

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 283– 284

Chapter 283

“This is my painstaking effort for many years. I have been in this industry for so many years, and here is the equivalent of my life. To say a secret,” he said with a half-faced smile, “I haven’t spent much time with my family here. .”

Miriam was amused by his wit, and was also quite surprised: “Are you producing this?”

“Neither Bryan nor Yun’er mentioned it to you?” The man was surprised, then said, “I do research and development, and this is my research and development base.”

Miriam couldn’t help being curious about this large warehouse. If it was really research and development, it would really make people look different.

Soon I was taken in for a tour, so many researchers went back and forth around various machinery and testing instruments.

Bryan came on time. Miriam watched him come in a suit and leather shoes from a distance. His body was slender and his aura was unconsciously exuding.

Uncle Qi Yun greeted him very enthusiastically: “I just took Miriam to visit the R&D department, and I was going to see the helicopter. You can practice your hands today and see how our latest development is.”

Bryan was very familiar with him and said with a smile: “It’s been a long time since I did it myself. Today, I mainly brought Miriam over to play, and I want more hospitality.”

Uncle Qi was silent, glanced at Qi Yun, and raised his eyebrows: “Actually, I asked you to come here today to show you what happened to me. If you are interested in this, you can consider investing in a production line.”

Miriam glanced at the man next to him, apparently not intending to do so for the time being, and smiled: “Standing in the helicopter market has not yet opened, and there are fewer sales channels. You can consider developing agricultural machines, but the effect should not be significant in the short term. .”

A few words shed light on the status quo of the industry, and Uncle Qi kept nodding.

Qi Yun pulled his uncle and said, “Besides the investment, Bryan has a lot of things to be busy with the company recently. Let’s discuss it later.”

Uncle Qi also felt a bit abrupt, so he immediately changed the subject and took a few people to the airport.

It was the first time Miriam saw so many planes. Although they were not big, they were of different shapes. The scene was not much different from that in the American TV series. His eyes were bright and his mouth was slightly open.

The man didn't miss her reaction at all, and took her hand with a smile: "I will try it first, and you will go up later."

"This is a two-person drive. Let Qi Yun follow you up first. You are familiar with it."

The man raised his eyebrows and looked at Qi Yun: "You can?"

Qi Yun put down his bag and smiled to Bryan: "Don't underestimate me, I haven't practiced less in the past few years abroad."

The man turned his head to Miriam: "Wait for a while."

Miriam nodded slightly, watching the man get on the plane first, then handed Qi Yun her hand to help her up.

When I was taken to a place a little further away, I could see the two people in the cabin wearing protective gear. Qi Yun turned his back. What did the man do for her? From her point of view, the two overlapped, like Bryan took her. Hug.

It took a minute to get ready, and the two sat side by side, wearing professional helmets, talking a few words.

Miriam squinted her eyes, with the same talent and appearance. If she didn't know them, she would really think they were a perfect match.

At this moment, I really hope I have never been here before and can't see this scene.

If I have been with Bryan for so long, I have experienced disappointment and sadness, but I have never felt that I am not worthy of him. The pride that was spoiled by his parents since childhood was a little broken at this moment.

The helicopter started, the speed of the propeller increased, her hair was messy, her hands couldn't hold her, she must be extremely embarrassed from a distance.

The plane gradually moved away from the ground, farther and farther away.

It took about twenty minutes to come back. Uncle Qi watched her standing hard and asked to find a recliner for her to sit on.

"They used to drive together like this?" Miriam's expression was light, as if asking accidentally.

Uncle Qi smiled and waved his hand: "Yun'er was raised as a princess when he was young. The dolls were piled up all over the room, but after getting acquainted with Bryan,

I saw him fiddle with these every day, and he was slowly assimilated. I asked me to take them to heaven, and when they got older, I asked someone to teach them to drive.”

“Isn’t it a pity those dolls?” Miriam smiled.

But my heart is sour.

“Bryan, you see, we landed on that mountain!” Qi Yun pointed at a mountain far away with excitement, “Let’s go over and take a look.”

The man pressed a few buttons, glanced at the mountain, and condensed his eyebrows: “At that time, he was only forced to land. Now he is not clear about the following conditions. It would be dangerous to go on rashly.”

“Do you still remember the situation?”

“of course.”

