

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 467– 468

Chapter 467

When the Song family banquet was very lively, President Shao Da was wearing loose home clothes and was shopping with his wife for New Year goods.

Taking off his professional outfit, he walked on the road, which was more eye-catching than ever.

The hair is not taken care of, it falls naturally on the eyebrows, and the chin is still full of green scum. It is obviously more casual, but it seems to add a bit of smoke and fire. It looks especially handsome and annoying. All the women in the past looked sideways.

There was even a pregnant woman with a big belly pulling her husband's arm and couldn't help but exclaim, "You look so handsome. If you can grow up like that, I don't have to worry about whether our son will marry a wife when he grows up."

The husband on the side heard his face blue, and then glanced back, and then muttered angrily, "Growing like him, give your daughter-in-law a bag? At first glance, it must be a cut in the door. ."

Miriam was led all the way by Bryan. When she heard this, she suddenly stopped, feeling extremely wronged in her heart.

She is no better than Bryan's looks and temperament among men, but in terms of appearance and figure, she can also be called "Zhou Zheng". How can she be a rich family to be worthy of Bryan.

She was upset, but she just kept a calm face and didn't show anything.

And Bryan paused in her footsteps, turned his face unclearly, and asked, "What's the matter?"

At this time, the street trees on both sides of the street were already covered with bright yellow light strips. When they walked along, they were not only bright, but also filled with a strong festive atmosphere. Miriam was under one of the big trees and was caught by a man. Clamping the chin with one hand, he gently pecked it up, and then listened to him: "Let's go, wife."

The resentment in her heart vanished in an instant, and she laughed swiftly, losing her temper a little, so she could only follow his footsteps all the way forward, leaning on his arm while walking, humming softly in her mouth.

Rarely in such a comfortable time, she squinted her eyes and looked up at the dazzling light on the bare tree, which felt like a dream.

“I’ve seen this scene many times in my dream.” She hummed a song that couldn’t be tuned, and suddenly spoke softly.

The man put his hands in the pockets of the down jacket, his arms were clamped, and he deliberately protected the woman’s hands holding his arms when he heard a sudden lip curling here.

He had never thought about it or dreamed it before, but suddenly realized at this moment that life today is really greedy.

As they walked, they talked about some household chores.

What color should I choose for the tablecloths and curtains at home? Anxi and Anyan have to buy a few sets of New Year’s clothes, and so on, it is no different from the average young couple.

After walking for a long time, I felt the heat wave at the entrance of the opposite shopping mall when I crossed the road. People continued to swarm over there. Miriam and Bryan were swarmed by the crowd and unconsciously accelerated their pace.

Crossing the road and approaching, I saw it clearly. It was a joint promotional activity of a certain brand in the mall. Taking advantage of the crowds of years ago, such fun promotional methods are not uncommon.

The host on the stage tried hard to preach, attracting wave after wave.

“Let’s go.” The surrounding crowd was noisy and crowded, and Bryan subconsciously curled Miriam’s hand into his palm, pulling her to exit.

He is not interested in such activities, and even less interested in the sporadic discounts.

Miriam walked out with his footsteps. After hearing the enthusiastic introduction of the host on the field, she suddenly opened her eyes, stopped her footsteps, and stopped him.

“The following is the knowledge contest. It takes a certain amount of courage to take the stage this round, because I have prepared 20 questionnaires with epic difficulty in my hand. Among the participants, the person who answered the most correctly We can bring home our ultimate award today, an all-in-one dishwasher worth 30,000...”

When the woman next to me heard the words “dishwasher”, an inexplicable light came out of her eyes and looked up at him, “Bryan, dishwasher...”

A pair of bright eyes blinked twice, with a hint of coquetry.

The expression on the man’s face did not change, he dragged her to walk outside, and cherished and firmly spit out a word: “Buy!”

After two steps, he finally got out of the crowd and was dragged back.

“Miriam, your husband can still afford a dishwasher.” His face was gloomy, in contrast to the bright and splendid face of the woman next to him.

“Quick, quick, quick...” Miriam suddenly slapped Bryan on the shoulder with a rare expression of excitement, flushing with excitement. “You save 30,000 and you can give it to Xiaoxi. I’ve reported to the early education class you like.”

Bryan looked down, and at the end, he was half pushed, and Miriam pushed onto the stage in the host’s countdown voice.

Naturally, he didn’t care about the 30,000 in Miriam’s mouth, but inexplicably, he liked her little calculation with a breath of life, and inexplicably wanted to give in.

As soon as Bryan stepped onto the stage, there was a burst of sighs from the crowd.

Some people wonder if the man in the black down jacket is the kind of trust they invited.

Miriam looked around and followed those pointing gazes, only to realize that her husband’s handsome face fell among the bunch of amateurs and looked particularly eye-catching.

