

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 169– 170

Chapter 169

After ordering, he returned the menu to the waiter. The man poured her a cup of hot water and asked casually, "I was on a business trip two days ago and booked a child autism expert friend. You can ask Mr. Xiang to take the child. Take a look."

Miriam was taken aback, surprised that he was paying attention to Tian Tian's affairs, "Thank you, I will tell my senior brother later."

The man looked down at the pattern on the dining table, his expression could not see any emotions, and he pursed his lips calmly, "I will send you the detailed information of my friend, otherwise, your brother would probably not believe it. After all, he also saw many experts this year, and now he is counting on you."

The man's speech rate is very slow, his voice is also very low, there is an illusion of gentleness.

Miriam was very grateful before, but the last sentence suddenly felt wrong.

It feels like he didn't help Tian Tian to find an expert, he seemed to care about Tian Tian following her.

She twisted her eyebrows and explained: "Let Tian Tian stay with me for a period of time. This is what I thought. Brother didn't agree to it. I insisted. If you can't live with a child, your heart can be small. A little bit?"

"In front of Mr. Xiang, how serious do you expect me to be?" The man did not deny at all, he was very calm and generous, and looked at her with burning eyes.

With a heartbeat, Miriam hurriedly avoided looking at each other, saying incoherently, "Brother is not as small as you."

"That's because he doesn't care about you so much, and because the child's tone is by your side wasting time, it is better to try a professional doctor."

Miriam blinked and stared at him for a while.

The brother didn't care about her, she didn't care, but what he said made sense. The method she thought before was actually just trying, and it would really delay her time. If there is a chance, of course she should ask a doctor for treatment.

"Go back and send me your friend's contact information."

Bryan raised a smile on his lips, "If Mr. Xiang has this intention, just ask him to contact me directly, maybe the chance of making an appointment will be better."

Miriam, "..."

Smelly man, do you have to force them to accept his love?

If it doesn't work, she must laugh at him well.

The food is ready. Miriam glanced down, prawns, scrambled eggs, rib soup...

Why do you look at all maternity meals?

She frowned and looked at him suspiciously, "I'm a treat, do you need you to save me money?"

Bryan twitched her thin lips, filled her with a bowl of soup, and said lightly: "Your mother said you have a bad appetite recently."

Miriam watched his every move coldly, biting her lip and mocking, "My mother said? What are you doing with my mother? Bryan, you still have to keep an inch."

The man chuckled, "How can I get an inch? It's just that when I went to the house with you in the morning, I asked my aunt. She said that you are too busy and won't come back at noon. There is no way to adjust your diet."

Speaking of this, it probably hit Miriam something, causing her face to change slightly.

Bryan paused slightly, and looked at her with concerned eyes, "What's the matter?"

Miriam regained consciousness for a moment, and her thoughts became more serious. She lowered her head to eat, "It's okay."

After a long while, he asked: "Did you find out what happened last night?"

He took the vegetables to her without rushing, and the man stated without distraction: "Well, it's Han Yang. He didn't deny it at all. When I asked, he admitted directly."

Miriam's face changed as soon as she was in a daze, "Just admit it? He didn't argue it at all? It's obvious that you just suspected that there was no evidence at all. Why did he admit it so quickly? Half of his reputation was ruined. , And going to jail, isn't he afraid?"

The man separated the fishbone, lowered his head, and said nonchalantly: "Well, I am also puzzled, so let people continue to look into the strangeness inside."

"Then what do you do to him now?"

The murderer seemed to have no suspense, but it made Miriam feel suspicious.

“Sent to prison.” The man uttered three words lightly.

Miriam’s eyebrows trembled and stared at him, “You really sent him to prison? If the media becomes public, wouldn’t Long Teng be affected?”

After all, she is the director of a large company, and it is nothing for her to be exposed as a victim, but the company is affected, which means a loss of money, and it will never be a small sum.

Chapter 170

Bryan raised his head and smiled, “Are you worried about me?”

Miriam was stunned by the man’s smile, and said coolly, “I myself have a bunch of messy people who are worried about you? I’m just doing nothing.”

The man pushed the peeled fish in front of her, and said without ups and downs: “I let the news be blocked, the media will not publicize it, and Han Yang will not get away so simply.”

Miriam’s eyes flashed extremely quickly, and she looked at him inquisitively, “What else did you do?”

The crime was attempted and there was no clear evidence. He was detained for a few days at most, and if he looked back for some relationship, he might be out in three days.

The man took care of her while eating by himself. He didn’t rush or slowed down, his voice was low and gentle, “He has embezzled a lot of company funds over the years, he has also used his power to take a lot of bribes, and he has also made a lot of money from buying and selling company intelligence. It was checked, so he was transferred from the headquarters. The evidence was still worse. He happened to hit the gunpoint this time. The combined punishment should be enough for a ten-year sentence.”

Miriam looked at him dumbfounded.

Bryan looked at her, feeling cute inexplicably, his eyes softened, “What’s the matter?”

She calmed down and laughed at herself, “I wanted to be grateful, but now it seems that I was used by you, except for a major problem.”

