

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 159– 160

Chapter 159

Bryan looked at her lightly, “What are you doubting?”

“I...” Miriam’s eyes moved slightly, and she suddenly asked, “Where is Mu Ming?” He should be able to tell if Mu Ming was by her side at the time if she had a fever.

“Mr. Mu has returned to the company, and I asked him to say hello to your company.” Bryan sat down again with her, his low voice approaching gentleness, “If you feel uncomfortable, take a rest, I’ll do other things. Deal with it, eh?” Miriam looked at him with a solemn expression, as if still thinking about those things.

After a long while, he looked down and asked, “You sent me to the hospital, do those people like President Han know?” “I don’t know, I just want to come back to see you, and I didn’t notify you in advance.” The man’s eyes overflowed with a warm smile and he stretched out his hand and rubbed it. Her hair.

Every day in Jincheng, he was planning how to see her this morning, and hurried back as soon as he finished his work. Miriam’s heart was warm, and her cold expression was a bit unable to hold, she pushed him gently against his chest, “Why do I feel more and more that you are a plague, every time you appear by my side Good thing, can you stay away from me?”

The man raised his eyebrows and looked at her with a faint smile, “Why don’t you say that every time you encounter danger, I will save you. If you don’t thank me, I still have to show my face.” Miriam choked off successfully. Staring at him, then stretched out his hand, “Where is my phone?”

Bryan said indifferently, “I have called at your house, and the company has taken leave. I don’t need a mobile phone. Either lie down and rest or I accompany you out for dinner.” Miriam’s slapped face immediately became angry. , Said coldly: “Bryan, why are you? That is my mobile phone, you give it to me, I will not eat with you, and I am not in the mood to lie down here, I want to go home.”

She still didn’t understand what happened last night. She believed her instinct. It was definitely not a simple sorority. That table of dishes, those glasses of water... There must be a problem. Bryan didn’t know, Mu Ming must know something. If she was really drugged last night, how could she just lie down for one night? She is not a three-year-old child, and those things in the workplace are nothing new.

“Okay, I will accompany you home.” The man’s expression didn’t have any waves, his expression was gentle and patience. Miriam’s eyes suddenly changed, “Didn’t you say I was sick?”

She had a fever before, and he forced her to the hospital with a cold face. "The fever has gone, since you don't want to stay here, you can go home and rest." Bryan looked at her quietly with non-fluctuating black eyes.

Miriam pressed her pink lips, looked at him sharply, her voice deep, "You lie to me, I don't have a fever at all? I was drugged by someone last night." Bryan's eyes darkened and his arms stretched out. In the past, she pulled her into her arms again and held her tightly, with her thin lips pressed against her ears, and said in a low voice, "Whether it's a fever or medication, it's fine now. I will take care of other things. You don't need to worry about it anymore. Up."

Miriam tightened her lips, her heart sinking and sinking. Sure enough, she was really drugged last night, and he knew it.

It was only the first time she met with that President Han. Even though it was the medicine given by him, how could the other explain? Few people knew about her pregnancy. Five fingers clenched slightly, her eyes became more complicated, her breath softened, "No matter what you find out, tell me."

She had to admit that she had no other way except to report to the police, but it was too slow and there were many processes, and she didn't have that much patience. Bryan pulled out a small smile on his lips, "Okay."

"Can you let me go now?" Miriam broke his hand on her waist and gritted her teeth. Suddenly I remembered something, his expression became a little weird, and a little embarrassed, "Last night...Last night, when you sent me to the hospital...I, did I do anything?"

Although she hadn't seen that kind of medicine, she had also heard that she couldn't remember what people did when they woke up without consciousness. Bryan let go of her, her thin lips pursed with a faint smile, and there was nothing strange on her handsome face, "Don't you remember?"

"..." Miriam blushed, looking at him stuttering: "Me, what do I remember? When I first passed out, I must be with Mu Ming...I, I just wanted to ask if there was any What to do with him in case the company is embarrassed when meeting."

Anyway, she didn't remember it anyway. On Mu Ming's side, she would know when she went back and asked. In front of the kid, she was not embarrassed. Bryan darkened his eyes for a few minutes and looked at her blankly, "Are you not afraid of what he did to you?"

