

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 41- 50

Chapter 41

“Gu Ershao.” Sophia quickly recovered her calm and nodded politely to him.

Bryan glanced at her, “You take Miller around first.”

Sophia looked at Miriam, “Then you?”

“Xiao Xue’er, I don’t see the decoration here is quite tasteful, you can introduce it to me, and I will also renovate my broken place when I go back.” Miller interrupted her without a trace, looking around, hands in pockets , Laziness seems to have no bones.

Sophia pursed her lips and pressed her heart down unwillingly, she could only nod her head reluctantly, “Okay, Gu Er Shao, come with me.”

Miriam was still looking at the two, when she heard the man in her ear say: “Come with me.”

She hesitated for a second, then hugged Tian Tian to follow.

Inside the president’s office, the newly decorated space is gray and white, calm and abstinent, and very clean and spacious.

She turned her head and glanced at the French window subconsciously.

The corresponding room in the opposite building is her office.

Although he doesn't always come to the branch office often, she feels weird when she thinks of him sitting opposite.

"give me."

Just as she was stunned, a voice that was close at hand suddenly came from the opposite side.

She was taken aback, and she saw the man on the other side reaching out to her arms.

"What are you doing?" She backed away subconsciously.

"Do you plan to hold her like this all the time? You feel comfortable and she doesn't feel comfortable sleeping."

Without moving his brows, the man directly took the sleeping Tian Tian from her arms, walked to the sofa, gently put the child down, and then took off his coat and covered it.

The unusually natural, elegant, and gentleman movements made Miriam start to feel feverish when she watched.

How do you feel like she is so unreasonable bad woman?

"No one will come here. If you are tired, you can sit down and take a break."

He hadn't forgotten that she was a pregnant woman now, and probably spent a long time with those people in the morning.

Miriam was stunned, but didn't notice when he walked to her side. She was caught off guard by a slender figure in a white shirt, suit and pants, and her spineless face became a little hotter.

Touching her nose concealedly, she looked away and asked as calmly as possible, "Didn't I come to visit the company? Looking back, Henry always asked, could I say that I have been talking about life with Shao in the president's office?"

"You don't want to talk to me?" The man raised an eyebrow.

Miriam looked at him weirdly, "Anything else to discuss between us?"

"The software that your company developed."

Miriam stayed, "Huh?"

software?

The man pursed his lips, his handsome smile became a little more bewildering, his tall body leaned forward slightly and got close to her, "Otherwise, what else do you want to talk to me?"

Miriam's face was completely red, a little embarrassed, and she began to stammer, "Software, software matters, you...should contact our R&D department, what are you talking about with me? I'm not too clear."

"Then Manager Lu is too unprofessional. He doesn't even understand what his company does, and would like to further discuss cooperation with me?"

Miriam swallowed silently, looking at the magnified handsome face in front of him, a little annoyed, "Bryan, you avenge your personal revenge, you know that I am not doing this, and you deliberately dig a hole for me."

“I worked as a divisional manager in three years. Don’t tell me that you don’t even have this adaptability. If I want to avenge my personal revenge, you must not stand here now.” The man made no secret of mocking.

Miriam subconsciously answered, “Then where am I.”

“How can you solve the private enmity between a man and a woman?”

Miriam was still a little confused.

The man’s eyes dimmed, he suddenly pinched her chin, bowed his head and k!ssed.

Chapter 42

“Um... Shao, Bryan!” Miriam’s pupils suddenly enlarged, and her brain turned white for a moment.

The man tilted his head slightly, pried her soft lips straight into the tongue, and stirred her mouth wantonly.

Miriam’s cheeks burned and she raised her hand to push him.

As if he knew that she was struggling, the man clasped her wrist with the big palm of her hand, and wrapped her waist with the other hand, holding the person tightly in his arms.

It has been a long time since he touched her, the woman’s soft and boneless figure easily aroused his irritable and chaotic heartbeat for days, blood rushed straight into his forehead, and the deep thoughts began to agitate.

The deeper the k!ss, the rubbing of each other’s bodies, fierce as if they could wipe the gun at any time.

Miriam was at a loss for a long time, her brain was blank, and she was still a little confused, her heart beating rapidly.

After three years of marriage, apart from the k!ss when she was dominated by desire on the bed, this was the first time she really felt the k!ss between lovers. The tenderness and love made her feel a little unable to extricate herself.

Her heart was messed up again, like the tension and shyness of meeting him for the first time, with sweat in her tight palms.

The shirt on his chest was torn apart, and when the man lowered his head and gently gnawed on her collarbone, Miriam's nerve was pierced suddenly, her sanity seemed to be pulled back in an instant, and he gave him a panic push.

“No, no...”

Miriam gasped, looking at him in shock, wanting to slap herself.

She, what is she doing?

She is a pregnant woman, and they are divorced.

“What can't it?” The man's breathing was also a bit short, but it was only manifested in the aura of speech, and the deep eyes flashed with scorching dark lights, as if to suck her in.

Miriam's heart jumped wildly, unable to answer.

Bryan posted it again, but didn't k!ss her again, her voice was extremely hoarse, “You weren't enjoying it just now? Didn't you like it?”

“ ... ”

A sense of humiliation surged up, and Miriam was immediately embarrassed. When her mind was hot, she raised her hand and slapped him on his handsome face.

A crisp voice echoed in the room.

Miriam was stunned.

He didn't even dodge.

Bryan's expression gradually darkened, and a pair of dark eyes stared at her.

Miriam trembled in her heart, stepped back unconsciously, and stammered: “Who, who let you violate me? You, you deserve it.”

He won't call back again, will he?

The man looked at her for a long while, not what she thought, just lifted his thin lips and smiled faintly, and murmured speciously, “Yes, I deserve it...”

He really deserves something that caused everything now.

Miriam's eyes flickered, her head lowered and her lips pressed.

