

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 253– 254

Chapter 253

When Mother Lu came out of the kitchen carrying the food, she didn't see Xiang Dongnan and asked something.

"He has gone down to get something, and will come up right away." Miriam answered eagerly, laughing carefully.

Mother Lu glanced at her, but finally couldn't help it, then laughed, and groaned: "It's going to be dinner right away, go and ask your dad to come out for dinner."

Bryan got up and said with a smile: "I'll push Dad out."

When all the food was served, Xiang Dongnan had not returned. Half an hour had passed. Miriam called him but no one answered.

"Where did you go?" Lu Mu asked with the tableware.

Miriam frowned, did not answer, looked at Bryan.

He also closed his smile, took his coat, and said gently: "I'll go down and have a look, Mom and Dad, wait a moment."

"I'll be with you." Miriam also followed. She had already started to change her shoes while she was talking. Seeing that Lu's father and Lu's mother didn't say anything, Bryan followed her.

"Wear one more." Seeing that she was wearing only a thin short sleeve, she took a thin sweater from the sofa and put it on her.

When Bryan took out his cell phone and called Lin Shui in the elevator, no one answered him, his face sinking.

There would be no such coincidence that the two did not answer the phone at the same time.

Miriam was silent, and the man moved closer to her, with a gentle voice, "Lin Shui has always been careful in doing things, and nothing will happen."

She didn't want to think too much, and nodded gently in response.

But before I got to the garage, I was shocked, the heavy sound of fists hitting my body and the painful humming could be heard far away.

After speeding up his pace, Bryan's face was cold, and when he turned a turn, he saw the two scrambling together. The white shirt was pressed down to the southeast, and he was obviously under the wind. He was beaten several times, making Lin Shui even more red. eye.

Miriam exclaimed, he was about to go over, and was pulled by Bryan, with a cold face and said, "Wait here, I will go over."

After speaking, he turned around and called out 'Lin Shui' coldly.

Lin Shui's raised hand paused, and he was punched southeast in this gap, and then he continued the action just now.

Bryan had already arrived, pulled Lin Shui up and punched it down.

Miriam was already frightened, but when he saw him, she couldn't help but change her voice: "Bryan!"

Lin Shui seemed to have been woken up by this punch, and calmed his mind. After a long while, he called out 'Mr Shao' in a deep voice.

Miriam saw that Xiang Dongnan was still lying on the ground, and hurried to trot over. Seeing that his face had no good spots, the corners of his mouth were bleeding a lot, and her voice trembled in fear.

"How are you?" He immediately raised his head and said to Bryan, "Call an ambulance!"

Bryan's eyes were heavy and did not respond.

Before he could call an ambulance, he knew best about the fights between men.

He raised his hand to the southeast, pulled the corner of her clothes, and even grinned, the scarlet in her mouth made her stomach roll for a while, and she endured it.

"I'm fine, don't worry." Gasping for breath.

Miriam hadn't seen this battle yet, but anyway he suffered such a serious injury, he would definitely need to be treated.

Before pressing the button in a hurry, the phone was taken away from behind.

Turning around abruptly, Bryan looked down at her condescendingly, with complex eyes, as if experiencing an overwhelming wind, his lips closed tightly.

"What are you doing?" Miriam constricted her eyebrows, not understanding what he meant.

Lin Shui limply approached, the pain made him unable to breathe in, frowning.

“Miss Lu, if you go to the hospital, you will definitely alarm the police. I am President Shao’s personal secretary, and it will definitely have a negative impact on the company...”

Bryan’s cold voice dropped to zero: “Who made you talk more?”

Lin Shui trembled, and immediately shut up obediently, and took two steps back.

Miriam’s eyes were also frosted, and she asked with a sneer: “Is the person important or the company important? You are not injured, waiting for you to heal?”

Lin Shui opened his mouth to say that Shao always has the best personal doctor, but he didn’t say anything under pressure.

It’s really rare for her to look so nervous, at least she hasn’t made her feel so gaffe before.

The man suppressed his anger and said blankly: “I will find someone to heal them. Don’t worry, I will be responsible for any accidents.”

He told her not to worry about Mu Ming, and now he doesn’t let her worry, but he forgot that he has an inescapable responsibility for everything, and he has a constant relationship with her, if it weren’t for him tonight How can this scene happen carefully?

With a muffled snort towards the southeast, Miriam slowly rose up while supporting the ground with her elbow, and Miriam reached out to help.

