

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 281– 282

Chapter 281

The auction is held by the city council, so there are too many government officials, and not many people actually come to the land. Some just come to watch the excitement, or inquire about the planning around the land, if there is a chance, You can start early, so although there are a lot of people in the audience, few are really bidding.

After entering the venue, the man next to him greeted the people around him from time to time, saying that he was not familiar with Kyoto might really be a mistake of judgment.

Sitting down in the third row, Lin Shui handed in the plan and bidding book.

There were about a dozen people in a row on the stage. According to the introduction, they were all high-ranking political officials or the president of the Chamber of Commerce in Kyoto. Sitting slightly to the left in the middle thought it was Song Yuming, and thought it was Rania's uncle.

It took a few minutes for Shang Rui to appear, sitting forward in the second row. Rania appeared earlier, as if he hadn't seen him, and he didn't say hello.

"Mr. Shao..." Miller's ghost-like voice rang behind him, and Miriam was startled, and when she turned around, he saw his face full of resentment.

Bryan glanced at him: "What to pretend to be, let's talk about it."

As soon as the voice fell, he had already walked around from one side, and saw Qi Yun sitting on his left hand, standing beside her coldly, until Qi Yun got up and gave him a place with a calm face.

Sit down and start spitting.

"Why didn't you tell me when you came?! Didn't you say that you were not interested last time? Feelings are about me!"

Miriam couldn't help but tilted her head, his voice was so loud that others might not hear him.

Bryan glanced at him coldly. He opened his mouth and swallowed what he was about to say, quite aggrieved: "Just tell me, I can't recognize you as a brother if the reason is not sufficient."

"Long Teng's recent incident is related to Shang Rui." Only one sentence was explained.

Miller was taken aback, surprised: "So you are coming to grab his land?"

Bryan didn't speak, all in silence.

"Then you should tell me, if my dad knows that you are here, he won't force me to make a planning book. He has been busy for so long and stayed up late yesterday."

There was a dark circle under my eyes, as if I had been boiled for so long.

Lying in the seat, he asked lazily: "How? How sure are you?"

The corner of the man's mouth twitched slightly, with a slight smile.

"f&ck! What did you do? Can it be done in such a short time?"

Miriam frowned and glared at him. With such a loud voice, his speech was not clean, and he was about to start.

Miller waved his hand: "Oh, yes, let's see this big guy show his supernatural powers."

The auction officially started. The secretary of the municipal party committee sitting in the middle gave a speech first and said some official words. The bidding started five minutes later.

Shang Rui didn't hide it, and added a large section to the original quote. The people at the venue sighed and lamented Feng Rui's wealth.

Bryan didn't speak. Miller glanced at him and smiled: "I will test him for you first."

Raised the sign.

Shang Rui did not frown, and continued to ask the secretary to increase the price.

Miller followed twice, but he was a little hesitant to see the other side's momentum.

Bryan turned around and said something to Lin Shui behind, Lin Shui immediately raised his placard, Shang Rui never hesitated.

Prices have gradually risen, the noise of the venue has faded, and the competition between Fengrui and Longteng has become fierce.

The upper limit of the price must take into account the value of this land. If it is too high, the housing price and facade price after completion will be too high, and it will be more difficult for businesses to settle in.

Although it is a city center, practical issues still need to be considered. Moreover, the government will also set an upper limit and will not allow house prices to rise indefinitely.

Miriam glanced at the rapidly rising number and glanced at the man next to her.

Still the same as when he came, with a cool expression and no emotions.

Shang Rui's eyes darkened.

The rate of fare increase on both sides decreased, but Miriam became more nervous, because people were always overwhelmed by the last straw.

Suddenly, the man gently raised his hand, and Lin Shui no longer stood up.

This may mean that Feng Rui became the final winner.

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief. Generally, at this stage, as long as the company's plan and declaration are qualified, the transaction can be done immediately.

Miriam touched Bryan and blinked: "What's next?"

The man turned to see her staring at herself with wide eyes, with a little anxiety in her eyes, smiled, still calm and relaxed.

"Wait."

Several people on the stage were discussing, and Song Yuming took the stage a few minutes later.

It was announced that Fengrui's plan was not unreasonable, and it was contrary to the construction concept of the Planning Bureau. At the same time, it asked whether Longteng was willing to undertake it at the auction price.

Of course there is no reason to refuse.

