

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 501– 502

Chapter 501

Kristy's new job has been determined, but she is thinking about joining the job after the wedding with Mr. Huo, so this time is still free.

It happened that the young master at home was also weaned, and she became a rare leisurely person in Miriam's circle. She went shopping every day for beauty, and Mrs. Kuo's life was enviable.

On this day, Miriam was working on documents in the office, and Mrs. Kuo, who was wearing a ladylike skirt, knocked on the door and came in.

"Oh, it's rare for you to come here for the first time in the next year, right?" Miriam looked up from a pile of documents, only to identify the person who came, and then teased and joked. The work in his hand still kept stopping for a while. Busy.

Kristy took off her sunglasses and held it in her hand. After leaning on the edge of the door and scanning the interior decoration, she finally turned her gaze on Miriam, looking at her with a smile on her face, "Vice President Lu has good taste."

Miriam didn't answer for the time being. He put the table together after finishing the last job at hand. During this time, she raised her head and asked Kristy to go toward the sofa, "What to drink? I'll let you prepare it."

As soon as she left the door frame, Kristy raised her hand to refuse, and pointed to Miriam's wrist watch, "I'll get off work in ten minutes. Let's go out to eat. I invite you."

She got up and took a glass of warm water in front of the drinking fountain. Kristy's words came into Miriam's ears along with the sound of the water flowing, she couldn't help but smile and became a little wary.

After pouring half a cup of water, he turned around, leaned on the table behind him and looked up at it, "Come here specially, have something to say to me?"

After taking a sip of the water, he put it aside, then took the windbreaker jacket from the hanger and put it on, then turned to the desk and opened the drawer to search for something.

"It won't work today. I'm going to the hospital to see Shelly in a while. Let's talk over the phone if I have something to say." The whole process showed a bit of rush, and finally took a document bag and put it in the bag, "I invite you another day."

Seeing that she was about to leave, Kristy quickly got up to catch up, and stopped at the door with one hand, "Hey, you also know that I don't easily join in the fun now. It must be an important thing to find you..."

After thinking for a while, he simply gave up, and put one hand on Miriam's arm, "I'll be with you. I'll tell you on the way, let's take a look at Ms. Shelly."

Miriam condensed her eyebrows and thought, lowered her eyes to look at the woman beside her, but finally did not refuse.

I have already guessed that it would be unusual for Kristy to take a trip in person and still chase after what must be said.

Sure enough, when Miriam's car had just drove onto the main road, Kristy succinctly understood the center of the topic, "You Mao now has someone plotting against your Mr. Shao, please be careful."

As soon as she got in the car, the woman put on her pair of sunglasses that could cover most of her face. She leaned on the back of the passenger seat and watched the road ahead. A touch of reminder.

Miriam laughed secretly when she heard it, and with a disdainful smile, she turned the steering wheel, and at the same time asked, "Who is it?"

Who can seduce Mr. Shao, Miriam thought to himself, just this thought makes it ridiculous.

But Kristy's next answer still made Miriam feel a little shocked.

"Who, that's the one you arranged to be the warehouse manager in Chengnan... Xiao Wan, remember?"

Still drove the car quietly, but the knuckles holding the steering wheel couldn't help tightening a bit, "Who?"

After a brief astonishment in my heart, I realized that this question of myself was really unnecessary.

But Kristy didn't know, she slammed her bag on her lap anxiously, took off her sunglasses and stared at her with a pair of beautiful apricot eyes, "Although your Mr. Shao is a unique good man in the world, as a hostess, you must The declaration of sovereignty is indispensable. If you don't show the style of a young master, others will think you are a muddled soft persimmon."

Miriam listened silently, not talking to each other for the time being.

At noon, there is not much traffic on the street, and the gentle spring breeze blows in through the car window, and it is very friendly on the face. Miriam drove the car quietly, Yu Guang saw the woman next to her digging out a specially printed photo from her bag.

"This is when Bryan visited Seongnam some time ago, and a colleague took it. This matter has been spread in the group of Seongnan Technology Department, and it will be passed to the headquarters in less than a few days. You, Mrs. Shao You can't stop fame, right?"

Miriam didn't specifically look at the content of the photo, and drove the car calmly, and did not make a specific statement. Kristy waited for two seconds, as if she had come to understand, she nodded and said: "Okay, I know, you just leave it alone and leave it to me and Lao Huo."

"No." The body turned to a tree-lined road leading to the hospital gate. Miriam slowly lowered the speed, and at the same time turned to look out the window to find a suitable parking space, so the voice sounded even more casual. , "Xiao Wan is my younger sibling."

She explained, turning the car to the parking space on the side of the road, slowly turning off the fire, releasing the seat belt, and then pushing the door to get out of the car.

The woman sitting in the passenger seat was instantly stunned, blinking her eyes and staring at the vacant seat in front of her, as if she couldn't help herself.

