

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 233– 234

Chapter 233

Shang Rui snorted and confronted Bryan. The confrontation between the two powerful men was like lightning and flint, and no one would give in.

Bryan glanced at Xiang Dongnan next to Miriam, and turned his head slightly: “What are you doing in a daze?”

Yan Ke nodded immediately and raised his foot to walk towards Miriam.

Shang Rui’s people are not vegetarian, and a few people stand in front of her.

Xiang Southeast pulled her behind to protect her. The room was too small, and once she started, she might be hurt.

Miriam said that she was not afraid of being fake, but she felt relieved inexplicably when Bryan was with her, turned around and whispered to Rania, “It will be fine, don’t be afraid.”

Rania’s eyes were sad and desperate. She knew that Shang Rui could no longer let her go today, and could no longer pull in irrelevant people.

Yan Ke never hesitated to Bryan’s orders, and he was about to start in the next second. Rania suddenly broke away from the two people around him and rushed to Yan Ke.

“President Shao! Are you afraid of Miriam’s injury when you do this?”

The man glanced at the situation in the room. Although Yan Ke said that he was good, he could not take care of Miriam at all, and Shang Rui would not let himself approach her.

“If she is injured, you won’t be much better!” His eyes were cold, beyond doubt.

This is for Shang Rui. If you can’t take Miriam away safely today, everyone should not have a better life!

Rania smiled miserably: “Can I be worse?” He closed his eyes and said to Shang Rui, his face as gray as death, but he refused to even look at him, “Let them go, I will follow you obediently, otherwise, I Won’t live out of this room!”

Shang Rui’s expression changed drastically, and his face was pale.

After a long while, he waved his hand, and the few people who stood in front of Miriam dispersed.

Bryan strode over and circled her in his arms, knowing that she was still reluctant to go, and said in a voice that only two people could hear: "Shang Rui cares about Rania, as long as she can take her away, it won't be much, otherwise She is the only one who is in trouble."

Bryan was right.

Miriam lowered her hand, as if she had lost her strength.

Looking southeast of the two people holding each other tightly, their expressions changed, and then they softly persuaded: "It is indeed the most suitable to leave now. Only the person concerned can solve the emotional matter. We can't help."

Bryan glanced at him quietly and sneered: "Thank you, Mr. Xiang."

After Miriam came out, she found that the house was full of well-trained people for a week, and looked at the man who was hugging her in surprise.

The man snorted coldly, "Do you think that fellow Shang Rui is a vegetarian? None of us can leave without bringing so many people."

Miriam was silent.

Before Bryan came, he was so angry that he would have to teach her a lesson when she saw her, but she could not bear to blame for her listless appearance with her head down.

Bryan said indifferently towards the southeast: "I'll let someone take you back, and I will thank you specifically the next day."

Miriam pulled his sleeves: "Let him go back with us, and Tian Tian will be with my parents."

The man was silent, and said coolly: "Then please Mr. Zhang to take the back car."

It means he wants to have a car with Miriam alone.

Faintly hooked the thin lips towards the southeast, nodded towards Miriam, and strode over.

Miriam frowned at Bryan's unreasonable dissatisfaction, "I was helped by others, why are you doing this?"

Jun's eyebrows sank, and he warmly said, "I have the ability to send you here but I can't protect you. I'm so kind to him."

Miriam couldn't get out of her anger in an instant, and asked him to help just now, but now she is still putting the blame on others!

Withdrawing from his embrace, and getting into the car with anger, Bryan was silent, and Qingjun's facial features were overwhelming.

What he can't bear most is that Miriam is angry with him for other men, especially Xiang Dongnan. This man is simple on the surface, but complicated in his mind. He has never given up on Miriam.

Lu's father, Lu's mother and Tian Tian were already waiting at home. When they came back, Miriam and Bryan looked bad and couldn't help worrying.

Xiang Dongnan took Tian Tian and left first. Miriam kept silent, and immediately closed the door when she returned to the room. Bryan's thin lips closed tightly and left after a short time.

