

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 599– 600

Chapter 599

The man held the flower and smiled again.

At this moment, he suddenly felt a little force under him. He lowered his head and saw An Yan was pulling his trousers, and he was smiling on his back.

The man raised his eyebrows and asked the little guy very vigilantly: “What do you want to do?”

“Fafa...” The little guy tried hard to tiptoe, and stretched his finger towards the flower in his hand.

“You want this?” He didn’t know, so he bent over and picked up the little guy and held it in his arms before handing out the flower.”What flower do you like a boy?”

Lu Anyan ignored him, and after struggling to break free, he pulled his trouser legs and walked in a certain direction of the crowd.

Finally stood in front of a beautiful young foreign woman.

Miller, who hadn’t figured out the situation for a while, was a little embarrassed. When he lowered his head to question the little guy, he saw that he had already put the flowers in his hands into the hands of the little girl in front of him with a smile.

Only then did he see that the young woman was carrying a beautifully dressed little loli.

Little Lori took the flower, smiled happily, and then took a step forward, tiptoeing on An Yan’s cheek and k!ssed it.

After the k!ss, the two little guys laughed happily, leaving the adults next to each other in embarrassment.

The young woman fiddled with her blond hair back, and then smiled and explained what had just happened in the church in English. Miller nodded perfunctorily, and said, “That’s it.”

The two adults chatted casually, and the two little guys under them were already hugging each other.

Seeing that the situation was not good, Miller quickly slipped away Lu Anyan with one hand and put one hand in his arms, only to greet him apologetically, saying that he would take the child to the banquet.

Before leaving, the young woman reached out and touched the little guy's face, and couldn't help but praised: "Your son is very cute, I like it very much."

Miller was slightly startled, but didn't explain anything.

Walking towards the side of the road holding An Yan, Bryan was waiting in front of the car door, looking up and watching people walking along the way.

Standing still, Miller returned the child to his own father, and couldn't help but ridicule, "You stupid temper, how did you give birth to such a passionate son? Do you know how embarrassed I was just now?"

Bryan could clearly see what happened on the lawn just now.

His expression was dull, he only glanced down at the little guy, and the other party covered his eyes with a guilty conscience, buried his small face on Bryan's shoulders, and explained in a coquettish manner: "Sister, beautiful..."

"You only have one sister."

Bryan didn't want to buy it. He carried the little guy and stuffed him into the car. Then he got in by himself. Before he took the car door, he pretended to remind him unintentionally: "You go to the back and take the bus."

Miller took the command, leaving the empty parking space and ran to take the bus. As expected, as soon as he got on the bus, he saw Xiao Miao waving his hands and greeted him: "Uncle Miller, here..."

The banquet was arranged at the hotel that Miriam had booked when he came, and he drove all the way. When Miriam changed his clothes and went downstairs, the downstairs was already open.

She and Bryan stood by the table holding hands to toast. When passing by one of the tables, they suddenly felt the strength under them sinking, and then a sweet and glutinous voice shouted: "Aunt Miriam."

Miriam was slightly startled, and lowered her head to see an innocent smiling face, blinking and clinging to her body.

"Niu Niu..." She bends her eyebrows, somewhat surprised.

But without waiting to say anything, Lin Quan, who reacted, had already held the little guy aside with both hands, and carefully reminded: "Aunt Miriam is not feeling well, Niuniu, you must be careful."

The woman's voice was very soft, but the little guy blinked his eyes a little aggrievedly when he heard the words, and cowardly went to the side to hide.

Miriam took a closer look. She hadn't seen her for nearly a year. Niuniu has grown taller than before, and her facial features have also grown a little longer. Unlike her previous appearance, she was thin and small, which made people feel pity when she saw it.

However, her cautious appearance still reminded Miriam of the scene when she first saw her.

"It doesn't matter." Thinking of this, she handed the white water in her hand to Bryan, and she bent down and patted her palms at Niuniu, "Niuniu, let Aunt Miriam take a good look, are you growing taller now? It looks pretty."

The little guy was visibly stunned. After looking up at Lin Quan's face, he stepped out vigilantly, and finally stopped half a step away from Miriam, grinning again.

Miriam raised her hand and touched her little head. At this moment, a figure of a man stopped next to her, looking down towards the southeast.

"Congratulations, Miriam." The man smiled softly on his face, and then looked at Bryan again, "I also thank Shao always for the invitation."

Bryan lowered his eyes and nodded, and did not speak, Miriam stood up, eyes opened, and looked at the man in front of him, "Brother, thank you."

