

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 175– 176

Chapter 175

“What are you doing?”

Probably the previous matter hadn't disappeared from her mind, and Miriam felt a little uncomfortable when she approached him.

The man put his hands around her body, the usual calm and calm appearance disappeared. Perhaps after drinking, he hugged her a bit sticky like a coquettish cat, showing some drunken laziness.

Miriam's heart seemed to be filled with something, a little warm, and she sat there obediently.

“It's a family dinner for the Fu family.”

There was a muffled voice from the man buried in her neck, which made people unable to hear any emotions.

But Miriam's expression changed very quickly when he heard the Fu family, but quickly recovered, she smiled and joked: “Sophia must be there for the Fu family's family dinner, plus your mother, the two of you are on the nails. Up.”

It's not hard to guess what his mother is doing tonight, it seems that I can't wait to want the Fu family's daughter-in-law.

The man didn't look up, he hugged her tightly a little tired, and almost half of his body was pressed on her shoulders, “Uncle Fu and my dad have been friends for more than ten years. I can't help but give his face, my mother's face is my I can't fail to protect it.”

Miriam flashed her eyes and said nothing.

After a moment of silence, a low voice rang from the room, “Miriam, if I agree, what will you do?”

In the empty apartment, after she left for so many days, she finally recovered some warmth.

Miriam raised her lips slightly and mocked: “Of course, congratulations, Miss Fu is young and beautiful, she has a good figure, and has never been married, and you two are in the right position. How can you look better than the daughter of a sacked official? “

The man's arm tightened suddenly.

Miriam took a moment of pain, twisted her eyebrows, and said nothing.

The man said: "I didn't agree."

The mockery on Miriam's face froze, she reached out and patted him on the back, and said coldly, "What are you trying to say? If it's okay, I will go back."

He didn't agree, was it for her?

Miriam didn't dare to think like this, but couldn't help but substitute herself.

She was thinking wildly, she pushed him away a little irritably, "Okay, I think you are fine, in the middle of the night, I will go back."

After drinking some wine, even the IQ has been returned to children? Is it possible for her to coax it?

Before she got up, the man hugged her waist again, closed his eyes, and whispered in a low voice, "Miriam, I have already expressed my attitude with them, and I have also admitted to my mother that these two children belong to me."

"..."

Miriam was a little surprised, then raised her eyebrows and smiled, "Will your mother believe that the child belongs to you?"

"I don't need her to believe it, nor anyone else." Bryan's voice was dumb, and he couldn't say some things, but I still hope she can understand.

Miriam was quiet. She lowered her head and looked at him quietly. She couldn't help but stretched out her hand to stroke his short hair. Five fingers interspersed, ripples in her heart, and a low smile, "Are you really in love with me?"

The man let go of his hand holding her, and turned to pinch her chin. His dark and hot eyes seemed to be infected with some kind of bewitching tonight. He stared into her eyes without turning, "Is it late now?"

"..."

A wave of turbulent ripples arose in her heart again, Miriam's breathing speeded up silently, but she still looked at him silently, curled her lips, her facial features were delicate and bright, "If I'm late, do you plan to give up?"

As soon as the voice fell, the man had kissed her with his chin.

But when she let go, she squeezed her fleshy face again, and a smile appeared on her thin lips. "I thought about it tonight and felt that the parents are still good, which is conducive to the growth of the child."

Miriam, "...” Why didn't she find that this man was so sultry after drinking?

What if Sophia is here tonight?

Are you already in bed now?

There was a flash of light in her eyes, and she looked at him low, with a smile, "Now you have seen your parents and elders, will Miss Fu return to her original job tomorrow?"

Bryan's expression sank, as she watched her eyes slowly covered with a layer of chill, "In your eyes, am I such a person with unclear public and private?"

"Huh huh." Miriam pressed her lips and nodded unceremoniously, "This is not the first time that you have done a fake public benefit."

Bryan pursed her thin lips and asked calmly, "You are not curious about what mistake she made and I want to drive her away?"

"You are the boss, who do you want to drive away, who would dare to keep it? But that woman is indeed not a good girl, let your mother be careful, if you really want to find a wife for you, I advise you to replace it." She said and laughed suddenly, as if she was talking about an insignificant matter.

