

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 229– 230

Chapter 229

Bryan held her without moving for a long time. Miriam was pressed by his arm. Although it was not heavy, he was uncomfortable and couldn't help but move.

“Let's make up.”

Bryan buried her head in her shoulders and said something abruptly.

Miriam paused, then lay down again, staring at the ceiling in a daze.

Make up, now they look pretty good, don't have to face the past, no one else bothers.

But, did those no longer exist, or did they choose to ignore, Miriam dare not ask herself, can she really forget those three years?

Besides, until now, he hadn't heard what he wanted to hear.

Miriam cleared her throat and pushed the person on her body.

“I'm thirsty and want to drink water.”

This is a silent rejection.

Bryan stood up and poured water with a cold face.

She still didn't believe him.

After that day, there seemed to be another layer of yarn between the two of them. As usual, Bryan came to report every day, sending Miriam to work, but tacitly did not mention living together, let alone remarrying.

The two arrived at Shao's home early on the weekend, and Miriam also took special care to prepare a gift. She paused when she heard a burst of laughter before entering the door.

Mother Shao seldom smiled when she saw her: “Come in, it's not good for the child to stand too tired.”

Sophia's family were all sitting in the garden. When they looked at her, they sneered or ridiculed. Miriam felt that she was the last person to show up.

Bryan's eyes kept following the people around her. Seeing her face gradually paler and more reluctant to smile, she glanced at Mother Shao and said quietly, “Mom, Miriam is better to rest now. You have invited so many outsiders. Come, arguing is not good for the children, you guys get together today, we say goodbye.”

Shao’s mother was furious: “Stop!”

Bryan turned a deaf ear and led Miriam away.

Sophia hurriedly got up to catch up with Miriam, innocent and pitiful: “Miss Lu, I didn’t mean it. I thought there were a lot of people, but I didn’t expect to disturb you, or... For the sake of face, you stay a little longer, aunt she has indeed spent a lot of preparation.”

What this said, if she left now, would she not give Shao mother face? It was obviously Bryan who took her away, and now all the blame is on her.

Mother Shao rarely put down her body: “Stay a little longer, I have something to tell you, it’s not that easy to have a baby.”

Bryan did not frown, but said to her lazily: “Go away.”

Sophia felt humiliated no matter how thick-skinned she was, but there was really no other way but forbearance.

Miriam still chose to stay. Maybe she really wanted Shao’s approval from the bottom of her heart. She hadn’t done it in the past four years. She wondered if it would be different if she had a child.

After sitting down for a few minutes, I felt the atmosphere was a little weird. The Fu family was very attentive to Bryan, and by the way, they were also very kind to her.

“Bryan, knowing that Miss Lu is pregnant, I and Sophia’s mother specially prepared a small gift, which is to be congratulated in advance.”

Miriam glanced at it, and the good words of the Eight Great Masters were lost.

Bryan didn’t even bother to give alms to that priceless thing, so he opened the book to shade Miriam.

With a frivolous smile: “Where is Uncle Fu, the child hasn’t been born yet. What gift to give, I’m afraid Uncle’s energy is wrong.”

Mr. Fu’s face was red and green, and the atmosphere was not embarrassing or awkward.

Mother Shao came out to make a round and reached out and took the words: “It’s all a family, you are welcome. I like this word very much, and I accepted it for them.”

Miriam bowed her head and said nothing, Bryan looked at her dissatisfiedly: “Do you like it?”

Miriam was a little confused by the sudden question: "What?"

"Do you like that word?" The man asked patiently again.

Miriam didn't know how to answer, could you say that she would like it more if it was changed into money?

"Okay."

"The child's mother said it was okay, but she didn't like it that much. Mom, don't take it either." Bryan smiled sarcastically.

Shao's mother was very angry, and she held up her arms and shouted sternly: "Your Uncle Fu just wants you to help his company. As for this embarrassment? Now you have to help if you don't help!"

