

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 21- 30

Chapter 21

At ten o'clock exactly, a team of Longteng came to Yingxin Technology.

Sitting in the corner, Miriam raised her head slightly, and saw Bryan, who was the first to come in. She looked very stylish in a dark gray suit. Her thin lips were pressed together with her indifferent look, which gave people a feeling of intimacy. .

After Bryan shook hands with President Henry, he inertially inspected the conference room, and inadvertently, he caught a glimpse of Miriam in the corner, looking down at the notebook on the table, his profile looks a little fat.

Bryan's eyes fixed on her for a second, stretched out his hand to open the chair, and sat down.

As the leader of an investment giant company, Bryan opened a few words to let people understand his strong aura, even if the seasoned Henry Zong talked with him, he seemed a little nervous.

Before long, the secretary came in with a trolley containing coffee and snacks.

Seeing that the secretary was too busy alone, Miriam got up to help and brought coffee to the few people in Long Teng.

When serving Bryan's coffee, she subconsciously chose a warm cup without sugar packets.

Although Bryan had only returned home once a week before, he occasionally had work to deal with. Miriam found that he likes coffee, not too hot, and doesn't like sugar, so she secretly wrote it down.

This move today is completely habitual.

Bryan was still talking to Mr. Henry, but when Miriam held the coffee in front of him, and saw that there was no sugar treasure on the saucer, and even the coffee was warm, the folded hands tightened slightly, but the speech speed did not decrease. slow.

The meeting was not long and ended in nearly forty minutes.

Mr. Henry was happy to be able to cooperate with Longteng Investment. After the meeting, he personally took Bryan to the restaurant downstairs for dinner, and the others followed.

The restaurant downstairs to Miriam's company does not consume much. It costs at least tens of thousands of people to cover the lunch market. Because there are more people, the restaurant has become a buffet.

"Manager Lu, eat!"

Miriam was choosing the food she wanted to eat. Seeing a colleague came to say hello, she said, "It just happens to be a little hungry."

After chatting without a word, the colleague suddenly changed the subject and said gossiping: "Did you see Mr. Shao from Longteng? He is so young, he doesn't seem to be thirty years old. I didn't expect to be so rich."

"This Shao always looks hard to get along with, but don't tell me, he is very handsome, and he fights with some celebrities, hey, do you think he is married? He is rich, maybe there are many mistresses, right? "

The colleague looked at the place where Mr. Henry was sitting frequently while gossiping. His eyes were full of longing. When Miriam saw this, she also glanced over there.

The man untied his tie and sat there casually talking with people, but it seemed that all the focal points were hitting him.

Miriam seemed to understand something, and suddenly smiled.

You see, that man is such a good man, and she doesn't know how many girls are worried about. Some seem to be willing to be nameless lovers, but she still stupidly wants to warm him up, expecting the two to live together.

It's ridiculous!

"That kind of man is shrewd and restrained, you won't get any benefit from him." Miriam lowered her head and continued to pick up vegetables.

Colleagues are curious: "How do you know, Manager Lu?"

Miriam thought to herself, she and Bryan slept in the same bed for three years, do you know who he is?

"Manager Lu, why didn't you see you wearing a ring?" My colleague saw that Miriam's ring finger was empty, with only a faint ring print, "Did you divorce your husband?"

Miriam gave a hum.

When she got married, she also considered inviting her colleagues in the company to have a wedding drink, but Bryan told her not to pull herself up, as if fewer people knew their marriage, the better, so she didn't tell the company people who her husband was.

“Man nowadays, they all like beautiful and perfect women.” The colleague said a few words, and relieved Miriam: “Mr. Lu, you are so young and have no children. Don’t worry, it’s easy to find a second spring.”

Miriam couldn’t help but glanced at her belly.

She was divorced, but she left with the meat in her belly.

At this time, someone passed by Miriam with a dinner plate. The contents on the plate seemed to be seafood, and the faint smell rushed into Miriam’s nose, causing her stomach to churn.

Miriam pushed her colleague away, covering her mouth and hurriedly ran towards the bathroom.

The colleague was pushed by Miriam inexplicably.

Bryan accidentally saw Miriam running to the bathroom with his mouth covered. His face was pale. When he ran, his skirt was close to his body, his belly seemed a little rounded, and his eyes sank a little bit.

Chapter 22

This kind of belly is not about eating more.

In the next second, Bryan got up, and after talking to Mr. Henry at the same table, he strode to the bathroom with a calm face.

Miriam ran all the way into the bathroom, facing the toilet for a long time but didn’t vomit anything, but she was a little weak.

How do you feel that you can’t smell any fishy smell after pregnancy?

Miriam washed her face with warm water. When she raised her head, she unexpectedly saw Bryan standing behind her in the mirror. His eyes were fixed on her, and his whole body was full of oppression.

Miriam didn't see it, so she wiped the drops of water on her hands with a paper, trying to walk past him.

"Miriam." Bryan clutched her wrist with a gloomy face, "I need an explanation."

"Mr. Shao, do you think too much, right?" Miriam felt that the wrist he was holding was hot everywhere, pretending to be calm, and said: "It's just eating and supporting."

Bryan interrupted her: "It's not like eating support."

His eyes were so sharp that Miriam's shoulders shrank in fright. Seeing that she couldn't get rid of his hand, she simply admitted: "Yes, I am pregnant."

The air seemed to freeze, and Bryan stared at her, his eyes gradually becoming complicated.

"It's only been more than a month." Miriam knew that with the look of a man, if she told the truth, the child would definitely not be able to keep it, because he wouldn't want it.

Miriam looked up at Bryan and smiled faintly: "Don't doubt what I said, Mr. Shao is so shrewd every time he goes to bed, don't you know it in your heart?"

Bryan did not speak, but stared at Miriam closely.

He did not deny that after seeing Miriam admit to being pregnant, he felt very complicated and didn't know how to face that little life, but the next second Miriam told him that the child was not his, and he was inexplicably irritable.

In the end, Bryan still let go, “Really, congratulations.”

There were no more words, and he turned and left after saying this.

With the toilet door closed, Miriam finally couldn't hold it anymore, and she helped the wall to slide down, touching her lower abdomen with her hand.

As long as you can keep the child.

Miriam's morning sickness is quite serious. Sometimes she vomits up in the bathroom in the middle of the night. For several days, with the flat shoes, Lu Mu finally found something wrong.

Mother Lu asked solemnly, “Pregnant?”

Miriam gave a hum, and Mother Lu's face sank a little, and finally sighed for a long time.

Although Xiang Dongnan often brought Tian Tian to play at home, she could see that Miriam was not interested in Xiang Dongnan, and Miriam and Bryan were divorced, so 100% of this child belongs to Bryan.