“Boom boom boom.”

At this moment, there was a knock on the door outside the door.

Miriam's face turned pale and hurriedly turned her back to tidy up her clothes.

Bryan glanced at her, put his hands in his pockets naturally, and said lightly, "Please come in."

The door was pushed open, and Sophia came in with two glasses of water. She looked at Miriam for the first time, but because her back was facing her, she didn't find anything wrong with Miriam.

She smiled, "Brother Chen, Shui."

Putting a glass of water on the desk, she walked towards Miriam, "Miss Lu, drink water."

Miriam's clothes were arranged, but before he could check his lips, he heard the voice, and pretended to raise his head to take the cup she handed over, "Thank you."

Sophia caught a glimpse of her red and swollen lips and the charming color that hadn't completely disappeared. The bottom of her eyes immediately became cold and her smile froze on her lips.

Holding the tray tightly, she glanced at Bryan and said, "Brother Chen, or I'll take Miss Lu to look around."

Before the man spoke, Miriam quickly responded, "Thank you Secretary Fu, then."

She didn't dare to stay with him anymore.

Sophia smiled slightly, "You're welcome."

Bryan never said anything, but Miriam glanced at Tian Tian, who was still asleep on the sofa, and smiled lightly, "Trouble Mr. Shao to help me see the child for a while, I'll be back in a while."

After leaving the office of the president, Sophia's face immediately cooled down, her smile was completely lost and her aura was twelve points strong.

Miriam naturally felt it too, but she didn't say anything, because several employees of the company came across.

"Hello, Secretary Fu."

Several people said hello together, but the woman didn't even look at it, and walked straight on high heels.

Miriam raised her brows silently and said nothing.

Turning to a corner with no one, Miriam curled her lips and smiled faintly, "Secretary Fu, I think I'd better take a look at it by myself, you can go to work if you have anything."

The woman turned around, her pretty face had become cold and gloomy, staring at her, "Miriam, I have never seen a shameless woman like you. She has been divorced for so long and she is still in front of him from time to time. Feeling, do you think he will remarry you again?"

The expression on Miriam's face slowly faded, and her tone became colder, but she was not angry at all, "What am I doing, does it have anything to do with Secretary Fu? The person you like is him. If he likes you too, you are anxious. what?"

"you!"

Sophia choked angrily, and then sneered, "Of course he likes me. Even if he doesn't, he can only marry someone with my identity. Miriam, you didn't deserve it before, and you don't deserve it now. I think you are quite suitable to be a little stepmother for others. They are all second-married, right in the right place."

Miriam looked at her calmly and chuckled, “I really thought what a woman would be like to match Mr. Shao. It turned out to be Miss Fu, a lady who speaks vulgarly and is low-minded. What a long experience.”

When she was free, she really went to check the background of her Fu family. She thought that even if she was not a wealthy family, she would be a scholarly family. After a long time, it was her father’s generation who made real estate and suddenly became rich overnight. , Really has nothing to do with the rich.

The woman’s face flushed red, pointing at her, shaking with anger, “You, you... Miriam, even if I am a nouveau riche, it sounds better than your daughter of a corrupt official?”

Miriam’s face changed slightly.

When Sophia saw this, she calmed down and showed a trace of complacency, “You will die of your heart, the daughter of a corrupt official, the Shao family will never want you again. Brother Chen has never liked you, so don’t just want to slap you. Come up, you will never be possible anymore.”

Never liked it.

Miriam felt that what she thought was the same as what she heard from others, but she felt completely different.

I finally let go, as if I was aroused again.

She lowered her eyes and suddenly chuckled, with a thin sneer between her eyebrows, “I brought up the divorce on the initiative. What I threw away, do you think you will pick it up again?”

“ ... ”

Sophia's face instantly became extremely ugly.

Chapter 43

On the other side, Miller, who was left behind by Sophia, went to the president's office and laughed mercilessly at the ugly buddies.

"It's flat again?"

The man glanced at him and didn't respond.

Miller walked into the room, glanced at the sleeping child on the sofa, patted him on the shoulder, "Do you want a buddy to help you?"

"I don't need you to intervene in my affairs." Bryan looked at him without expression, obviously making people feel bad.

Miller curled her lips and said slowly, "I don't want to intervene, but you make a decision? Now the stepmother is able to do it easily. If you continue to be hypocritical, the two children in her belly will have to call others fathers."

Although no definitive evidence has been found yet, in all likelihood the child in her belly is his surname.

Bryan's handsome face suddenly became tighter, and there was a gust of wind.

Inexplicably, he is not so eager to know who the child belongs to now. He wants to understand what the woman is thinking. Does she really plan to marry Xiang Dongnan?

After a long silence, he looked far ahead, touched his chin, and said in a low voice: "Except to the southeast, if there is a man chasing her now, do you think she will agree?"

" ... "

Miller was taken aback. After staring at him for a few seconds, he seemed to have discovered something interesting, and said in surprise, "You want to chase her?"

He wants to chase women?

And still his ex-wife.

Bryan looked at his shining eyes, with an inexplicable feeling of guilty conscience of being caught, frowned unnaturally, kicked him, "I'm talking about her, don't you know women best?"

After taking a sturdy kick, Miller restrained a little bit of impropriety, put his hands around his chest, lifted his eyelids, and said coolly: "What I know is a woman in love, not a pregnant woman. How do I know she is thinking about something? What, a normal woman with a big belly will be anxious to find a father for her child. What's more, she is still carrying so many debts, and she is alone, and she is not stupid in the future."

Bryan pursed his lips and fell silent.

So, no matter from what point of view, Xiang Dongnan will be the one she considers most.

Miller turned around him with scrutinizing eyes, then looked around in the room idly, and smiled with his lips curled: "As a buddy, I have to remind you that this woman is the same as a business opportunity. Be careful and you'll be picked up by others. However, this is what you deserve, a sc*mbag, and usually it's not going to end well."