When I went to work on Monday, I went to the company to hand in the shipment form for this month. As soon as I entered the hall, I saw Sophia walking toward her face proudly, holding a folder in her hand, and she immediately laughed strangely when she saw Miriam.

The farther away such a mad woman, the better, Miriam kept walking forward intently.

After passing by, Sophia stretched out her hand to stop her, as if watching a good show.

"Ms. Lu is really amazing. You have to take care of other family affairs," her eyes narrowed, and she was even more mean. "It's a pity, it was a shame to help, and the children are gone. Next time you see Shang Rui, remember to avoid it. There is no guarantee that he will not avenge his unborn child."

Miriam stiffened, her face pale instantly, and she grabbed Sophia's wrist and stared at her: "What are you talking about?! Why is Rania's child gone?!"

Sophia frowned because of a pain in her wrist, but she found that Miriam was so shocked, she smiled more brilliantly: "Achen didn't tell you? Yesterday Rania had a miscarriage before he went to the hospital. That's a misery!" I was afraid that Miriam would not be stimulated enough, and continued, "I heard that it was because of poor maintenance and I was stimulated again..."

Miriam felt the blood flowing back in her mind, her whole body was cold, and her hands holding the file could not stop shaking.

It's my own fault, I'm trying to help others, but I don't have that ability...

Sitting on the flowerbed outside the company, the morning sun was getting stronger and stronger, but Miriam didn't realize it, hoping that the physical pain would make her heart feel better.

In the opposite building, Bryan sat at his desk, closed his eyes and raised his forehead. The tightness of the corners of his mouth revealed his irritability at the moment.

The lunatic Shang Rui couldn't find the person who was sulking, so he had to blame Miriam. Now she doesn't know about it, if she knew...

Lin Shui glanced out the window and was stunned.

"President Shao, Miss Lu seems to be outside."

Bryan opened his eyes and went to the window, and saw that silly woman was motionless under the sun. I didn't know it would be easy to get heat stroke!

The man went downstairs without saying a word, strode towards the road, and pulled him up, his face full of anger.

"What are you doing?! Don't want to die? Can you take responsibility for yourself and your children?!"

These few times, she put herself in a dangerous situation regardless of whether she put the child in her eyes! The blue veins on Bryan's forehead bulged, and he firmly grasped Miriam's wrist.

The hand hurts, she frowns slightly, but doesn't struggle.

Bryan asked her to move her shoulders, as if she was choking. She was stunned, not to be angry, and raised her chin.

Miriam's face was full of tears, tears were on her long eyelashes, and she turned her head aside, not wanting to be seen.

The man was no longer willing to scold him, and asked in a deep voice, "What happened?"

Miriam was silent, and Bryan could only take her to the company first.

From the exclusive elevator in the Longteng lobby directly to the president's office, air-conditioning rushed to alleviate the heat in the whole body.

The man took a tissue and wiped her tears gently, and asked in a low voice, "What kind of skin did you cry like this?"

Miriam raised her face, reproaching herself and suffering: "Rania's child is gone. It is because of me that I helped her, but I hurt her..."

Bryan condensed his eyebrows and held her in his arms. She cried and made his heartache.

She patted her back lightly and coaxed: "It's not your responsibility. She was injured and ran out of the hospital before she was well taken care of. It was because of this that Shang Rui was so anxious to find her. Her child could not be kept."

Miriam shook her head in his arms: "No, I also helped her hide. How can she take care of herself after spending so many days alone..."

She was now full of self-blame, and couldn't hear anything, Bryan could only wait for her to be quiet before speaking.

Chapter 234

After a long time, she was tired of crying and was lying on the sofa in a daze.

"Are you hungry? Going to eat?" Bryan sat beside her with his arms around the sofa behind him.

Miriam's eyes were red, and she bit her lip: "I want to go to the hospital to see Rania."

Rania treats her as a friend and trusts her. Now is when she is most vulnerable, and she must go and see.

