

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 203– 204

Chapter 203

Miriam received Xiao Zhang's call and went downstairs with great anxiety.

"Sister Miriam, where have you been?" Xiao Zhang asked anxiously.

Miriam handed him the document, and said with no expression on her face: "After signing, let's go."

He said, ignoring the sight of the surroundings, and while walking outside, he ordered: "Makiming, book a ticket, let's go back this afternoon."

Mu Ming was startled, "Afternoon? So fast?"

Miriam kept walking and said quietly, "What? Haven't had enough?"

Mu Ming sensed that she was not in a good mood, and immediately nodded, "Oh, I will order now."

Xiao Zhang scanned the file, was stunned, hurried to catch up, and said in surprise: "Sister Miriam, have you met Mr. Shang?"

Miriam walked forward without a word.

Xiao Zhang's expression changed slightly, and he glanced at Mu Ming.

It seems that what happened to Mr. Shang.

Mu Ming's expression sank, and suddenly he squeezed one of her shoulders and whispered, "He bullied you?"

Miriam was stunned. Before saying anything, he suddenly turned around and walked back, "I'm going to find him."

Before Miriam was surprised, she hurriedly took his arm and reprimanded in a low voice, "What are you doing? Do you know what this place is? Let's find a place first and then talk about it."

There was a wink at Xiao Zhang who was inexplicable, and the two took Mu Ming and walked out of Feng Rui very quickly.

But Xiao Zhang still glanced at Mu Ming with some puzzlement. I don't know if it was his illusion. He always felt that Mu Ming knew more than he knew. It seemed that he had a tacit understanding with Miriam, even if she didn't say anything. Just look at his face to know what happened.

Actually not only Xiao Zhang felt this way, but Miriam also felt it. It was even stronger at that moment, but she knew that it was obviously not a tacit understanding. She and Shang Rui's things, as well as Shang Rui's true face, had never been said before him. However, even if Xiao Zhang followed for dinner last night, he would not think that Shang Rui was calculating her.

But Mu Ming was able to determine for a moment that the man bullied her.

It was like... He knew that Shang Rui was not a good person.

Is it really that he guessed too cleverly?

Miriam was confused as she walked, and her mind suddenly became more confused.

But before she could think about it, just a few steps out of Fengrui, the road was stopped by a man in black, dressed like a bodyguard.

"Miss Lu, my lady wants to see you, so please come with us."

Miriam, "..."

Mu Ming glanced at the car behind the bodyguard, his eyes deepened instantly.

Miriam was in a bad mood, and was even worse when he was stopped by others. She said coldly, "Sorry, I don't know your lady."

Even if she knew, she would not go.

What kind of lady is looking for her in Kyoto? This battle must be that Miss Song family, Mrs. Shang!

She is grateful that she helped her that day, but at the moment, she really doesn't want to care about their husband and wife. She must not be able to fight them alone as a shrewd person. What's more, she's exhausted just now on Shang Rui's side. Not in the mood to face one more.

She was about to leave when she finished speaking, and the bodyguard reached out again to stop her, "Miss Lu."

Mu Ming's eyebrows tightened, and the tall figure walked forward and pulled her behind him, and said in a light tone: "Sorry, if your lady is talking about work, please change the day. Our manager has other things. If it is Talking about personal matters, since she doesn't know her, there is nothing to talk about. If you stop, then I can only come hard."

Miriam looked at Mu Ming a little unexpectedly, and her eyes had something different again.

Xiao Zhang also said coldly: "We don't agree, do you still think it's impossible to tie people on the street?"

The bodyguard frowned, looked back at the car, and then at Miriam, "Miss Lu, our lady just wants to see you. There is no other meaning."

The expression on Miriam Qingli's face became dull and cold, her eyes looked at the car, her voice was not very warm, "Since I have no other meaning, then I have the right to refuse, Ms. Song won't be troubled by others?"

A few seconds later, the car window was rolled down a slit, and a woman's light tone came out, "A Zhen, come back."

The bodyguard nodded, turned and walked back.

Miriam narrowed her eyes and looked at the car window, but she could only see a pair of black sunglasses.

The woman in the car turned her head slightly, glanced over Miriam, glanced at the pastoral name beside her, and then faintly uttered two words, "Drive."