“It’s just a fight. It’s not serious enough to go to the hospital. It will be fine in a few days.” Softly comforted her, wiped the corners of her mouth, and said to Bryan, “Mr. Shao, I believe he will be more detailed about what happened tonight. Tell you, if I did something wrong, just come to me.”

After finishing speaking, he used his long legs and stood up slowly.

Lin Shui opened his mouth for a theory, but was blocked by Bryan’s eyes as soon as he spoke.

The man curled his mouth, his smile didn’t reach the bottom of his eyes: “Don’t worry, Mr. Xiang, if he is really wrong, I won’t protect him.” His eyes turned to Miriam, their hands were stacked together, and their voices became colder. I will arrange for a doctor to treat me in the past, and I will be accompanied by a caregiver for a while. Regardless of the reason, it is considered disadvantageous for me to discipline my subordinates.”

“Mr. Shao don’t bother, this injury is nothing,” nodded slightly, “I will leave first.”

Miriam’s face was solemn.

“I’ll take you back and buy some medicine by the way,” thought of Tian Tian, and said again, “Tian Tian will let my house be in these two days, otherwise I will scare and cry when I see you like this.”

“Miriam.” Bryan faintly called her, and in the calm is the violent storm about to set off.

Miriam turned around, eyes full of sarcasm.

“I care about taking care of my friends. I still have this little freedom,” he said silently, turning around, turning his back to him, “Also, we are divorced now, so don’t forget.”

Seeing the two walk away, Bryan became calmer and calmer, so calm that Lin Shui didn’t dare to move.

After a long while, he turned around and glanced at him lightly: “Can you go by yourself?”

Nodding his head repeatedly, this injury is nothing, besides, I don’t have the guts to let him help...

Lu’s father and Lu’s mother were still waiting upstairs. Miriam called them and sent them home southeast.

Bryan went up, did not see Miriam, calmed the two old people, and took Lin Shui back to the company.

In the lounge on the top floor, the doctor gave Lin Shui medicine, and the man sat opposite, his hands folded, his eyes staring at one place, deep and unfathomable.

“Mr. Shao...” He hesitated for a long time before speaking, knowing that this man would have left if he didn’t want to hear the reason for the fight.

He raised his eyes: “Say.”

“I went directly to the garage when I got to the community. I saw your trunk open from a distance. I thought it was you, so I didn’t think much about it. But when I got closer, I found no one. I opened the door and I saw Xiang Southeast sitting in the driver’s seat, I immediately became alert and asked him what he was doing, but he didn’t say anything, and then he started fighting after pulling and pulling.” Lin Shui was also at a loss in retrospect.

The man’s expression was normal, and he sat for two more minutes and got up.

“One week of paid vacation. In addition, I will ask Finance to compensate you and take care of your injuries.” After speaking, he took a long leg and left.

Chapter 254

Miriam helped Xiang Dongnan to the opposite community.

“Wait here, I’ll buy some medicine for bruises and swelling, and go back for checkups. If it is serious, I still have to go to the hospital.” Miriam helped him sit downstairs first, and he was about to leave.

He clutched his stomach to the southeast and sucked in cold air. The usual gentleness was swept away by the blood on his body and face, and his facial features were a little charming with a smile.

“It’s all skin and flesh injuries. We have medicine at my house. Let’s go back first.” The voice turned, half jokingly, “Hurry up and tidy up my body, otherwise you will look like a ghost every time you look at me, and my heart still accepts No more.”

Miriam was stunned, and couldn’t help but smile wryly: “It seems that the injury is not that serious, and I still want to make a joke.”

He closed his smile, his quiet face was faint, and his eyes lowered slightly: “You can get beaten with a dish, sorry.”

His smile remained unchanged to the southeast, his long legs stretched out, and he touched the corners of his mouth, grinning in pain.

The tone was very relaxed: “It has nothing to do with you. Don’t blame yourself. Lin Shui may see that I drove Mr. Shao’s car door. He suspected that I had other purposes. I started fighting if I didn’t communicate well. There was no malice at all. It’s good to move your muscles and bones.”

Miriam said nothing, her expression condensed.

Xiang Dongnan’s brows were soft, and the tone was lowered: “You were worried about me just now? You almost cried.”

Miriam’s hands were stagnant, her eyes moved slightly, avoiding his direct gaze, blinking and jokingly said: “Anyone will be frightened, not to mention that I have not seen a fight yet. Today you took the initiative to sacrifice and let me see it once. That is touching.”