Don't say anything before the divorce and post every day after the divorce.

With that said, before Bryan could react, he suddenly approached and asked with a smile, "Hey, do you really like her?"

" ... "

Bryan frowned, glanced at his handsome face with a disgusting smile, gritted his teeth, "Get out!"

He doesn't know if he likes it, but if the woman is carrying his child in her belly, it is absolutely impossible for him to let her marry someone else.

The man looked out of the window, a different emotion flashed through his dark eyes, cold and cold.

...

Sophia pretended to take Miriam to stroll around the company. When she met people, she had a good attitude like a sister. When no one was there, her face was stinky like a witch, which made Miriam sigh, this woman Did you learn to change your face professionally?

"The front is the technical department. I guess you can't understand it, so you don't have to go." Sophia said to her impatiently, and turned to leave.

"You have to learn if you don't understand it. If Secretary Fu is busy, you can go first. I'll be fine alone." Miriam smiled and walked forward without stopping, and went directly to the technical department.

Sophia's face became cold, she gritted her teeth, and could not swear, she could only hold back the fire and follow.

In the technical department, Miriam followed Sophia and listened to the staff's analysis for another hour. As if in class, she kept asking questions, so that the woman next to her couldn't talk.

Sophia had run out of patience, and in front of so many staff members, she didn't dare to say anything, so she could only stare at her secretly.

Why is this woman doing so much? Is she here to train?

Miriam didn't seem to see her, with a smile on her white face, listening intently to the staff's analysis.

However, of course she did it deliberately. Sophia was obviously too lazy to talk to her, and didn't want to waste her time. Bryan and Miller were both here, and her current thoughts should be on the man.

After finally waiting for the explanation to be over, Sophia hurriedly interjected with a stiff expression, "Miss Lu, I think you should be tired after shopping for a long time. I just ordered some hot drinks for delivery. Why not find a place to rest?"

Miriam raised her eyebrows and looked at her expression, as if she would rush to take a bite as long as she said she was not tired.

The corners of her lips smiled, and she finally nodded kindly, "Okay, thank you Secretary Fu."

"You're welcome, Miss Lu, please."

Sophia finally let out a sigh of relief, and when she held it back, she probably was about to vomit blood. This woman would really toss people.

After leaving the department, there was no one in the corridor. She couldn't help it anymore, and said in a cold voice, "Miriam, you are cruel."

Miriam, who was walking in the front, lifted the hair around her ears, and chuckled, "But I took you around my own company and exercised right now. How can you blame me for being cruel? Secretary Fu, you really are not know people's hearts."

She certainly understands that she must be uncomfortable now.

After walking for a long time, I feel a little uncomfortable wearing flat shoes, not to mention that she is still stepping on ten centimeter high heels, it is almost the same without blisters.

When the goal was achieved, Miriam didn't feel in the mood to accompany her to toss her down, paused, and looked back at her, "You should keep the hot drink for yourself. I have something to do. You don't have to work hard to stay with me and leave."

"Hey, you, you..."

When Sophia saw that she left herself like that and left, her face turned blue, and a mouthful of old blood stuck in her throat and almost didn't come out.

This damn woman played her like a fool for a long time.

On the way back to Bryan's office, I called Southeast.

"Miriam, I'm downstairs in your company, I heard them say you are not here."

Miriam was taken aback, looked around, and explained, "Uh, brother, I forgot to tell you, I'm not in the company right now, in the building opposite the company, wait a minute, I will come to you now."

Xiang Dongnan said over there: "Are you busy? Or I'll come and look for you."

Chapter 44

"No, no, I'm done now, you wait a while over there, and I'll be there soon." Miriam finished hurriedly, and hung up before he agreed.

Bryan was here, she didn't want the two to meet again, somehow, she was embarrassed to death when she thought of that scene.

Walking quickly back to the president's office, she knocked on the door and went in. The man was working and Miller was there.

With one more person, the atmosphere is finally not as embarrassing as before. She looked at the man and said frankly, "Mr. Shao, I have finished visiting your company. It is not too early. I will go back and report to our President Henry later. , Just go back first."

The man looked away from the computer screen and looked at her without answering immediately.

Miriam pursed her lips, walked to the sofa, took off the man's jacket and put it aside, gently picked up Tian Tian who was still asleep, looked at Miller again, and nodded, "I'm not disturbing. Goodbye."

After that, turn around and walk out.

"Wait." The man said suddenly.

She was taken aback, her heart sank, and she turned her head to stare at him, “Bryan, I have given you the face, what do you want to do? You have to embarrass each other?”

Miller took a playful look at the two of them, swaying a glass of red wine in his hand, sitting on the chair by the window, with an indescribable attitude.

Bryan closed the computer and stood up, walked around the table, and whispered in a low voice: “It just so happens that I have something to ask you, Mr. Henry, why don’t we go together?”

” ... ”

Miriam blushed for a moment, and if it weren’t for a child in her arms, she really wanted to go up and kick him.

Why didn’t she find out that he would look for trouble like that before?

After taking a few deep breaths, she calmed down and gritted her teeth and said: “Go by yourself, don’t follow me.”

Too lazy to argue with him, she threw a word, and she walked out without looking back.

Bryan pursed her lips, picked up the coat on the sofa, stepped on her long legs, and followed.

When the door was closed, Miller’s low laughter faintly came from the room.

”Really cheap.”

Miriam walked into the elevator, and Bryan appeared unhurriedly, as if he didn't intend to ride with her.

When the elevator went up, Sophia was about to look for him, but when she saw people passing by, her face changed slightly, "Brother Chen, where are you going?"

"There is something to deal with." The man didn't want to explain more.

"I'll follow you." She said, walking over, staggering.

The man noticed the strangeness and frowned, "What happened to your feet?"