Bryan stared at Father Fu playfully. It took a long time to take a sip of water from the cup and faintly said: "Don't even talk about looking for my mother, I will not let go. As for the reason, you know better than me."

It is destined to be an unhappy gathering. Although Miriam is mentally prepared, she will inevitably be sad.

Bryan fastened her seat belt, kissed her on her red lips, and comforted her softly: "It's been four years, so I should get used to my mother."

Yes, four years.

If I give myself another chance, I will kill the feelings for him as I discussed it, and I won't be stumbling even today.

On the way back, passing by Wushan Square, Miriam remembered passing by the Lego store yesterday when picking up gifts for Shao's mother and bought one for Tian Tian, and put it in the car. Miriam asked Bryan to park and deliver the things by herself.

Bryan turned his eyes, and then said: "You are walking too slowly, let him come out to take it or I will send it over."

Miriam was short of breath, so he was so embarrassed to have someone come to pick it up as a gift.

When it comes to southeast, it smells like vinegar. What's wrong with this?

Miriam was too lazy to argue with him: "Then you send it over, I'll call him."

“You can send text messages, you don’t have to talk.” Bryan suggested without changing his face.

Miriam gritted her teeth, endured it, and edited a short and sharp text message in front of him.

There are gifts for Tian Tian, and they will come to your home now.

After Bryan finished reading, he shook off the phone, grabbed Miriam’s mouth and drove straight in, holding the back of her head to kiss her emotions, Miriam was a little dizzy when she stopped feeling still.

Staring at the phone to the southeast for half a minute, her expression was complicated. This was the first time that Tian Tian took the initiative to contact after she was injured. The last time she could not stay with Tian Tian...

He tightened his hands and woke Tian Tian who had just fallen asleep.

“Tian Tian, Aunt Lu is coming, do you want her to accompany you for a while?” He took her hand to the southeast, as gentle as ever.

The child nodded without hesitation, Miriam was the most favorite person besides her father.

Toward the southeast, he took the child to the bathroom, pushed her into the shower, turned on the cold water, and poured her head down.

The child subconsciously wanted to escape, but he ran into his father’s eyes and shrank back, his pure eyes were stained with fear.

When the bell rang, Xiang Southeast put the trembling Tian Tian on the sofa, and was taken aback for a moment when he opened the door.

Bryan stood at the door, staring at each other, and the eyes of the two were dimmed, and neither of them spoke. It was a contest.

Suddenly, he laughed, contemptuous, and unworthy.

“Where is Tian Tian?” He then sneered, “I guess it’s good, she should be sick and needs someone to take care of her. According to your assumptions, if it were Miriam, she would definitely not leave...”

Toward the southeast, the pupil shrank and looked at the man in front of him calmly: “What do you mean? I didn’t understand.”

Bryan turned around: "If you don't understand, forget it, just one sentence, don't make Miriam's idea again, otherwise...you can imagine the result."

Xiang Dongnan stood at the door, pinching blood out of his fingers.

He guessed that he was a powerful character, and a smile suddenly appeared at the corner of Southeastern's mouth. So what, he would not give up, no matter what method he used.

"Give it to him?" Miriam didn't expect him to come back so quickly.

Bryan said indifferently: "Could it be possible that you left it halfway?"

Miriam curled her lips and muttered in a low voice, "Then who knows..."

Bryan's eyes twitched, this woman really doesn't know what it is...

Bryan almost fell the phone when he was awakened by the ringing of the phone that night. Miriam intercepted and took a look at a string of unfamiliar numbers.

After answering the call, it was said that the police notified the family members of the detention at the Dongcheng District Police Station and asked them to go through the procedures as soon as possible.

The news reflected in Miriam's head for a while, and suddenly there was a sudden excitement, and the sleepiness was completely gone.

Bryan was so scared by her and woke up.

"They said I have family members detained." Miriam's voice trembled a little.