"He won't." Miriam retorted without thinking. The man's face suddenly became colder, and Jun's face was covered with a thin layer of chill, and the corners of his lips were sneered. "You are quite relieved of him."

If he hadn't made the call back then, what would be the result now? He bowed his head and rolled up his cuffs to cover the thick black meaning in his eyes.

Miriam bit her lip, blushing into anger, "He knows I'm pregnant, what can I do? Even if you don't come, he will definitely send me to the hospital." Bryan pinched her chin, staring at her small face with black eyes. Don't allow her to dodge, "What if I didn't send you to the hospital last night? Will you...are you angry with me today?"

"..." The woman's cheeks became even more red, and she was almost bleeding, biting her lips lightly and staring at him.

The man looked at the soft matte in front of him, his cheeks radiating seductive luster, his Adam's apple rolled silently, bowed his head and approached, emphasizing that he was still faint, "Huh?" Miriam avoiding her eyes, seeing him suddenly approaching, her heart became even more flustered. In a panic, he pushed him away in a panic, "I'll go to the bathroom."

Turned around and walked down like a run. Will she be angry? She didn't know either.

Then why did he send her to the hospital for fear of her being angry, or for fear of hurting the child? In fact, it has been four months, and it's not that dangerous... heh heh... what is she thinking?

Seeing her disappear, the man's face sank a little bit in the pale ward, the chill in his eyes was bone-chilling. He took out his cell phone and made a call.

"Yan Ke, how is it?" "I found out that the medicine in Miss Lu's body is the same type of medicine commonly used in nearby nightclubs. It is not available in the market, but other channels are not excluded. However, among those people, Only Director Han frequented the nightclub, and had the most contact with Miss Lu at the party last night."

Bryan twitched his eyebrows and was silent for two seconds, and then said coldly, "Well, I know, there is one more thing. Last time you went to Lincheng with her, you also met Mr. Mu?" Yan Ke, "Yes."

The man narrowed his eyes slightly, "You continue to investigate the car accident, Mr. Mu...you can also find out if you have time." "Well, good Manager Shao."

Chapter 160

He has seen that pastoral name several times. He didn't pay much attention at first, it was just last night...

I hope he didn't think too much.

Getting in the man's car, Miriam went home first, but it doesn't mean that she let go of what happened last night.

Jinglin Bay.

Miriam entered the room, and Bryan, who was cheeky and hard to follow, also entered the door.

Mother Lu saw the two come back together, she didn't feel much surprise on her face, she just saw the inexplicable light in their eyes, making Miriam feel uncomfortable.

"Xiao Shao, sit wherever you like." Mother Lu smiled easily and waved to the man.

Bryan smiled warmly, glanced at Miriam, and said, "I'll go see my uncle."

Mother Lu pointed to a room without mind, "In that room."

Before Miriam had time to stop, the man had already bypassed her and walked towards the bedroom.

She glanced at the man blankly, and still said nothing, went to the living room and sat with Mother Lu.

Tian Tian probably heard something, seeing her from the crack of the door, her eyes lit up, and she ran out.

Miriam's face also softened, and smiled and waved, "Come here."

The little girl slipped into her arms and nuzzled in her arms obediently.

Miriam touched her soft face, looked at Mother Lu, and asked nonchalantly: "Mom, you don't even ask why I didn't come home last night?"

Mother Lu didn't even look at her, she continued to chase her TV series, and snorted, "I'm not a three-year-old kid anymore, and I want to keep you in charge? You don't bother me, your dad pays you back alone. Not enough for me to worry about?"

Miriam was sad, with an aggrieved expression, looking at her sadly, "Mom, I'm a pregnant woman, who could not wait to follow me every day? You don't even look at me now?"

"Women's college is not staying. Someone cares about you more than I do, so I can save a bit of effort." Lu's mother tongue is still faint and unaffected.

Ok.

Miriam was discouraged, put his aggrieved expression away, glanced at the bedroom door, and asked coolly, "Last night, he told you why I didn't come back?"

Mother Lu was finally willing to look away from the screen and glanced at her, and snorted disgustingly, "You are ashamed to ask, don't be ashamed, it's with Xiao Shao, or I have to interrupt your leg."