Lin Shui Le bumped up on the ground.

Everything was too sudden, everyone did not realize that today's big winner was Long Teng, and Bryan had already taken Miriam away.

"Why leave so quickly?" Miriam pouted.

Yan Ke drove the car over, and the two got in the car, and the man smiled: "Just accept it when you see it, Shang Rui will not be willing to suffer a loss, before he reacts."

Miriam looked at the scenery outside the window thoughtfully.

Wouldn't it be difficult for Shang Rui and Rania to get back together? Maybe even quarreling with the Song family, I don't know if Rania will regret doing this.

The man looked at her absent-mindedly, and suddenly approached, breathing on her cheek: "What are you thinking?"

Withdrawing his gaze, he fixedly looked at him: "Qi Yun seems to have helped too?"

I saw her at the meeting very well with someone on the stage, and I had a lot of conversations, and thought about it, which also played a role in the result.

The man is noncommittal, but there is nothing wrong with him: "Her uncle is here, he couldn't use it, she couldn't stop him if she wanted to help."

Miriam wanted to ask if he could see that Qi Yun had been around him for the past two days, but he knew how ugly a jealous woman's face was after she said it.

Smiled: "Ms. Qi is very good and can help you a lot. Haven't thought of keeping her in the company as a right-hand man?"

The man patted her face as if he could see her through at a glance.

"What do you think?"

Miriam sneered: "This is Mr. Shao's business, I am afraid it is not my decision."

The man took out his mobile phone, glanced at something, and looked at her sideways: "She has just returned to China and is not familiar with the domestic environment. She wants to stay in Longteng for a period of time. She has strong professional skills and is very helpful to the improvement of Longteng's existing mechanism. ."

This is a great affirmation of her.

Miriam's face was expressionless, and she stopped talking with an 'um'.

Chapter 282

After returning to the hotel for lunch and taking a break, Qi Yun came and knocked on the door.

Bryan is out, and he needs to deal with matters related to the auction in person.

Qi Yuntinging stood outside the door, casually carrying Gucci's latest model of the season in his hand, her wavy hair set off her charming and elegant, beautiful eyes with a smile.

"I told my uncle that I can go to his private airport for fun in the afternoon. Let's go together."

Only then did Miriam realize that there is something like this.

However, the woman in front of her really didn't hold any grudges. Neither of them spoke in the morning, and now she is like a okay person.

A faint smile: "Bryan is busy, it is not convenient for me to go alone, or Miss Qi will go there first."

Miriam looked helplessly at her lower abdomen.

Qi Yun blinked, and her red lips moved slightly: "I have already told Bryan that he will be there later, and," the smile in his eyes became thicker, "I also issued a military order in front of him. I will take care of you before."

Half-jokingly, Miriam couldn't refuse. If she didn't go, she would appear hypocritical.

"Miss Qi first sit down and wait, I change my clothes." Miriam let her in.

Qi Yun naturally changed his shoes by the door and sat on the sofa, not unfamiliar at all.

Miriam glanced at her and pointed to the bar: "There is water over there. Take it yourself if you need it."

Qi Yun nodded faintly, staring suddenly at the half bottle of red wine on the bar, smiled, got up and walked over, Miriam stood and watched her movements.

His slender fingers picked up the wine bottle and observed it carefully. When he raised his head, his eyebrows curled up: "1999 Lipeng Winery, Bryan's taste really hasn't changed."

It was delivered by Lin Shui last night. She was pregnant and could not drink. Bryan poured a glass and took it to the study to drink it herself.

I don't know that Bryan has a special preference for red wine, and she knows only a little bit about wine at best, and she is not interested in the wine cellar at home. She has hardly been there.

But taste cannot be judged by a bottle of wine.

Raising his eyebrows, he said with a smile: "He has a bad stomach in the past two years, so he doesn't drink much. This wine was brought by Lin Shui yesterday. I think it should be given by President Shang."

Qi Yun's face remained unchanged: "Can I taste it?"

Miriam was noncommittal, nodding slightly and went into the bedroom.

Qi Yun held the cup with a long finger and slowly shook it. The scarlet wine color and long flavor stimulated the senses. He narrowed his eyebrows and drank with his head up for a while.

Miriam changed into a pair of trousers, wore a wide-brimmed sun hat, and wrapped herself tightly, which contrasted with Qi Yun, regardless of whether it looked good or not.

