

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 479– 480

Chapter 479

When the words fell, the old man's face flushed a little bit, but because this was said from Bryan's mouth, he didn't dare to attack it easily, so he coughed and interrupted.

The eyes of everyone gathered together, and the old man pushed aside the chair under him and got up, and then greeted the woman who was dazed in a daze, "Look at me, let's go."

Before leaving, I grabbed my old woman and glanced at Bryan, and said with an obviously unhappy heart: "Today, we are ignoring ourselves. President Shao just looks down on our poor relatives. But for one thing, I belong to Uncle Miriam. My identity will never change, so no matter what time I am your elder."

After the elder said, he angrily pulled the person next to him to leave.

At this time, the movement in the restaurant has attracted a lot of people's onlookers. Miriam was relieved, thinking that no matter what, Bryan will take care of her, and the matter will finally be resolved.

But unexpectedly, the group of three people hadn't stepped out yet, and they were blocked by Bryan's uncomfortable voice.

"Since I am Miriam's relative, I naturally have no reason to lose face. I will send my resume to the online recruitment mailbox, and I will greet the person in charge. Technical work is not possible, and the front desk service is still possible."

Miriam listened, the hand holding Bryan could not help but stiff, some did not understand his intentions, so she could only secretly try to remind him.

At this time, not only Miriam but also three other people were surprised, and Bryan appeared very calm with an unclear smile on his lips.

The uncle just pulled his face down. It's not good to ask anything at this time, and still hold the energy, but the uncle looked more excited, raised her eyebrows, and asked, "Really?"

Bryan hesitated a little, then looked back at Miriam, his eyes full of indulgence, "This matter can only be decided by Miriam Miriam."

After speaking, the group's eyes fell on Miriam again.

The uncle coughed slightly when he heard the words, and actually pulled down his nose, and gave a few good words to persuade him, as if he was afraid that Miriam would not be willing. After several times, she finally let go, and said to the woman next to her: "Be prepared for your resume."

When Bryan led him out of the dining room dizzy, Miriam still couldn't help himself. It wasn't until I got into the car and the roar of the engine that she asked inexplicably: "Why?"

After a pause, she calmed down and added, "You, President Shao, are not like the person who allows employees to go through the back door. And you should also see that they are not friendly and will not be grateful for your compromise. of."

Bryan didn't seem to care, what Miriam said were all within his consideration.

When the atmosphere calmed down, he drove his car and responded with carelessness: "You Mao is a gift from me. I hope that you can gain more social status and more space to play because of it, so you created it. The original intention was not simply economic gain, understand?"

Miriam understood it, and suddenly felt that her heart was beating extremely fast. These words came out of Bryan's mouth, it was habitually insensible and deserted, but Miriam figured out a deep friendship.

She lowered her head, held her hands in front of her, and smiled quickly, "Then your gift is not ordinary expensive."

Bryan followed his lips, his eyes fell straight ahead, but his eyes were gradually saturated with soft light. He faintly asked: "This person will stay with you or not. The important thing is to let some people understand that you, Miriam, have the right to decide. . Sometimes this decision is not based on other things, but only on your personal mood."

Miriam suddenly understood Bryan's good intentions. He did this, and more importantly, he was afraid that it was to shackle his mother. When Miriam also had an equal social status with Bryan, she would naturally not say anything. , Dare not say anything.

There was an inexplicable emotion in her mind, and she heard a low "um" sound. Only then did she notice the direction of the car, and suddenly remembered her work in the afternoon, "Isn't the hotel dinner set on Yonghe Road? How come home? direction?"

"The meal has been cancelled." Bryan's brows were locked with a shallow word Sichuan, his eyes heavier again.

Miriam noticed it and asked, "What's the matter?"

They all know the relationship behind President Mao, who was the first group of regular customers to cooperate with Shang Rui.

It happened that in the past two years, manufacturers were determined to replace new technology materials. If it weren't for Song Lao's face, Mao would never consider a newcomer You Mao, so he was the most unstable factor among potential partners.

If Mr. Mao's order can be successfully signed, the network resources he brings behind him will be a more attractive chain of interests.

However, it is expected that Shang Rui and Chairman Mao have worked together for many years, and the relationship will not be too bad. Shang Rui knows that there will be intentions to block them later, so Bryan is not fully sure of the final result.

Sure enough, the air was quiet for two seconds, and then I heard Bryan's gentle response, "Shang Rui has come to City Two."