"Brother sister?" After Miriam had already walked forward on her own, she pushed the door to catch up."Miriam, have you made a mistake?"

Miriam didn't say anything all the way, but in fact, he had already thought about it in his heart. When Kristy became impatient, he frankly expressed his attitude, "Don't worry, if the matter is true, I will solve it personally and will not let you down."

How could she, Miriam, be a soft persimmon that anyone can handle, absolutely not.

After that, Kristy was prevented from being noisy and led people into Shelly's ward.

The ward was rarely quiet today. Only Shelly was sitting on the bed and reading. Seeing two people at the door, he didn't greet him enthusiastically. He only invited someone to sit down and closed the book and went to the water dispenser to pour two glasses of warm water.

Miriam knew that Miller had taken Xiao Miao to the orphanage today, so she specially chose this time to visit.

As soon as she sat down, Kristy, who was talking dryly all the way, raised her head and poured the whole glass of warm water. Miriam buried her head and smiled, digging out a stack of documents that she had taken in the office before from her bag and threw it onto the hospital bed.

"What you want." She curled her lips and smiled, her face relaxed and calm.

The gauze on Shelly's face has been removed, but the scar under the corner of his eye is still in the healing stage. Without applying powder, the aura looks much softer than usual.

Sitting cross-legged, wearing a plain cardigan, she opened the file bag with one hand and poured out the contents.

A pile of materials almost covered the bed.

She looked over it indifferently, and listened to Miriam slowly saying: "Miss Bao's father just retired a year ago. All the previous physical examination reports of the unit had normal physical indicators and no family history of heart disease. So it is a coincidence. There was a heart attack that day, which is doubtful."

"Yeah, go on." Shelly nodded in approval, his eyes moved in the direction of his fingers, and a rather conspicuous photo was found from it. As soon as he frowned, he was caught in time by Miriam who was looking at him.

"Ms. Bao's ex-boyfriend is the second son of the chairman of a small and medium-sized company in City Two. The two broke up last year. This is not a big problem. The only interesting thing is, do you know how they got involved?"

Miriam's question caused a burst of conjecture in Shelly's mind. Not far away, when Kristy was blinking her eyes and looking unclear, she blurted out: "Crash?"

After receiving Miriam's silent nod, the woman in the hospital bed who was not yet very clear suddenly smiled evilly, and while laughing, threw the photo in her hand into the pile of materials, "It's interesting."

"Crash again?" Kristy suddenly understood. She had heard Miriam talk about the causes and consequences of Shelly's car accident. So after blinking her eyes, she asked rather incomprehensibly: "How can Master Gu be a tens of thousands of flowers." People who have been in the past, don't you see this trick?"

Chapter 502

After hearing Kristy's doubts, Miriam and Shelly looked at each other and both fell silent.

Kristy turned to think about it and understood it, explaining her question by herself, "I don't think Miller has any real feelings for that Miss Bao."

This is the fact.

From the moment he saw Miss Bao, Shelly had already seen through Miller. He chose the woman that had nothing to do with love itself, so what if he knew those tricks?

What he wants is a shield that can disguise all his previous unrestrainedness and enable him to live like most young men and women. It is best that this woman comes with purpose and disguise, so that it can reduce his guilt. And upset.

Similarly, this is one of the reasons why he did not choose Shelly in the end.

After experiencing Qi Feng, Miller thoroughly understood how he played a good hand of cards in the first thirty years of his life. He and Shelly, who has plans and requirements everywhere, are two extremes. He has no courage to stand shoulder to shoulder with her.

So when he woke up from a hangover, he chose the woman who accidentally scratched the paint on his car. From then on, he stayed away from the hustle and bustle of feasting and became a good man like Bryan.

In fact, his heart is dead.

Shelly originally wanted to stand by and watch what this man would eventually rot into, but it happened that the unaware Miss Bao took the initiative to provoke her, so she can't be blamed.

Miriam and Shelly didn't respond to Kristy's speculation at the moment, and she didn't seem to care too much. She reached out to find out what was in the pile of documents and looked through it with interest, "Yeah, who? So big?"

After flipping two pages at random, he handed it to Shelly, while Miriam calmly explained, "This is Miss Bao's trumpet."

The materials intercepted were all materials and blog posts that showed off their wealth. The earliest was at the beginning of last year. Shelly didn't take a closer look. He couldn't help but praise, "Mr. Shao is good enough, and his professional ability is better than private detectives."

"I have to tell you one thing." Miriam calmly picked up the tea at hand and drank it while observing the woman with a relaxed look in front of her. "These materials, except for the fact that his father is sick, are other Bryan didn't check it."

"Who is that?"

"Miller's father."

No matter how clever Shelly was, he couldn't guess the old Mr. Gu, who had never been masked, on his head.

It wasn't until Miriam spoke slowly and leisurely that she unconsciously corrected her sitting posture, wringing her eyebrows seriously, "That makes sense."