“Mom, I can feel its existence. It is a life.” Miriam touched her abdomen, feeling the young life, “I want to raise him well and give him the best.”

“Then have you thought about what you will do in the future?”

Miriam smiled and comforted her mother: “Mom, your daughter is worth tens of thousands a month, and there is still room to rise. Are you afraid that I can't support you and your grandson?”

Mother Lu patted her hand and said nothing, but it also meant that she had acquiesced to what Miriam did.

When Miriam went to find Tian Tian on a rest day, she happened to be in the southeast.

Xiang Southeast tried to find a babysitter for Tian Tian, and stayed when Tian Tian was not repelled, but as long as the company was not busy, she would stay with Tian Tian at home.

Xiang Dongnan took two cruise tickets to Miriam, and said: "The small prize you won by chance, I think you don't seem to be very good lately. Or you can give yourself a vacation and go out with friends."

"Five days and four nights in Japan?" Miriam thinks it's okay to go to such a place to see the scenery, but Kristy might rather stay at home than go out with her.

Tian Tian also came over, wanting to see what it was.

Miriam smiled and said, "I don't have any friends to have time. Why don't I be with my brother? I think Tian Tian would like to play."

She has been in repeated moods recently, and it might be good for the baby to go out and go around.

Nodding to the southeast: "Okay, let's go together."

After successfully applying for leave from the company, Miriam carried the box and boarded the cruise ship to Japan southeast.

It is said that this cruise ship was made by the rich second generation of a Japanese company. It has twelve floors. It has a ballroom, swimming pool, and golf course. It is a world of heaven and earth. It is a sightseeing cruise for tourists.

Miriam saw that the room was on the eighth floor, leaning on the ballroom, and might be noisy at night. He was afraid of affecting the baby, so he took the initiative to find the front desk and wanted to add money to change the suite on the 11th floor.

Only after Miriam explained his intention to change the room, the front desk said apologetically: "I'm sorry, madam, only our VIP customers can enjoy the service of changing the suite."

"Then I can do a VIP?"

"Sorry, our VIP is limited, but if your friend has a VIP card, you can also enjoy it together."

Miriam leaned on her waist. Standing for a long time made her waist and abdomen a little sore.

She just wants to change to a more comfortable place, is it so difficult!

When he couldn't change the suite, Miriam left dejectedly. He left the counter. By coincidence, he saw Bryan coming in through the glass door. The simple long windbreaker was also very flavorful on him.

Bryan didn't seem to see Miriam. He walked straight to the front desk and handed a card to him, his voice low.

"Change a suite."

"Okay." The front desk took the card handed by Bryan and was busy on the computer.

In order for the baby in his stomach to sleep peacefully, Miriam turned back and walked to Bryan, asking shamelessly: "Then what, can your VIP card be borrowed from me, I'll change to a suite?"

Miriam is one meter and seven meters tall, which is pretty good among women, but Bryan still looks very short when he is pushed by his height.

The man just looked down at her indifferently and ignored her intentions.

Miriam blocked her throat in one breath.

Anyway, it was also a couple, this man refused to borrow the card, too much!

Miriam gave Bryan a stern look, grabbed the money placed on the table and hurried away.

The front desk changed Bryan's room, and when he handed the card back to him, Bryan was not in a hurry to take it, and said, "I will give the lady a room for free. She is only allowed to live alone."

After all, Miriam is pregnant and is not sure if the child is him. At least she has to take care of her. After all, where she lives next to the dance hall does affect her sleep.

When Xiang Dongnan learned that this cruise ship needs VIP to change the standard room into a suite, he wanted to call a friend to ask.

Unexpectedly, less than half an hour later, the duty manager of the cruise ship came over.

The manager handed the room card to Miriam and said with a smile: "Miss Lu, congratulations, since you are the 100th lucky star on our cruise ship, we have decided to change your common room to a suite on the 11th floor."

"Really?" Miriam took the room card, feeling dreamy.

But later from the manager's words, when she learned that she could only live on her own, Miriam instantly understood the trickiness, but she didn't say anything, and went up with Tian Tian.

Chapter 23

The eleventh floor and below are simply not of the same grade. The walls are full of precious oil paintings. Even the inside of the suite is excellent. The big floor-to-ceiling windows are beyond the endless sea.

Xiang Nannan met a business partner on the cruise ship, and the other party kept asking him to come over and chat.

He had no choice but to let Miriam help bring Tian Tian.

Miriam told him to talk about business, and smiled: "Don't worry, I will take care of Tian Tian."

She cleaned up and took Tian Tian to go around under the cruise ship.

The restaurant on the cruise ship is very large, serving food from various countries. After two months of pregnancy, Miriam especially liked the sour soup, especially the Spanish sour soup, and drank several bowls in a row.

At this time, Tian Tian pulled at Miriam's clothes.

"What's the matter?" Miriam asked, following Tian Tian's gaze, it turned out that a few little guys in swimsuits were coming into the restaurant, as if they were going to swim after dinner.

Miriam understood, and smiled and asked, "Do you want to go swimming?"

Tian Tian nodded, eagerly.

Miriam asked the staff about the location of the swimming pool and asked the chef to pack a box of sour plum cake before leaving.

The swimming pool is open-air, right on the deck, it's very big, there are a lot of children, and it's a mess. There are various types of swimsuits and swimming rings in the cabinet next to it.

Miriam was also afraid that Tian Tian could not swim, and planned to set her on a swimming ring. She didn't know that Tian Tianpu jumped into the water and emerged again within a few seconds, smiling sweetly at her.

Upon seeing this, Miriam let Tiantian go to play. She was pregnant and old, but with a sore back, she found a beach chair to sit down and took out the packed sour plum cake to eat. She was very comfortable on a small day.

Gradually, many beautiful women also came to swim, wearing all kinds of swimsuits, showing their great bodies.

Miriam looked at the beauties over there, then looked down at the arms and thighs that had become fatter from eating too much, especially the round belly, and she felt sad.

She is pregnant and her body is gone. After the baby is actually born, will she be many years old?

Miriam filled her mouth with sour plum cake, vaguely, as if she heard a familiar female voice, like that of Bryan's special assistant, a little bit agitated.

Miriam looked over at the source of the sound. On a beach chair not far from her, Sophia, wearing a bikini, shook a man's arm.

"The president of the year, you should consider the development of the western suburbs, OK?"

“Okay, I think about it.”

The forty-year-old man kneaded Sophia’s full buttocks, and Sophia only pushed it twice as long as she wanted to refuse. Later, it was him and the two k!ssed together.

Miriam: “”

After confirming that the other party hadn’t paid attention to herself, Miriam took out her mobile phone to record a long video of the two men ruthlessly, inexplicably annoyed by Bryan’s clumsy eyes.

She thought Bryan had found a good one, heh, it turned out to be a social flower! !