"That's why people were taken away by him." Miriam was not surprised when she said that, but she shrugged comfortingly, "Also, we can do everything we can. It doesn't make much sense in itself. Mom simmered the chicken soup at night and waits for you to drink it."

After chatting all the way to home, I opened the door and heard noisy noises in the living room, accompanied by bursts of strong food fragrance. Miriam craned her neck and looked over while changing shoes, and saw Kristy sitting on the sofa chatting with Mother Lu.

While chatting, he held chicken soup in his hand and drank with relish.

Seeing Miriam and Bryan entering the door, she stretched out her hand to greet people over, "Why are you coming back now?"

Miriam couldn't help but glance at Mother Lu, who was calm and calm next to her, with a hint of ridicule in her words, "You have to ask her old man about this."

"What's the matter?" Kristy listened and turned to look at Mother Lu. She was wearing a pair of reading glasses and holding a large stack of photo albums, as if she was reading it carefully, but no one would know her. Is acting stupid.

"Kristy, I think this is good. When you get married, you should always have a festive color." The old man suddenly patted her arm and easily changed the subject.

Miriam followed to join in the fun, so as to pick up the album from the side, and then looked at each other with Kristy, each other's eyes with understanding.

Kristy drank the chicken soup again, while Miriam closed the heavy photo album and threw it on the coffee table, and solemnly advised her mother, "The wedding style of your time is no longer suitable for the present."

Mother Lu gave her daughter a white look. When she was about to tease, she saw Bryan who was smiling and looking down, so she stopped talking.

Miriam and Bryan received the certificate twice, but they never even had a wedding. This is a topic that they have not easily opened up with each other in a tacit understanding. Naturally, she, a mother, would not open a pot or mention a pot.

So she changed her target and stared at Kristy who was drinking soup, "Then tell me what you like?"

Kristy drank her mouth full of oil, she twisted her eyebrows for a while, and finally did not say it publicly, but whispered a few words quietly in the ear of the old man.

When the old man heard it, he nodded and laughed, and then opened his voice to the kitchen, "Kristy said I want to go to the beach for a wedding!"

At that time, Huo Qiyuan was carrying a large plate of cut fruits out, and he smiled and said, "It's all right, she likes it."

As soon as I said this, even the expression on Bryan's face didn't feel sore, and he looked at the two of them again, "As soon as possible, Miriam and I are still waiting for a wedding drink."

Huo Qiyuan put aside the fruit plate, looked up at Bryan, "We plan to wait for the case of President Mao to be completed and then prepare, then President Shao should not let him go."

Miriam suddenly remembered what Bryan said in the car today, and suddenly raised his hands to vote, "I have the final say on this matter, it's time."

After speaking, several people looked at each other and laughed.

The laughter rippled, and the three little guys on the floor who were playing around stopped one after another, and looked up at the strange group of adults with weird expressions.

Chapter 480

Three days later, an interview with Bryan by the Economic Times was published, which evoked considerable repercussions.

At the same time, an unknown entertainment newspaper published a niche report with the title: On the Woman Behind Successful Men.

The man mentioned in the report is Bryan, and it is self-evident who is the doted woman behind him.

Two years have passed, and the relationship between Bryan and Miriam has finally been completely corrected in the public. Few people go to investigate the past anymore, and they all have emotions just because of Bryan's phrase "for my wife".

When economic experts were racking their brains to analyze the “Birth of You Mao”, this report completely explained the reason for its existence from another perspective. It was only because of a woman.

When Miriam saw this report, she was still on Bryan’s desk.

At the beginning, I was just puzzled. I was attracted by the eye-catching entertainment layout. I thought that Bryan was definitely not a person who was interested in entertainment gossip. So he picked it up and opened it and saw the huge headline. The two of them walked side by side from the company building. The picture that comes out is quite artistic.

The words of the report were carefully considered, and the content was full of gentleness, and there was no slanderous meaning in it. This surprised Miriam.

Reading from top to bottom, I was surprised that there was nothing unrealistic. This is the true portrayal of her and Bryan, and through the words of outsiders, it has another charm.

It turned out that in the eyes of outsiders, the two experienced all kinds of love and finally came together firmly, which is so enviable and admired.

She curled her lips unknowingly and read the article from top to bottom. She didn’t notice Bryan who did not know when she appeared behind her.

The reaction came because he felt a light and warm breath lingering behind his ears, and then turned his head to face his deep eyes, the noses of the two almost touched each other, and the picture became hot in an instant.

