

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 447– 448

Chapter 447

After dealing with the company's affairs on Friday, he returned to the hospital and stayed with the bed until midnight before Miriam lay on the bed and barely fell asleep.

The doctor said that the old man's life was in these two days, so even if he fell asleep, Miriam's dream was still the shadow of his father.

At that time, the energetic Judge Lu, standing in front of the huge bookshelf in his study, spread out a thick judicial book, opened one at random and half-read it, then smiled back and asked her: "Miriam'er, there is what?"

Miriam half leaned against the door, stirring the coffee in her hand carelessly, pretending to curl her eyebrows and thinking for a long time. In fact, she was not interested in justice, so how could she know.

In the end, she was usually slandered by her gag, and sometimes she was not convinced, so she scowled and asked: "Who can memorize such a thick book?"

Miriam didn't know how long it was, only that before she got married, this kind of scene seemed to happen from time to time.

At that time, his father was not so thin. He was vigorous, with thick black hair neatly groomed. Hearing such an unconvincing question, he would purse his lips and smile, close the book in his hand, and hand it out. , "Don't believe you come and test me?"

Miriam didn't believe it any more, and after trying it twice, she felt obedient. She didn't dare to provoke her father with such words. He was a natural judge, and she always believed so firmly.

When I was a child, I wore two ponytails and put it on my father's lap to accompany him to prepare for various exams. In the end, she fell asleep unconvincingly, while her father usually touched her cheek and said firmly and fully: "Miriam'er. , Dad wants to be a good judge and set an example for Yaoer."

Those memories that had been kept in the dust for a long, long time, all rushed to Miriam's mind in her dreams. She slept extremely restlessly, her brows were frowned, and tears were still squeezed out, rolling over the back of her hand.

Early in the morning, Mother Lu brought breakfast from home, and saw the father and daughter beside the bed, standing at the end of the bed in a daze for a long time.

She sighed and couldn't understand why their Lu family ended up like this. It would be great if she stopped her husband from making mistakes at the very beginning.

While thinking, he lifted his rough palm and wiped his scarlet eyes. Mother Lu quietly put the lunch box on the bed, then walked around Miriam gently, took out the phone from the bag she was laying next to her, and sent a message.

The reply came quickly. She held the phone in her hand, her knuckles trembling, hurriedly deleted the information record, and plugged the phone back again.

When Miriam woke up, she glanced at the time, it was too early.

Just after dawn, she sat down all night, even with the air conditioner turned on, her feet were numb from the cold, as if she had fallen into an ice cellar.

He held the back of his neck and relaxed his body, glanced at the lunch box placed on the bedside table, and then looked around, but did not see the mother.

At this time, the nurse just knocked on the door and came in to change the potion for Father Lu, and reminded Miriam while performing the actions in her hand, "Your mother just came over and said that she had something to go out and will be back in the afternoon. She asked you to have breakfast first. After eating, go back to sleep later, and the aunt at home will come over and take care of it for a while."

"Going out?" Miriam curled her eyebrows, unable to figure it out. "Did she say where she went?"

After changing the medicine, the nurse shook her head, and then exited the ward with a medical iron pan.

Seeing that the door was closed again, Miriam took out the phone from her bag and called her mother. The phone rang for a long time before I was picked up. There was no other movement over there. Mother Lu's voice was peaceful and quiet, "Miriam, mom wants to meet some old friends of your father to see if they can take the time to visit the hospital. after all....."

At this point, she obviously choked for a while.

Miriam's hand raised to her ear stiffened, her gaze dropped, staring at the back of her father's blue and old hand, and suddenly she couldn't speak. After holding back a basket of tears for a long time, he reluctantly responded, "Okay."

Before hanging up the phone, she sorted out her emotions and comforted her mother in a deep voice, "Actually, there is no need. If they don't want to, let them go, and Dad may not want to see them."

"Yeah." Mother Lu listened, keeping her eyes away from the window. The glass windows were covered with water vapor, blocking all sight, but her eyes were still empty, as if they were falling in the distance, "I see, Miriam, Mom will be back this afternoon, don't worry."

She hung up the phone and let out a long suffocating breath.

Since the accident, she has accompanied her husband through all the ups and downs. As soon as the news of her arrest and imprisonment came out, those colleagues and friends who had been close to each other were shunned by them. How could she take the humiliation for herself and beg them to come to the hospital? Take a look.

but...

The scene from the previous afternoon was repeated in her mind. The rare sober man lying on the hospital bed blinked at her, breathing heavily and spit out two words: "Little stream..."

It has been a long time since he saw his granddaughter.

That day, Mother Lu had a firm expression, patted her husband on the chest and told him: "Xiao Xi also misses Grandpa, I will see you tomorrow."

In fact, Mother Lu has always been a gentle person. She has spent most of her life under the guardianship of her husband. There are very few times when she needs to worry about her family and family affairs.

But it's different now.

In a cafe in Jincheng, Lu Mu opened the door and walked two steps inside, and she saw the woman sitting by the window, wearing a light gray woolen coat, and the little guy in her arms was also tightly wrapped. She was making a giggle.