The two little sisters held hands and covered their mouths and laughed secretly, “Is this handsome uncle style popular nowadays for actors? Give him the first place. We will be able to feast our eyes.”

When Miriam heard this, she couldn’t help but glance aside, and she saw two beautiful young girls, who looked young and looked like college students.

She coughed awkwardly, and heard another crisp laughter, “If I remember correctly, this is what you like? I look good, or I will step down and ask for contact information. If you are lucky, you can take it home for the New Year...”

“Then you don’t know if they are married or not, and they are not young anymore.” The little girl with open apricot eyes muttered her mouth, her face was obviously excited and excited, “But I don’t think it is. Look at her hands. The top is clean and nothing is worn, right?”

Following the direction of the little girl’s topic, Miriam unconsciously placed her gaze on Bryan’s hand, with clean and slender knuckles, and at the moment she was holding the answer sheet that she had received from the host.

It’s really nothing.

With a “cock” in her heart, she couldn’t help but pull her hand out of her pocket and touched the huge diamond ring on her ring finger.

The man on the stage was personable, half of the questions passed, and he was more than half right. At this time, the atmosphere became more heated, and the roar of cheering and cheering continued.

Miriam opened her eyes and watched the two little girls fold their hands into horns, shouting with excitement. At this time, she obviously didn't care about the 30,000 dishwasher.

She squeezed her fist, and Bryan was much more precious than a dishwasher.

Time passed, more than ten minutes later, the originally crowded stage, now there are only three people left, and the last question, whoever answers it correctly can take the dishwasher home.

When the host had sold out enough and slowly reported the last question, the audience was silent for a while.

The three people on the stage also had different expressions. Miriam turned her head to see that someone next to her had reached out to search for her mobile phone.

"You can't remind..." The host handed an index finger to his lips and walked around the audience with a smile.

Chapter 468

"The Bretton Woods system refers to the international monetary system formed after World War II, centered on the operation of the U.S. dollar, and the U.S. dollar is linked to various currencies and gold."

Just as the answer was faintly coming out of Miriam's mind, a clean and gentle voice suddenly sounded behind her, which instantly interrupted her thoughts.

His body stiffened, he turned his head quickly, facing Rania's deep and long eyes.

Her eyes were half-squinted. Although she was speaking to Miriam, her eyes were staring at the man on the stage. Seeing that he was holding the inscription board in one hand, immersed in the writing, and finally lifted it up, the unrestrained brushstrokes were facing the answer that Rania had just given.

"The Bretton Woods system... the answer is correct!" the host announced in surprise, and then the audience burst into flames.

There was a deep and unbelievable look in his long and narrow eyes. Rania looked at Miriam and then at Bryan, unable to understand why these two people appeared on such an occasion, just to launder 30,000. Dish machine.

"Have you been short of money lately?" She asked sincerely and sincerely.

Miriam laughed out loud, not knowing how to answer this question.

In a moment, she figured it out again, and smiled slightly, "I understand."

This kind of little fun between husband and wife, Rania is destined to be unable to experience it, and will not understand the fun.

But looking at Bryan's gentle and willing expression, she knew that the question was abrupt.

His pale lips hooked, and his face showed a bit of unconscious loneliness.

"Why are you here?" After seeing the expression in Rania's eyes, Miriam opened her lips and teeth, then confided in her doubts and changed the subject.

"I don't feel well in my stomach, I have to go to catch a plane for some porridge." Rania raised his head, looked at the shopping mall building in front of him, and gestured to Miriam with a finger.

When she came out of Qi's house, she was exhausted and sweating, so she asked the temporarily hired driver to find a porridge shop nearby and ate some soup, which finally took a sip.

When Miriam heard her say this, she thought she hadn't eaten yet, so she smiled, "Me and Bryan are also going to eat something, or should we be together?"

In the face of Rania, she still maintained a certain alienation, but she still wanted to support You Mao in the Song family, and it was always difficult to be too indifferent.

It could be seen that Miriam's invitation was mixed with a bit of hesitation, and she refused, "I have eaten it."

After a pause, he asked, "Why didn't you go to the Qi family? I heard that the Qi family and the Shao family had friendship in the early years. I thought I could meet you and Mr. Shao there..."

At this point, Miriam felt a little bit abrupt, but Miriam was also a little confused when she heard it, but she just smiled without saying anything.

"Let's buy some new year goods, Bryan said that when we feel like it, we won't go to join the fun." He responded with a light smile, with no surprised expression.

On the contrary, Rania was a little confused, as if reacting suddenly, murmured: "New Year goods..."

She hasn't heard these two words for many years.

“I forgot, it’s almost the New Year.” She smiled, said hello and then turned to leave, “Then you should go ahead and I should also go.”

The driver’s car stopped on the side of the road, and she walked straight towards the intersection. Before leaving, she was amused by the crowded scene behind Miriam, and she stretched out a finger to signal, “Look at your husband, he is a sweet pastry.”