The two flirted and scolded for a while before they left, and they did not find Miriam who was peeping. Miriam freed Bryan’s number from the blacklist and posted the edited video.

When I wanted to send it, I hesitated again.

How could she say she divorced Bryan. If he posted this video, would he say she is nosy?

Send or not?

When Miriam was hesitant to send or not to send, he saw Bryan in the crowd with sharp eyes, changed into light casual clothes, and strode towards her.

Miriam pushed her phone off and stuffed it into her bag, lay down, and pretended to look at it with a magazine.

After Bryan came over, he sat down straight beside her, folded his hands slightly, and asked casually, “Where is it going southeast?”

“Talking business with someone.”

Hearing this, Bryan twisted his eyebrows: “He is talking about business and leaving you here alone?”

Miriam felt baffled.

Why didn’t they meet Bryan when they got married, and the two talked very little? After the divorce, she saw him every other day and talked so much?

“I’m lying here, I’m comfortable.” Miriam stunned and went back, “He is much better than someone who only goes home once a week and uses his house as a sleeping place!”

After being choked by Miriam, Bryan’s complexion darkened. He glanced down and saw her belly supported by her clothes. The suspicion and doubt in her eyes were undisguised.

After leaving the bathroom that day, the more he went back, the more he thought about something wrong.

The two divorced less than two months, it is impossible for Miriam to have a relationship with Xiang Dongnan so quickly, and it is not possible to be pregnant. He guessed that the child is mostly his!

Miriam felt that his eyes were hot, and she covered her belly with her hands.

Did he find something?

Bryan pursed her thin lips and asked casually, "When did you move to Xiang Dongnan?"

"After the divorce."

"After the divorce?" Bryan frowned, and continued to ask, "When did I discover that I was pregnant?"

The smile on Miriam's face was a bit unbearable.

The man was dominant from the beginning of the questioning, and gradually led himself into the trap.

Of course, Miriam was not so stupid, and calmly replied: "It has nothing to do with Mr. Shao, after all, we are not familiar."

"Miriam, how many months are the children?" Bryan was obviously a little impatient, and his tone was a bit coercive.

"Mr. Shao, you are so boring." Miriam said, "I was asked once in the bathroom before, and now I am asking again, isn't it boring? I still remember clearly what was written in our previous contract."

Bryan stared at her, but the corners of his mouth were slightly bent.

Yes, he said that he would not have children within four years because he was afraid that the divorce would have a burden, but if Miriam was really pregnant, he did not say that he would not be responsible.

From the bottom of his heart, he hoped that the child belonged to him, not Miriam and the other men. Although he said that after the divorce, he should live independently and not disturb each other. After the divorce, he was even more irritable.

Especially when I returned to the apartment where the two lived before, it was empty, with no cosmetics, clothes, or even traces of life that belonged to her, and my heart seemed empty.

Even Miriam mentioned Xiang Southeast again and again, and he was very upset!

“Mr. Shao, I’m sorry, I’m going one step ahead.” After all, Miriam couldn’t fight in the mall. He was afraid that a few more words would reveal the clues, so he found an excuse to leave.

When he returned to the southeast at 8 o’clock in the evening, Miriam followed him to the restaurant for another meal.

I don’t know why, after pregnancy, she is very hungry. She often eats several meals a day. Sometimes she gets up hungry most of the night and eats before going to bed.

I drank some wine to the Southeastern companion before, but now I don’t have much to eat. I have been watching Miriam and Tian Tian eating.

Seeing that Miriam eats sour noodles and sour soup, he can smell the sourness across a table, joking to Southeast, “You can eat it so sour, isn’t it pregnant?”

Chapter 24

“Yes.” Miriam stuffed his mouth with food and answered calmly, “So I want to eat sour.”

After confirming that Miriam wasn't joking with herself, she raised her forehead to the southeast: "You only told me to do a show with you, but you didn't say you were pregnant. Does Bryan know?"

"I know, I saw him in the swimming pool just now! But I didn't tell him the true month." At this point, she paused and looked at him with a slightly embarrassed and apologetic expression, "Sorry, I'm afraid he doubts. ...Said it was yours."

After all, he hadn't agreed with him, and their relationship is just ordinary friends now, she was very embarrassed.

Unexpectedly, Xiang Dongnan suddenly fell silent. For a long while, he looked at her seriously, "Miriam, if you don't mind, why don't you... let's try."

"puff....."

Miriam was so scared that she almost smashed her entire face into the soup plate.

"Master, brother... Brother, don't get me wrong, I didn't mean that." Miriam coughed, quickly took out a tissue and wiped her mouth, embarrassed: "I just wanted to keep this child. The situation was urgent at the time, and I couldn't help it. Only in your name, don't, don't think too much."

Xiang Dongnan's face couldn't be seen as a joke, and his eyes were calm and frank, "I'm serious. You have to bear a heavy burden on raising children. I can be responsible for all of these, and I respect your ideas and will not force them. Wait for your consideration. Reply to me when you have finished."

Tian Tian seemed to understand Xiang Dongnan's words, and rubbed her head against Miriam, looking forward to it, wishing Miriam would agree to her father's proposal now.

Miriam pursed her lower lip and said nothing.

To be honest, after divorcing Bryan, she didn't plan to find anyone to marry again. The marriage was too tiring, but Xiang Dongfang was right. The burden of raising children is very heavy, and there are two elderly people above her. Everything, she is not sure how much she can afford.

Touching her belly through her clothes, she can even feel the baby's heartbeat, beating with her heart.

After a long time, as if she had made up her mind, she nodded sadly.

"Ok... I will consider it."

Toward the southeast with a gentle smile, looking at Tian Tian, it seemed to be relieved.

In the next two days, Miriam never met Bryan on the cruise ship again. Maybe the cruise ship was too big. She often took Tian Tian to stroll around the floors in the afternoon, so it's no surprise that she didn't see it.

When the cruise ship arrived in Osaka on the morning of the third day, the sightseeing trip was over.

Miriam and Xiang Dongnan lined up for the downstream ferry, and saw Bryan in the silhouette in front of them. After they got down, they took a few people in the car to pick them up, and it disappeared soon.

The hotel sent a car to pick up Southeast and Miriam. She sat in the car and looked at the scenery passing by the window. The houses are not very high, but the streets are clean and tidy, giving people a very comfortable feeling.

I've been here at sea for a few days, and it seems that I haven't really visited here.

When the car reached the city center, she called to stop.

“Brother, you and Tian Tian should go back to the hotel first. I want to walk around.” Miriam took out the camera from the travel bag and said with a smile: “It’s so hard to come here. It’s a shame not to take some photos.”

“No, you are pregnant and want to go out to play, I will accompany you.” Xiang Dongnan said worriedly, insisting on staying with Miriam.

