

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 255– 256

Chapter 255

When Bryan came out, seeing that she was already dressed and opened the door to go out, he was slightly startled, and then he reacted and said lightly, “I will send you back.”

“No, you go to sleep.” The bedroom door closed in response.

The man’s slightly relieved face was pulled down again.

Miriam stood at the door, biting her lower lip in annoyance.

After returning home, Tian Tian was coaxed to sleep by Mother Lu. She went in and took a look. The little man was lying on the big bed, sleeping very peacefully.

Mother Lu took the rice out of the thermos and called her: “Come and eat.”

Seeing her posture, Miriam must ask clearly what happened, unavoidably numb her scalp, dailing, thinking about what to say.

“Where’s Dad? Asleep?”

“Well,” Mother Lu answered casually, staring at her and asked, “Did they two fight because of you?”

Miriam took a sip of the porridge and frowned, “It’s just a little misunderstanding, why is it because of me?”

Mother Lu seemed to believe it, and her well-maintained face was rarely so serious, and her voice was not softer than usual: “Miriam, mom can see clearly from the side, Bryan wants to redeem your marriage with him, and what he did during this time is true. Yes, if you think it works, there is no need for your child to recognize an outsider as a father.”

Miriam constricted her eyebrows without saying a word, stirred the porridge, and suddenly lost her appetite.

“I know it in my heart.”

“You didn’t count! Xiang Dongnan really has a heart for you, but after all, he also has a child. It is impossible to put all of his life on your mother and child, let alone a twin?”

When Mother Lu finished speaking, when she saw that she hadn’t eaten a few bites, she couldn’t bear to continue talking, adding green vegetables and putting it in her bowl.

Miriam stared at the bowl, motionless.

Bryan said the same thing to her, and going southeast is not the best choice.

indeed.

But does she want to find someone with a child to be her husband while pregnant?

Eyelashes drooped, concealed emotions, and muffled: "Mom, you never thought that he did all this only for children? We were together for three years and he didn't fall in love with me. When I had a baby, he would changed?"

He paused, raised his eyes, and said unwillingly: "If it was because of the child, I would never get back together."

Mother Lu hadn't thought about it, but from the perspective of her parents, life is ultimately greater than love.

He sighed and said no more, just reminded: "It's up to you about your feelings, it's just the two of them..."

"I have already refused to go southeast, your daughter is still worried about doing things?" Miriam smiled bitterly.

Mother Lu smiled: "Don't worry, eat quickly."

Tian Tian woke up early in the morning and rushed to the southeast. Miriam put her arms around her and explained, "Dad went on a business trip. How about Tian Tian staying with aunt for the past two days?"

There were several previous business trips, and Tian Tian accepted it in the blink of an eye.

Seeing that she was cute and cute, Miriam couldn't help but kiss her: "Hurry up and brush your teeth to eat. Auntie will take you to class later."

Bryan came during the meal, and Mother Lu asked him to sit down and have a meal.

He took off his coat and sat next to Miriam, a smell of aftershave.

The man tilted his head and said, "I will send her to class. If you don't worry about following, I will send you back there."

Miriam refused without thinking, "No, it's too much trouble. Let's take a taxi."

Lu's mother poured a cup of soy milk for Bryan, glanced at her daughter, and said, "Bryan doesn't bother you to trouble you? Just let him."

The man smiled: "Thank you mom."

Miriam couldn't help but slander, her own mother had too obvious assists.

Settling Tian Tian in the hobby class, Miriam suddenly said before getting on the bus: "I won't go back, I'll go to Yingxin with you."

The man raised his eyebrows.

Mu Ming was still in his original position, and he was arranged to go back because he could watch under his nose. As long as he didn't have too much contact with Miriam, he could slowly find loopholes in him.

The first reaction was to see Mu Ming. I am afraid that she was not at ease the last time the two agreed.

Miriam was immediately unhappy when he saw him, she saw it through at a glance, and said with an air of anger, "I'm going to find Mr. Henry. I still have to figure out the fact that I was forced to resign. Just like this, I can't swallow the breath of being murdered by some villain. I'm also sorry for the results of the hard work in the past few years."

After that, he did investigate it. It was easy to find out from the source of the photos from the publishing house, but in the end he was just an entertainment gossip reporter, because he only paid attention to Miriam, but it is unclear that the incident was for the reporter. There is no benefit.

So many things happened some time ago and the problem was temporarily put aside, she reminded herself now.

But before he could speak, Miriam refused without hesitation: "Don't tell me, "Don't worry, I'll solve it". In the past few years, I lived well without you taking care of it. After all, this is my own. Life, you can't rely on you every day, if one day you are upset and don't want to play with me, wouldn't it hurt me?"