The surprised look on his face was reduced just right, and he smiled very gently.

I haven't seen it for a while. Xiang Dongnan at this time looks a bit different from the past, but Miriam can't tell the difference.

I was a bit fatter than before, and a little more haggard, but more of it was something in my eyes, which was different from before.

But at present, she didn't have the mood to pursue too much. After a simple greeting, she continued to toast with Bryan.

The banquet was about to end. Miriam had no appetite to eat, so she lay on the sofa in the private room next to her and rested. At this time she couldn't help but ask, "Why do you think you called Brother Xiang up? I remember you didn't like it very much before. he."

The man sitting opposite supported his forehead with one hand, leaned against the sofa, and smiled when he heard the words, "I didn't like it before because of the conflict between me and him, but now it's gone. I should let him watch. Look, you Miriam is my Bryan's wife after all."

After a day of tossing, Miriam, who was holding her pregnant belly, was obviously a little tired. She squinted her eyes and did not listen very attentively, but she couldn't help but smile, "This is a long time ago. Brother Xiang Remarried."

Hearing this, the man suddenly raised his eyebrows, his eyes seemed to be smiling, “Why did you think Lin Quan suddenly returned to China at that time?”

Miriam suddenly felt aroused, her eyes slowly opened, and she looked at the man in front of him with an unbelievable expression, and then said: “It won’t be you...”

Facing Miriam’s uncertain question, the man responded with a smile instead.

He straightened up suddenly, stood up, took off his suit, walked to the woman, and leaned down.

At this moment, the man put his hands on the armrest of the sofa, circled the woman under him, and then slowly raised his thin lips, “Now that the procedures are complete, you can’t hide the title of Mrs. Shao in this life.”

After he finished speaking, his eyebrows gradually approached, and the faint perfume of his body also poured into his nose.

“Aunt Miriam, are you here...”

Before his lips were pressed, the door beside him was suddenly pushed open. At the door, a young girl in a pink princess dress put her hands on the edge of the door. Seeing the scene in front of her, she blinked her big eyes very innocently.

Chapter 600

Bryan got up, arranging the hem of his shirt somewhat awkwardly, and paced aside alone.

Miriam glanced at him with a sneer, and then waved at the little cat outside the door, “I am here, what can you do with me?”

Xiao Miao quietly watched Bryan sit down, and then smiled again. She didn’t go inside. She turned her head and pointed her finger outside the door, “Mummy and Uncle Miller are playing games. Aunt Miriam and Uncle Bryan want Don’t come together?”

“Game?” Miriam was curious, stood up on the armrest of the sofa, raised his foot to the door, stood on tiptoe at the door and looked out, and saw a crowd of people crowded over there, the scene was lively.

She smiled, turned around and asked Bryan, “Do you want to be together?”

“Miriam, it’s getting late.” The man frowned, his expression cold, “I have been tired for a day today, so I should rest early.”

Miriam saw through his mind, pursed the corners of his lips, holding Xiao Miao in one hand, and stepped out of the door without looking back.

As she headed towards the crowd, Xiao Miao suddenly stopped, showing a bit of embarrassment on her face. When Miriam saw this, she lowered her head to ask the reason, and the little guy hesitated before clarifying.

“Aunt Miriam, Mommy and I are going to the UK in half a month.” After a pause, she whispered again: “Actually, Xiao Miao doesn’t really want to go, but...”

Miriam saw through the little guy’s mind and added it for her, “But you don’t want your mommy to worry or embarrass her, do you?”

The little guy’s eyes lit up, and suddenly he nodded his head hard.

“Then what do you want Aunt Miriam to do?” The woman curled her lips and touched the top of her head. “You should know your mommy’s character. I can’t persuade her.”

“I know.” The little guy bit his lower lip. After a moment of contemplation, it seemed that he had made some determination before he stood on his toe and hooked his finger at Miriam.

When someone bends down, she attached to her ear and whispered something.

After listening to Miriam, she slowly straightened her waist and glanced in the direction of the lively crowd, and finally nodded, “I can try it for you, but I don’t think this method is feasible.”

With that said, her face was a little bit difficult.

Xiao Miao followed with a look of disappointment. When she was about to say something, Bryan suddenly chased him up. Seeing the two chatting to each other, he twisted his eyebrows, “Isn’t I going to play a game, why not?”

“Ah, go, I’m about to go.” Miriam raised her eyebrows, and put one hand on Bryan’s arm, “Let’s go take a look.”

The three of them raised their feet and moved forward. Before they got close, there was a sudden hustle and bustle in the crowd. Everyone was boisterous and made Miriam quicken his pace.

