

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 265– 266

Chapter 265

The man glanced at it and put it back: “This can reduce the swelling by massaging your legs before going to bed at night.”

“Then don’t need this. I usually use that pillow very well.” Picked out another one.

The man put it back unhurriedly: “This material is special and more comfortable.”

Standing by and watching him continue to communicate with the clerk, he couldn’t even put his mouth in.

The two finally came out empty-handed, and because they had bought too many things, they delivered them home directly.

He only picked a few clothes for the child, and he said he was not in a hurry, and he would pick again later.

The string in my heart loosened again.

He is so easy to move himself, more like a puppet, just a few movements and words can make her bury all grievances and dissatisfaction.

But he was unable to resist.

On the surface it seems that he is constantly insisting on the two people’s involvement, but in fact...heh, if he is willing to really let go, he won’t be entangled forever.

Kristy called two days later to inform them that they had set a wedding time, two months later.

“Well,” Miriam smiled, “I wish you happiness.”

Kristy looked indifferent: “Fortunately, I’ll talk about it later, it’s a big deal, divorce.”

After a pause, I suddenly felt that something was not right, and changed the topic: “The number you asked me to check. The last user was a lady named Song, do you know?”

Miriam was slightly startled: “Song what?”

“Rania.”

Seeing that there was no sound on the other end of the phone, Kristy felt something was wrong: “Who is this person? Don’t really be Bryan’s little lover...”

Miriam also reacted for a few minutes, and Rania's face passed through her mind several times.

"No, a friend, nothing else," said lightly, "tell me when the specific wedding date is set, and pack a red envelope that will satisfy you."

Kristy didn't want to talk anymore, and said with a smile: "That's for sure, but don't forget your sisters if you have anything to do, saying that I love you more deeply than Mr. Shao."

Miriam was amused by her and hung up the phone.

Rania.

Can't help but laugh.

After he was forced to resign, he could still pretend to come to her for help.

Miriam lay on the sofa and blinked. It didn't feel good. Although she was accustomed to using sharp knives and dark arrows in the workplace, she could be regarded as betrayal.

I turned through the phone's address book and called Rania. It is her style to solve the problem, and we must ask clearly about it.

"Miriam?" The voice on the other end was slightly surprised.

Expressionlessly said: "It's me, do you have time? Let's meet."

There was a pause, and he even laughed twice: "Did not Mr. Shao tell you? It is not easy to see me, so I have to let Mr. Shang say something."

Miriam didn't understand what she meant, but listening to the tone of the words, she was very unhappy.

"Shang Rui?" After a pause, condensed his eyebrows, "I know the last time you went back..."

The following words are self-evident.

"Yes, I had a miscarriage, and then I was trapped by him at home, I can't go anywhere, count the days..." I raised my eyes to look at the sky, thinking about how long I haven't been out, but the more I thought about it, the more confused I frowned, "Forget it, Don't think about it, I don't believe that he can imprison me for the rest of my life!"

The irritable voice was completely opposite to the calm and beautiful temperament before, and Miriam couldn't help but get cold.

“He’s breaking the law like this, why don’t you call the police? Just get a divorce. Obviously there is no need to go on.” The voice became cold, and his hatred for Shang Rui became even more intense.

Rania laughed, laughed at her innocence, laughed at her ignorance, and at the same time envied her being so carefree under the protection of Bryan in the past few years, thinking that the police could solve anything.

I didn’t want to talk about it any more, so I smiled and said lazily: “What are you looking for?”

Miriam hesitated.

Obviously it is unrealistic to find her to be held accountable now, and she has just lost her child.

“You take care.”

Rania’s eyes moved slightly and stopped her before hanging up the phone.

“Can you find Shang Rui for me?” His face was calm and his voice was cold, not as if he was asking someone to do something.

Miriam was silent: “Can’t you see him?”

Sneered: “Of course I can see it every day, so what’s the use? Make me kneel and beg him to let me out?”

Hearing the meaning from her words, he raised his eyebrows: “You asked me to find him and let you out? I’m not familiar with him, he will give me so much face?”

Rania closed his eyes, sat in a courtyard and looked far away, and said leisurely: “He will give it, he is only mean to me.”