Sophia was overjoyed, thinking he was caring for herself, bit her lips, her low voice was pitiful, "It's nothing serious, it's just that I've been walking with Miss Lu for too long, and it seems to be swollen."

The man's brows became tighter.

He said that he let her visit the company and didn't really let her run all over again. She hated herself so much. In order to avoid him, she didn't even care about her pregnant body?

The more I think about it, the more upset Bryan's heart becomes, and the expression on Jun's face becomes harder, and the contour of his jaw line tightens.

Looking at his expression, Sophia thought he was angry for herself, her pride grew stronger, she said softly, "Brother Chen, don't blame Miss Lu."

While speaking, the elevator just ascended, the door opened, and the man glanced at her lukewarmly, "Since you are uncomfortable, take a good rest. Let you take a half day off. You don't need to follow me today."

” ... ”

Sophia was taken aback, a little dazed, and then she watched him walk in and close the elevator door before reacting, “Chen, Brother Chen...?”

Who said she was taking time off?

It's obviously Miriam's woman...

There was a flash of silver in her mind, and she suddenly understood something.

Gritting her teeth and staring at the elevator, Sophia clenched her fists, and her hatred for Miriam soared to the extreme in an instant.

Dragging her painful ankle, she went to the president's office again, and she saw Miller sitting there leisurely, her pretty face looked even more ugly.

Without any obscenity, she asked frankly, “Gu Er Shao, what is going on with Brother Chen and that woman? Aren't they divorced?”

Miller didn't look surprised at what she suddenly came in and suddenly questioned. He tilted his head and looked under the building outside the window, and chuckled, “Who said that after a divorce, you can't stay together? There may be all kinds of things.”

Sophia's mood instantly sank to the bottom. If she was confident that Bryan would not like that woman before, what about now? The current development is definitely not what she wants.

”Impossible, Brother Chen won't look at her.” She affirmed loudly and with a cold look in her eyes.

Miller stared at her for a few seconds, then smiled, “Xiao Xue’er, it is good for a woman to be smart, but she is not smarter if she is self-righteous. Whatever he wants is his personal business, I can’t control it, and you can’t control it.”

Sophia straightened her back, and the thoughts in her eyes made no secret of her, “You have always been too lazy to take care of things, but I am different. I finally waited for his divorce. How could I change the situation back to the original state? Like her, my aunt doesn’t like her even more. She will never want to enter the Shao’s house again in her life.”

”Then he doesn’t seem to look down on you. He and Miriam slept for three years no matter what, you wandered in front of him all day, and he didn’t think about you. Obviously, his pursuit of beauty and figure is not that high.”

” ... ”

This sentence is undoubtedly the most heartbreaking.

Sophia’s face became paler suddenly, this is a fact that she has never wanted to admit.

She bit her lip and argued, “Brother Chen...he is different from you. He is just a little straighter and will not be tempted by beauty. Moreover, he often doesn’t go home. Who knows if he ever slept with that woman.”

A faint smile flashed through Miller’s peachy eyes. He glanced at her and glanced into the distance.

Can you get pregnant without sleeping? No matter how stupid that guy is, he won’t know if he has a green hat.

After a long while, he sipped a sip of red wine, a strange light flashed in his eyes, and said lazily: “He doesn’t know how to tease, but a man’s desire for a woman is instinctive, unless he is-cold, otherwise... ..You go try?”

Sophia looked at him, her eyes brightened very quickly.

Downstairs, Miriam hugged Tian Tian out of Longteng and walked towards her company building.

Feeling that someone was following behind her, she looked back and found that the man had really followed him out, not hurriedly, not looking at her, and it didn’t look like he was trying to follow her.

She gritted her teeth and resisted being ignored.

Downstairs of Yingxin Technology, she saw Xiang Southeast standing by the car from a distance, and shouted, “Brother.”

Chapter 45

”Miriam.” Walking towards the southeast, he took Tian Tian in her arms and chuckled, “I slept soundly.”

”Yeah, she is very good.” Miriam touched her forehead, her eyes soft, “put her in the car, don’t catch a cold.”

Nodding to the southeast, when he turned his eyes, he happened to catch a glimpse of Bryan who was walking behind him.

Bryan stopped when the two were talking, and looked at the image of a family of three from a distance. He seemed to be stabbed in his chest, breathless and extremely unsightly.

"I thought Miss Lu was really working when she came back in such a hurry. It turned out that she rushed to see Mr. Xiang."

Miriam's body was slightly stiff, and for a while, she took her arm towards the southeast, and smiled at him, "Yes, he will be leaving soon, of course I can look twice as long as I can. Mr. Shao is surrounded by so much. Woman, surely you don't understand this feeling."

Xiang Dongnan suddenly turned his head and smiled at her, his eyes were quite dotting, and then he handed the child to her, "Put her in the car, I will say something to Mr. Shao."

Miriam's expression was hesitant, looking at him, not knowing what he was going to do.

Freed his hand to Southeast, rubbed her head affectionately, "Go."

Bryan's dark eyes stared at his behavior, his breath suddenly sank a little, and his hands in his pockets curled up.

"I just heard that Mr. Shao's branch is located upstairs here?" Xiang Southeast walked to him in a flat tone.

Bryan pursed his lips and smiled casually, "Yes, the location here is good."

"Because of her?" Xiang Dongnan asked straightforwardly, as if asking about the weather in a weak tone.

"What do you think, Mr. Xiang?" Bryan said without any turbulence, looking at him with calm and deep eyes, but with a sense of silent oppression.

Looking directly at him to the southeast, with a smile, "I thought that a smart person like President Shao should be able to tell without telling me that she doesn't like what you do, so why not let her and yourself let go?"

"Mr. Xiang's spare tire is made to a high standard, and it's very happy to pick up the leak, but I don't know that you have done all this. Looking back, the child in her stomach is willing to call you dad." Bryan looked at him coldly. His eyes mocked extremely.