Qi Yun was silent.

Bryan was about to turn around and return to the voyage, asking her to adjust her direction, but when she looked over, she found her eyes deep.

“Then do you remember this ring? On my eighteenth birthday, I entangled you to buy a ring. In the end, you had no choice but to buy this tail ring.” The glove was taken off and the slender white fingers were exposed, and he smiled bitterly. At that time I thought about the future...”

“Qi Yun,” interrupted by the man’s low voice, his eyes became deep, even cold, “is this appropriate now?”

Qi Yun’s outstretched hand trembled, frowning slightly, as if he had been stabbed.

“Turn around, go back.”

Slowly retracted his hand and put on the gloves again.

“I don’t know why you lied yesterday. If you have other ideas or just aim at Miriam, don’t do it again.” The man looked forward and spoke coldly, as if talking to a stranger.

Qi Yun’s face turned pale. He thought that the thing that lied to him not to see Miriam downstairs yesterday was over, but he didn’t expect to mention it again, just to warn.

“How serious are you to her? Or just for the child?” I couldn’t help asking, but he was afraid of hearing the answer and looked at him holding his breath.

Bryan reached out to her position impatiently and adjusted the angle and speed needed.

The plane turned around.

To meet her gaze: "How serious is it that you can't tell? The child is important because the mother is her."

"You..." Her expression changed drastically, "Do you really want to remarry?"

Bryan raised his eyebrows and said frankly: "I think, as long as she is willing."

Qi Yun couldn't wait to rush down the plane at this moment, hold back his emotions, and twitched the corners of his mouth with difficulty: "She is really happy."

The man stopped talking, speeded up, and returned to the original place.

When the plane stopped, Qi Yun watched Miriam lying down leisurely, looking to this side, his eyes flashed, and he couldn't help it anymore. He slipped and fell on the man.

Bryan held her deeply, from Miriam's perspective, it was a mutual hug.

Uncle Qi sat next to her and saw this scene in his eyes. He looked embarrassed, coughed and laughed, and said, "The two of them haven't flew a plane together for too long, so they are a little excited."

Miriam sneered at the corner of her mouth: "What you said is."

Chapter 284

The two came down from above, Qi Yun smiled, Bryan looked light, and drove to Miriam.

Reached out: "I will take you up."

Miriam lay still, with a lazy expression: "I can't help much."

The man bent slightly and took her hand: "As long as you stay there, it will help."

Almost let him pull on another helicopter, the cabin is very large, it looks more like a business jet, inside the bed and sofa are all available, he said that there is also Internet.

"Sit down first, the takeoff may be a bit unstable."

The man walked forward, operating extremely skillfully, and rose to an altitude of several hundred meters within a few minutes.

Looking out through the window, there are already clouds that are level with me, overlooking the entire ground, and the scenery is unobstructed.

The cabin was as stable as the ground, and Miriam got up and walked forward and sat beside the man.

The landscape in front is more impactful, and the picture is breaking through the clouds.

Bryan glanced sideways at her, smiling: "Would you like to try?"

Miriam saw that he hardly moved, and it seemed that it was not difficult.

He hadn't agreed yet, his hand was already held by him: "What are you hesitating about, just say it if you want to learn, afraid I can't teach you?"

After being pierced by him, his face changed slightly, and he gritted his teeth and said: "You must be experienced in teaching people, but I am afraid that I am stupid and cannot learn as fast as others."

The man's eyes darkened, and he glanced at her: "If you know you are stupid, you need to learn more and ask, instead of shrinking from fear of this," his eyes narrowed slightly, and he looked at her slightly, "Why didn't you think you want to do this before? many?"

Indeed, when she is not divorced, she loves to dress up and is very enthusiastic about work. Even when the two of them don't spend much time together, she can also make arrangements from time to time.

Miriam couldn't help but sneered: "Don't Mr. Shao know that people will become, and you can pull me over to learn airplanes now. Is it normal for me to change a little?"

The man snorted slightly, not caring about the provocation in her words: "I can see the past, I can see what you are."

Then began to explain to her a bunch of complicated buttons in front of her.

Miriam pursed her lips without saying a word. He hovered in his ear with a low magnetic voice, not hurriedly, turning back to ask her if she understood it, and she would only make a seemingly "um" sound.

