

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 437– 438

Chapter 437

There were crisp footsteps in the corridor, and a man in a straight suit had a cold expression. Under the guidance of the secretary in front of him, he pushed open a heavy door.

The man at the desk who was busy dealing with official duties raised his head when he heard the words, put the document aside, and capped the pen in his hand without hurriedly.

“If I remember correctly, the last time Mr. Mu came to my office was half a year ago when the company representative was reporting on his work.” Shang Rui leaned his body on the back of his chair and looked at the future people loosely.”No please this time. What is it for?”

With cold eyes, Mu Ming stepped to the table, and stared at him deeply: “Why I am here, Shang always knows why.”

His disdainful attitude caused Shang Rui to sneer, “Is it because Longteng has been in your hands for a year, and you don’t know your status? In Fengrui, I still sit on the top spot, you are like this. I will think you are deliberately provoking.”

The man’s words were cold, with forbearance of anger. He Shang Rui has been mixed up to this day, is it possible that even the face of a character like Mu Ming has to be seen?

Of course, it was not Mu Ming that he was jealous, but the strength behind him. Thinking of this, his heart forbore even more, so he slapped a palm on the table and stared at the incoming person coldly, “If you want to To do things for Fengrui, I will not fail to give you a chance. You can talk about any terms you want to discuss at that time.”

The man standing at the table put one hand in the pocket of his trousers, his mouth always twitched with an inexplicable smile. After hearing this, he only raised his eyebrows and pulled a chair next to him to sit down. The man behind the table kept his eyes level.

“President Shang must not forget that he agreed to Miss Song’s request. I will take care of Longteng by myself. I will be responsible for my own profits and losses in the next three years. Although it is still under the banner of Fengrui, in a practical sense, I am not limited to you.”

He paused, and leaned forward.”The reputation of Longteng’s benefits for Fengrui this year is not bad. When you wanted to raise funds to invest in the listed company in Xunyang, I also helped. Now the storm Just after that, you will use the resources in my hand. Why can’t this be justified?”

Shang Rui listened and confronted the man in front of him coldly. When he finished speaking, he gave a quick chuckle, "I can return those old customers as long as you answer one of my questions."

"What's the problem?" I asked, actually already had my own guess.

The fist lying flat on the desk was slightly clenched, and Shang Rui's expression was completely cold, and he faintly said: "The last time you pushed Xunyang into the pit, besides Bryan, there was also Rania."

She said it was a problem, but she said it in a firm tone. There was no obvious emotion in the words, and she even raised her eyebrows to look at it, with joking and condensation in the eyes.

Mu Ming's expression was slightly stiff, and he calmly dealt with the eyes of the incoming person. After that, both of them curled their lips and smiled, showing a bit of strangeness in their tacit understanding.

"Miss Song and Shang are always husband and wife. It might not be appropriate for you to ask me about her question." He suppressed his voice, his expression became serious, "If you really want to hear any answer from me, then I will only I can guess that Miss Song has no position to do so, so my answer is no."

"She doesn't have a stand?" Shang Rui suddenly sneered, leaning back, looking at him in time, "Mu Ming, do you know the profession of a horse trainer? Rania once tamed three horses when he was at the border. The strongest wild horse."

In Shang Rui's eyes, he was also a wild horse being domesticated in Rania's eyes.

She is cold and arrogant and does not put anyone in her eyes. Even her husband must surrender to her feet. If she thinks that there is a potential threat to this hierarchical relationship, she will not hesitate to break the trajectory.

"Does she need a standpoint to do things?" Thinking of this, Shang Rui's eyes gradually became cold. He knew that entanglement with Mu Ming didn't have much substantive meaning. Given his current situation, he couldn't be more seductive than Rania. Conditions to buy him.

"I think you seem to misunderstand Miss Song."

Mu Ming understood Shang Rui's words more or less, he lowered his eyes, and the pale and faint face appeared in his mind, and his throat suddenly felt dry.

"I know her better than you." When Shang Rui heard this, he waved his hand suddenly, and had no plans to continue the topic."Customer resources, I can give you half back, and you can fight for the remaining half if you have the ability. ."

This was the biggest concession Shang Rui could make, and Mu Ming knew in his heart that he would get up if he nodded slightly.

At this time, Shang Rui's phone aside suddenly lit up, he raised his hand and opened the screen, and glanced lightly, as if he was thinking of something inadvertently. A simple sentence prevented Mu Ming from leaving.

"Miriam, how long have you not seen each other?"

Mu Ming just pushed aside the chair under him and stood up. Hearing this, his eyes went gloomy. Shang Rui saw this, and successfully curled his lips, and continued the topic, "She and Bryan have remarried, do you know? ?"

The five fingers hanging down to his side were slightly curled up, and before he could speak, he heard him continue to say: "Not only is remarrying, now in Miriam's belly..."