When the tall and thin figure merged into the street, Miriam turned around and saw that Bryan was being blocked by the two girls in the crowd. One of them had already taken out his mobile phone, “If it’s convenient, let’s exchange contact information.”

Bryan, who had stepped off the stage, had a gloomy expression on his face. Before he could say his refusal, a force squeezed out from the crowd and dragged his arm to go outside.

He raised his eyes, followed the plain knuckles and looked at Shang Miriam’s uncertain eyes.

“Wife...” The corners of his mouth moved upward, and his eyes revealed a deep friendship. Like a lost child, he suddenly found his belongings and felt very relieved at the sudden movement of Miriam’s hand.

“Wife?” The two little girls were taken aback one after another, blinking and staring at each other, then at the same time they looked at Miriam.

Compared to them, Miriam always showed a certain age.

With one hand firmly attached to the man’s arm, she smiled and rushed to spread the hand with the diamond ring.”Sorry, my husband is more shy. If you want to contact me, it’s better to ask me directly.”

Obviously it was a domineering speech declaring sovereignty, and the two of them were stunned after hearing them, put their phones in their arms, and ran away hurriedly.

When the crowd dispersed, Miriam still felt uncomfortable, so she took Bryan and walked towards the mall.

There was a wind on the soles of her feet, ignoring that Bryan held up the bill in her hand behind her, “My wife, the washing cabinet will be delivered to your door.”

Miriam thought to herself, Bryan must be proud of him at the moment.

She wasn’t really angry, but she just wanted to pretend to be a faceless face, and dragged people straight to the jewelry store on the second floor.

Facing a row of wedding rings spread out on the counter, Bryan looked down at the carefully selected woman beside him, and could no longer hide the smile in his eyes.

Miriam didn't realize it, took Bryan's hand, and put the man in the picture on his ring finger, only then did the solemn expression ease.

"How?" She shook his finger and asked with a smile.

"Not bad." Bryan glanced down, "If you like it, we can take some time to ask someone to order it. Today is not here to buy a ring."

Miriam didn't listen to him, so he finalized it without authorization and asked the shopping guide, "How much is this pair?"

No more, no less, just the price of a dishwasher.

After swiping the card, Miriam also replaced her diamond ring with a pair of rings, turned her head and spread her palms towards Bryan, "Mr. Shao, let's go."

The man covered it with his big palm, and the two of them blended their fingers and walked out of the store together.

On the way out, Bryan didn't know why Miriam bought a pair of rings on a whim. He asked deliberately, and the answer he got only said that he was affirmed and encouraged that he just won the dishwasher.

Miriam pursed her lips, naturally she wouldn't easily admit her careful thoughts.

"Rania has come to City Two. I ran into her under the stage when you were playing just now." She took the man upstairs to buy what she wanted, and quietly changed the topic.

Upon hearing this news, Bryan had no response.

Miriam twisted her eyebrows."She said she had gone to the Qi family. I heard that Shang Rui had also gone. When did they have friendship with the Qi family?"

Bryan's expression was still dull. He chose a big red little padded jacket in the children's clothing area and stretched it out in front of Miriam and shook it. The meaning was obvious.

Miriam reached out and took it, took a look, then put it back, "It's not pretty."

She commented lightly.

"We must look good in the creek." The listener frowned, looked back stubbornly, and finally grabbed it in his hand reluctantly, and wanted to buy it when Miriam was not paying attention. Come down.

When the shopping guide lady was taking over to pack, Miriam stopped again, "The size is not right, Bryan, are you here to make trouble?"

In the atmosphere of the little confrontation, the shopping guide's movements froze and looked at the two in embarrassment, but after several competitions, he put down his clothes, "In this case, should you two look at the others? "

As he continued to select, Bryan followed Miriam, and his inspiration came, "Do you know why Rania went to Qi's house?"

Not surprisingly, I saw Miriam turning her head and looking at him curiously, "You know?"

"Yeah." He replied, and walked to the side of the dress calmly, and chose a larger size and took a look at it in his hand.

Miriam saw it through, shook her head and smiled, "Buy it if you like it, just as it's for Dad to see."

Then tilted his head and looked at him, "Can I talk now?"

Bryan cleared his throat, and when he was about to speak, he heard Miriam's cell phone ring. She lowered her head and fumbled it out of her pocket. After swiping the screen, she saw that the sender of the message was Shelly, so she clicked on it. After a brief hesitation, he suddenly looked up, "Qi Feng and Shang Rui..."

At this point, she suddenly stopped her voice, but the meaning was clear.

The moment he blurted out, he felt a layer of cold sweat coming out of his back, and Rania's soft and shallow face suddenly appeared in his mind.

Bryan was speechless, but indirectly expressed acquiescence.
