

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 493– 494

Chapter 493

The Tao's engagement banquet was held in a medium-sized hotel in Jincheng. The show was not too big, but it was also well-regulated. Every process was carefully prepared.

Miriam and Bryan were invited to the table as guests of honor. When they experienced all this, there was an illusion of trance.

Couples who have never had a wedding, let alone be engaged.

When she walked through the stands full of balloons and roses, even though Miriam had tried her best to restrain her, Bryan still clearly saw the envy in her eyes, which made the man somewhat uneasy.

Lu Anyan in his arms slapped his little hand, and when he passed the stands, he suddenly clapped his palms excitedly, turned his head and muttered at Bryan: "Daddy, send..."

Bryan looked down at the big head of his son in his arms, with a gloomy face, "What's the hair?"

He didn't bother about how his son wanted to post. At that moment, he was full of thoughts about the feeling of the woman who was walking in front.

Xiao Anyan discerned his daddy's impatience, and turned his small mouth, very aggrieved, pointing to the stands and repeating: "Xiao Xixi wants strange hair..."

The man's face became more gloomy, staring at the little guy in his arms, as if looking at a creature from an alien planet. When he was about to speak again, the woman walking in front suddenly stopped.

She turned her head and glanced at Bryan, the expression on her face was not clear.

Although it is not clear, it is sufficient to distinguish, and it must not be happy.

She pursed her lips, stretched out her hand to take the child from the man's arms, hugged and pointed at the stands, "Today Auntie Wanwan is engaged, we can't take the roses..."

Bryan can be said to have heard his son's alien language from Miriam.

The little guy communicates with Mommy without barriers, even though he can't get the flowers, he is happy in his heart, and points his head quite sensibly, "Mommy, I'm Jidao bird..."

Miriam comfortedly touched An Yan's fleshy smiling face, and took the lead to walk towards the seat.

Before the ceremony began, many people were already sitting on the guest seats.

Miriam also sat for a while, looked around, and finally pulled a waiter who was standing next to him. After asking questions, he entrusted the child to Bryan again, got up and went to the back bread room to find Tao Waner.

The woman wore a long white tube top dress today, decorated with plain fabric. It looked like a simple wedding dress, and matched with the carefully prepared makeup. When Miriam knocked on the door and went in, she happened to face the makeup. When the mirror saw it, she felt a little dumb.

After a brief surprise, he laughed, closed the door and walked in, "It is said that the bride is always the most beautiful. I think you, the bride-to-be, is already too beautiful."

Tao Wan'er raised his head and saw through the mirror in front of him, with a delighted look on his face. He quickly pulled the skirt and got up, and cried out "Sister Miriam" in a somewhat shy manner. .

There is something of Miriam's deliberate match between Tao Waner and Song Bo, and it is also considered the smoothest pair to walk around Miriam over the years, which makes her somewhat relieved.

She deliberately found it for no other purpose. She stuffed the red envelope into Tao Wan'er's arms and said some sincere words. She didn't want to be sensational, but she still made the woman's eyes red.

She laughed and arranged the flower band on her wrist."You are a smart woman. You don't need to say anything, you can manage your own happiness. Song Bo can be a little dull sometimes, and you will surely get along with you every day. Where you are satisfied, go find out how to get along with yourself, he must be worthy of your exploration."

After finishing speaking, she simply greeted her and planned to leave. Tao Waner cried and laughed, and grabbed her arm, "Sister Miriam, after all, I had thoughts about Brother Chen before, why don't you have anything Mind?"

"I always wanted to do something to remedy it, but I always felt that I was not doing enough." After a pause, she said frankly, "In fact, every time I face you, I feel uneasy."

Miriam laughed and slapped her backhand on the back of her hand, "Although Bryan is not low in status and ability, he was divorced and had children at the time. If you can see how he usually communicates with his son, Maybe I can get out sooner."

The words were made jokingly, because from the beginning to the end, she didn't really treat Tao Waner as a potential threat who tried to destroy her marriage.

As I said it, thinking of Bryan's seriousness and Xiaoanyan's chattering appearance, his smile became clearer, and he continued to comfort him: "I'm really upset, why don't you allow me to ask for something from you?"

"What?" Tao Waner listened and blinked, as if hesitated.

Miriam didn't care much, her eyelids were drooping, and she tapped her chin on her wrist.

Hearing this, he turned to look down at the pink floral belt on his wrist. Tao Waner seemed to be in disbelief. His eyes widened a bit. He turned and opened the drawer of the dressing table next to him, revealing a full drawer of floral belts. She: "You said this?"

Miriam paced over, picked one out, and smiled at Tao, "My son wants it, thank you for him."

When I came out from Tao Wan'er and went along the original road towards the seat, I saw the man holding the child looking around from afar.

The restless eyes flashed a few minutes after they met her, but quickly fell silent, watching quietly, waiting for her to come.