Miriam watched the car leave with a solemn expression, only to sink into a deep breath, "Let's go."

Turning her head, she just caught a glimpse of Mu Ming staring at the car in confusion, and she frowned, "Mu Ming?"

"Mu Ming!"

"Huh?" He suddenly recovered.

Miriam wondered, "What do you think?"

Mu Ming smiled, and returned to that mean expression, "I haven't seen a real lady's daughter yet, and I am a little curious about what she looks like."

A slight smile appeared on Miriam's lips, "Miss Song Family, there must be pictures on the Internet, you can look for them."

"Oh, she, she won't be the daughter of the Song family? No, she seems to be the vice president."

Miriam raised her eyebrows, and looked at Xiao Zhang unexpectedly, "You even know her?"

Xiao Zhang thought for a moment and explained, "I heard about it when I came to Kyoto on a business trip two years ago. She seems to be quite famous in the circle, but we haven't worked together, you may not know."

Miriam pouted, "I seem to be so lonely and ignorant."

She still knows a little bit about the mall bosses, although it's impossible to meet a real person. But this Song family daughter, she really has no memory.

Xiao Zhang suddenly smiled triumphantly, "Finally defeated Sister Miriam once."

Miriam, "..."

Mu Ming was a little silent, did not say anything, his expression was faint, making people invisible.

Miriam didn't pay attention to him, walked to a crossroad and was about to take a taxi, and his attention was drawn by the vibrating mobile phone on his body.

"Hey?"

"The matter is over?" The man's gentle voice came.

Miriam squeezed her eyebrows, moved her body aside, lowered her voice and said, "It's over, I plan to go back to City Two to clean up."

After a pause, she still asked: "When do you plan to return to Jincheng?"

"I miss you, come back now."

"..."

Miriam was holding the phone, her ears were silent for a moment, her eyes were a little dull and she looked ahead.

He said... miss her?

Her heart softened slowly, her eyes lowered a little and overflowed with brilliance, and the previous haze was also swept away. After ten seconds, she whispered, "I'm going back now."

"Well, I am waiting for you."

Miriam put down the phone, it seemed that he could still hear the rapid pounding of his heart.

She seemed to finally realize how happy two people who love each other are together. This time, will she not be disappointed again?

Chapter 204

In the hotel, Miriam returned to the room and turned to close the door. Suddenly, she was hugged from behind, warm and firm.

Immediately after the chin was held and gently broken to the back, the hot and humid k!ss covered her lips, lingering.

Without leaving a gap in her body, the strong and familiar masculine breath poured into her nose and mouth, drowning all her senses and nerves.

Feelings that do not require words are passed between the two through lingering k!sses, and the ambiguous atmosphere gradually rises. Miriam gradually closed her eyes, slowly turned around and raised her hands to hug the back of his neck, deepening the k!ss.

The two k!ssed all the way from the living room to the bed. The moment they fell on the soft bedding, Miriam suddenly found some sense, put aside his face and covered his lips, and blushed and said shyly, "Don't... Back to South City."

At this time to toss again, Mu Ming and Xiao Zhang had to laugh at her.

The man stared at her face with low eyes, his eyes jumping with a temperature that almost burned her, his thin lips overflowed with warm lips and sprayed on her face, his voice was low and s3xy, "You are leaving me again?"

"..."

Miriam was dumb, and said amusedly: "I am going back to City Two, Mr. Shao, you also want to go back to Jincheng, understand?"

He thought he was still a child?

Bryan squeezed her cheek, bowed her head and k!ssed the attractive pink lips, opened at the touch, and said in a low voice: "After you go back, you have jobs, parents, children, and even your friends. Will remember me?"

He is totally wondering if she still has time to think about him?

Miriam was taken aback, her eyes slowly showing a playful smile, "Mr. Shao, are you trying to tell me, have you forgotten who you are after staying here for two days? But I didn't forget, so... after returning Can you remember what you are now...I'm really not sure."

The man frowned slightly, and the speed of his speech was gentle, but a little aggressive, "Miriam, what do you think of me?"

Miriam raised her eyebrows and smiled purely and brilliantly, "Then what do you want me to be you? Ex-husband? Current boyfriend? Or...the father of the child?"