Shao's mother was smiling happily. Yu Guang glanced at the figure walking towards this side, and focused his attention. Unexpectedly, seeing the person she didn't want to see the most, a bright and brilliant face collapsed instantly, subconsciously hugged the child tightly, with a defensive face, "What are you doing?"

Mother Lu's footsteps suddenly stopped, and there was a coffee table between Mother Lu and Shao's mother. Hearing that the expression on his face became stalemate a little bit, he managed to squeeze out a smile, "I'm here to see you, something is happening. begging."

She tried her best to lower her posture, hoping to achieve the desired result as much as possible in the next conversation.

But Shao's mother didn't have the slightest expression on her face. She heard a cold snort from her nasal cavity, turned her head out of the window, and pretended to unconsciously cover Anxi's eyes, "Your madam, Judge Lu, and When you want to beg someone? I know exactly what you want to do, and I have colluded with Miriam and tricked me out, right?"

Mother Lu pulled her clothes uncomfortably and stood there, eager to explain: "Miriam doesn't know, it was the message I sent you secretly using her mobile phone, she didn't know..."

In order to meet Shao's mother, she found out from the box that Miriam had bought her a coat she was not willing to wear last year, and she also found out some cosmetics she hadn't used for a long time and put on a light makeup. In this way, it seemed to hide a bit of vicissitudes and oldness, but compared with Shao's mother, she was still a little cramped.

It seemed that Anxi, who was still sitting quietly in the arms of Shao's mother, had clearly heard the sound not far away. At this time, he uncomfortably pulled the hand that blocked her eyes, because he couldn't resist it, he curled his mouth and hummed twice. Sound, make a gesture to cry.

When Mother Lu saw it, her heart suddenly became a ball, and she subconsciously moved forward, and murmured, "Xiaoxi..."

As soon as she called the little guy's name, tears rolled down uncontrollably. And Shao mother stubbornly held Anxi's eyes until she squeezed her body and cried out crying: "Grandma, grandma..."

The anger in Shao's mother's heart rushed to the sky at this moment.

She spent so much time and patience, and finally developed a relationship with Anxi, but the woman in front of her was about to make trouble. How could she not be angry.

"Okay, don't cry." She broke her face, and after letting go of the child's eyes, she supported her arms with both hands, and straightened the person to face herself, and yelled aggressively, "I am grandma, your dear grandmother."

Anxi hadn't seen the old man in front of him so fierce, his crying expression paused, and then grinned again, and burst into tears even more unscrupulously. While crying, he turned his head back and yelled: "Grandma, grandma." ...

"Let me hug it." Mother Lu came over, her heart being severely grasped, her helpless hands hanging in the air.

Chapter 448

Mother Shao moved her body aside and held the child in her arms very stubbornly. In spite of her crying, she coldly stared at the stiff-looking woman in front of her, "You want to be beautiful!"

She scolded coldly, collapsed the bag on the next chair, and got up to go out.

Mother Shao panicked and stepped back hurriedly, her arms pressed forward, and there was a scorching light flashing in her eyes, "I will not hold anymore..."

She endured the difficult throat, finally compromised and repeated, "I won't hold anymore, can you sit down and listen to me."

"What do you want to say?" Mother Shao glanced left and right. She noticed the gaze attracted by the movement just now, and finally sat down again.

Seeing the other party's expression eased a bit, Mother Lu finally pulled the chair beside her and sat down, her eyelids drooped, her hands in front of her rubbed uncomfortably, and finally endured the mist under her eyes and slowly said: "Miriam his dad, it's going to be dying, the liver cancer is in the late stage, just these two days..."

Hearing this, Shao's mother still flashed a shock of her eyes, but after a while, the shock turned into a contemptuous smile that slowly evoked her lips, "That's really pleasing."

Mother Lu didn't feel much anger at such harsh words. She was already prepared for it, and even smiled palely and emptily, and responded: "Yes, it's really happy..."

She thought that for most people, it was indeed very pleasant.

"What are you trying to say? Lu Shaokun died and died. What does it have to do with me?" Shao's mother was still puzzled when she heard this, and could not guess the purpose of the other party to find herself.

Hooking up the corner of her mouth with difficulty, Mother Lu picked up the topic a little bit, "He missed Anxi, and he kept chanting Anxi's name when he was sober yesterday afternoon. He has never seen the child since you took him away... .."

"So, you want to take the child back and show his grandfather, right?" As soon as this was said, Mother Shao, who was about to take a sip of the coffee in front of him, suddenly became alert and knocked down the cup heavily." Well, you are really capable. In order to snatch the child back, you even use people who are about to die?"

Breathing reluctantly went smoothly, she said firmly and decisively: "I tell you, it's impossible."

"I'm serious, just take a look. After reading it, I will return the child again." Mother Lu's pupils trembled and hurriedly explained, "If you don't trust me, you can go with me. Since Miriam I have agreed that Xiaoxi should be raised in your Shao's house, and I, the grandma, naturally has no objection."

The atmosphere instantly condensed to the extreme. Mother Lu raised her head. Originally wanted to look at Mother Shao, she was easily attracted by the child in her arms. At this time, the little guy had stopped crying, but there were still two drops of beans on his face. Tears, clapped her palms happily.