The light towards the southeast was slightly deep, and he looked back at Miriam next to the car and smiled faintly, "I am not as eager for quick success and quick profit as Mr. Shao. I want to spend more time with my family. My daughter likes her and I believe her. I was the first person I saw when the child was born, and I shouldn't be disgusted with me. As for how to call it, Mr. Shao is worried."

"The child is mine?" Bryan narrowed his eyes and looked at him sharply.

Although doubtful, the tone has been determined.

Xiang Dongnan still looks gentle and elegant, and his tone of voice is somewhat alienated and indifferent, "Isn't it important? The important thing is what she wants...I can give it."

When the words fell, he curled his lips, adjusted the cuffs of his suit, and walked towards Miriam.

What she wants is a complete home, a loved one, and a warm and plain life. Only after the two have also experienced a broken marriage can they experience that feeling. Bryan is destined to not give it.

Miriam stood by the car and watched for a long time, still inexplicably nervous, "What... did you tell him?"

She couldn't help but looked towards Bryan. The man stood motionless, with no emotion on Jun's face.

"I didn't say anything, I just expanded my business with him. After all, in a company as big as Longteng, it is rare to see the boss once, so why should I seize the opportunity." Xiang Nannan smiled.

"Oh oh." Miriam nodded, although she didn't believe it very much, she didn't expose it.

"Okay, I have something to do there. I'll go back first. You should be busy too, but pay more attention to rest."

"I know, brother."

Smiled southeast, and while she was not paying attention, a kiss fell firmly on her forehead.

Miriam stiffened all over and pushed him subconsciously.

The man seemed to have expected her movement, and whispered in her ear: "Since it's better to do the show, just do it all. A few words should not fool him."

" ... "

Miriam's raised hand still stopped life, but she didn't dare to see Bryan inexplicably, and she felt a guilty conscience in her heart.

Until Xiang Dongnan had drove away, she hadn't recovered from her stiffness, and a cold voice pulled her mind back.

Bryan didn't know when he came to her, and directly raised his hand to strangle her chin, his tone was covered with chills, "I didn't know you well enough before, I really don't know how many green hats you put on me. Up."

Miriam's pale face turned black for an instant, and he slapped his hand away, and said coldly, "Bryan, I have a clear conscience about that marriage. You have the right to have money, and you should be the one who should most doubt it."

After a pause, she sneered, "However, it was originally an agreement to get married. I don't care. What do you care? You don't care before the divorce. After the divorce, don't bother me again. Otherwise, I really want to doubt... you. Did you fall in love with me."

Not wanting to pester him at the door of the company, she hurried to leave after speaking.

Bryan clasped her wrist first, frowned, and looked cold, "Miriam, the child is not southeast."

Miriam's face turned pale, she fluttered around for a while, struggling to move, and stammered: "Yes, even if it's not his, it can't be yours. You let me go, otherwise... My name is The security sue you for s3xual harassment."

This bastard!

There are people coming and going, he is not afraid of being seen?

The man held her on her hand and smiled lightly, "Scream, then see if they think I'm harassing you, or if you take the initiative to post it."

"You..." Miriam choked, her face as ugly as she swallowed a fly.

Need to ask?

As far as his looks and dress are concerned, an individual can see that it is either rich or expensive. It is good if a woman doesn't post it up, how could he even harass people.

She stood up straight, resisted the rampage, and gritted her teeth low: "Bryan, what the hell do you want to do? I said you fell in love with me, you don't admit it, but you come out and brush your presence in front of me from time to time. , I let you be clear about your purpose. You are tweaking the ink like a woman again. I doubt if you are insane. Should I send you to the hospital?"

"..."

Bryan looked at her, his eyelids twitched, a few black lines crossed his stern face, and suddenly there was an urge to strangle her.

Chapter 46

His breath sank, he squeezed her wrist tightly, his dark black eyes locked her little face motionlessly, and he said in a low voice, "Don't you want to know my attitude? Then I'll tell you , If the child is mine... I will never allow you to get involved with any man again."

"..."

Miriam's heart was shocked, and her pupils expanded extremely quickly.

After a few seconds of stagnation, she went through his words in her mind.

He doesn't love her because of the child, and he doesn't want to give her freedom.

Miriam's heart was suddenly cold, and the look in his eyes was extremely strange.

He, how could he be so selfish?

She hasn't been sorry for him in the past three years, right?

Her head was shocked a little dizzy. After a while, she calmed down and faced him with a rather mocking smile, her voice was slightly hoarse, "Bryan... you are forcing me to kill them. ?"

Seeing his successful face change, she laughed completely, presumptuously, even with sore eyes, gritted her teeth and said cruelly: "Don't let me see you again, or I will definitely not keep them."

She didn't care if she had admitted her identity as a child. Miriam had a brilliant smile on her face and pain in her heart, but she was more disappointed.

She thought that even if she didn't love, she could bless each other when separated.

Ah.....

Pulling away from his hand, she closed her eyes ridiculously, her expression suddenly tired, she didn't want to say a word, and left without looking back.

Bryan stood behind her, his heart tensed, and subconsciously wanted to reach out to hold her, but he just brushed it to the corner of his clothes and wanted to make a sound, but the restraint and forbearance he had cultivated all the year did not let him take that step.

He didn't want to go to the company, so he stood for a while and left alone.

...

In the evening, Miriam came home from get off work.

"Mom, I'm back."

Mother Lu heard the sound from the kitchen, poked her head out, and said with a smile: "Go wash your hands and have dinner."

Miriam rubbed her eyebrows, put down her bag, and replied with little effort, "Mom, I'm not hungry, you can eat by yourself, I will take a bath first."

Lu Mu changed her face slightly when she heard the words, turned the fire off, and walked out to look at her, "Miriam, what's wrong with you? Why is her expression so bad?"