Bryan looked at her and was speechless for a while, but his brows became tighter.

The ex-husband is neither lukewarm nor lukewarm; the current boyfriend is too frivolous; the child's father... She doesn't have the intimacy at all in her tone, but like a cheap father on the roadside.

The man was dissatisfied, looking at her smiling face, he suddenly lowered his head and kissed the lip again, his hands tightly around her waist.

I want to punish, I want to ravage, but I still feel pity for more.

After half a minute, he let go of her, his breath was slightly disturbed, his eyes locked in the woman's expression and slowly narrowed, "Miriam, I have time to wait. If you still don't understand, we can maintain the status quo until you understand. But during this time, I will not allow your name to be contaminated with any other man."

Miriam breathed slightly, her heart seemed to be firmly grasped by her hands, unable to speak, just looking at him.

After a while, she adjusted her breath, raised her eyelids and curled her lips with a smile, "You know that I don't like being told that it's not allowed. The more you don't let me do things, the more I might do it. And, you are Why can you ask of me like this? Because of your liking for me?"

Although she understood the meaning of his words, she just didn't want him to succeed so easily, like his accessories, even if she thought it was cheap, she wouldn't give it to others.

"Miriam!"

The man spilled her name from between his lips and teeth. It was very low and light, but it was full of indescribable bewitching, and his eyes were deep as if he wanted to suck her in.

Miriam's heart tightened, almost failing to hold the line of defense, silently swallowing saliva, and suddenly pressed against his chest to push the person away, "I have to go back to City Two. I don't have time to spend with you, get up."

"You can also follow me back to Jincheng." The man suddenly said, not only did he not get up, but his handsome face was a little closer.

He didn't like her hot and cold attitude very much. He always felt that what he was holding in his arms was just an illusion, like a bubble that was about to burst at any time, but he was not a person who was immersed in illusions, and preferred to hold in reality. The feel of the palm.

Miriam struggled slightly, her pretty face annoyed, and angrily, "Bryan, you are still struggling, will you not let me go if I don't promise you?"

"I don't want to see each other next time, you will treat me as a stranger again." Bryan looked at her calmly.

The atmosphere seemed to quiet down briefly.

A certain emotion in Miriam's heart spread. Looking at him, she seemed to sigh and feel a little helpless, but she still agreed softly, "Okay, I promise you."

After answering, the originally entangled and complicated mood also surprisingly calmed down.

Bryan lowered his eyes to meet the delicate features of the woman, and the curvature of the corners of her lips deepened a bit.

After getting the answer he wanted, the man kissed her eyebrows again before letting him go.

Miriam was depressed, turned around and went to pack things in silence.

After finishing the suitcase and pushing it out, she pursed her lips and looked at him, "What are you going to do? Go back to Jincheng or stay here?"

"Go back." The man only answered her.

Miriam didn't ask any more, she contacted Mu Ming and Xiao Zhang out of the room, planning to go directly to the airport.

Bryan leaned at the door and looked at the three people lazily, "I happen to be going to the airport too, let's go together."

Miriam, "..."

Why is this man so boring? Does he have to go with them?

"Inconvenient, we may not go to the same airport." Miriam faintly refused.

The man smiled faintly, "As long as the tickets are the same, you can also take a SF bus, isn't it very economical?"

Miriam, "..."

She really had nothing to say, although she could be reimbursed, but it did save a little bit.

Mu Ming smiled ambiguously, "Yes, Sister Miriam, hurry up, let's drag the suitcase over."

The two said, they left her alone and walked away.

Miriam wanted to award the most tacit brother award to her two subordinates, and she really didn't care about her at all.

She turned her head to look at the smiling man, her chest was tight, "Does it make you feel particularly interesting every time you bully me?"

The man glanced down at her and smiled, "I can't bully you. Every time you say a sentence, you can say ten sentences. I haven't been scorned by you for so many years."

"..."

Miriam curled her eyebrows and looked up at him thinking how to turn back. The man suddenly took her hand and walked out.

"If you don't leave before dark, you won't be able to reach City Two."

Miriam's walking angle just happened to be able to see his profile face. He couldn't discern his emotions at this time, so he didn't pay attention to his words, and only discovered what was wrong when he bought the ticket.