Bryan’s handsome face slowly sank, and he looked at her seriously, “I never thought about using a woman, and I’m not grateful for what happened last night. If something happens to you, it won’t be enough for him to die ten times.”

“...”

Miriam’s pretty face slowly froze.

He always speaks with a serious look, although he is used to it, the occasional confession inserted still makes her heart palpitating.

She was a little surprised.

But a few seconds of silence was suddenly interrupted by the sound of a mobile phone.

The man picked up the phone at hand, glanced at it, and pressed to answer, "Hey."

Not knowing what was said over there, Miriam clearly saw his face suddenly become gloomy.

"where?"

"..."

"Well, I'll go over immediately."

Miriam moved her eyelashes, lowered her eyes, and lowered her head to eat.

The man hung up the phone, frowned and looked at her, his voice still steady, "Sorry, my mother had asthma suddenly, I need to go over and see, you continue to eat, I will let Yan Ke come and take you back."

Miriam looked up at him, and said quietly: "Don't be so troublesome. I just need to take a taxi and go back by myself. Go ahead."

Although his face did not change, she could feel that he was still anxious.

The man picked up his jacket and got up and walked over to her, leaned over her ears, and refused in a warm voice, "I will be worried, you will eat you, he will come over in time."

Miriam twisted her eyebrows dissatisfied, and turned her face to say something. As soon as she spoke a word, her mouth was blocked, "I...um."

Just a soft kiss, the man's lips left, rubbing her head like a pet, "I'm leaving."

The whole process took a few seconds, before Miriam could see clearly, the man had already walked away with long legs, leaving her face burnt blankly there.

For a long while, looking at the table full of uneaten dishes and the empty seats opposite, the man's breath seemed to have not disappeared, and Miriam's mood was inexplicably empty.

Chopsticks picked up the fish in front of her and took a bite. She chewed absently. She looked around and felt a little bit of sorrow in her heart. For a moment, she picked up the phone and dialed Kristy's phone.

...

Bryan, who drove the car quickly to the pointing place, didn't even knock on the door, and pushed open the door with a sullen face.

A group of formal men and women in the hotel's private rooms.

"Achen, here you are."

The people in the room looked at him together, all showing joyful expressions.

Bryan's indifferent eyes swept around and landed on the middle-aged woman who was safe and sound in the center. There was no surprise on Jun's face.

In fact, he realized something on the way, but eventually he came.

The middle-aged lady who was talking was young and beautiful, and her skin looked better than that of Shao's mother. She didn't seem to notice the man's face, and smiled and approached him lovingly and pulled him into the house.

"Achen, Auntie hasn't seen you for a long time, I really miss you."

The man withdrew his arm calmly and smiled indifferently, "I thought anyone was going to the hospital."

Shao Mu's face suddenly sank, "Do you want me to go to the hospital?"

The lady was stunned, and she was embarrassed immediately, "Silly boy, it's not that you deliberately lie to you, it's not that your mother is afraid you won't come."

Then she gestured to the young girl on the side, "Xiaoxue, hurry up, hello to Brother Chen to sit down."

"Oh, oh oh." Sophia regained her sense of dazedness, hurriedly stepped forward and pulled the chair away, and shouted timidly, "Brother Chen."

Although she wanted him to come, but the attention just now was really not what she thought of. This kind of obvious trick, he didn't have to think about it before he knew it was fake, so she wouldn't be stupid and bumped into the muzzle, but She was afraid that he was instigated by her misunderstanding.

"Mr. Shao."

"Manager Shao..."

Several cousins of the Fu family also greeted him diligently.

The Fu family was born in real estate, and it was Sophia's father who started from scratch. A wealthy family is not a big money, at best, it is a big money who got rich overnight. Several cousins are also dudes with round fat intestines, idle and idle, all these years. old.

The Fu family and the Shao family have known each other because of the dead Bryan's father, a friend of more than ten years, and the two families are still close, and Sophia's thoughts have long been secretive in the eyes of the two adults.

It's just that Mr. Shao took a fancy to Miriam first. The two got married. No matter how unwilling the Fu family is, they can only keep their minds down. But recently he got divorced, and this kind of eager thought will naturally be revealed again.

The Fu family was also afraid of missing out again, so they couldn't wait to set the Hongmen Banquet.

Bryan did not sit next to Sophia, but just pulled a chair beside Shao's mother and sat down casually. She didn't seem to have seen the two brothers' hospitality. He turned his eyes to look at Shao's mother, "Have you taken the medicine?"

Mother Shao's complexion was still not so good, and she said lightly: "What kind of medicine, have a hard time meeting with your uncle and aunt, I have to have a drink anytime soon."

Bryan, "..."

Sophia saw the man's face getting more gloomy, she smiled and walked to Shao's mother, softly coaxing, "Auntie, your health is not good, Chen brother also feels sorry for you, so stop drinking, just let them drink it."

Mother Shao curled her lips, Yin and Yang said weirdly: "He can feel sorry for me. He just wished that I would go to the hospital."

Sophia couldn't laugh or cry suddenly, stroking her back softly and comforting her, "Brother Chen is really worried about you, so he said that in anger. Don't blame him."