Seeing her pale face and tired eyes, Mother Lu was a little anxious, "Is it unwell? Is the child in my stomach trouble you?"

Miriam's nose was sour, she turned her face away so that she could not see it, and said as calmly as possible: "I'm fine, but I work too much today. I am tired and have no appetite. I want to take a bath and rest. You can eat. ."

Mother Lu frowned, "How can it work? Even if you are tired, you have to eat. Your current body doesn't allow you to toss like this. Good, go take a bath first, and I will wait for you to come out before eating.

"Mom..." Miriam's eyes were hot, her heart could no longer be stretched, and she hugged her and sobbed quietly. There was no sound, but it made people feel wronged.

Mother Lu was frightened at once, and hurriedly asked, "What's wrong? Did someone bully you? Miriam, tell mom, is it bullied at the company?"

My daughter knows her best. She is usually as strong as a man, and she won't say a word in front of her no matter how wronged she is.

Miriam didn't speak, but wanted to vent quietly.

From her father's accident, to the divorce, to today, she has been depressed for a long time. If it weren't for her mother and two children in her belly, she really didn't know how long she could last, and Bryan seemed to hold everything in her heart. She tried her best to maintain her last self-esteem in front of him, even if she was divorced, she couldn't let him see her embarrassment.

Today, the string finally broke.

Miriam felt that all his strength was exhausted at that moment.

"Miriam?" Mother Lu hugged her and called out softly, but her heart was extremely anxious.

After a while, Miriam lifted her head from her arms, wiped away her tears, and still said nothing, "No one can bully me, I'm just too tired. I will take a shower first, and I will come out to eat with you later."

"Miriam...is it really okay?" Mother Lu was worried, but didn't dare to ask more.

"It's okay, you go and clean up." She cleaned up her emotions and turned back to the bedroom.

Chapter 47

At this time, in a bar in City Two, under the noisy environment, two figures were standing in the corner, one was pouring wine into his mouth continuously, the other was smoking quietly beside, neither blocking nor persuading.

Another bottle of wine hit the bottom. Miller also finished smoking a cigarette, squeezed out the cigarette butt, and finally was willing to take away the cup from the man's hand, "Although it is not to spend your money, it is not necessary to drink it as water, right?"

The man turned his head to look at him, his handsome face was reddish, slightly drowsy, but not obvious, his eyes were still clear, "How many bottles of wine do you feel distressed?"

The corner of Miller's mouth twitched, "Is it the wine that I'm distressed about? You didn't say a word for a long time, let me watch you drink, you have to give me a reason?"

The man is Bryan. He takes off his suit jacket. He only wears a white shirt on his upper body. The neckline is wide open. The slender fingers hold the cup. There is a faint trace of loneliness between the brows without much expression, which makes people look at a kind of expensive decadence. sense.

He glanced at Miller and turned his gaze to the chaotic crowd. There was indescribable complexity in the deep darkness, and all that came to mind were Miriam's eyes and expressions in the afternoon.

When he thought of her, he felt a trace of regret and panic in his heart at this time, very uncomfortable.

Was he not clear enough, or did she understand it wrong?

Seeing his lifeless appearance, Miller suddenly felt painful, smoking a cigarette again and lighting it, and beckoned to the waiter.

"Sir, what's your order?" The bartender eagerly stepped forward.

" ... "

Miller whispered a few words to him, then waved his hand to let him pass.

A few minutes later, the bartender came back again, with two young women with hot and charming looks behind him.

"Sir, I brought people."

Miller raised his eyes and glanced at it, waved his hand, "Go."

Then he smiled at the two beauties, "Little sister, I have a buddy here who is not in a good mood, please help him to relieve his boredom."

Bryan, " ... "

"No problem handsome guy, just leave it to us." The two beauties glanced at them and smiled extremely sultry.

Miller curled his lips playfully, smoking a cigarette, stood up and patted the man on the shoulder, "Let go. I'll go out."

After speaking, walked out.

It's just that he didn't expect that, he had to go out and make a phone call, and when he came back, the two beauties were no longer there, leaving only the man with a gloomy face who was about to kill.

His face changed, he looked at the broken cup on the table and smiled stiffly, "You don't... even beat women?"

Before the voice fell, Bryan's eyes shot directly, "If you panic when you are idle, you can go now."

" ... "

Miller touched his nose, sat down again, and said angrily, "I'm looking for two women to help you resolve your loneliness. Do you need to hold a stinky face? Is it possible that you still want me to help you treat your ex-wife? Call here?"

Seeing him like this, you don't need to think about it and know that you must have hit a wall in front of Miriam today, and with such a big love rival, it is not strange if he is not depressed.

Bryan didn't bother to pay attention to him, and continued to think about his own affairs.

It was the first time that Miller saw him so indecisive. He could make a decision in a few seconds without moving his eyes on a list of hundreds of millions. If a woman made him so frustrated, if not for fear of being beaten, he really wanted to be big. Smile a few times.

It was almost twelve o'clock before Bryan put down the cup, rubbed his eyebrows, and got up to leave.

Seeing his somewhat unstable figure, Miller murmured in his heart. He really thought he wouldn't be drunk.

No matter how good the amount of alcohol is, he will not take him to drink like this. If he is not drunk, he will suspect that he will be black shops from time to time.

Putting the jacket on his shoulders casually, he frowned, glanced back at him, and said vaguely: "Send me home."

Miller, "..."

Yes, he has changed from guardian to driver again. Did he owe him in his previous life?

He thought so, but he still stood up, sniffed the strong smell of wine, raised a few fingers and dangled in front of him, "What's this?"

Bryan, "..."

The man looked at him like an idiot for a few seconds, "Is your brain fooled by a woman?"

"Hey, aren't you drunk? I still think that if you are unconscious, you will throw you into a group of women to ensure that you will be refreshed tomorrow and you will never recite Miriam or Lulu." Miller shot He patted the smell of smoke on his clothes, and laughed ridiculously, his tone was full of ridicule.