Bryan's expression tightened: "She just had a miscarriage, and now she needs a good rest. She must be more sad to see the baby while you are pregnant."

Miriam pinched the skirt of her skirt, her eyes wet again.

Anyway, she took her to the restaurant, ordered two bowls of light porridge, and put it down after a few mouthfuls.

Bryan called the waiter and ordered some desserts.

"No need to serve it, I don't want to eat it." She pursed her lips.

Bryan motioned the waiter to continue, and he got up.

Miriam felt a familiar breath around him, and the next second the man lifted her small chin with his fingers, his deep eyes staring at her tear-washed eyes, but there was some helplessness between her brows.

"Remember that you are pregnant with two children? Yesterday, I went on an adventure. I was exposed to the sun just now. Now I am not eating or drinking. Are you torturing yourself or me?"

Because she was too close, her low voice was mixed with a little dumb and sexy, and the smell of aftershave in the morning still remained, which lightly enveloped her.

Miriam swallowed, staring at him without knowing what to say, but the grievances in her heart grew thicker.

Bryan sighed faintly, not knowing what to do with her.

He picked up the porridge bowl again and deliberately said with a calm face: "Eat more, otherwise don't want to go back to work."

Miriam touched her stomach, realizing that she was a bit too much, and picked up the spoon again to drink slowly.

Sophia is in a particularly good mood today, and now only Miriam's woman is uncomfortable to get up happily!

During this period of time, the Fu family's business was severely hit. Bryan may be the driving force behind him, but why did he do this for no reason?

The one in the prison never stops. If he can't get out, the Fu family will not have a good life. Now when he gets home, Fu's mother urges her to quickly get Bryan done. If she has been with him for so long, it would be so easy. Wait till now?

Miriam's woman is pregnant with a child. Bryan treats her very differently. It is even harder to intervene in it. What qualifications does that political prisoner's daughter have...

Sophia itched her teeth bitterly and unconsciously turned to a person, a person with a common goal.

The injury on Mu Ming's face is still not completely healed. The female colleague who helped at the bar has been very enthusiastic about him recently. He has not refused, nor has he visited Miriam again.

He was dating when he received the text message, the movie theater, it was dark.

Someone wanted to move Miriam.

The calm expression moved slightly, after thinking about it, he replied a word.

Who?

Sophia raised the corner of her mouth, typed a place name, and made an appointment to meet there directly.

Mu Ming pressed her thin lips lightly, said to the woman beside her, and went straight out of the cinema.

In the corner of the coffee shop, the two face each other, Sophia drank coffee arbitrarily, Mu Ming's inky eyes flickering.

"Don't tell me? I'll leave without telling me." Mu Ming ran out of patience.

Sophia raised her eyebrows: "Shang Rui, her child is gone, she's sprinkling it out of anger."

This woman was too vicious, she wanted to use Shang Rui's hand to remove Miriam, Mu Ming's eyes moved, and she was worried.

The corners of the mouth were picked up slightly, so as to be free: "What are you going to do? Send her to Shang Rui?"

Sophia gritted her teeth and said bitterly: "Bryan sent Yan Ke to follow her all day long. I didn't have a chance to do it. Besides, she also guarded me."

I found him...

Mu Ming stood up without a second word, and Sophia was surprised: "You won't help me?"

"Wait for news." He picked up his jacket and walked out of the cafe.

Miriam was worrying about it for the next few days, and it was not a way to keep Rania's affairs in his heart. Yan Ke looked at herself so hard that she was about to become her exclusive bodyguard and driver.

When I arrived at the warehouse in the morning, I saw a bag of breakfast on the table. Sister Ming came and said that it was brought by a young man, with a bruise on her face.

Miriam knew who it was right away and called Mu Ming.

"Why do you do good things without leaving a name?" asked him with a smile.

Mu Ming smiled embarrassedly: "I haven't thank you for the last fight. I was a bit busy during this time, sorry, Sister Miriam."

Miriam pretended to be angry: "It is indeed a bit too much for not contacting me for so long."