Qi Yun was nearly 1.75 meters tall, nearly half a head taller than her.

She glanced at her clothes and put down the wine glass.

Bryan grew up in fine clothes and food, and has a very high taste, and his requirements for food and clothing are meticulous.

But the woman in front of her didn't care at all. I'm afraid she hadn't understood the meaning of the wife of the chaos. Sooner or later, a woman would dislike her if she didn't keep her man fresh.

"Let's go."

Miriam doesn't care about her opinion. If she can hold her belly for a few months and insist on wearing high heels, then she will be admired.

On the way, Bryan called and said that he would pass three o'clock, but it was already two o'clock.

Two unfamiliar women really can't talk, and they both hide hostility towards each other. There is really no way to read the parenting scriptures on their phones bored.

"How did you meet?" the woman beside her suddenly asked.

Miriam was taken aback for a moment, but didn't react for a while. Except for Kristy, no one seemed to have asked her this question.

Before because few people knew that she was married, after...she resigned and had no chance to contact the outside world.

Seeing what she was thinking, she quickly laughed and said, "It's just curious that Bryan was still single when I left. It's only a few months before you got married. Is it love at first sight?"

"It's not about love at first sight, it may just be a matter of course."

Miriam turned off the phone, her expression was faint, as if she had no interest in talking about it.

If it's an ordinary happy woman, I'm afraid I can't wait to talk about her experience, Qi Yun's eyebrows are flowing, and her mind moves slightly.

"Then..." After hesitating a little, he smiled apologetically, "Last time I heard from my aunt, you are divorced."

The corner of Miriam's mouth was slightly raised, there was no smile in her eyes, and she glanced at her: "If Miss Qi is really interested in our marriage, I am afraid it would be more appropriate to ask Bryan. After all, you can say that you speak to him out of concern. Just ask me. It seems a bit... presumptuous, doesn't it?"

Qi Yun closed his smile, staring down at his right hand, turning the ring on his little finger with his left hand, without any pattern, so simple that it couldn't be simpler.

Then raised her eyes: "Miss Lu seems to be a little hostile to me, or misunderstanding."

Miriam squinted her eyes and looked out the window.

I don't understand how to get divorced or have to have an endless fight with the woman next to him, knowing this is how I won't go with him, it is better to get more sleep if you have this skill.

"No, I have divorced him. There is no misunderstanding or misunderstanding. If Miss Qi really thinks about him, I have no right to accuse him." Seeing Qi Yun wanted to speak, curled his lips, "If you want to continue talking on this topic, I am afraid I will get off the bus."

Qi Yun took a deep look at her, closed her red lips, leaned back slightly, with her long legs folded, and said lightly: "Then let's not talk about it, it's coming soon."

The apron is located in a beautiful place on the outskirts of the country, with hills and green water, so there is a lot of hope.

The car drove slowly into a gate, and after passing through a row of phoenix trees, you saw a large piece of green grass. One end of the grass runs through a long airstrip, and the other is connected to a huge warehouse.

I don't know what her uncle does. It's not just money that can get such a large piece of land in such a good location.

"My uncle has been interested in helicopters since 20 years ago. There are many types of helicopters stored here, including those that have been discontinued, which are purely collections." Qi Yun introduced.

Miriam nodded lightly.

A few minutes after the road car stopped in front of the warehouse, a middle-aged man in his forties or fifty years old came out of it, full of vigor and well-proportioned figure, and looked very well maintained.

Miriam watched for a few seconds before remembering that he had seen him at the auction yesterday.

After getting out of the car, Qi Yun hugged the man with a bright smile: "Uncle, I haven't collected any treasures in the past few years? You have to show it to me today."

The man laughed, his happiness was real, only then did he see the fine lines in the corner of his eyes, and lightly patted Qi Yun's shoulder: "Don't worry, it's all ready, wait for you to get started!"

Turning to see Miriam, he immediately stretched out his hand and smiled, "You are Bryan's wife, right?"

Miriam's first impression of him was very good, his manners and expressions were extremely hearty, and he also paid attention to proper dress and appearance, and his favorability immediately rose a lot.

He smiled and said, "Hello, I am honored to be here," he turned his head and looked around and exclaimed, "I didn't expect the apron to be so beautifully designed."

The man's eyes were bright, and he was obviously proud of his land.

...