Chapter 230

Miriam has a deep fear of the word 'detention'. Lu's father was exhausted during the accident, and she would never forget it in her life.

Seeing her expression, Bryan felt an inexplicable pain in his heart. He stretched out his long hand, wrapped her in his arms, patted her behind his back, and said softly, "Don't be afraid, there is me."

The two packed up and rushed to the police station, where Lin Shui was already waiting.

Seeing Bryan, he immediately explained: "Mr. Shao, the detainee is not the Lu family, but a young man," and then turned his attention to Miriam, "Miss Lu should know."

Why didn't the Lu family call her?

Bryan was silent, and helped Miriam as he walked and asked, "What did you commit?"

"Fighting, fighting, it's not a big deal, but it's a bit of a background."

The man raised an eyebrow.

Lin Shui immediately replied: "Miller's cousin Gu Yan."

Miriam was really taken aback when she saw Mu Ming, and couldn't guess it would be him anyway.

Mu Ming's face was painted with color, and it was already half of the night to toss, his eyes were flushing, and he looked at Miriam like a poor puppy, evasive and afraid to look directly.

Talk to the police for a few words and find out the cause of the incident.

Mu Ming went to the bar with a few colleagues after work. Gu Yan was also there. When he met the little girl who was with Mu Ming, she was so beautiful. Gu Yan got used to being a playboy, so he went up and flirted, but was even worse when she was rejected. , Mu Ming couldn't stand it and fought him.

"You are really brave. The only solution to the problem is your fist?" Miriam couldn't help but blame him.

Mu Ming raised his head to refute, but he met Bryan's cold vision, and immediately lowered his head again, muttering, "I'm sorry."

Miriam didn't have the heart to continue saying that this child probably had to call out his number because he had no parents, and glanced at Bryan.

The man didn't seem to be very happy. He woke up in the middle of the night just for this kid... but in the end he nodded, otherwise Miriam would be willing.

Gu Yan was wrong first. Bryan arranged for him, even if he had a background, he would have nowhere to do it. If Miller is here, I am afraid that he will be punched twice when he goes up, and he will be beaten and scolded for losing the Gu family.

After half an hour, Mu Ming followed him and came out of the police station, frustrated like an eggplant beaten by frost.

"Get in the car, we will take you home." Miriam leaned back and talked to him.

Mu Ming looked at the luxury car a few steps away, his fists clenched, and his voice was tight and cold: "No, I'll take a taxi and go home."

Miriam frowned, thinking that he might be in a bad mood, and patiently said, "Where are you going to take a taxi early in the morning? Be obedient, get in the car quickly and go to work tomorrow."

Still standing still, the car in front of him seemed to sneer at him, and for a moment he wanted to rush over and smashed the car.

Bryan's patience is limited. Originally, Miriam's running around in the middle of the night for a man's third watch had made him extremely uncomfortable. He didn't even know what was good or bad.

Shen Sheng told Lin Shui: "Send him back, and if he refuses again, you don't have to worry about it."

After that, I tightened Miriam's clothes to protect her in the car.

Miriam sighed and gave Lin Shui her peace of mind, and before leaving, she told him to remember to apply medicine to the wound.

Mu Ming stared at the luxury car away, his eyes were stubborn, and at the same time a layer of shame appeared on him. None of this should have happened to him... Lin Shui glanced at him, and there was no waves in front of him and said: "Come up in three minutes. Otherwise I will leave."

Mu Ming's eyes were dark and intertwined, flashing and flashing, and followed his footsteps into the car.

He leaned back in the back seat, looked around the car, and looked at everything in front of him mockingly.

"Is this the car that Mr. Shao usually uses?" The corners of his mouth were slightly raised and his eyes were cold.

Lin Shui looked at him in the rearview mirror and replied for a long while: "No, it's my personal."

He is just a secretary. He really has the power and money to use such a good car. He can't help but sneer when he thinks of this, Miriam's face flashes in front of him.