The man smiled at the corners of his mouth, his eyes were deep, he snorted twice, Chang Jie concealed some emotions.

“Tian Tian can’t see the two of us at my house. I will be anxious after a long time. I will help you up and get the medicine, so I can go back as soon as possible.

He stretched out his hand to help the man’s arm, but was grabbed by the hand and paused, but seeing that his expression was calm, as if he hadn’t paid attention at all, he didn’t say anything.

When he got home, he found the medicine box and waited in the living room. He went to clean the wound by himself.

When I came out to the southeast, I saw her cross-legged on the carpet in a daze, her small face was quiet, and the whole person was immersed in her own world.

“What are you thinking?”

After washing his hair and changing clothes, the wound on his face was shocking.

Miriam returned to his senses, looked at him, lowered her head to take something from the medicine box, and forgot to answer him.

“I took a look, your medicine is quite complete, it’s enough for dermal damage, right, is there any serious injury on your body?” asked him when he looked up.

Condescending to the southeast, and she is petite, which makes her look weaker.

Softly returned to her: “No.”

“Well, sit down and I will give you medicine.” Fu looked down at the instructions again.

Facing her to the southeast, she sat down with a serious face, her hair hanging down between her ears, she reached out and dialed for her.

Miriam’s body stagnated, without raising her head, her face changed, her voice still clear: “There is a spray, it is more convenient to use, you try.”

Put it in front of him.

“You don’t apply medicine for me? The better one is faster.”

Miriam looked a little ugly, raised her head to meet his gaze, and said calmly: “Brother, we are all adults, we are not ignorant of that. If you keep doing this, I can’t ignore it.” After speaking, she stood up and said. After arranging the cardigan, he said again, “I will take Tian Tian to class these days. Please take a few days off and take a good rest at home. I will go back first.”

Staring southeast of the medicine in front of him did not move, his eyes dimmed.

“I see,” the voice was still soft, “Be careful on the road.”

Miriam was worried and walked slowly.

When he swiped his card in the elevator downstairs, he was shocked and turned his head to see Bryan walking out of the backlit corner.

Miriam caressed her chest, angrily said, “You stood there to be a fool at night?!”

The man was expressionless, his eyes were heavy, with a sneer on his lips.

“Normal people can see me at a glance, but you don’t blink your eyes when you are thinking about things, and blame me?”

Miriam closed her eyes and tossed all night. She didn’t eat dinner. She really didn’t have the energy to continue arguing with him, and opened the door to enter the elevator.

The card in his hand was suddenly taken away, and he was pressed to the corner just now by the man before he had time to exclaim. The noses of the two were facing each other, and they breathed a small space of air together, all the smell of each other.

The man’s eyes were deep, he suddenly smiled and asked softly: “How is Mr. Xiang?”

Miriam was oppressed, but he was very calm. She also smiled, her expression as usual: “The wound is cleaned and the medicine is on, it’s good.”

The corners of the man’s mouth were cold, and he said for a while: “But I’m not good.”

In the next second, her thin lips were covered, invading like a violent storm, tossing and turning, as if to eat her.

Miriam was forced to accept, her lips and teeth collided, a bloody smell spread, and she frowned.

The man paused, his movements were lighter, the tip of his tongue stroked the wound, with the utmost gentleness, Miriam couldn’t help shaking.

As he went to the back, his complexion was crimson, his whole body was softened by the kiss, and his waist was supported to stand firm.

The man’s long eyes are covered with a layer of charm, and when he looks at her, he is blurred again, and his lust is undoubtedly revealed.

Miriam resisted and pushed him: “Stop making trouble.”

Unexpectedly, he murmured in her ears, “Let’s go upstairs.”

With a dumb tone and patience, Miriam was hugged into the elevator before he reacted quickly.

“You...I want to go home!” I tried my best to resist, and I would not be able to clean up if this continues.

The man even smiled faintly: “How do you go home when I’m like this?”

Miriam burned all over, gritted her teeth and said, “You bastard!”

Bryan determined to look at her for two seconds, and admitted with a smirk: "You said yes," he leaned in and k!ssed.

After it was over, Miriam stared at the ceiling with clear eyes.

"Should I take you to the bath?" He k!ssed the corner of her mouth.

Miriam blinked, rolled over and turned her back to him: "No, I will go by myself later."

He was soon heard getting out of bed, and the patter of water came from the bathroom.

He closed his eyes, his eyes were tired, and the corners of his mouth were bitter.
