

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 207– 208

Chapter 207

Miriam looked at Zheng Yun with a faint smile, “I have already followed up half of the several projects in my department, and Manager Zheng is sure that he can take over? Are we afraid that there will be errors that will make our partners dissatisfied?”

Zheng Yun placed his hands gently on the table with his brows raised, and smiled triumphantly and confidently, “Manager Lu feels that the marketing department’s experience is not as good as your novice data department?”

As she said, the smile on her lips deepened, “Let the people in your department cooperate with my department to complete the work, how does Manager Lu feel?”

The new store opened, and sales at a loss: Taobao search (Hundred Flower Honey, Lychee Honey, Longan Honey, Duck Foot Wood Winter Honey 500g) 1 free shipping and try farm wild honey.

“...” Miriam’s lips tightened, her face a little cold.

President Henry suddenly interjected, “Okay, let’s do this first.”

As he spoke, he looked at Miriam again, his tone of voice relaxed a little, “Miriam, during this time, you can rest at home, and your monthly salary will remain the usual. I will let someone inform you as soon as possible if you have anything to do.”

Miriam clenched her five fingers.

Judging from the attitude of Mr. Henry, there is no room for relaxation. She must take this leave today, and, with so many people, he will never have the chance to go back.

Zheng Yun also seized this opportunity and made ridicules, no matter what she said, she would refute it.

After two seconds of silence, she had a good low attitude and whispered: “I know about President Henry, I will also find out about this matter and give you an explanation. I will work...”

“Don’t bother you. I will make the people in your department get ready to send it to me for work. I think you have been working hard recently, so go back and rest early, otherwise... there will definitely be many people who should worry about it. ...” Zheng Yun interrupted her nonchalantly, glanced at her, and the mockery in his eyes was extremely strong.

Miriam gritted her teeth secretly, enduring the surging anger, just looked at her coldly, closed her eyes for a long while, and said nothing, and stepped out of the meeting room.

Along the way, Miriam bit her lip, her breathing gradually accelerated, the cold on her face approaching freezing.

At the door of the department, she stood still for a few seconds, took a deep breath, calmed down, pushed the door in, and beckoned to Xiao Zhang, "Come with me."

Xiao Zhang immediately got up and followed.

Everyone noticed that her face was ugly, but no one dared to ask.

A few minutes later, Miriam came out of the box holding a box and saw that the faces of everyone returned to smile a little.

Everyone was stunned for a moment, their expressions gradually changing, some could no longer help, and asked aloud: "Sister Miriam, are you?"

"Sister Miriam, are you going to leave?"

Someone immediately stood up and stepped forward anxiously: "Sister Miriam, how can you go? We don't believe those articles at all, and we all know your relationship with Mr. Shao."

"Yes, how could President Henry let you go? Let's go to him and explain it clearly."

Seeing someone about to go out, Miriam frowned, and then said quietly, "Stop, you all calm down, I still have something to explain."

"Sister Miriam, you can't go!" Some girls couldn't help but blush.

Miriam put down the box, sighed, and looked at everyone guiltily, "I'm sorry, I'm an irresponsible boss, and I'm tired of you."

Everyone looked at her with sadness on their faces.

"No, Sister Miriam, you are fine, I don't want you to go."

The heat flow in Miriam's heart, moved her lips and smiled, "I'm not leaving, but I'm going to leave everyone for a while. It's just a vacation for yourself, you should be happy for me."

"However, your previous efforts may have been wasted. Looking back, Xiao Zhang will arrange your next work. Don't be angry, don't complain. Even if you are really angry, just angry me. This is because of me."

As she said, her tone was paused, and she groaned, "Wait...this matter is clear, and I will give you an explanation."

These people didn't let her down. If they could come back, she would definitely tell them about the pregnancy.

It was so sudden that no one thought that Miriam would leave suddenly. After bidding farewell to everyone in the department for a long time, Miriam left the company with a heavy face holding the box.

Mu Ming chased it out with a complicated expression, "Sister Miriam."

Miriam stopped, looked back at him, curled her eyebrows, "What are you doing here? What can I say on the phone, I have hurt you, after I leave, the company people will still look at you strangely, hope you Don't take it to heart."

She only treats him as a younger brother and wants to cultivate him well, so she usually walks closer to him, but she didn't expect that some people would take advantage of it now.

"I didn't take it to heart. I don't care what they say, but I am the only person who knows you best in the entire company. Those articles are obviously someone who framed you behind the scenes. I will definitely find out."

Miriam smiled lightly, but there was no smile in her eyes, "Can't you see it? Yingxin itself is in the IT industry. It is not easy to find the people behind it on the Internet? Why don't they do it? In fact, to put it plainly, what they care about is not who the murderer is, but the credibility of the incident itself. Those photos have explained everything. Suspending my job is just delaying time to make the final decision. This should be the most respectable Is there a solution for you?"

Mu Ming Jian's eyebrows twisted tightly, "But the facts are simply not the case, why do you want to compromise?"

"I don't want to make everyone embarrassed until the matter is clear, and I can't explain it clearly in one or two sentences."

The relationship between her and Bryan was kept secret from the beginning. If you want to argue, you need to talk about it from the beginning. In the end, even the matter of her pregnancy has to be told, and probably the chances left at the end are gone.

"But once you go back, someone will immediately take your position." Mu Ming lowered his voice to remind her, eyes flashing with strange light.

Miriam pretended to smile, "Aren't you still there? Then you can help me guard, work hard, and wait for me to come back."

Mu Ming clenched his fists stiffly and looked at her with deep eyes, "If someone takes your place, will you come back?"

Miriam was startled, and then smiled faintly, "If someone takes my place, will the company still want me? Since God wants me to rest, then I should rest well. Being a pregnant woman is really hard work. ."