Miriam was silent, wondering where she was confident, Rania probably didn’t know about Shang Rui kidnapping her last time.

After thinking for a while: “I will let Bryan speak.”

“Whatever you want, I will thank you after I come out.”

“Don’t hang up, I have something to ask you.”

“You said.”

Miriam sat up and said, “You took the photo that was exploded, and you contacted the magazine.”

Did not ask her, but directly stated.

Suddenly, his head became sober a lot. Rania is the eldest of the Song family. He retired from the top of the company after marrying Shang Rui. Naturally, he was much better than himself, but he came to help himself that day...

The soles of my feet couldn't help getting cold, and there was no sound on the other side of the phone for a long time.

"You found out, Bryan helped you?" The voice was obviously colder than usual.

Miriam smiled bitterly: "Do you think I am stupid and unable to find out, or are you not afraid of being known at all?"

Rania even "chicks" with a smile: "All of them, but if you really checked it yourself, I would look at it with admiration."

After closing his smile, the whole person was chilled and turned off the TV.

"why?"

Yes, I don't understand why, if the two did not deliberately design the contact, it would not be easy to know each other.

The body paused, but the other side didn't answer, but he seemed to understand.

Rania belongs to Shangrui. She hides and is found on purpose. The ultimate goal should be herself.

Shang Rui was very attentive to her at that time.

I should have thought of it...Can't help but smile.

Rania sneered: "You are not as simple as on the surface."

She should have said this.

"Don't expect me to say sorry, just don't want to help just now." She said calmly.

Miriam was able to laugh out loud after thinking about the whole thing. The woman was jealous and tricked her to leave her job. Now she wants to go to Shang Rui to help her.

"Go to Shang Rui by yourself. Although you are not as smart as you, you can't help your enemies."

After speaking, he pinched the phone.

Can't help but breathe, this is probably the worst time to be pitted.

Think about it at that time Bryan didn't let himself be nosy, but unfortunately he didn't listen.

[Recently, the tempo of the plot has been a bit slow, so I will speed up the tempo! Thank you for your suggestions! ]

Chapter 266

Miriam was bored at home all day, and in the evening she was dragged out by Lu Mu to buy vegetables.

When he went downstairs, he saw Bryan's new car, and the driver got off as soon as he saw her coming out.

"President Shao has something to do in the past two days, so I can't come here for the time being. I will pick you up." The driver looked professional, but Miriam couldn't help but be suspicious.

"Yan Ke and Lin Shui don't have time?"

The driver paused, then raised his head and said calmly: "They followed Mr. Shao on a business trip."

Miriam felt that something was wrong. He didn't get in the car, and walked to the supermarket with Mother Lu. The man always followed.

Mother Lu looked back for a few moments, her eyes moved slightly: "Although Bryan is usually careful, she won't let people follow, will something happen? You call to ask."

Although Miriam had some doubts in her heart, she did not want to take the initiative to contact him.

Mother Lu knew her daughter's virtues best, so she took her mobile phone out of her bag and dialed the number in her ear.

Seeing this, Miriam had to reach out and hold it, thinking about what to say when the call was connected.

The number you dialed is turned off. Please try again later.

Miriam was taken aback.

For so long in the past, no matter what happened, his cell phone was always on.

Keeping his face, I called Lin Shui and Yan Ke again, and they all shut down.

The morning was obviously fine.

“What’s wrong? Can’t get in touch?” Lu Mu asked urgently.

Miriam received his emotions, afraid that his mother would be worried, and turned to smile: “Maybe on a business trip on the plane, I will call later, let’s buy food first.”

Mother Huan Lu turned around with her arm and continued to walk around the supermarket, but her eyes wandered thoughtfully.

Until after the meal, he still didn’t get through the man’s phone.

Watching Mother Lu tidy up in the kitchen, she took her bag and shouted, “I eat a little bit. Go for a walk and come back later.”

Mother Lu stretched her head out of the kitchen: “Don’t forget to call Bryan again. He is usually busy, so you should pay more attention to it.”

Miriam was also a little confused at this time, and she faintly agreed and closed the door.

When he got downstairs, he asked the new driver to send himself to Longteng.

It was dark, but the buildings of Longteng and Yingxin were still on, and people working overtime in twos and threes came out of the building.