He clicked to the end, and then watched the face of the man in front of him slowly become hideous, and then returned to his former calm. This process seemed to have taken a lot of effort, so the chest cavity was obvious when he breathed. Ups and downs.

"Is President Shang telling me this, did you want to imply something?" Mu Ming curled his hands in, and said with a cold voice.

"Hints don't count." Shang Rui spread his hands out, "You can understand it as sharing."

He didn't admit it, but Mu Ming couldn't help breaking it down, "I'm sorry, Mr. Shang, I have no affiliation with the Lu family a year ago. Miriam and Bryan will not remarry, and I will no longer care about whether they will have children. After all, it took Miss Song so much effort to pave the way for me, and I can't make the same mistakes again, right?"

After he finished speaking, his cold eyes dropped, and he stared at the man at the table.

Shang Rui had no expression on his face. Hearing these words, he was also indifferent, "I thought you are a person who will repay you."

"Mr Shang is self-righteous again." Mu Ming curled her lips and responded lightly.

After that, I saw him adjust the sleeves of his suit and nodded, "I know that Shang always worked hard and wanted me to get involved with the Lu family again. Therefore, the previous cooperation between Longteng and Yingxin cost you a lot. I'm really sorry, I can't thank you for your kindness."

After speaking, he lifted his foot and left. As he stepped out, there was a voice in his heart silently, Shang Rui, this time you are really self-righteous.

Mu Ming walked to the door, the expression on his face became stiff after opening the door, and then quickly calmed down, closed the door quietly, and walked forward along with the steps of the woman outside the door.

Until the very end of the corridor, Mu Ming's mind was still turning around the scene before, and slowly said, "When did you arrive?"

Rania was expressionless, and his voice seemed to be coming from the bottom of the deep sea.

"It's a coincidence, from the sentence he said I was tame wild horses at the border." She curled her lips indifferently, and her eyes were not focused when she raised her eyes, as if she was caught in some kind of memory."At that time, we were not married because we met some The matter, after spending half a year at the border, I wanted to stay here forever..."

She lowered her eyes and uttered two words lightly, "It's a pity."

Mu Ming paused and hooked her lips, "Stop the medicine, are you drinking?"

"Drink tea." She replied lightly, and after two more steps, the two of them reached the elevator.

Chapter 438

In the quiet teahouse private room, Rania's eyes were heavy, staring at the light-colored petals floating in the transparent teapot with a cold expression.

She was still remembering what she had just heard outside the office, and suddenly curled her lips and chuckled.

"What are you laughing at?" Mu Ming held the teapot, poured a cup in front of her, and a few scents slowly floated from the pale green tea cup, refreshing.

Rania's delicate white knuckles rubbed the wall of the cup, and his face became pale, "Nothing."

The teapot gently knocked on the log square table with a dull sound. Mu Ming followed with a cold cough, after thinking about it, he still said, "You have changed a lot in the past few years."

"Huh?" Rania didn't seem to understand, he lifted his teacup and took a sip, then looked at him, "What has changed?"

Mu Ming pursed her lips, and after a chuckle, she still didn't say anything, but persuaded, "Shang Rui is not worth it."

"I know." Rania put aside the tea cup, she was sitting there, her waist straight, even if she didn't say anything, it was a gas field with her own refusal. Therefore, the monk Rui has been married for many years, and there are many men coveting her around him, and those who dare to take the initiative to express their intentions are pitiful.

A man who can be at the same peak as her must weigh a few points. If such a woman marries home, if she can't die well, will the final outcome be defeated by her, not to mention those young people who are at the same time. Don't dare to take another look.

She smiled lightly, staring at the floating petals at the bottom of the cup, "I doubt now, what you said is different, and question whether it is my IQ. He is worth it, and he needs you, an outsider, to remind you."

Her words silenced Mu Ming.

What Mu Ming knew was not worthwhile, but from Shang Rui's attitude and basic judgment of him, as for Rania's real experience now, he still knew nothing.

Of course, Rania deliberately concealed it because it was a joke.

After a while, her expression became serious, "Someone has touched the bottom line, and he should pay for it. I will push him into the abyss with my own hands and let him see how despicable and ridiculous he is. What he thinks is precious, In the face of pursuable interests, they will all become tools...tools."

When Rania said this, she suddenly felt cold all over.

Her body trembled, and at the same time, the hand holding the wall of the cup felt the faint heat transfer, flowing through the body, and the body became vacant during the entire process of the heat and cold opposition.

"Are you okay?" Mu Ming noticed something and got up subconsciously, and reached out to poke her forehead, "hasn't the poison been cleaned yet?"

Rania supported the tabletop with both hands. After a while, her face paled, and she slowly closed her glasses, struggling hard. Mu Ming's expression stiffened, she took off her suit jacket and put it on her shoulders, and when she was about to touch her forehead, she was shielded by her hand.

"leave me alone."

Her voice was cold and trembling.