After speaking, he got into the car and didn't give him a chance to speak.

The man stood in place, his expression faint, no emotions.

Seeing that he was not moving, Miriam knocked on the car window and motioned him to hurry up.

...

Arriving downstairs in Yingxin, Miriam got off the car, and Bryan watched her in and called Mr. Henry.

"Miriam will ask you about the photo later. Although it has nothing to do with you, she should want you to provide her with some contacts." Bryan is straightforward.

President Henry saw him calling in the morning and thought it was a business matter. After hearing this, it took a long time to react.

“What does Shao want me to do?” asked with a polite smile.

Miriam took the employee elevator. It was at the peak of the morning to go to work. Every elevator was crowded. She finally waited until there was a little more space and hurried up.

Many of my former colleagues in the elevator were surprised to see her coming to Yingxin with a big belly. Then they thought of the reason for her resignation, and their eyes became ambiguous.

“Miriam? It’s been a long time since I saw you have changed so much... I almost didn’t recognize it.” Zheng Yun’s sarcasm and sharp voice suddenly sounded.

Miriam smiled slightly and turned around slowly. Seeing her looking up and down at her, she was gloating and not angry.

“Manager Zheng, don’t come here unharmed.”

“You...” Zheng Yun pointed at her belly and opened her eyes wide. “Are all the news true? Who are you with?”

As soon as this was said, everyone couldn’t bear to stare at her curiously, either contemptuously, or knowingly, and some even laughed.

Miriam’s hands trembled, but she tried her best to keep calm on her face.

Never let her opponents control her emotions. This is the motto she has followed closely in the workplace for so many years.

The corners of the eyes are slightly raised, the corners of the mouth are smiling, the eyes are bright, and the face is full of spring breeze.

She knows how awkward her expression is, so she doesn’t use it frequently.

But it is most suitable now.

“Is it really something to care about? Since I’m dealing with them, I’m not afraid of being known. Some people are pure on the surface like lotus flowers, and they speak loudly behind their backs. They are not jealous? I think Manager Zheng is definitely not like that. People, right?” Miriam blinked and stared at her innocently.

How could she not know how many bad things she said to herself secretly, in front of so many people, she just wanted to pierce her.

Chapter 256

The people in the elevator are watching the show.

Zheng Yun's face turned pale and red, and gritted her teeth and asked her: "Miriam, you have left your job. Why are you coming to Yingxin to raise a baby at home?"

Miriam glanced at her carelessly. Now the company's business is probably controlled by her. What she fears most is to come back by herself.

The corners of the mouth smile deeper, and the more she is afraid of something, she wants to scare her.

"Naturally, I asked Mr. Henry to talk about my return to work. It is too boring to raise a baby at home, so I should come back and work for another two months to share the worries for Manager Zheng."

As soon as the voice fell, the elevator stopped with a "ding", and Shi Shiran came out without forgetting to turn around and add: "Wait for me."

Zheng Yun's face disappeared in the elevator.

This is enough for her to eat for two days.

Miriam smiled and was in a good mood.

Knocked twice on the door of the president's office and listened with a vertical ear. No one answered. I planned to knock again in a few seconds.

Unexpectedly, the door was opened from the inside soon, and it turned out to be President Henry.

Miriam immediately smiled apologetically: "Mr. Henry, I'm sorry to bother you again..."

"Come in and talk." President Henry interrupted him, smiling.

Miriam was stunned, thinking that he would be quite unwelcome. Although Bryan was there last time, he did not show any dissatisfaction, but after all, he brought a lot of negative impact on the company. The employees just saw that they didn't. How kind.

"You are pregnant, sit down and talk." Henry always pointed to the sofa and poured her a glass of water.

Miriam was grateful for a while, and never did it for nothing.

“A few months?” Henry always smiled and asked her.

Miriam stroked her lower abdomen and smiled: “Five months.”

“Well,” said half-jokingly, “it seems that resignation is not all a bad thing, just to raise a baby at home.”

Miriam lowered her head and pursed her lips and smiled, then raised her head with complicated expression.

“Mr. Henry, I know how much loss my business has caused you. I am embarrassed to come again, but I am a strong person, and I am not reconciled if I don’t find the person behind the bad guys,” hesitated, said again, “I want you to help me find the magazines that reported on me and ask where the photos came from. Yingxin, as the victim in the middle, is most understandable.”

President Henry sat back at his desk and smiled: “It’s been so long, how do you know that I am willing to ask about it again?”