Miriam refused and smiled helplessly, “It’s only been more than two months, and it’s not that I can’t walk. I will pay attention to it. Besides, don’t I have a phone call? I will call you as soon as I have something.”

“Well, then you pay attention and call me if something happens.” Seeing her insistence, the man can only give up.

“Ok, bye.”

After waving the taxi and leaving, Miriam walked slowly along the street, admiring the surrounding scenery, and would stop to take a few pictures when he saw a good sign or building.

The sun will not be too big, the sun will be warm, and Miriam’s mood will gradually improve.

Although I don’t understand Japanese, when I go to the lively neighborhoods, I can always meet some English-speaking tourists and ask which food is the best. She eagerly visits with her camera.

When the food and drink came out of the last ramen shop, I noticed that it was dark, the surroundings were brightly lit, and there were small stalls on the street in the distance, with people coming and going, and it was very lively.

“I’ve been shopping for so long.” Miriam raised her hand and looked at her watch, her eyebrows wrinkled slightly.

Fearing that the brother was worried, she quickly took out the mobile phone from her bag and planned to call him.

After I took it out, I found that the phone was turned off without power, and I touched the bag again, and there was only five thousand yen left in it.

Miriam stood on the side of the main road and wanted to complain without tears.

Sighing, she looked around and saw a convenience store next to her.

Xiang Dongnan waited until after 7 o’clock in the evening, and saw that Miriam hadn’t come back, and called her to go, but she couldn’t get through, and she became worried.

Settling Tian Tian in the room, he picked up his coat and went out.

When passing by the lobby on the first floor, he told the front desk in English, “Room 2207, there is a five-year-old child, I am in a hurry to go out now, and I am a little worried, please help me stare.”

“Okay, sir.”

Finally, Xiang Dongnan thought of something again, took out his mobile phone and opened the album, and said, “I have a friend named Miriam. This is her photo. If she comes back later, please let her call me...”

“...”

At this time, the door of the hotel opened, and a slender figure walked in with a group of people. He was going to take the elevator. He vaguely heard the speech to Southeast and the front desk, frowned and walked over.

“What’s up with her?”

Xiang Southeast was stunned, turned around and saw him, frowned, did not hide it, and said: “She said she was going out around, but she hasn’t come back yet, and her mobile phone can’t get through.”

Although Bryan is Miriam’s ex-husband, since he asked, it will always be faster to find another person.

The man’s expression instantly sank, his tone a little heavy, “This is Japan, she doesn’t speak Japanese, and she is pregnant. You let her go out alone?”

Although he didn’t go back to the apartment much before, but occasionally when he drove out with Miriam to buy groceries, he found that she was very confused, and she couldn’t tell the south, east, and the north, let alone a place like a foreign country.

The more he thought about it, the more uncomfortable he felt, and even a hint of anger rose.

He handed the luggage to the person behind him, whispered a few words with the person, and the other person nodded, and soon took the other people into the elevator.

Bryan took out his mobile phone and looked to the southeast, with a cold voice, “Where did she get off? Tell me the address.”

Chapter 25

Xiang Southeast frowned tightly, his face was also a little heavy, and he didn't make any excuses.

After all, he brought Miriam here. If something really happened, no one would be blamed, he would feel very guilty in his heart.

I reported the address to Bryan, and then told him his mobile phone number, and said, "Let's find it separately. If you find it first, please call me."

Without waiting for him to finish, Bryan walked out without even looking at him.

Standing in place to the southeast, he was slightly startled, his eyes deepened when he looked at his back.

...

In the convenience store, fortunately, the manager is a person who can speak English. Miriam easily borrowed a mobile phone charger, found a place to sit, plugged in the power and started the phone two minutes later.

After opening the screen, she turned to the address book and was about to call southeast, suddenly messages popped up on the screen, and then one after another, within half a minute of response time, various messages flooded from all directions.

Miriam was taken aback.

After blinking his eyes, he reacted and hurriedly opened a few of them.

It was all missed calls to Southeast and asking for information, asking where she was and why she didn't answer the phone.

When pressing the return button, she accidentally caught a glimpse of another number, her eyes slowly condensed.

Bryan?

Is he looking for her too?

After a moment of stagnation, the phone rang suddenly, making her hands tremble with fright, and quickly pressed to connect.

“Hey, hello.”

“Where are you? Why did you answer the call until now?” The familiar low and steady man’s voice, but Miriam heard a hint of anxiety inexplicably.

She shook her head for a moment, and answered stiffly, “I, my phone ran out of power before.”

“Send a location and I will pick you up.” The man didn’t ask much.

Miriam wanted to ask him why he came back to look for her, but felt that it was a bit redundant. He just pretended to be nonchalant and refused to say: “No, my phone has just been charged. I just need to take the car back by myself.”

“Are you sure you can find the way? This is not in China.” The man sneered, and then quickly said: “I’m driving, and can’t be distracted. Send your location to me now.”

After all, no longer giving her the opportunity to refuse, the man hung up the phone.

Miriam was a little embarrassed by him. She almost went back just now. She is a road idiot and not an idiot. Can't find the way, don't you know? You can use navigation.

With her lips curled, she moved her fingers to share the location through WeChat. After walking for a long time, she was also tired. Once she sat down, she didn't want to move anymore.

While waiting, she called Xiang Southeast again.

"Hey, brother."

"Miriam, where are you? I have been looking for you for a long time, and I am almost anxious." Xiang Dongnan breathed a sigh of relief when she finally answered the phone.

Miriam was very guilty, "I'm sorry, brother, I forgot the time when I wandered around, and I didn't find that the phone was dead."

"You are fine, where are you now, I will pick you up."

Miriam hesitated for a few seconds and then asked, "Brother, are you alone? Where's Tian Tian?"

"Tian Tian is still in the hotel, I am looking for you outside."

She hesitated for a while, and asked, "Then, how could Bryan..."

Xiang Southeast replied lightly, "He was staying in the same hotel with us, and he happened to ran into him at the entrance of the hotel, so I told him. I'm afraid you will have something to do. It will be easier to have one more person to help."

After Miriam listened, she didn't know what it was like, so she let out a faint cry.

It turned out that he was only helping out of humanitarianism.

For a while, she said calmly: "Brother, you go back first, I don't worry that Tian Tian is alone in the hotel. Bryan has already arrived at my side, so I can take his car back."

Xiang Southeast was a little worried, "Will you two quarrel?"

After all, just divorced, the meeting was somewhat awkward.

Miriam suddenly smiled, "What's so noisy after the marriage is divorced, is it possible that he would leave me a pregnant woman on the street?"

She still knows how Bryan is. Even if he doesn't have feelings for her, he is still a person of demeanor.