He still has her.

Miriam couldn't help yawning all the time while sitting in the co-pilot. She stared at the neon lights outside the window, and said in a daze, "Mubaming is also a poor child. Without his parents, no one will care if something happens."

Bryan endured all night. She had never been so caring about her affairs. She actually had an overwhelming love for a little white face. Who wouldn't tell her pastoral name, she had to let her a pregnant woman go fishing for him in the middle of the night, using her toes to think and know the purpose. Not simple.

"There are too many people in the world without fathers and mothers, can you still be saved?" There was a hint of displeasure in his tone.

Miriam was sighing, not only did he have no sympathy, but he satirized her like this, even though he was very tired, he couldn't help but raise his voice.

"Your heart is made of iron?" raised his eyebrows and said stubbornly, "There are many people without fathers and mothers, but I only met Mu Ming. Since I am so predestined, I will help him."

Predestined... She actually felt destined to other men!

Does this woman not consider his feelings at all! Believe it or not, tomorrow he will let the one named Mu Ming disappear! I can't see how she can help!

"You don't think you have any fate with me, so you don't have to consider my feelings?!" Bryan's voice was like a layer of ice, and he couldn't help but increase the force of the accelerator under his feet, and his whole body was hostile.

Miriam felt inexplicable, her throat was blocked, and she couldn't help but vomit it out: "Even if you have fate, you are evil fate. You didn't want to see me, I didn't forget!"

The man is angry, why is this woman so obsessed with the past?

"We are now talking about the surname of Mu, don't let me see him looking for you again in the future." He saw the news before and didn't do anything because he thought Miriam didn't care about Mu's name, but it doesn't seem to be the case now.

Miriam was even more furious when he heard the threat in his tone: "Bryan, you are unreasonable! Why do you restrict me from interacting with others? Who are you?!"

The man stopped the car quickly. Miriam fell forward because of inertia, and was about to hit the front. He was pulled in time, and her lips that hadn't been put on powder were invaded by him.

Bryan drove straight in and took possession of it. Miriam was extremely angry, fisting and fighting, but he was firmly fixed in the corner, deceiving her to the ground, between his lips and teeth, a world of its own.

The warm hands hovered around her body, and when she touched the sensitive area, she couldn't help "sobbing" twice, and her face was stained with pink.

This kiss lasted for a long time. From the initial resistance to the end, Miriam had to soften, allowing him to cheer, even feeling teased.

When Bryan let go of her, her lips were already red and swollen, and Miriam glared at him with anger and a little lust.

But after the kiss, the man seemed to have forgotten that the two were quarreling just now, and he stroked her mouth with his thumb with a smile.

“Who is yours? I’ll know when I go back.” The magnetic voice was sexy.

Miriam gritted her teeth: “Asshole! I want to go home!”

Bryan kissed the corner of her mouth, sat upright, and smiled lazily: “Well, don’t worry, go home immediately.”

With a charming look at the corners of her eyes, Miriam knew what he was thinking without using her brain. Men are all lower-body animals!

“Not back to your house!”

The man squinted at her: “Are you sure you want to interrupt your mother’s rest at this point?”

Miriam was so angry that he was too lazy to say a word to him.

She suddenly thought of something and looked down at her bulging belly. There was a question in her heart for a long time, but she didn’t dare to ask every time.

Since he learned that he had a child, he has changed himself, especially recently, he has been obedient to himself in every way, even if he quarreled, it was just like before, if he was just for the child...

Miriam had a grudge in her heart, and when she got home, she talked coldly and didn’t want to talk more, and went straight into the room to lie on the bed.

In a few minutes, Bryan hugged her from behind, with lip prints on the back of her neck, Miriam rubbed against him to stop him, but those big hands hovered around her even more unscrupulously.

He knew her sensitive points best, and soon he was teased like a puddle of spring water and wiped out by him.