Mr. Gu is really happy when he sees his son who has been wandering around for a long time finally settles down, but it is natural to investigate this person who is the only one who is expected to become the future daughter-in-law of the Gu family.

Unexpectedly, the results of this investigation made Grandpa Gu not very satisfied.

“The person who can make Miller change s3x, Mr. Gu must have great expectations. However, his old man has been looking forward to it for many years. Even if he is not satisfied, as long as Miller can settle down, it is not a big problem. One eye is closed by default.”

Miriam casually analyzed, tapping the wall of the cup with her fingertips.

Kristy couldn't understand it anymore, and turned to ask her, “Then why does the old man still give the information to Bryan?”

After a moment of silence, Miriam curled her lips and motioned a look at Shelly.

The remaining two of them blinked their eyes and looked unclear.

“Old man Gu's investigation into Miss Bao will definitely involve you, Ms. Shelly. Now in the eyes of his old man, he has a more suitable candidate for a daughter-in-law.” She smiled lightly, finished speaking slowly, and then emphasized, “Is it clear enough?”

Shelly's eyes trembled, and she didn't say anything. Kristy, who was the first to react, began to count them one by one, “Graduated from a prestigious foreign school, MK executives were born, rich and handsome, with high EQ and high IQ. They are indeed impeccable.”

Clutching the sheets underneath him tightly, Shelly rarely put on a solemn expression, realizing that it should be the current situation, which made the investigating father Gu misunderstand something.

She didn't really care, she raised her eyebrows and smiled, “This old man still has vision.”

“Do you have a vision? You'll know when you see it.” Miriam put down the cup in her hand, “Bryan and Mr. Gu have friendship. He speculates that the old man will come to the hospital some time to see you, so I also want to come. Remind you, be mentally prepared.”

After a pause, he emphasized, “It's probably only two days. You want to teach Miss Bao. This is a good opportunity. It's up to you to take it.”

Shelly was also shocked when it was clear that Mr. Gu was coming, but Miriam's reminder made her sober up quickly. After thinking with cold eyes for a while, she waved her hand, “Don't worry, I know it in my heart.”

Miriam gave a light “um”, then raised her wrist and glanced at the time, “It’s getting late. I have a meeting in the afternoon. I have to go first.”

Some words of advice came to my lips, but after a calm expression on Shanggongqi, he took it all back, and only slightly nodded to her after getting up, “You should be aware of it. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me. .”

Originally wanted to advise, but then I thought about Miller. If he really chooses Miss Bao in a self-destructive manner, then he is very likely to be trapped in the mud all his life, and Shelly is the only beacon he hopes to get rid of. .

So he didn’t say anything at all.

Kristy got up behind Miriam, shook her head and sighed, “Men are really troublesome. Sometimes they are more troublesome than our women.”

She couldn’t help but think of Bryan, and patted Miriam on the shoulder, “Don’t forget about your own affairs, let’s have more snacks.”

After that, he stepped out ahead of Miriam, but was unexpectedly stopped by Shelly, who suddenly remembered something.

“By the way, Kristy, I wonder if there is something necessary to remind you...”

She paused, as if organizing language. Kristy stopped when she heard the words and turned to look at her, “What?”

“It’s nothing. I talked to your Mr. Huo with Mu Ming some time ago, and he was transferred to City Two after knowing that his ex-wife recovered from illness. I also heard Brother Quan mentioned the troubles of the other family members before, reminding you to go out more often. Pay attention.”

She can say the subject in the most concise language.

After hearing this, Kristy opened her mouth slightly, and blinked her eyes in a bewildered manner. Her relaxed mood suddenly turned down, and she instantly felt resonated with the two women in front of her.

After leaving the ward, Kristy, who had completely slowed down the main road to the gate of the hospital, was still feeling emotional, “Why do you feel unhappy because of these men?”

After hearing this, Miriam hurriedly clarified the line, “I am not happy, I have no objection to Mr. Shao.”

Kristy squinted over, and she was actually quite satisfied with Mr. Huo, but compared to Miriam and Bryan, she still had some citric acid.

“Yeah, it’s a miracle that your husband’s ex-wife is still you.” She drooped her head and pierced it secretly.

The two went to the door in tandem. When they were about to walk out of the hospital door, they suddenly saw two business cars holding a black Porsche stopping at the door after a few meters away.

Miriam stopped subconsciously and pulled Kristy away from the main road, hiding under the shade of a tree and looking at it.

As expected, after seeing the Porsche door opened, a spirited old man walked down. The old man leaned on a cane. Behind him was a young housekeeper and two uniformed men carrying a pile of nutrition and health products. Next, calmly stepped into the hospital gate.

Kristy recognized him because he has a three-point look similar to Miller, “Is this Mr. Gu?”

“Ok.”

Miriam responded, and when people walked away, she took out the phone from her pocket and sent a message to Shelly.