“I know you can’t accept Miriam being the Shao family’s wife again. It has a lot to do with her father, because her father has a bad reputation and you are afraid of discrediting your Shao family.”

Mother Lu stared at the child, her heart softened.

She paused, her arduous throat rolled up and down, and she took a long breath of relief before she spoke, “But now, he will be leaving soon. It has been almost two years, and another person who has passed away is waiting for him. As soon as the report of the death comes out, society will soon forget all this...”

Mother Lu spoke in a low voice, and the more she spoke, the more she felt her teeth cold.

Her husband hadn’t died yet, she actually said such a thing, but for Miriam, she had to fight for it and learn about Shao’s mother’s true position.

Seeing the delay in responding to others, she cleared her throat awkwardly, and tried her best to be neither humble nor overbearing, “As long as they are together, the two children can see grandma at any time.”

Mother Shao snorted when she heard the words, and also heard the meaning of her words, gathered incredible eyes to look up and down the woman in front of her.

“I heard that you came to negotiate for Miriam. It’s just that you haven’t figured out the situation. I agreed to meet with Miriam during this period. I didn’t endorse her, but just for the children.”

After studying the other party’s thoughts, Mother Shao had no intention of staying anymore, and coldly stated her attitude before getting up with her baby.

“It is impossible for Miriam to enter our Shao’s house again. As for the child, don’t even want to trick you back from me. I came out to meet her this time. I originally wanted to make things clear. Now Anxi can adapt to the life of the Shao family. , Don’t bother her to come over again in the future, please tell her this.”

After she finished speaking, she walked out of the cafe holding Anxi without looking back.

The seat in front of him became vacant. With the sound of “Da Da” from high heels behind my ears, there was another uneasy cry of the child, and the sound of “grandma” who was plucked into the bone marrow, Lu Mu firmly curled her fingers together, her eyes lighted. Trembling and trembling.

She couldn’t help thinking, Miriam, why bother.

Before people were about to open the door of the coffee shop, Mother Lu got up, chased her quickly, and stopped the mother Shao who was beckoning for a taxi on the side of the road.

“Anxi now has our Lu family’s registered permanent residence. If you are really unreasonable, don’t blame me for calling you to abduct children.”

“Will you?” After being provoked, Shao’s mother laughed instead, “I am holding my own granddaughter. You want to fight a lawsuit. We have money and time in the Shao family, but it’s just a big mess, your daughter’s future. Whatever happens, you, the mother, will have to weigh it up.”

Mother Lu clenched her fists tightly after hearing the words.

There is no lack of threat in Shao’s mother’s words, and it also means that at that point, the embarrassing situation that Miriam and Bryan will face is also what Shao’s mother is happy to see.

After a pause, her gaze became firm and decisive, and she pulled people into the sidewalk, “Whether you agree with your son and our Miriam, Anxi, I must take him away today. He Grandpa is still waiting in the hospital bed, he won’t rest in peace if he can’t see the child.”

As she said, she stretched her arms and was about to pick up the child.

Anxi was very obedient. He saw Mother Lu’s mind and was about to drill into her arms with her arms outstretched. However, Mother Shao, who was reacted, turned sideways and avoided, and quickly backed away two steps to get a distance.

The pull of the two people quickly attracted the onlookers of passers-by. When Shao’s mother saw the opportunity, she fanned the flames, “Come and see, you are robbing children in broad daylight...”

When there were more onlookers, Mother Lu became a little panicked and waved her hands to catch up, but Mother Shao moved back alertly, always keeping her distance.

The crowd gathered together gradually made loud noises, each with their own speculations. Although Lu’s mother was trying to grab the child’s posture, but the child in Shao’s mother’s arms turned towards her, and shouted “grandma” in her mouth.

“Give me the baby, and I’ll send it back to you tomorrow.” Lu Mu red eyes, and a taxi in the distance has slowly slowed down, and he was about to pull over, making him panic. He quickly rushed towards Shao’s mother.

During the dispute, the two scuffled to the middle of the road.

At this time, there was an exclamation from the crowd behind them. They stretched out their hands and pointed to the distance, shouting: “There is a car!”

Mother Lu raised her eyes and saw a white car speeding up, and Mother Shao, especially unknowingly avoiding her, stepped back.

“Little Creek...”

At that moment, only one voice flashed in Mother Lu’s mind.

Her exclamation also caused Shao’s mother to slow down, and the sharp whistle in her ears prompted her to turn her face and look at the straight-forward car, losing her instinct to react for a while.

When she came back to her senses, she felt that her body was being dragged by a burst of strength, and she turned forward a few times, and then there was a roaring impact in her ears.

She followed the brake marks and saw a burst of blood seeping from the ground, and the crowd on the sidelines was swarming up at this time, forming a group of small accident scenes.

Someone came out from the middle of the crowd with their mouths under their covers, and they were talking on the phone in a panic, “Hello, there has been a car accident here, the address is...”

Mother Shao opened her eyes and felt that the vision in front of her was blurred. She gritted her teeth and stepped back until she was far out of the crowd, then turned around and stopped a nearby car, and got in.