Looking aside those people who were watching the excitement, they saw that Miller had red ears on the front, holding a large glass of white wine and pouring it down.

Shelly, who was directly opposite, had a cold face, smiled with a curled lips, and mocked: “Do you still want to play?”

“Play!” Miller put down the cup heavily and answered very graciously.

They were still playing the table game they had played together earlier, but a truth or dare was added later, and the party who lost had to be chosen by the other party to complete one of the tasks as punishment.

Miller had suffered a lot from Shelly's team earlier, and this time he stood against her with a bright eye. He didn't know that her card skills suddenly came up, and he was caught off guard.

After losing a few rounds in a row, the man finally saw it clearly, curled his lips and opened it with a smile, "You used to play with me on purpose?"

Shelly was triumphant, neither admitted nor denied.

Miriam stood behind Miller, staring at it for a while, how can Miller take the opportunity to leave Shelly as Xiao Miao said?

No matter how I think, I feel too mysterious.

While thinking about this, she squinted and saw a young and beautiful foreign woman sitting on the sofa next to the bar, with a soft and cute little loli sitting in her arms.

Consciously a bit familiar, before she remembered, she saw that her son, who didn't know where he came from, was walking towards the sofa with a staggering pace.

He waved his palms as he walked, just like a little nympho.

She suddenly remembered and raised her foot to chase out. At this moment, Mother Lu also followed up, watching the little guy jump into the arms of the young woman.

Upon seeing this, Miriam stopped her mother with one hand, "Mom, let me go."

As she said, she turned her head again and pointed to the little cat who was standing at the end of the crowd with a look of helplessness, "Little cat is sleeping with you tonight, you help me take care of it."

Mother Lu and Miriam looked in the direction of their fingers, and when she saw the little guy with the blushing blush, she replied twice and walked over.

Seeing that Xiao Miao was being led by her mother to the side stairs, she sighed slightly and turned her head to the direction of the young woman.

The two little guys who don't understand each other are babbling and gesturing, and they don't know if they understand each other's words, they laugh very happily anyway.

The young woman also laughed, and then inadvertently raised her head to see Miriam approaching here, and said hello in English with a little surprise.

Miriam nodded slightly apologetically, then waved to Anyan, "Come to Mommy."

The little guy was chatting happily, and when he heard Mommy's voice, he turned his head a little bit hesitantly, and then, even though he was not so willing, he dangled on her.

"This baby is very cute." The young woman said with joy, "My daughter likes him too."

Miriam lowered her head and saw the blond little loli in front of him. Before she had time to praise her, she heard the woman asking, "Do you know the child's father?"

"Dad?" Miriam was a little dazed, but saw that although the woman was asking her, her eyes went over her and fell elsewhere.

In that lively crowd, a man's figure is looming.

She suddenly understood, and explained with a smile: "This is my child."

"Then..." The woman didn't seem to understand too much. She stretched out her hand to point forward, but suddenly retracted it with embarrassment.

"No, the man sitting there is not the child's father." Miriam saw through her eyes, with a hint of a smile. "That man is single."

Sure enough, when Miriam said that she was single, the woman was obviously surprised and unconcealed surprise, and she even pulled her golden hair back uncomfortably, "It turned out to be a misunderstanding."

"Are you single too?"

The woman in front of her didn't mean to conceal her thoughts, so Miriam didn't shy away from it, asking straightforwardly.

Sure enough, the other party obviously nodded in joy, "Although I have a daughter, I am not married yet."

When the two of them had just talked here, the crowd in front suddenly became noisy again, and a thick male voice rang through the crowd, "Well, you can either find the single person present to k!ss or drink this glass of white wine, you two can figure it out. ."

Then someone replied, "Anyway, you two are single. It's better to k!ss each other."

Later, everyone clapped their hands rhythmically and shouted "k!ss".

Miriam suddenly became curious, and walked over with An Yan, and saw that it was Shelly and Miller who stood up surrounded by a group of people.

The man narrowed his eyes, silently observing the woman on the opposite side. When he was hesitating how to end the scene, he saw that the other party didn't say anything, he took the wine glass in front of him and poured it down.

Shelly didn't drink enough, this glass of wine seemed to have exceeded her limit, so after drinking, she also threw the card in her hand and waved her hand to leave, "You play, I'm tired."

Everyone saw her cheeks flushed red, and no one stopped him, and Miller looked at the back of the woman walking away slowly, and an unspeakable feeling suddenly surged in his heart.