She was sincerely considering him, after all, they broke up peacefully and didn't have any lawsuits.

Sophia is really not suitable for him.

The man looked at a look of indifferent anger, his chest was stuffy, and his face was dark. He restrained his anger and said with a low voice: "I said she wants to climb my bed, don't you care?"

"..."

Miriam blinked, her eyes were a little weird, but she soon understood the meaning of his words.

It seemed that Sophia made some small movements that made him angry.

"She... won't really put you to sleep?" She asked deliberately.

Bryan, "...”

He really had the urge to strangle her.

He tightened his lips a little irritably, then suddenly stood up and walked from the sofa to the bathroom, his slender back showing some hostility.

Miriam was stunned, looking at him absent-minded.

Thinking of her own experience last night, what would make him angry and even drive people away regardless of the Fu family's face, what else? Medicine? Or chaos after drinking...

It was the first time she saw her after being so drunk, perhaps because she hadn't seen it many times before.

If it is medicine... is there any possibility of failure? If you can't go to the hospital, you can only...

Thinking of those pictures, Miriam's pretty face suddenly turned pale, and then her expression gradually became hard to look.

Bryan was just a little irritable. He was just going to take a shower. He didn't expect that after a few minutes he came out, Miriam's figure was no longer there, and his handsome face was instantly black as the bottom of the pot.

Miriam returned home with great thoughts, the light in the living room had gone out, and the room was completely dark.

She didn't turn on the light either, she touched her face in a daze and went back to her room. She lay back under the quilt for a while, not knowing what she was thinking.

After a while, she turned her head to look at Tian Tian, and then turned off the light.

Early the next morning, Bryan went straight to Lu's house after packing.

But Mother Lu told him that Miriam took Tian Tian to the company early in the morning.

The man rushed for a moment, in a bad mood, and his deep and handsome facial features were obviously cold.

This state has been brought into the company, and Sophia, who has regained confidence after last night, also hit the wall again.

Chapter 176

"Brother Chen, have you eaten breakfast? This is what I did when I got up in the morning." The woman stood at the door of the president's room with a heat preservation box in her hands, with a docile and well-behaved appearance with some expectation.

The man took out the key to open the door, and simply staggered her into the room, "I have eaten, you can eat it yourself."

Sophia squeezed her five fingers, even though she was unwilling, she still didn't show any signs.

Holding the lunch box, she turned her head and looked deeply at the man in the room who had already sat down to work. She whispered her lips and said uneasily: "Brother Chen, are you angry about what happened last night?"

The man turned on the computer, put on a neat suit, and sat there, against the dark background behind him, with a sense of extravagance and coldness.

Just looking at her without raising her eyes, the expression of the abstinence department was calm and cold, "It's nothing to do with you, go back to work."

There was a strange flash in Sophia's eyes, her red lips were pursed, and she suddenly walked to the desk in low heels and said, "You suddenly resigned Director Han, why?"

Suddenly resigning a senior management, naturally, he must give a reasonable statement to the company's senior management as the president.

She knew it was not surprising, because all Longteng employees should have received this email early in the morning.

The man didn't move his brows. He tapped his fingers on the keyboard and said in an understatement, "Can't you understand the content of the email?"

Sophia's face was a little embarrassed, she lowered her eyebrows, and asked, "It said that he abused his power and illegally leaked company secrets for personal gain... Isn't this reason too sudden? You don't look it up anymore? How did he say that he is also an old minister, You just drove him like this, aren't you afraid that other dedicated people will chill?"

As an employee of Longteng, everyone has the right to raise questions to anyone. This is also a humanized system of the company. Therefore, Sophia asked with confidence, and Bryan did not look impatiently, his face was expressionless, but his tone of voice Even more understatement.

"How can you be sure that it is sudden?"

Sophia's face changed slightly.

Not suddenly?

That is, he had secretly checked it a long time ago?

There was a panic of fear in her heart. Those things about her and Han Yang...he wouldn't find out anything, right?

She only knew that Han Yang went to the police station yesterday and there was no more news. She sent someone to see and was told that she had no visitation rights for the time being. She was still wondering at the time that it was just an attempted rape, which is not a serious crime. Why not visit?