Going closer, Xiao Anyan, who was agitated, saw it, and opened his arms and shouted at Miriam: "Mummy..."

Listening to the little guy's call, Miriam speeded up her pace unconsciously, while swaying the flower band in her hand with a smile on her face.

At this time, a few strangers had been added to the table. One of the little girls who had been teasing An Yan followed the little guy's sight and saw Miriam walking towards her.

Her smile froze a little, and then she seemed to mutter something to Bryan. Miriam watched with a deep gaze, approached quietly, and sat down beside Bryan.

"Are you a baby mom? The baby is so cute..." The little girl sat on the other side of Bryan, stretched out her hand and pinched An Yan's fleshy little face, and instantly pinched a clear fingerprint on his face. , "But it seems like it's very hard for Dad to take care of the child. The little guy has always been not good."

Miriam glanced at her lightly, and saw that the face of the girl who was specially dressed up was a little immature, and the smile filled with collagen was more real.

She squeezed out a faint smile. Just as she was about to speak, she saw Bryan next to him turning her head and looking over it with a gloomy look, and asked with a strong questioning tone: "Are you trying to say that I will not bring children?"

With an overbearing and aggressive aura, he took the usual posture of meeting in the company, causing the girl to shrink and then she was dumb, and she opened her lips for a long time before rebutting, “No, I mean...”

While talking, she stretched out her hand and pointed at Miriam, her face still facing Bryan, showing an aggrieved look.

“Do you mean my wife is better at taking children than me?” After a pause, he continued to oppress. “Or do you want to say that my son is not good and cute?”

After two sentences, the girl pushed the chair back subconsciously, and saw that although the man had a handsome face and had a rare attraction for holding the child, he was really a straight steel man inside. .

So he laughed, pushed aside the chair and got up, “Sorry, I’ll go to the bathroom.”

Seeing that the man was running away in a hurry, Miriam had time to look at Bryan more, ridiculing like, “When is Mr. Shao so unkind?”

How could Bryan fail to see the other party’s meaning, just carelessly deal with it.

He didn’t say anything, but just stared at Miriam quietly, with a somewhat unconscious grievance in his tone, “Why are you here now?”

Miriam looked down and saw the little guy stepped on the man’s thigh with unclear creases and footprints. She smiled and ignored, and raised the flower band in her hand at the little guy, “Xiaoyan, Mommy found flowers for you...”

Chapter 494

The flower belt was tied to the little guy’s arm, and the plump little hands started tossing up and down happily, matching the rhythm of the stamped legs, and he couldn’t help himself.

The man was still enduring with cold eyes, but his expression suddenly stiffened in an instant, and then the veins on his forehead burst, and the little guy lifted his arms to leave his body, his eyes were filled with anger.

“What’s the matter?” Miriam followed Bryan’s gaze and glanced down the table. Seeing the small footprints on the base of the man’s thigh, it became clear instantly, she couldn’t help but smile with her eyes bent, “Anyan is different from Xiaoxi. , Know that raising a son is going to suffer, right?”

Bryan also raised his arm, holding his son in the air, listening to the ridicule in Miriam’s words, and responding to the little guy’s “guckling” laughter as if he understood it, and his face became more gloomy. It is a kind of incomprehensible Liangzi with this precious son.

Miriam leaned on the back of the chair, waited until she was tired from smiling, and finally came out kindly, patted her palms at the little guy, "An Yan, mommy hug."

What made Bryan even more unacceptable was that as soon as the little guy arrived in Miriam's arms, he instantly calmed down, blinking his big eyes and looking around, like a well-behaved young man.

People passing by were constantly attracted by the little guy and stopped to greet him. He also grinned with a face. Miriam asked grandpa to be grandma, and he would squeeze out these names with milk and milk to make those people amused. Each eyebrow opened and smiled.

Then a young man stepped forward, seeming to be here to invite the old couple in front of him to take a seat. After approaching, he was attracted by An Yan's large watery eyes, he couldn't help but bend down and stretch his hand to poke his flesh. Meaty cheeks teased, "Little guy, can you call it Uncle?"

An Yan seemed to hesitate for a moment. He turned his head and glanced at Miriam. After receiving a positive look in his eyes, he smiled cheerfully, and said, "Shu, Mi..."

At this point, the cold-faced President Shao Da was completely left aside, and he could only watch his son and wife being held by the stars, while he could only hold the half glass of cold water in front of him and drank it in one go. .

"It's good, uncle, please eat cookies..." After speaking, the man in front of him really took out a small cookie from his pocket. Before handing it out, he thoughtfully confirmed with Miriam, "How old is the child? ?"

Miriam pursed her lips and smiled, nodding slightly, before speaking, the little guy could not wait to lean forward and reach out to take the biscuit.

I didn't rush to open it in my hand, but creaked the package as if it were a toy. When a group of people saw this, they laughed again.

