quickly again, and her voice readily agreed: "Come on, I will pick up the car. Waiting for you downstairs."

It wasn't until she was sitting in Miriam's car that she was always smiling but not smiling, that Bryan felt uneasy. After that, I drove along the familiar street all the way, and when the car stopped at the gate of the community, Miriam reminded him as he went upstairs: "You are here by yourself. Don't get angry later."

"Angry?" Bryan said with a cold face, replied very aggressively, "I won't be angry."

But when Miriam knocked on the door, when Bryan saw the man who came to open the door with the doorknob in one hand and his own son in the other, his eyes burst into flames almost instantly.

"Why are you?" He stood at the door, his face suddenly gloomy to the extreme.

Zhang Quan was also a little surprised when he saw Bryan who appeared with Miriam, but he behaved much more calmly. He withdrew his body, greeted people to come in familiarly, and held the child again. Into the living room.

Bryan and Miriam entered the door behind them, their eyes fixed on the head of the woman in front of them, "I'm not in City Two, so you just take a man home for dinner so casually?"

Miriam found a pair of men's slippers at the hallway, and didn't lift her head when she heard the words. After changing her shoes, she went straight to the bathroom and waited for Bryan behind her to follow her before speaking casually.

"Who is he? Didn't you, President Shao, have found out clearly? Without telling me a word, he is still asking me in a fierce manner." After she finished speaking, she stopped and turned around. Unable to dodge the man, he almost ran into him.

Miriam looked at the man's apparent panic and didn't deliberately express his emotions, and couldn't help but smile. "Besides, who is vowed to say that he will not be angry?"

"I'm not angry." Bryan's face was cold, and he walked around Miriam and took the lead in the bathroom to wash his hands. After returning to the living room, he saw Zhang Quan sitting on the ground having fun with An Yan. Uncontrollably fell a face.

He also sat there and snatched the remote control from Zhang Quan, "I bought this for my son."

Zhang Quan was stunned, then took it back, "I bought it."

After washing her hands, Miriam stood in the living room with her arms akimbo and looked at the two, and finally judged fairly: "Bryan, everything you bought is kept in the baby's room."

Bryan paused for a while while controlling the remote control, and then watched Zhang Quan take it back again with his hand.

His face was embarrassed, his expression changed and changed, and finally got up and picked An Yan from the ground, and went to the baby's room, "My son is mine."

Miriam raised her eyes to look at the dark and cold breath under the man's eyes, but couldn't help but smile.

After that, Mother Lu finished the meal and asked people to sit down. She saw Bryan, her expression on her face was not salty, but she actively greeted her daughter and Zhang Quan to sit on one side. Bryan could only sit on the other side with her son. Aside.

Mother Lu sat at the main table and graciously served Zhang Quan with vegetables, "You eat more, your Uncle Lu is asleep, don't wait for him."

Before long, a bowl of vegetables was piled up in front of Zhang Quan, and Bryan pinched his chopsticks and stared at the bowl of white rice in front of him, feeling his throat tighten.

This picture is a bit familiar.

Miriam was holding the food, secretly glanced at the man opposite, holding back the smile in her eyes.

She thought, Bryan should also be allowed to taste her bitterness, so that it would be fair.

Zhang Quan's mouth was sweet, and the few words at the dinner table made Lu Mu laugh constantly. Bryan and Miriam buried their heads in the meal. The woman was under the table, following his previous appearance, and quietly stretched out one leg to tease.

After the atmosphere eased a little bit, she asked with a serious face, "I think Liao Qiu came back from outside at noon in a panic today. Did you look for her?"

Zhang Quan nodded when he heard the sound, and put another chopsticks into her bowl, "But she didn't agree, I left the phone to her, and it will be only two days before I think it will be possible."

As soon as he finished speaking, the phone on the table turned on, and when he opened the screen to see, he couldn't help but smile, "Look, it's done."