The surface is calm, her heart is still heavy, but she doesn't want them to worry.

Mu Ming stopped talking, just looked at her quietly.

After letting him go back, Miriam walked to the round square under the building alone with the box in his arms, with a lonely figure in her back.

After walking a few steps, she put the box aside, on the steps next to the fountain, with her hands on her knees and her chin, with a thoughtful expression on her face.

Who is behind the scenes?

Chapter 208

At this time, in another office building next to him, Lin Shui quickly knocked on the door of the president's office.

The man who was working seriously did not lift his head and said, "Come in."

Lin Shui opened the door and looked at the man, keeping his tone calm, "Mr. Shao, the false news about Miss Lu spread out on the Internet in the morning. Yingxin has suspended her for review. I just saw that she is alone now. Sitting downstairs."

Hearing about Miriam, the man immediately raised his head. When he heard it from behind, his eyes instantly narrowed and his face sank, "She is still downstairs?"

Without waiting for Lin Shui's answer, he stood up suddenly and walked out in a stride.

"Shao..."

Lin Shui still wanted to stop, the person had already gone far.

He hasn't told him that Miss Lu was suspended because of him. He is past now, wouldn't he just confirm the information more?

Miriam's small body was still sitting on the steps, thinking deeply about the article, her eyes distracted, staring forward blankly. From the surface, she was an unemployed who had just been dismissed and lost who was suspicious of life.

Bryan walked hurriedly and saw it from a distance. He was very distressed. He didn't care if anyone around was watching, and squatted down in front of her, "Miriam."

"..."

Miriam looked at the man whose hallucination suddenly appeared in front of him, and was stunned for a moment, really thinking that he had come up with an illusion after thinking about something, so he casually raised his hand and waved it, but was cut off by the man halfway and held it in the palm of his hand.

Feeling the different warmth, Miriam finally awoke and stared, "Bryan?"

"Yeah." The man caressed her little face with pity, and asked softly, "What's wrong?"

Miriam was addicted to that kind of tenderness for a moment. When she looked at him, she suddenly remembered a line from a certain movie and TV drama, and said in a horrible way, "I am unemployed."

Coupled with a trance expression and a faintly aggrieved tone, it was unspeakably pitiful.

A few seconds later, while Miriam was still waiting for his phrase "I will raise you", the man said lightly: "Well, then go home."

Miriam was startled, her eyes suddenly became clear, she blinked her eyes and curled her lips, "Here is another one who laughs at me."

She is all unemployed. If she doesn't go home, is she going to be on the streets?

In a very bad mood, she looked at the man completely ignoring her surroundings, as if she was just looking for comfort.

The man looked helpless, seeing her a little desperate, knowing that he couldn't hear anything at this time, and he stood up, bent over and hugged her, and said gently: "Let's go home."

Her fingers were slightly cold, and her body was stiff, and she could guess what kind of battle she had just gone through without thinking.

The man tightened his arms and hugged her deeper, his heart contracted.

Miriam was frightened by the wind in front of him. Only then did he notice that he was still downstairs in the company, his face changed suddenly, and he hurriedly reached out to push him, "Bryan, what are you doing? I am down."

"Honestly, I'll take you home." The man hugged her tightly, looked at her feet, and walked slowly down the stairs. His slender figure was about 1.8 meters tall, and the woman in his arms lined the woman with some little birds. .

“You, let me down quickly, I can go back by myself!” Miriam was about to cry in anger, and while covering her face with a box, she whispered a command.

What happened in the morning hasn't been clearly explained yet, and there is no need to explain it in the public.

“You look half-dead, I'm really afraid that you will be hit by a car before you get to the road.” Bryan glanced at her with a cool low eye and continued to walk forward.

Miriam held his forehead speechlessly, looked over his broad shoulders and glanced at Yingxin Technology behind him, with deep helplessness in his tone, “It's even harder to tell now.”

Hearing the words, the man narrowed his eyes slightly, touching the curvature of his lips, and said lightly as he walked: “Then stop talking.”

“...”

The man held her gently into the car, fastened her seat belt, and then sat in the driving position, reversing and leaving the company.

Miriam looked at the box in the back seat through the rearview mirror, her expression gradually calmed down, and she looked forward blankly, her eyes blankly not knowing what she was thinking.

When Bryan was waiting for the red light, he turned his head and looked at her for a few seconds without saying anything or asking anything.

He didn't even know why she was unemployed. It stands to reason that she went to work on the first day from Kyoto and brought a list of Feng Rui's size. Even if Mr. Henry didn't praise her, she wouldn't want to quit her, but her expression It's not like he took the initiative to resign.

When the car arrived at Jinglin Bay, the man did not send her back to Lu's apartment, but directly picked her up and returned to where he lived.

Miriam struggled at first, but she was really not in the mood behind, and she didn't bother to care about him, let him hold her all the way into the room.

On the bed in the bedroom, he leaned over and put her down, raised his hand to loosen the hair on her face, and said warmly, “Take a rest, I'll pour you some water.”

Miriam pushed him away, sat up, and said lightly: “Bryan, I am unemployed and not sick. You don't have to be like this.”

“Is there a difference both physically and mentally?”

“...” Is this man sure that he wants to comfort him, not to sprinkle salt on the wound?

The man touched her head, turned around and went to the living room. After ten seconds, a glass of water came in and put it in her hand."Drink the water. As for telling me, you should solve it by yourself. This is your choice."

At this moment, the phone in his pocket suddenly vibrated.

"You take a break, I'll answer the phone first." He took out his phone and turned around and walked out to the balcony.

Miriam sat on the bed holding a water cup and looked up at his figure.

After Bryan answered the phone and returned to the bedroom, she saw the woman in a large font, her eyes closed, lying flat on the quilt.