Mu Ming was embarrassed: "Really? I...or I will invite you to dinner, you can choose any place."

She covered her mouth and smiled: "Forget it, you may not be able to eat what I am a pregnant woman, so let's talk about it later."

Mu Ming said silently, "I recently found a delicious dessert, how about I take you there after work?"

Miriam still refused, so she heard Mu Ming continue to say: "To be honest, I was really touched the last time you came in the middle of the night. I thought, if there really is a sister like you..."

Miriam's heart became sour, thinking for a moment that he was really pitiful, so he agreed that it would not take long for a dessert.

After get off work, I saw him waiting at the door with his hands in his pockets. Miriam couldn't help but smile because he was bored from time to time kicking the stones under his feet, still like a big boy.

Miriam asked Yan Ke to drive them, but Mu Ming pointed in the direction, saying that he was not far from here and would be there in a few minutes.

Yan Ke was about to get out of the car when he heard it. Mu Ming looked at Miriam suspiciously, seeing that he was going to follow.

Miriam was a little embarrassed, just let him stay in the car and wait.

But as always, he was expressionless and silently refused.

Although Miriam was unhappy, there was nothing he could do with Bryan's orders. He never violated Bryan's orders. He had never seen such a heartfelt bodyguard, so he could only let him go.

A beam of light flashed in Mu Ming's eyes.

The dessert shop is indeed not far away. Miriam has also been here. The taste cannot be said to be very good, but it is understandable that boys have never been interested in such things.

When I walked to the door, I found that there were too many people today. Mu Ming smiled like a big boy, and said happily: "Good luck today, catch up with the store activities!"

It turned out to shoot a balloon, and take away any cake you shoot.

Mu Ming went straight into the crowd without saying a word. It was inconvenient for Miriam to look around with her feet in her arms. From time to time, there were a few laughs inside, all of which were off-track.

Suddenly someone yelled, someone fainted! Fearing that the crowd would crowd out, Yan Ke quickly took Miriam aside.

It was a heart disease, and the people inside were shouting whether there was any medicine and someone who could first aid.

Miriam's heart moved, remembering that Yan Ke is a professional bodyguard, he must know this first aid knowledge, and turned to ask.

I saw his thick brows twisted together, hesitating: "My task is to protect you."

It's simply a scolding. At this time, there are tasks and tasks, and saving talents is the key!

Being pushed by Miriam to save people, Miriam still stood there waiting.

Yan Ke can be said to be quite professional. He used heart compression and artificial respiration, and it took a few minutes to have the effect. In addition, the ambulance came quickly, and people were rescued in all likelihood.

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief. After such a disturbance, they didn't want to play anymore, and they all broke up in twos and threes.

Mu Ming was the first to discover that Miriam was missing.

"Still standing here just now, disappeared in a blink of an eye!" Mu Ming walked around the surrounding shops.

Yan Ke's entire face was dark, and his whole body was hostile, staring at Mu Ming not loose.

"Will you go to the toilet? I asked the waiter to find it." He didn't care about Yan Ke's suspicious gaze, his face was anxious, and he went straight into the shop.

still none.

Yan Ke knew that he had made a big mistake, so he could only inform Bryan as soon as possible and let him find a way.

After hearing that, Bryan almost crushed the phone, and almost peeled Yan Ke alive.

Gritting his teeth and said: "Control the person surnamed Mu, and call out all the surrounding monitoring!"

Miriam woke up without any discomfort except for a little dizziness, lying on the bed, the surrounding area was dark.

I was kidnapped, this was the first thought that came to my mind.

Recalling the details of the time carefully, everyone was paying attention to the patient, including myself. They didn't even notice a car that was not listening properly. One person covered his face with ether from behind, and then... there was no more.

Miriam touched her belly, and checked her whole body again. There was no injury.

Lie down again, let your mind calm down, and rationalize your thoughts: if it's just money, it's easy to handle, if it's other...

I unconsciously remembered that pregnant women were abducted and trapped in remote places, and then gave birth to a child to be a wife...