Bryan's dark eyes narrowed, "I can also promise you to lie down in the hospital for the rest of your life."

Under the scent of alcohol, the man's former calm and abstinence breath is a bit darker and colder.

Miller curled his lips with a lack of interest.

After drinking so much alcohol, even if he is not drunk, he is probably half drunk and half awake. He doesn't care about him.

Outside the bar, as soon as the two of them appeared, the long-awaited figure walked out.

"Brother Chen." Sophia wore a long windbreaker, her dress was a little different from the past, with long hair and plain makeup.

When Bryan saw her, Jian frowned, "Why are you here?"

Sophia stepped forward, looking at his somewhat messy short hair, and said dissatisfied: "Didn't you say that you will go home to dine with your aunt tonight? No one answered after calling you for a long time. My aunt is worried, so let me look for it. , Gu Er Shao told me you are here."

Bryan suddenly turned to look at Miller.

The other side smiled as usual, "You said you, why did you turn off the phone after a drink, my aunt couldn't find you, Xiao Xueer could only find me. You know I don't like lying."

Sophia hurriedly explained, "Brother Chen, don't behave like your second youngest. I forced you to ask. Auntie is very worried. I can't explain it to her."

Bryan glanced at her, and didn't say anything from the beginning to the end. He didn't know if he drank too much or didn't want to pay any attention. He pushed Miller away and walked towards the car at the door.

Miller looked at Sophia up and down, and smiled, "You women are really comfortable with this kind of thing, you don't need to teach."

Sophia pursed her lips in embarrassment and smiled deeply, "Gu Er Shao, thank you, if this happens, I will not forget your favor this time."

"No need to thank me." The man immediately waved his hand, his lips were always smiling, his voice was low and faint, "I didn't help you, even without you tonight, I will find other women. You're just picking things up."

Sophia's smile stiffened, her expression flashed with embarrassment, but she couldn't help gritting her teeth with hatred in her heart.

When she became Bryan's woman, she would definitely have to settle this account, but what a prestige and prestige is a rich second-generation gnawing on.

Chapter 48

As soon as Bryan opened the car door, Miller who came by behind closed it again, "I have also drunk and cannot drive. Let Xiao Xueer take you back."

Sophia took the opportunity to interject, "Brother Chen, I also drove over, I'll take you back, so that Gu Ershao can go back to rest earlier."

Bryan frowned and saw Miller's eyes darkened suddenly, "Are you planning to stay for the night?"

Miller smiled indifferently, "I can't spend the night as a lonely person, and this young man is not so poor that he can't afford to open a house. You'd better let auntie do nothing, go back soon."

Sophia said: "Yes, Brother Chen, auntie is still waiting at home. Shall we go back soon?"

Bryan's dark eyes examined him for a few seconds, and then turned back to Sophia's car without saying a word.

Miller was a little horrified by his last look, but he still resisted not showing it, still smiling and watching Sophia close the car door for him.

Sophia breathed a sigh of relief, her tone was light, and waved to him, "Second Young Master, let's go first, and you should rest early."

"Little Xueer, there is only one chance." Miller put his hands in his pockets and said a meaningful word to her.

Sophia's expression was slightly stiff, and she didn't say much. She sat in the driver's seat, closed the door and started the engine to leave.

The night is getting darker, and the city's lights are still bustling.

As the car drove on the road for a while, Sophia glanced at the man in the back seat through the rearview mirror, and an inexplicable expression flashed across her face.

The man sits leaning back, long legs slightly bent, eyes closed, motionless, like a handsome and perfect sculpture, which makes it difficult to guess whether he is asleep or false.

Of course Sophia wanted him to fall asleep, but when he thought that he was drinking so much wine because of Miriam, the jealousy in her heart poured out again.

A woman with no looks, ability, or background, she didn't understand what was worthy of his concern. Perhaps it was just because of three years of getting used to her existence that she suddenly divorced and made him uncomfortable.

It doesn't matter, after tonight, she will let him know that any woman is better than that Miriam.

Thinking of the next thing, she couldn't help but start to feel excited again.

After a while, thinking that the stamina of alcohol should come up, she tentatively called out, "Brother Chen, Brother Chen?"

The man did not respond after ten seconds.

She was about to rejoice when suddenly a man's cold and hoarse voice came from behind her ears, "What's the matter?"

Sophia was taken aback for a moment, and explained in a panic, "Uh...I want to ask if you want to call Auntie first."

Didn't Miller say that he drank a lot of alcohol? Why are you still not drunk?

"No, I won't go back tonight, take me back to Jinglin Bay."

Sophia was taken aback and nodded, "Oh, okay, I'll report my aunt's peace when I look back."

It is just right for her not to go back, and there will be fewer people to disturb her, and her business will not be broken.

Jinglinwan was the apartment where he and Miriam lived before. After the divorce, he would return there regularly, but she had never been there.

The man fell silent again after speaking.

There was dead silence in the car, and Sophia also deliberately slowed down.

When she got downstairs in the apartment, she stopped the car, then opened the door of the back seat, "Brother Chen, here."

After all, with the effects of so much high alcohol, Bryan's head became a little groggy as he drove along.

Seeing that he didn't respond, Sophia was overjoyed, and deliberately whispered in his ear, "Brother Chen? We are here."

A few seconds later, the man slowly opened his eyes. In the dim night, he looked at the somewhat blurred face in front of him, and he tried to dizzy and got out of the car.

Sophia hurriedly posted to support him, and said softly: "Bryan, shall I send you up?"

With a sound of Bryan, the man whose eyes were a little blurred suddenly moved in his heart. All that appeared in his mind was that charming and white face, and for a moment he forgot where he was.

Sophia's heart jumped wildly, and her soft figure pressed closer to him.