The young man saw him with a clean and soft smile. He stretched out a hand and wanted to touch the little guy's head. Unexpectedly, a force suddenly came over in the air. Bryan pushed away the chair and turned and took the child from Miriam. He weighed it in his arms.

There is no expression on his face, like a piece of wood.

The little guy fell into Bryan's claws again. This time he lost his emotions. All his attention was on the little biscuit in his hand. After studying for a long time, he passed it behind him, "Mummy, seven biscuit... .."

At this time, he looked up and reacted. He blinked and stared at Bryan's gloomy face, then glanced to the side to look at Miriam, hesitating for a long time before changing his words, "Daddy, seven cookies..."

Who will let yourself fall into this man's arms at this time? We will still be able to judge the situation.

Miriam saw that the man seemed surprised just now, and Bryan seemed to ignore it, so she apologized and introduced, "This is my husband."

The man noticed that Bryan looked bad, and after politely agreed, he invited the two elderly people next to him to take a seat, "Quickly, the ceremony will begin immediately, and a good place has been reserved for you two."

Seeing people walking away, the expression on Miriam's face finally couldn't hold back, turning her head to look at Bryan with a smile, "The kid is jealous of his father?"

Bryan placed the child in his arms and carefully opened the biscuits. After seeing the little guy salivating, he raised his hand high, and said in a threatening tone: "Call Daddy."

"Daddy, Daddy." Patting the palm of his hand cheerfully, in front of the delicious food, the little guy swallowed silently and looked at the man in front of him.

After waiting for a while, seeing the man raised his hand a little bit higher, he continued to threaten: "You are not allowed to call another man uncle, do you know?"

The little guy didn't know if he understood, anyway, he kept nodding his head without hesitation.

Finally, after a long time of compromising, I ate a bite of the little biscuit that I was thinking of, and the flowers bloomed instantly.

Miriam shook her head and was amused by the scene, "Just now another woman came to say hello, I am not like you, am I?"

"That's because your husband has already settled it for you himself." Bryan retorted, and at the same time he thought to himself, Lu Anyan didn't have such a divine assist at the time.

When the two of you came and I murmured, the music on the court rang, and Bryan fell silent for the first time in a soft piano melody. He stared at the woman in front of him, and suddenly disappeared. Careful mind.

There was a soft smile at the corner of his mouth, and he was shocked to find that such a life was so beautiful that people couldn't help themselves.

Thinking that the ceremony was about to begin, Miriam suddenly straightened his posture, stretched out his hand to the stage and joked, "Smiling is very beautiful today. Don't regret it later."

The man casually retracted the gaze that fell on her, looked in the direction of Miriam's finger, and muttered in a dazed and firm voice: "No regrets."

Suddenly, a hurried figure rushed past. Miriam recognized it. Before she could say hello, the figure hurriedly ran behind the stage.

Bryan also noticed it, and turned around to tease Miriam again, "You little assistant seems to be in trouble again?"

Miriam glanced at him lightly, and then turned to look in that direction. From her perspective, she could just see Song Bo standing behind the stage, scratching his head against a man, as if he was really in trouble. .

She twisted her brows slightly, pushed aside the chair under her, got up, and quickly walked over.

When she got closer, she could hear clearly what kind of process was canceled. She stood still, and asked coldly, "What to cancel?"

When Song Bo saw Miriam, he was surprised at first, then dumb. Finally, he scratched the back of his head and blushed a lot. He didn't dare to look at Miriam's eyes, "Sister Miriam, I lost the engagement ring."

Miriam looked at him, not surprised, but he also hated iron but not steel.

At this moment, Bryan had already turned his body unconsciously, and followed the child in front of him and set his eyes on the woman in the distance. First, she saw her pacing twice with her arms akimbo and then said something to Song Bo.

When I looked again, she had already turned back quickly.

Jing waiting for her to approach, before she could react, the woman had already stretched out a hand towards him, "Bryan, give me your ring."

Bryan was stunned for a second, resisting on his face.

"No." He refused firmly.

It's not the value of a ring that cares about it, but it was chosen by Miriam personally at the mall that day, and the significance was extraordinary.

But no matter how resolute he was, he couldn't resist the woman's soft and hard bubbling. After three or two rounds of dealings, he finally lost the battle.

Hearing Daddy's compromise, Xiao Anyan lowered his head and stared at the shining ring on his ring finger, reached out and knocked it, trying to fiddle with it.

In the end, Miriam quickly took it off for him, took off the one on his finger, and handed it to Song Bo.

“Although I remarried with Bryan, it may not have a good meaning, but he is the best man in the world I think. I am willing to meet him in my life, and I hope you can do the same.”

Because of the urgency of time, these words came out of Miriam with a bit of eagerness, but when Bryan next to him listened, his heart still moved a bit uncontrollably.

It is precisely because it seems to say what one wants to say that it has not been well brewed in advance that it seems particularly touching.