Actually Xiang Dongnan also misunderstood. They have never quarreled since they were married for three years, and Bryan has never been angry with her once, but she thinks that kind of lukewarm life is very annoying, and occasionally makes trouble, but he He never quarreled with her, at best it was impatient.

His attitude of never being tepid, like warm water, made her fed up, otherwise how could she get divorced.

The car on the southeast side was silent for a few seconds before the gentle voice of the man came out, "Okay, then you be careful and tell me when you get to the hotel."

"Ok."

Miriam hung up the phone, just in time to hear the engine go out at the door of the store.

She unplugged the phone, got up and was about to go out to have a look, the man had already opened the door and walked in, his deep gaze swept across her body, her thin lips were pursed, and she said nothing, "Let's go."

It was okay on the phone. Miriam felt embarrassed at this meeting, and didn't know whether to put a smile on his face or continue to be stern.

Turning his face away from him, he picked up his backpack and nodded his head, "Yeah."

The car drove steadily on the road. Miriam sat in the back seat, tilted her head and leaned on the car door, looking a little tired, and didn't seem to want to speak.

Looking at the man who focused on driving in front, he rested inexplicably on the woman behind him, glancing at the rearview mirror from time to time.

She used to sit in the co-driver naturally in his car in the past, and now she ran straight to the back. He hadn't noticed before, but now she felt her deliberateness.

He hasn't reacted to the divorce yet, but she has become accustomed to her current identity and knows to keep a distance from him, so that he has no right to say anything.

The man's big palm on the steering wheel slowly clenched, the handsome outline collapsed deeper, and an unknown rage gradually poured out of his heart.

Chapter 26

The car suddenly stopped. Miriam thought it was here, so she sat up and looked out and heard the man in front say: "Get off."

"Reached?"

Bryan ignored her, just unfastened the seat belt and got out of the car.

Miriam thought he just didn't like to talk, didn't think too much, didn't ask any more, opened the door of the car in confusion and got out of the car.

In front of it is a restaurant.

Seeing that the man seemed to be going in, she was startled and blurted out: "I have eaten."

The man rolled his eyes and glanced at her weirdly, "I haven't eaten yet."

Miriam choked, suddenly embarrassed, and smiled stiffly, "Then I'll be waiting for you in the car, you can go in and eat."

Bryan stood still, watching her pursed lips and smiled deeply, "Miriam, are we a peaceful divorce? I don't owe you and you don't owe me. Do you need to avoid me like this?"

"..."

The expression on Miriam's face became stiffer, her fingers clenched unconsciously, and a guilty conscience filled her eyes, "You think too much, I didn't avoid you, I just don't want to cause unnecessary misunderstandings."

"Misunderstanding?" The man laughed low, and walked back to her, his magnetic voice was low and nice, "Afraid of Mr. Xiang's misunderstanding? Didn't he already know that you are with me now? Is it possible that just eating a meal can still be ambiguous? Come? Besides, what do you think I can do to a pregnant woman?"

Miriam tightened her lips, unable to refute.

The man didn't look at her anymore and went straight into the restaurant.

Women can only keep up with gritted teeth.

Don't you just have a meal? Who is afraid of who is not uneaten.

He was right, and she didn't owe him, why did she make it like a guilty conscience.

Sitting in the small private room, Miriam was slightly shocked watching the unobstructed communication between the man and the waiter.

He was so good in Japanese, she didn't know it before.

But it's not surprising that she only recently learned that he was Long Teng's boss.

How could it be simple to manage such a large company at such a young age, but it is ironic that she knew nothing about him before the divorce, but these things were inexplicably exposed to her after the divorce.

She and this man seemed destined to miss.

The man finished talking with the waiter, then turned around and saw her looking at him blankly, and asked faintly: "What do you want to eat?"

Miriam regained consciousness and shook her head, "Huh? Uh, I don't eat anymore, I have eaten a lot, and I am not hungry now."

Bryan didn't say much, and asked her for a vegetable porridge.

Miriam didn't understand, but when the porridge was placed in front of her, she still frowned, "I said I'm not hungry, what are you doing?"

The man picked up the tableware without lifting his head and said, "Whether you are my ex-wife or not, I don't have to torture a pregnant woman. Eat it. If you think it tastes bad, you can skip it."

He didn't insist on nature, he knew that pregnant women's tastes were more picky, and he was afraid that she would vomit before ordering a lighter one.

Miriam really has nothing to say now. The man has a calm tone from beginning to end. It is neither cold nor hot. Maybe it is really just taking care of her as a pregnant woman. If she continues to show her face, it would be too pretentious. .

Looking down at the beautiful porridge in front of her, she didn't speak any more, and picked up the spoon to eat bite by bite.

The two of them ate quietly, but only halfway through the meal, Miriam suddenly changed her face, stood up and hurried out, covering her mouth.

"Miriam!" The man's face sank, he threw down his knife and fork and chased him out quickly.

Miriam didn't go far, because she couldn't help it, standing in the corridor vomiting madly at the trash can, her expression was very painful.

Bryan showed a trace of complexity, walked over, paused, still raised his hand and patted her back gently, "How?"

Miriam spit out tears, because he ate a lot of food while shopping in the afternoon and vomited for a long time.

Bryan stood behind her, frowning and tightening, an inexplicable distressed feeling in his heart.

At exactly this time, two aunts wearing kimonos passed by, looked at Miriam who was in pain, patted him on the shoulder, and kindly asked, "Sir, how can you let your wife drink so much?"

Bryan did not excuse, but just nodded slightly apologetically and said in Japanese: "Sorry, she is pregnant."

"Oh, I'm pregnant?" The two aunts looked surprised and surprised. They looked at each other, then looked at Miriam who was still vomiting, and smiled: "It's so serious, it's estimated to be three months. It's really exciting."

The other aunt nodded, and then patted the man again, "Take care of her."

Looking at the two elegant backs, Bryan's deep eyes slowly became sharp.

Three months?

According to her previous meaning, it is now two months at most. If it is three months, what about this child?

The man narrowed his eyes, suddenly pulled her up, bent over to hug the person, and said in a deep voice, "I'll take you to the hospital."

Miriam didn't understand what he was talking with his aunt just now, and he didn't pay attention. She was scared by his action, her face became paler, and she shouted, "Go to the hospital, what are you doing! Let me down!"

Isn't she exposed when she goes to the hospital? She is not stupid.

“You vomit like this, and you need to go to the hospital to see it.” The man said simply without expressing his doubts in his heart.

Miriam kept pushing him in a panic, stammering anxiously, “Are you mentally retarded...this, is this a normal response? After talking about myself, I know it myself, hurry up... Put me down.”

Why hadn't she found this man so domineering before?

She took a breath and calmed down. At the end, she added, “Also, even if I have to go to the hospital for an examination, it shouldn't be you. I don't want to go to the obstetrics and gynecology department with the ex-husband.”