“ ... ”

Miriam's face was dumbfounded, and he blinked his eyes fiercely, bewildered as his wife.

Ashamed?

Did she do anything outrageous?

What did the man tell her mother last night? She could be sure that it was definitely not about going to the hospital, otherwise her mother would definitely be caring about her now.

However, she did not continue to ask, she just coughed, and said angrily: “Why do you feel at ease with him? You are not afraid of what he does to me?”

“The child belongs to him, what can he do to you?” Mother Lu was obviously despising her question, and then accused her of her thoughts, “Furthermore, Xiao Shao has never made any mistakes, and she realized after the divorce. If you have your own problems, you can make up for it wholeheartedly. Why are you still facing others with a stinky face every day.”

“ ... ”

After listening to Lu Mu's words, Miriam's expression changed.

“Mom, you... you didn't say that before, you clearly said that you respect me no matter what I choose...” In just a few days, she turned back, and that guy was brainwashing too quickly, right? ?

Mother Lu glanced at her and said righteously, “Mom respects your choice, but you also have to be free? Jincheng is so far away, how busy is his boss managing such a big company, and he still thinks of you. I ran back every few days and I couldn't see it anymore.”

Miriam choked, smashed her lower lip with some reason, and curled her lips: “I didn't let him toss back and forth like this.”

Before the divorce, if he could be like this, she would rather not work and go to Jincheng to be a cleaner with him.

However, to be honest, Miriam's heart is also a little shaken now, but women are usually the most vulnerable when they are sick or in trouble. Any man who takes such meticulous care will make her feel soft.

Therefore, she hesitated, and a little timid, did not dare to respond easily.

Taking Tian Tian as a comfort, she took it in her arms, and Miriam helped her melancholy.

Mother Lu glanced at her again, as if she hadn't noticed her depression, and continued to preach, "If he looks at your face in everything, is he still a man of opinion? Your belly is getting bigger and bigger and bigger. Danger, I don't worry about you running outside, let alone him. He knows that you have self-esteem. It is probably impossible to persuade you to resign. He can only toss back and forth."

Miriam's expression was stiff, and she lowered her head without speaking.

What her mother could see, she did not fail to see it, but the three years she had paid were enough to turn away every good thing he has done to her now.

In Father Lu's room, Bryan sat on the chair next to the bed, with a calm expression showing the steadiness of a mature man. He looked at the thin old man on the bed, "Because of you, someone is watching her now."

He didn't want to blame, he just told him.

Father Lu's face turned pale, and his muddy eyes reflected panic, "Bryan...Miriam, Miriam can't have an accident. She is innocent. The mistake I made has nothing to do with her."

"I know, I won't let anyone hurt her." Bryan has no expression, but there is no light in his eyes.

The panic on Father Lu's face did not go away, he just chuckled, and said in a vacant voice: "She always said that the person I'm sorry except for the people is her mother. Actually... I'm most sorry for her, since childhood. , I haven't done anything for her, and she rarely acted like other daughters to me and asked me what I wanted..."

As he said, he slowly looked at Bryan with complicated eyes, "The only thing she asked of me...I went to your dad that year..."

...

Bryan walked out of the bedroom with a heavy heart, went to another room, and saw the woman sitting on the floor with a cushion lying on the coffee table teaching the little girl to write, facing the light as if she was gentle for a time, let him There was a touch in my heart, and my mind couldn't help but remember what Lu Father had just said.

He originally thought that both of them were forced into that wrong marriage. It turned out that... he was the only one who was forced to act in front of him for three years.

Miriam felt the line of sight, turned to look over, and ran into those deep eyes in an instant.

After looking at each other for ten seconds, she suddenly became awake, her heart trembled, and her voice was gentle and quiet, "Wait, I will leave after packing."

After giving Tian Tian a little homework, Miriam cleaned up and followed the man downstairs.

She wants to return to the company, and he happens to want to return to the company.

After driving the car for a long time, the two of them didn't speak. Miriam didn't intend to speak, but the man's sudden silence made her a little uncomfortable, and she felt like the feeling before the divorce, cold and cold.