I flew on it for more than an hour, followed the route, looked at the surrounding scenery, and had a similar understanding of the landforms.

After I went back, I felt unreal when I stepped on the ground.

Qi Yun walked over quickly and smiled at the two of them: "It's getting late. I have ordered a meal at a nearby resort and the environment is also very good. I can stay there for one night."

The heat will dim, and the man looks at her with a questioning meaning.

“can.”

The meals are so enthusiastically ordered, can you say no?

Uncle Qi went home first. There were only three people together. Lin Shui drove the car and Qi Yun sat in the co-pilot.

The resort environment is really good. A light show is being held on a piece of grass, and many people dance to the music.

I was taken to the dining location on the second floor by the waiter, and I could clearly overlook the light show without being too noisy.

Got up and said: “I’m going to the bathroom.”

The man lifted him up and naturally wanted to follow him, but was stopped by Qi Yun: “I’ll accompany her over, and I just want to go.”

Miriam glanced at her with enthusiasm and naturally, she had already got up while she was talking.

The man nodded lightly and let go.

Miriam put her hand on her waist and didn’t mean to let her hold it. She carried the bag and smiled lightly, and the two left.

“After a while, you can go down and have a look and feel the enthusiasm of people here.”

Miriam glanced at her: “I still won’t go like this, and I can’t get used to it too much.”

Qi Yun said nothing but nodded and went in.

Miriam hadn’t seen her when she came out, standing outside the bathroom and waiting.

Suddenly a familiar figure walked by, and Miriam subconsciously called out: “Henry President?”

President Henry looked back and was quite surprised: “Miriam? Why are you here?”

Can’t help but laugh, it’s a coincidence to meet here.

After thinking for a while, I quickly asked, “Come with Mr. Shao? The auction of the central plot has already been passed to City Two. It is not surprising that I can meet you later.”

Wei Wei's jaw head: "Yes, I came here to play a bit after it was over," raised an eyebrow and asked, "What about you? Is there business here?"

"The headquarters of Yingxin is here. Didn't you run here in two or three days before?" He replied with a smile, looked at his wrist, and raised his head, "I still have guests over there. call."

Miriam nodded and watched him leave. Before entering the box on the right, she saw Mu Ming met him from another direction, and the two of them entered together.

Seeing that he hadn't seen himself, thinking that there was no need to contact him, Qi Yun just came out of the bathroom.

"What are you looking at?" Qi Yun followed her gaze and looked over.

Miriam turned her head and shook her head lightly: "I met an acquaintance and said hello, let's go back."

After a meal, Qi Yun seemed to intend to go to the light show for a while, when Miriam saw this, she got up and said that she wanted to go back to the room to rest first.

The man picked up her thin coat and wanted to send her there.

"There is a tree-lined road from where you live, you walk carefully." Qi Yun reminded before leaving.

The man answered for her: "Well, don't play too late."

In order to increase the viewing and artistic conception, the tree-lined road is not wide, and the ground is paved with stones, which is quite a bit burped.

Seeing the difficulty of her walking, the man started to pick her up, but she refused: "It's not the old, weak, sick or disabled, so you don't need to hold it."

The man lowered his head and chuckled, his eyes gleaming under the light: "I don't know how to hold the old, the weak, and the sick. You are in the blessing and not knowing the blessing."

Miriam knew that he was poor, too lazy to talk, and walked ahead.

There was a half-step difference between the two, and Bryan kept staring at her, able to protect her when she fell.

There was a sudden sound of leaves rubbing on the left side of the boulevard, moving very fast. Miriam was taken aback and stopped. Before he could stand still, a dark shadow rushed out and was facing her.

Before he even had time to change his expression, the person had already reached the front. With a push, his body immediately lost his balance and fell to one side.

It was just a moment, the man behind him darkened, his long arms raised before she fell to the ground, and the next second he lifted her whole, staring at the flashing figure, his face was dark and dripping with eyes. Yin Yu, the whole body is cold.

Miriam was in shock, and then the sense of fear enveloped her, clutching her abdomen, and blinking.

“Are you uncomfortable?” the man asked with his eyebrows down.

He shook his head, and was pushed hard on his shoulders. The angle was also extremely tricky. If Bryan hadn't been paying attention, he would reach out in time, otherwise the consequences would be disastrous.