She deliberately bit her ex-husband very hard, reminding him to pay attention to his identity.

For any man, this sentence is undoubtedly the most heart-wrenching. Of course, it also includes Bryan. Coupled with the renewed suspicion in his heart, his face suddenly becomes ugly and gloomy.

Miriam trembled slightly in her heart, blinked in fear, and clasped his neck tightly, thinking that he would not throw her to the ground with anger.

Of course Bryan would not do that, but he also tried his best to restrain his emotions. After the divorce, every time he thought of her accumulated depression, it was like a balloon that was inflated again and again.

Closing his eyes, he opened his eyes again, his tone of voice has returned to calm, “I will take you back to the hotel.”

“Are you not going to eat?” Miriam blurted out.

The man glanced at her, and she immediately shut up with a guilty conscience.

Well, in this case, no one is in the mood to eat anymore.

He squeezed her back into the car until she reached the hotel. The man didn't say a word, and the atmosphere in the car was strange.

Miriam's heart became even more chaotic.

Chapter 27

At the entrance of the hotel, Miriam got out of the car with her bag.

Probably after receiving her message, Xiang Dongnan was already waiting at the door. He was relieved to see her safe and sound, "Miriam."

"Sorry brother, I worried you." Miriam smiled embarrassedly at him.

"It's okay." The man smiled softly, and couldn't help reaching out and touching her head.

Bryan, who had just got off the car after watching such an intimate scene, lost the mood of wanting to say a few words to her alone. His eyes were dark and dark, he closed the door of the car with carelessness, and threw the key to him. He got the parking boy next to him and stepped into the hotel.

Miriam was startled, and subconsciously opened her mouth and shouted, "Shao..."

With only one word, the man walked away without turning his head.

Her mouth was astringent, but it was a little inexplicable.

He looked to the southeast in the direction where the man had left, and hesitated to ask, "You...have quarreled with him on the road?"

Miriam suddenly felt a little bad, and shook her head dully, "No noise."

It's just that after a meal, he is probably...not full.

Xiang Dongnan thought she was just tired, and said softly: "You are also tired, go back and rest."

Tian Tian was already asleep, so Miriam just greeted Xiang Dongnan and went back to her room, took a bath in the bathroom, and almost fell asleep.

Wrapped in a bath towel, she came out of the cold water, without changing her clothes. She went into the quilt and fell asleep without thinking.

The biological clock made her get up early in the morning like she usually does at work.

Because Xiang Dongnan had something to go out, she took Tian Tian to the hotel restaurant alone for breakfast.

When I was taking Tian Tian to the buffet to pick up a meal, I happened to run into Bryan also coming over, with Sophia beside him. Both of them were dressed in casual clothes. They were handsome men and women, eight meters tall and six meters tall and s3xy. From a distance, it looks extremely right.

When she was looking, the man happened to look over, his eyes collided, and the other party moved away without stopping.

Miriam pouted her lips and continued to lower her head to pick up the food, while also asking Tian Tian's preferences.

After a long while, Tian Tian tugged at her clothes, pointed a piece of cake with her little finger, and blinked round eyes to look at her.

“Do you want this?”

She nodded.

Miriam smiled softly, “Okay, Auntie will get you a piece.”

To be honest, she wants to eat too, and it’s not wrong that pregnant women like sweets.

He picked up the tool and cut a small piece for the little girl, and then cut a large piece for herself. When she turned around, she didn’t notice the waiter passing by behind her. She was about to hit the pot of hot soup in his hand. The brain went blank suddenly, and he forgot to move.

When she reacted, the first thing she heard in her ear was a familiar low growl, “Miriam! What were you doing just now? Don’t you know how to hide?”

Miriam glanced at the cake thrown on his clothes, then glanced at his sullen handsome face, not knowing whether it was a guilty conscience or something, and laughed, “Where did you fly over from?”

Bryan, “...”

The man threw it on her shoulder, took out the tissue next to it, wiped it casually, and sneered, “Why didn’t I find that you were so stupid before, you just went out without thinking.”

“...”

Miriam’s face turned black. The reaction in the situation just now was purely conditioned. How could she have time to think about it?

Besides, how many times did he see her after three years of marriage? Why call her stupid.

This bastard!

Gritting her teeth bitterly, she couldn't wait to pat him with the cake in the other hand.

Chapter 28

Originally wanted to say thank you, Miriam was not in the mood and was too lazy to quarrel with him. She beckoned the waiter to come and clean the cake on the floor. She took another piece of cake, turned around and was about to leave when the man grabbed her wrist. Away.

“What are you doing?” She frowned and stared at him.

Bryan put down the cake casually, then handed her a cup of soup, and whispered: “Pregnant women eat less of these things, you don't have any common sense, do you?”

“...”

Miriam twitched her eyebrows, stared at him weirdly for a few seconds, mocking, “Mr. Shao gave birth to a child? He even understands this.”

The cake stains on his clothes are still there, but it doesn't affect his temperament at all. That face is still beautiful and makes people jealous.

But does he care too much? Of course she knows that she can't eat more, but what's wrong with occasional gluttony? Why didn't you see him taking care of her before the divorce?

The man didn't quarrel with her, holding the soup in one hand, and freed the other hand to lead her to the dining table, giving her no chance to refuse.

"You, what are you doing, let me go!"

Miriam was stunned for a while, struggling hard, but her little hand didn't break away. So many people on the scene didn't want to make trouble too ugly, so they could only be led away by him, not forgetting to turn back and shout to Tian Tian.

Walking to the table for two people, the man let go of her, put down the soup, and said with no expression: "Should I drink it myself or let me feed you?"

"..."

Miriam's pretty little face successfully changed from white to red and black. She opened her eyes wide and stared at him, gritted her teeth low, "Bryan, what do you want to do? Why have I never seen you control me like this before."

Hearing her mention that before, the man's eyes dimmed slightly, "Because you used to be very obedient and well-behaved."

He said this deliberately. Of course he knew that it was just appearance, or that she deliberately showed it. He didn't know anything before or even thought about understanding her.

She rarely does things that he doesn't like. For example, smoking and drinking, and divorce for many days, he only understands that she used to seem to accommodate him, even when she goes back to the apartment once a week, she will definitely be better than him. Get everything ready at home first.

Can he understand that she likes herself.

But the divorce was her initiative, and this question seemed unnecessary.

Miriam looked at him, the expression on her face slowly disappeared, her eyes gradually ridiculed, and she lowered her eyes and curled her lips for a long while, "Indeed, very well-behaved and obedient... I never trouble you."

Hugging Tian Tian on her lap, she lowered her face and said coldly, "Please don't disturb me eating."

How could she be disobedient? She loves him so much.

A four-year marriage was agreed. In the past three years, she has been living a countdown almost, and he is afraid that she will never realize the feeling of suffering every day.