A cold current from her heart surged, and Sophia's expression became paler silently.

Bryan didn't seem to see it. He picked up the internal landline and dialed and said: "About this matter, there will be detailed documents to be released later, so go back first."

Sophia seemed to recover from the tension, and nodded in a flustered manner, "Oh...well, I'll go back first."

Out of the office, her face completely lost blood, and she stood at the door in a panic for a few seconds, and then walked quickly towards the observation deck.

In the blue sky and white day, the morning breeze was blowing on the woman's curly hair. Sophia's expression did not see any comfort, but was flustered and faintly anxious. She blinked anxiously and looked at the distance, waiting for the phone to be connected in her ear.

Anxiously waiting to answer, she immediately whispered: "Dad, something has happened, Han Yang, don't let people go fishing for the time being, and don't visit him, it's best to leave it alone."

"..." The woman took a deep breath, closed her eyes, and whispered hoarsely after listening to what was said over there, "Well...he had discovered something long ago, even I don't know, now things are completely beyond my expectation. I don't know what to do, but I can take a step forward and I'll find a way to get people to contact him inside... as long as he doesn't say anything, it's okay."

She originally planned to detain Han Yang for a few days, and when she came out, she went to her dad to find a job at random. Unexpectedly, they were all put together by Bryan.

He really didn't say a word, still deep and terrifying.

Sophia's heart was very complicated at this time, that man really made people love and fearful.

When the person on the cell phone finished speaking, she nodded, "Well, I know, okay, I won't say much, please pay attention to your side, I will hang up first."

At this time in the office, Bryan ordered his assistant to receive a call from Yan Ke.

"Hey."

Using the remote control to open the curtains, he slowly got up, walked to the window, inserted one hand into the pocket of his pants, and looked at the blurred figure in the opposite office from a distance, his eyes gradually trance.

“President Shao, the last time Miss Lu had an accident in Lincheng, I found some information. The car was scrapped and the license plate number was changed. At the time of the incident, the driver was not the same person, but deliberately pretended to be The same, open it to divert our sight.”

“Is the man found?” The man’s voice was as low and light as ever.

“Only found one, an ordinary taxi driver. He said that it was a customer he had pulled halfway. He didn’t know anything. He just gave him money and followed his instructions. I don’t know the others. He should be the one who hit the car.”

Bryan looked into the distance, his eyes slowly narrowed, and his expression was deep and difficult to distinguish. “Check the surveillance according to the route the taxi driver ran. Even if you are back, you must find out.”

“Well, good.” Yan Ke replied lightly.

The man was about to hang up, and Yan Ke suddenly added: “Mr. Mu, who you asked me to check, this person is a bit strange... His traces only appeared frequently in Lincheng six months ago and disappeared for several years. At the place where Miss Lu went to, neighbors said that he moved in half a year ago, as if he had just returned from abroad.”

Bryan listened quietly, the depth of his eyes deepened. After a few seconds of silence, he said quietly, “He went to Yingxin directly when he came back?”

According to that kid’s age, he should have just graduated from abroad, and he was mostly looking for a job when he came back.

“This is not certain for the time being. I asked a friend to check the flight information. In the past year, there is no international flight to and from Lincheng. There is no one with the surname Mu, but Mizuki Mu. I guess he changed his name after returning.”

Bryan’s indifferent expression suddenly showed a cold smile, “This is interesting. Changing the name also changed the ancestor’s surname. Is there anyone else in his family?”

“There are no other people who interact with him for the time being.”

The man’s eyes became deeper and deeper, and he was silent for a while, “Just keep staring at it, it’s hard work.”

“Yeah.” Yan Ke didn’t have any extra words, so he hung up after speaking.

Bryan slowly put down the phone and looked at the opposite, with an unpredictable expression on his handsome face.

At noon, Miriam finished her work, checked the time, got up and stretched out her stiff body, walked to the side and touched Tiantian's head, and gently asked, "Are you hungry?"

The little girl smiled and showed her the jigsaw puzzle she had put together in her hand. She grinned and showed her small teeth, her small expression was very cute.