Mu Ming stopped the movement in her hand, staring at the woman in front of her as she weakened a little bit, but she was still holding on, clenching her teeth coldly, until the red blood spread between her lips and teeth, she did not loosen the slightest.

But Mu Ming's heart loosened fiercely at this moment.

He understood at this moment that the Rania he knew had never changed, and the energy and perseverance contained in her body was unbelievable.

As time passed, when Rania eased her breath, her face was completely pale, her forehead spread to her neck and her entire body, all permeated by sweat.

The shredded hair from the temples was close to her forehead, and her lips were pale. She seldom lost her attitude like this.

After calming her breath for a while, she slowly stretched out her hand to pick up the teacup, took a sip, and then drew out the tissue next to her, spitting out the bloody tea.

“It’s okay, now I don’t need drugs to control it, and it will recover soon.” After the bloody breath in her mouth was cleaned up, she spoke lightly, as if to say something trivial.

Mu Ming clenched his fists silently, but didn’t know what to say.

“Is it him?” Finally staring at the face that slowly recovered his complexion, he couldn’t help gritting his teeth and asked every word.

If Rania didn’t hear him, he just concentrated on tasting the tea, turned his gaze to a small window next to him, staring at the fallen leaves on the street tree beside the window, and suddenly felt extremely barren in his heart.

She suddenly thought of Miriam, feeling a little envy out of thin air, “I heard that she and Bryan remarried?”

Mu Ming didn’t notice that she would suddenly turn the topic in this direction, and couldn’t help but withdraw her gaze. After a while, she said, “I don’t know, Mr. Shang said that.”

Rania didn’t seem to doubt it. When he turned his gaze back, he suddenly smiled, “We haven’t seen him for a while, so I might see you.”

She seldom smiles so clearly, without a trace of impurities.

Miriam’s situation in the company is not so good now. With Tang Yan as a precedent, those who didn’t understand her before began to rebel, flattering Shelly, and creating obstacles to her work overtly and secretly.

However, Miriam has been holding back all this, at most two criticisms, looking angry but helpless, making those people even more triumphant.

Before the end of the month, Xiao Zhang was transferred to the marketing department by Miriam. Only two days after he came to see the scene in the office, he was suddenly dumb. He ran to Miriam several times a day, each time with an angry expression. Director, you weren’t this temperament before, just let them act like this?”

Miriam leaned on the office chair, with a relaxed posture, touching her flat belly while looking at the documents on the table, “Anyway, I won’t be able to do it for long. I will make trouble. Director Gong is holding it up. We are afraid. what?”

Xiao Zhang supported his forehead, feeling distressed.

“Director, are you stupid?” He said it, feeling that the beginning of the conversation was wrong, hurriedly covered his mouth, and couldn’t help but continue, “Even if you are really pregnant, you will not be treated badly when you come back from maternity leave. You, but if you leave such a mess and go away, it’s hard to tell.”

Miriam looked away from the file, raised her eyes to see Xiao Zhang scratching his ears and cheeks, instantly bursting into laughter, and hooked his fingers at him.

Xiao Zhang blinked his eyes, stepped closer, and turned one ear to listen.

“Don’t you know who my husband is? What’s wrong with being a full-time wife at home after maternity leave?” She curled her eyebrows and pushed the closed file aside, her voice suddenly became cold. “This Didn’t it just follow the wishes of some people?”

“Isn’t it?” Xiao Zhang opened his mouth, regretting it, “I came to the marketing department because of the director. If you leave, I...”

His brains turned around, and it was not difficult to imagine how difficult it would be for him, as an employee who was pulled to this position by Miriam, when Miriam left.

Miriam looked at him and was about to speak again when the office door was “banged”. She and Xiao Zhang both raised their eyes and saw Song Bo leaning on the door with a panic expression.

“Director, the deputy director lost his temper in the big office. Would you like to go over and take a look?”

When Miriam heard this, she raised her eyebrows slightly, and glanced at Xiao Zhang who turned her face again. She raised her chin, and at the same time slapped her hands on the table to support her body, “Do you think flattering is so good?”

After speaking, he led Xiao Zhang out of the office. When he passed by Song Bo, he looked at him panting, and couldn’t help patting his shoulder, “Slow down, don’t fall again, I have to Pay for medical expenses.”

Xiao Zhang followed Miriam all the way, thinking that she was going to mediate, but unexpectedly, after a while, he realized something was wrong. Miriam turned around at the door of the women’s bathroom, looking at him with a puzzled expression, “What are you doing with me?”

“Aren’t you going to see Director Gong?” Xiao Zhang blushed and reached out and pointed to the side.

“What am I going to do?” Miriam refused, washing her hands at the sink, “Director Gong has her own management habits. I’m not going to make trouble.”

After finishing speaking, he waved his wet hand to disperse the people, “Just go and see, and report to me if you have any situation.”