“Bryan...” She swallowed, showing a bit of panic, put the newspaper behind her back on his desk, and exclaimed, “You startled me.”

Looking at each other, trying to capture some information from each other’s eyes.

Bryan’s breathing was visibly quicker. He clamped Miriam’s chin with one hand and curled his lips seductively, but in the end he only dropped an extremely restrained kiss on her lips.

After the kiss, the arm crossed over her body, took the stack of newspapers in her hand and read it, and asked her not lightly or seriously, “How is the writing?”

Miriam pulled her hair back, and consciously stepped back a few minutes, keeping a proper distance from him, then glanced at him lightly and commented: “Satisfactory.”

After finishing speaking, he snatched the newspaper and put it aside, his expression became serious, “Mr. Mao said he has to think about it again, and he can give a reply before the end of the month.”

Although the interaction between the two was not fierce, it quickly moved to the working level, but the young girl who happened to pass by the office door still saw this scene that shouldn't be seen, and almost instantly opened her mouth and stretched out her hand to cover it subconsciously. So that there was no exclamation, but the surprise and excitement still ran out of his eyes uncontrollably.

After only one morning, the little girl's vivid descriptions and the freshly released gossip weekly, the love between the president and the president's wife began to pass on word of mouth, and everyone admired it.

It didn't take long for the work branch in Chengnan to spread.

Huo Qiyuan occasionally heard two male technologists whispering while checking production data. When he got close to hear clearly, he couldn't help but grabbed the information in his hand and slapped it on the back of one of the heads."

After that, he checked the work in his hands solemnly, and left with a serious face.

A group of people under his team were shocked and sweaty. They all knew that this vice president Huo usually had a stern look, and he was quite demanding on people and things, and no one wanted to touch this mold.

But no one knew that after the vice president Huo returned to his office, the first thing he did was to take out his mobile phone and call his fiancée, gossiping and telling everything he had just heard.

So half an hour later, Miriam was in Bryan's office communicating the latest high-level personnel activation plan, and when the conversation was hot, she received a call from Kristy.

The woman at the other end was happy alone for a long time, and finally asked Miriam when she almost died of laughter: "I heard you and Bryan k!ssed in the office?"

When the words "k!ss" came out, Miriam got goose bumps all over her body.

It happened that she and Bryan were sitting face to face across a desk. Kristy's voice was sharp enough. Although her voice was not loud, Miriam could judge that he heard it by looking at the expression of the opposite man.

So the two of them looked at each other helplessly while listening to Kristy's unbridled laughter on the phone, the scene was rarely embarrassing.

Miriam twisted her eyebrows, and when she finished laughing, she reacted and asked, "Who told you?"

Suddenly there was silence, and he stopped talking.

“You wait for President Shao to put on your Mr. Huo’s shoes.” Miriam was angrily, hung up the phone and asked Bryan, “How can you k!ss me in the office?”

Bryan condensed his eyebrows for a while, and couldn’t think of a problem, so he took advantage of her not paying attention, and clamped her chin with one hand, leaned in and k!ssed.

Then he asked, “Is that so?”

Miriam’s face flushed by the way, and her heart was dumb.

Faced with Bryan’s unsatisfactory expression, I saw him casually responding, “I k!ssed my wife in my office, where did I break the law?”

Miriam pursed her lips. In the end, she didn’t argue with him on this issue, but only thought that Bryan must be crazy.

Even though I think so, my heart is inexplicably clear and clean.

Silently took back the phone, grabbed the pen in her hand and continued to draw on the report.”In the market management area, Shelly said that she has a recommendable candidate, but I still want to wait for Zheng Yun. She is capable of working. It should not be underestimated. If the conditions are adequate, it will be no small promotion for the development of our Youmao.”

Bryan nodded and resumed his serious expression at work. After expressing his approval, he continued to add, “In this way, you will be my deputy and you will be responsible for the overall arrangement of work.”

This is exactly what Miriam thought. It was only after You Mao was not Bi Yingxin who actually took over, that more overall planning and arrangements were more exhausting than detailed work, and if Miriam didn’t If you do, you can only fall on Bryan alone.

There is still a private thought in her heart, she always thinks that Bryan will return to Longteng one day, so she can’t let him spend all her energy just on You Mao.

Thinking of this, he responded with an “um” sound. Unexpectedly, Bryan suddenly chuckled in his ear, “Is this considered as being firmly in your palm?”