She lowered her head to feed Tian Tian and did not look at the man's expression, only a few minutes later did she hear the sound of him leaving.

But not long after she looked up, she saw the man sitting down again with a meal, her face changed instantly, "Why didn't I find you so lingering before?"

The man smiled softly, "I haven't noticed that you are covered with thorns before. I just have a meal. You want to show your face to me?"

"You have to sit in front of me in so many places?"

The man glanced into the distance and said lightly: "I want to be quiet for a while."

Miriam subconsciously followed his gaze, Sophia was looking around with the dinner plate, as if looking for something.

She understood immediately, and suddenly curled her lips, “I also want to be quiet. However, she is your assistant, even if you put aside official duties, you men don’t all like that, um...”

She paused, organized her words, and said in a playful way: “...a woman with a big breast and no brain? Bringing out for entertainment should have a lot of effect.”

A video taken on the cruise ship suddenly sounded in her mind, and she sneered in her heart.

I really thought that she was a well-trained, talented and well-to-do daughter. At first, she was inexplicably inferior when she was dumped by a check. After a long time, she was despised by a foreign aid girl.

Bryan frowned, disliked the tone of her speech, and spoke in a low voice, “I have nothing to do with her. Let her be an assistant because she works very hard. As a boss, I will not deny the ability of subordinates.”

“...”

Miriam was startled.

He, he actually explained to her again?

Immediately, many complex emotions poured out in my heart.

She must have believed these words before the divorce. After all, women who fall in love are fools, but now... she still doesn’t know if she should believe it.

After recovering, she unnaturally lowered her head and gave a light cough, and forced to end the topic, “What does it have to do with me, and don’t talk about these messy things in front of the child.”

“ ... ”

The man is a little depressed, is it obviously the topic she brought up?

Seeing her proficient actions to feed the child, the depression in his heart became stronger, and he asked dully, “Do you like children very much?”

“Why don’t you like me giving birth to him?” She picked it up quickly, in a casual tone, but only she understood how much mockery in her tone.

The man didn’t ask any more.

Not long after, Sophia saw them and walked over, her expression a little ugly, “Miss Lu is here.”

Miriam ignored her.

The two of them had already torn their faces about the check last time, so why bother with these hypocrites, she didn’t feel in the mood to be in this hypocrisy with her.

A trace of embarrassment flashed across Sophia’s face, she gritted her teeth with hatred, and saw the child in her arms, and suddenly smiled and whispered, “Wow, such a cute child.”

When she changed her admiration, she stretched out her hand that was doing bright red nail art toward Tian Tian’s face.

Miriam’s eyes were slightly cold, she stood up holding Tian Tian suddenly, and said lightly to the man, “Thank you for the things that happened last night. I’m full, and I have something to do. I am out of company.”

After that, he left without looking at the woman from the beginning to the end.

Sophia was so angry that she didn't dare to show too much, she just put on an embarrassing appearance, looking at the man innocently and aggrievedly, "Brother Chen, I didn't provoke Miss Lu, right?"

The man looked at Miriam's back and said nothing.

The woman was a little unwilling, gritted her teeth, sat down, and said carefully: "Brother Chen, you, haven't you...divorced? Why are you..."

Always get involved with her.

Bryan's expression faded, he glanced at her, and said without any ups and downs: "My personal affairs are not in your scope of work."

The woman turned pale, "But Auntie..."

Before he finished speaking, he was interrupted by the man in a deep voice, "Don't talk about these messy things in front of her in the future, I will deal with my own affairs."

The woman was choked to death.

Bryan stopped looking at her, and stood up and left. The tall and slender figure was still eye-catching in the crowd.

Chapter 29

The next day, Miriam and Xiang Dongnan took a plane back to City Two.

Arrived home in the morning, rested for a long time, and went to the hospital with Lu Mu in the afternoon.

This time, Miriam's mood relaxed a lot, probably because she had figured out something, and since she wanted to keep the baby, she must keep herself in the best condition.

Lying on the instrument, she saw Mother Lu holding her hand tightly and couldn't help but smile, "Mom, why are you more nervous than me."

"Can I not be nervous? This is my grandson."

Miriam laughed.

The doctor took the instrument to examine her, couldn't help but smile, and asked casually: "Why didn't the child's father come?"

Miriam's smile remained unchanged, and she looked at her abdomen, which was already somewhat bulging, and said quietly, "He is on a business trip."

Mother Lu's eyes flushed suddenly, for fear that she would turn her face to the window and feel sore and painful in her heart.

The doctor nodded and didn't ask again, staring at the screen on the B-ultrasound instrument for a long time and suddenly smiled, "Congratulations, it's twins."

"..."

After a few seconds of silence, Miriam grabbed the doctor's hand suddenly and asked in surprise, "Twins? No, right?"

Doctor, "How can it be wrong if it is checked by the instrument?"

Miriam showed a happy smile on her face, holding Mother Lu's hand excitedly, "Mom, did you hear me? It's twins, I have two children in my stomach."

She couldn't believe it, a big smile appeared between her eyebrows, her lips curled up, and she was wrapped in happiness for a while.

Mother Lu was even more sad to see her like this.

Two children, as well as their two elderly people, her father is still in prison, this child has never thought about how to bear it alone in the future?

But she couldn't bear to hurt her heart, Mother Lu could only smile and gently stroke her head, "Well, I heard that, there are two darlings inside, you have to pay attention to it in the future."

"Hmm."

After listening to the doctor's instructions, Miriam finally remembered something and said to Lu Mu: "Mom, you go outside and wait a while."

Mother Lu nodded and walked out with the door.

The smile on Miriam's face disappeared, and she said seriously, "Doctor, can I trouble you with something?"

"Well, you said." The female doctor was very kind.

"You keep the information of each patient confidential, right?"

"of course."

Miriam chuckled, "That's good. If someone comes to investigate me and the child in my stomach, I hope you can keep a secret for me. I don't want to cause unnecessary trouble."

Bryan is such a shrewd person, she is not sure that he can trust her just by what she says. What if it is troublesome if someone sends someone to investigate?

Moreover, because of this, she has not gone to a public hospital, and has made an appointment with a private institution at a high price. Doctors provide one-to-one services, so the money cannot be spent in vain.

The female doctor immediately guessed whether she was a celebrity, and nodded quickly, "This is no problem. Our institution will absolutely guarantee the privacy of our customers."

Miriam grinned and gave her a standard smile.

It is worthy of being a private organization. Nima is not called a patient, but directly called a client.

After leaving the hospital, the smile on Miriam's face didn't disappear, and she felt very good at a glance.

Twins, can you be in a bad mood? Fortunately, I didn't shed it at the beginning, otherwise I would have to die of distress, two lives.