Miriam was stunned and blinked.

Before coming, she thought about it for a long time, but the first one who had the ability to contact those magazines was Bryan.

It is impossible for me to rely on him for everything. I still have to say whether I can be together in the future, and I can’t lose the ability to protect myself when I leave in the future. Even thinking about this, there was still a trace of pain in my heart.

Then there is Shang Rui. Going to find him is simply a snare.

“I’m here to try. If Mr. Henry is embarrassed, I will think of other ways,” Miriam told the truth.

Seeing Mr. Henry holding his cheek in thought, Miriam thought for a while, and said: “I only need Mr. Henry to find the source of the film for me, and I will take care of the other things myself.”

The implication is that it won’t bother him too much.

President Henry smiled and nodded: “No problem.”

Miriam didn’t expect that he would agree so happily, but when he left his job, he was really angry.

“It was really helpless to let you leave at the beginning. I’ve always felt guilty. I can help now.”

These words were beautiful, and Miriam was convinced that being the boss of a company was indeed amazing.

“I contacted the magazine in the past two days and let you know if there is news.”

Miriam smiled and stood up: “Okay, then I won’t interrupt your work.”

Picking up the bag, suddenly thought of something, then turned around and asked: “How is Mu Ming in the company?”

President Henry took a deep look at her and paused for a few seconds before he smiled and said: “It’s all good, work hard, life goes smoothly, that kid has a full head, but...” His brows were raised, “According to my experience in seeing people for so many years, This child may not be as simple as it seems.”

Miriam squinted her eyes, not quite understand why he said that.

Henry always felt that he had said too much, and then sleekly said: “This is all my personal feeling, but since Mr. Shao can call me specifically to receive him, he must be unique.”

Miriam nodded slightly, and said nothing, leaving the president’s office.

...

Sophia did not see Bryan at the CEO level, and came down again.

Seeing a few young girls chatting by the French windows.

“What are you looking for if you don’t work here?” Sophia walked over and scolded her proudly.

Several people curled their mouths and dispersed, whispering, rather unconvinced.

Looking through the glass, Bryan’s car was parked downstairs in Yingxin. He turned and asked one of the girls just now: “Why is Mr. Shao’s car parked over there?”

The girl glanced at her and didn’t want to say it, but she thought of the scene just now, just to kill this domineering woman.

“It should be to send his wife to work. I saw the president’s wife getting off the car just now.”

Sophia glared at her immediately, her face twisted and her voice sharp: “What is the president’s wife?! He is divorced! Don’t let me hear these words again!”

He glanced out the window again and stepped out on high heels.

“I was originally the wife of the president. If she is divorced, Mr. Shao can give it away personally. It shows that she is the righteous person. What qualifications does she have to chatter...” The girl felt aggrieved and turned to bite her ears with the little sister.

“Don’t be angry, please see if Mr. Shao can look at her more every day.”

Bryan called when Miriam came downstairs.

Can’t help but slander, this person really picks time...

“Done?” The man’s expression and voice were faint, sitting in the first seat of the conference room, and he spoke to himself regardless of so many subordinates watching.

Miriam squeezed out ‘um’ from her nose.

The man didn’t care about her indifference, he glanced at the projector behind him, and it was almost over.

“You wait a few minutes downstairs, and I will send you back after the meeting,” I was about to hang up, and remembered something, “It’s hot outside, wait inside.”

Before Miriam could answer, she hung up.

Staring at the phone, he was stunned, and the elevator stopped.

When I came out of Yingxin, the outside temperature had already risen, I squinted my eyes, thought about it, and wanted to go back to wait in the lobby, but there were too many people in the lobby, and they all knew each other.

Can only go to the opposite side quickly.

The front desk already knew her, and enthusiastically asked her to wait in the VIP room. Miriam smiled and refused.

He has always been punctual, saying that waiting a few minutes is a few minutes, no need to trouble.

The lobby waiting area opened to the elevator facing you. Miriam glanced casually, and immediately stopped the girl at the front desk: “Let’s go to the VIP room.”

The girl at the front desk was taken aback and immediately laughed. It is her honor to serve the president’s wife.

“Go here, be careful.”

Miriam turned around, hoping that the woman hadn't seen herself, and didn't want to wait a few minutes to make her stomach angry again.

But she didn't know that Sophia was here for her, how could she miss such an opportunity.

"Miriam!"

Miriam stopped and couldn't help cursing in a low voice. The girl at the front desk heard it and looked at her in surprise.

With a slight smile, he said to the girl: "Someone is looking for me, so please go ahead."