Standing at the door, he hesitated.

Bryan has such a big company in his hands, how could he not be able to protect himself, on the contrary, he is becoming more and more indecisive. I don’t know if it is because of pregnancy.

After shaking the gods, I heard someone calling myself, and in a blink of an eye I saw Mu Ming beckoning to himself with a smile on his face.

When the new driver saw someone greet Miriam, he was a little suspicious, and directly stopped Mu Ming.

Miriam was quite embarrassed, looking at the open environment around him, there was really no need to be so careful.

“He is my friend, don’t need to be like this.”

The driver looked at Mu Ming warily, paused, and then stood aside, but he was also very close.

Mu Ming was still dressed in casual clothes and looked very energetic, “Sister Miriam, what are you standing here at so late? Are you here to see Mr. Shao?”

Miriam still caught a trace of temptation and cover in his eyes.

Then his face remained unchanged and nodded and smiled: “Yes, no one answered the call, thinking that he might be working overtime, so come and have a look.”

Mu Ming’s face was a little surprised, and then he quickly glanced at her lower abdomen, knowing it.

Miriam saw that Mu Ming didn’t mean to leave, “Do you have something to tell me?”

“No...No, Mr. Shao may be busy. I heard that Long Teng has a new plan recently...” Mu Ming was a little hesitant, but his eyes flashed with deep meaning.

“If you are okay, come with me.” Before Mu Ming finished speaking, Miriam took a deep look at him and turned to Long Teng.

Mu Ming opened his mouth and paused briefly, looking at her back with a smile in his eyes, and then raised his heel.

When Miriam entered the company, she found that the employees were working overtime, and her doubts gradually grew.

The girl at the front desk greeted her with a smile when she saw her: “Madam, are you looking for Mr. Shao?”

“Mr. Shao just went on a business trip this afternoon.” The girl smiled brightly, as if she had already prepared a speech.

The corner of Miriam’s mouth sank, “Why can’t I get through on a business trip? Is something wrong with the company?”

The girl at the front desk saw his wife like this, her face was a little embarrassed, she looked at Miriam and then at Mu Ming, wondering if she should say it.

Mu Ming’s eyes flickered, and he hesitated, “In the afternoon, an important fund in Longteng suddenly collapsed. I also heard from people in the industry that I knew that everything was normal and the trend was good. Many people invested, but it collapsed. Half of the sky shook. Some of those people lost tens of millions of dollars, and they were stuck in the Longteng head office and refused to leave. I think Mr. Shao must have dealt with it.”

Miriam’s eyelashes trembled, and she didn’t say a word, and turned on the elevator to the management.

When he arrived at the president’s office, he opened the door and entered, Miriam was taken aback.

Miller actually closed his eyes on the sofa to rest up his mind, but he was obviously taken aback by them, and he paused for a while before he stood up.

Glancing at Miriam, he still smiled in a formal way: "Yeah, my sister-in-law came here, but no one notified me that Bryan was not here, so no one took me seriously."

Seeing Mu Ming behind her, her narrow eyes flickered, and the corners of her mouth twitched slightly: "Why my sister-in-law has a small attendant? Seeing that this young man is unstable," he said twice, "Not as good as the selfless Yan Ke."

Mu Ming stood there, facing Miller's gaze without evading.

"Help me contact Bryan, I called him and turned it off." Miriam suddenly narrowed her eyes and said lightly.

"Since you must be busy shutting down, you won't be able to help you much here, so why don't you go home first." Miller didn't care, but the light at the end of his eyes did not leave Miriam.

Miriam smiled, her face a little cold, "Then I will wait for him to come back here."

Miller was taken aback for a moment, he quickly twisted his eyebrows, and took out his cell phone to make a call after thinking for a moment.

"Let Mr. Shao answer the phone. His ex-wife has something to tell him."

Then handed the phone to Miriam.

There was a change of people, but he could recognize his breathing intuitively, which was a bit heavy.

"Miriam." Her voice was hoarse, very tired.

Miriam's heart was blocked and she said, "It's me, what's going on with you?"

"It's a bit troublesome, but fortunately, you don't have to worry about it." After finishing speaking, she paused and laughed as if she realized that she didn't like listening to this."I just saw you in the morning, and now you miss me again?"