Mother Lu looked at her several times and stopped talking, but she was silent all the way, Miriam noticed something, and stopped at the door of a shopping mall halfway, looking at her, "Mom, what's wrong with you? How... it looks like Not happy at all?"

Mother Lu frowned and stared at her for a few seconds, before sighing heavily, "Miriam, you two children...what can you do in the future?"

Even if you want to get married in the future, any man is willing to raise her two children.

Miriam was taken aback, then smiled, hugged her gently, and said cleverly: “Mom, I know you are worried for me, but we can never avoid the emergence of difficulties. We can only find ways to solve them. Now, these two children are not difficult for me. They are treasures. I love them. No matter how painful and tired, I will raise them.”

At this moment, she was more satisfied than ever.

Mother Lu gently pushed her away, looked down at her lower abdomen, and said worriedly: “Then you quit your job. In the past few months, your mother will take care of you until they are born.”

Chapter 30

“You don’t need to resign, I just need to be careful. I still can’t see it now. I can’t conceal me before resigning.” Miriam shook her head without thinking and smiled to comfort her.

Now the family’s financial resources depend on her. She still owes so many foreign debts that she can’t quit her job. Even if she earns milk powder for her children, she has to go to work.

However, she didn’t say this, and didn’t want to put pressure on Mother Lu, otherwise she might sneak out to do hard work.

Mother Lu didn’t understand, and didn’t want her to worry too much, so she frowned and asked, “Then you can work for three months at most, and when you wait for six months, you must go home on vacation.”

“Yeah, I know, people will drive me away when I don’t go home.” Miriam snorted, thinking about how thick clothes she would have to wear if they hadn’t found out for six months.

Mother Lu had no choice but to look at her helplessly and distressed, “Go, go home.”

“Wait!” Miriam hugged her arm, looked up at the shopping mall next to her, and smiled, “Anyway, I won’t go to work in the afternoon, let’s go in and stroll around.”

It just so happened that she also wanted to see baby products.

Moreover, you have to buy two copies at a time.

I don’t know if it is a boy or a girl.

Thinking about it, she smiled in her heart again, full of expectations.

“Okay.” Mother Lu nodded with a fondly look on seeing her so happy.

...

At work the next day, Miriam picked a large dress and put on a thin windbreaker and flat shoes.

When standing in front of the full-length mirror, she was very grateful that their company did not require employees to wear formal attire, otherwise it would be miserable.

Yesterday I went to the mall and didn’t buy any of the children’s supplies. Instead, I bought a lot of clothes she used for arms, all of which were loose-fitting styles. Fortunately, she was petite and white, even if she was fat on the surface. It is not very obvious.

After finishing packing, she drove her black Volkswagen to the company.

“Sister Miriam, how about vacation? Have you had a good time in Japan?”

Once in the department, someone smiled and greeted her.

“Does that still need to be asked? You think her clothes should be newly bought, but...Sister, your clothes have changed a lot recently.” Someone looked at her around, shaking his head and teasing.

Miriam was startled, and deliberately made an expression of dissatisfaction on her face, “Are you complimenting or demeaning? Now I will give you another chance to choose, otherwise...the gift I brought back will not be yours.”

“Praise and praise...it’s definitely a praise, my little fairy daughter.” As soon as there was a gift, the subordinate laughed doglegally.

Miriam snorted proudly, put the boxes in her hands on the table, and then smiled and distributed them one by one.

“Manager Lu, Mr. Henry wants you to come.” Mr. Henry’s assistant Xiao Li poked his head from outside the door.

“Okay, I’ll go over immediately.”

She responded, and then looked at everyone, “Clean up, and turn around and put the work of the past few days in my office.”

After speaking, she went out.

President Office, Miriam knocked on the door and went in, “Henry, are you looking for me?”

“Well, how are you going out to relax these few days? Is it better?” Mr. Henry usually expressed condolences.

Miriam nodded, "It's a lot better, work is fine."

"That's good, has the money issue been resolved?" Mr. Henry asked again.

"It has been resolved." Miriam frowned, "You are looking for me... Is there anything wrong?"

President Henry took a sip from the cup, turned his head and looked at the more magnificent building opposite the window and said: "Long Teng is going to open a branch in City Two recently."

"..."

Miriam was startled. Did she hear that right?

Longteng has cooperation with their company, and it is located in City Two, so the contact must be frequent.

She didn't want to have anything to do with Bryan anymore, and she naturally sank after hearing the news.

"What are your plans?"

Mr. Henry looked at her, "Of course, we try to strive for more cooperation opportunities. After all, Longteng is the largest investment company in Jiangbei District. The headquarters value them very much, so we must seize the opportunity."

Miriam's expression was slightly confused and entangled, "But, President Henry, I'm a data analysis guy and I'm not good at negotiation."

She still wanted to refuse, although she had already refused once last time.

Putting aside Bryan, she is currently inconvenient and does not want to go out to work every day.

“I know you are unfamiliar, but your eloquence is very good and can help a lot.” As a shrewd person in the shopping mall, Henry always has his own way of training his subordinates. “It’s a little hard work, but you won’t be vain. It’s hard work, except for your own job, I will give you another salary for other arrangements.”

“...”

Miriam no longer knew what to refute.

This scheming man probably knew that she was short of money recently and wanted to squeeze her hard.

If it’s not pregnant, she would be happy to accept it, but she doesn’t want to risk it now.

“Well, I’ll be ready to go back.” I can only perfunctory first.

When she left, she remembered something and asked: “When will the people from Longteng arrive here?”

President Henry thought for a while and said, “Next month.”

“Well, I got it.”

I hope he won’t come here in person.

...

Jincheng, in the office of the president of Longteng.

“Brother Chen, your coffee.” Sophia walked in elaborately dressed.

“Ok.”

The man looked down at the document, only with a soft hmm, and at this moment, the phone next to him happened to ring.

Both of them subconsciously turned their heads and looked over.

Bryan saw the note, picked up the phone, and glanced at the woman, “You go out first.”

Sophia smiled obediently and nodded, then turned and left.

After the door was closed, the man pressed to answer, and said in a low voice, “Hello, how is it?”

“Nothing found.” A man’s voice came from the phone, with a very clean voice.

Bryan’s handsome face immediately sank, frowning, “Nothing was found? Did you go to the hospital?”

“What do you mean? The buddy has gone to the obstetrics and gynecology department not for his wife but for a man in his life.” The man cursed out there, and then asked playfully: “Are you sure she is pregnant your child?”

“If I’m sure, I’ll let you go and check it?” The man was polished by his nonsense, and frowned.”What information did you ask when you went to the hospital?”

“What can I find? The hospital’s privacy protection for customers is very strict. I didn’t ask anything. He couldn’t give money. I only said that I was pregnant with twins after betraying my hue.”