Arrive at the apartment upstairs.

He took the key out of his arms and opened the door. Sophia's eyes were shining with a hot light. As soon as the door was closed and the light was not turned on, she couldn't wait to press him against the wall and said, "Bryan...I Miss you... love me... okay?"

With no fingers in sight, Sophia couldn't see his expression. She pulled her jacket to reveal the low-cut skirt inside, and her soft, boneless skin pressed hard against his arms. Her hands kept touching and gasping. His name, "Bryan...Bryan..."

No matter who he considers her, even if it is a mistake, she will succeed.

He is usually very restrained, drunkenness is almost non-existent, and he will find out if he prescribes medicine, so she has been waiting for a long time this evening.

After working for a long time, there was still silence in the air.

Suddenly she felt a little uneasy, and she rubbed her head up to find his lips, and her palm began to move down quickly.

She didn't believe it so he couldn't respond.

It's just that as soon as the palm reached his waist, he was clasped by the powerful palm. The next moment, there was a bright pop in front of him.

Suddenly pierced by the light, Sophia closed her eyes reflexively, and then opened her eyes to instantly meet the man's gloomy handsome face.

There was a tremor in her heart, her small face instantly white reflections, she staggered a step backward, and stammered in panic, "Chen, Brother Chen, I..."

The man's face was covered with a strong chill, and the cold icy gaze froze on her face for a second, he lifted his thin lips and spit out a word, "Go!"

The two of them were still standing in the hallway, their clothes were disheveled, the woman was in good shape, and the deep gully on her chest was unobstructed.

But Sophia was already shocked by the look in his eyes, and her limbs were filled with lead, and she was cold from the inside, and she trembled, "Chen, Brother Chen..."

too horrible!

She had no doubt that he would choke her to death impulsively.

"Should I get out of the company now or tomorrow?" The man looked at her with only cold eyes.

Sophia's face turned pale again, biting her lip and looking at him unwillingly, she aggrieved Bara's pleading, "Brother Chen, you can clearly see my feelings for you, let me stay and take care of you?"

"The story of Miriam has been turned over. I will always be with you, Brother Chen, I have liked you for so long. Can you give me a chance?"

As she said, her eyes were slowly reddening, and she looked miserable with her almost bare face tonight.

Seeing that there was no response from him, she leaned over again, but was thrown away by the man before her hand touched it.

Bryan endured the dizziness of his head, his eyes were piercing, and he said clearly and forcefully: "Sophia, don't let me repeat it. I will ask you to settle the matter for tonight, so let me go right now."

A trace of fear flashed through Sophia's eyes, but when she thought of leaving like this, her heart was more unwilling.

Suddenly, she gritted her teeth, rushed to hug him, and said loudly: "I don't want to go, Bryan...Don't let me leave...I love you, I love you..."

In a random confession, she clung to him like a dogskin plaster, biting his neck, leaving a string of hickeys.

Chapter 49

Bryan's eyes surged, and the chill in his expression became more angry. Without the slightest pity for Xiangxiyu, he buckled her shoulders and pulled the person off from him, opened the door with one hand, and threw the person out without saying a word.

The door slammed shut.

Sophia yelled outside and knocked on the door, "Bryan, Bryan..."

Bryan was a little sober from the wine, and he didn't pay attention to the door at all, his face was green, and he walked into the bathroom while undressing.

Half an hour later, the man casually wrapped a bath towel around his waist and walked out, his complexion still not good, he wiped his dripping hair indiscriminately, went to the living room, picked up the phone, and quickly dialed a number.

There was no knock at the door.

The call was quickly connected.

Without waiting to speak there, Bryan's extremely cold voice rang, "Miller, am I too good to you? That's how you f&cking sell me?"

No matter how calm and steady he is usually, he can't help being furious at this time, and even his words are full of gunpowder.

Miller didn't seem to be surprised by his call, and he laughed twice, "Dude, this trick is a bit of a loss, but don't you think the effect is obvious? If you find a stranger for you, you will definitely reject it. Why is Sophia staying with you for so many years? If you don't even have s3x with her, then I don't need to explain the reason? If you still don't recognize yourself, then I really want to doubt your IQ for years. Is it down?"

"I need you so much nosy?" Bryan gritted his teeth.

"Damn! I don't want to help you out because of you? Why is it a nosy? When you find out by yourself, I guess she will get the certificate."

Bryan sneered, "When did you learn from your mother so much?"

"My mother doesn't care about you, so my buddy can still think of you well. Forget it, if you're blind and hypocritical, continue to pretend to be cold. I have already helped if I can help. There is nothing wrong with you at all."

Miller laughed and finished speaking, and hung up without giving him a chance to refute.

Bryan stared at the phone with a dark expression about to kill.

Although fearless on the phone, Miller didn't have the guts to show up in front of him again. He booked a ticket and returned to Jincheng early the next morning.

Before Bryan rushed to the company, she was urged back home by Shao's mother.

When Shao's mother saw him coming back, she immediately questioned him, "Bryan, you did too much last night, come with me to Fu's house and apologize to Xiaoxue."

Bryan's face immediately sank, "Mom, don't you ask what she did?"

Mother Shao frowned, "Of course I know what she did. Everything is instructed by me. If you want to blame, blame your mother. Why did you bully her? Your Uncle Fu said that she went back and cried for a night last night and almost came to find You settle the account.”

”You instructed it?” Bryan’s face was deep, and naturally he wouldn’t believe her.”An unmarried woman shamelessly climbed onto a man’s bed. Did you teach it?”

Mother Shao choked, with some guilty defense, “Xiaoxue has liked you for so many years, and you are now divorced, why can’t you consider her? She is good at everything and loves you so much, so I won’t lose a bit if she is a daughter-in-law. You?”

”I won’t think about it anymore, don’t bother.” Bryan turned and left.

Shao Mu’s face changed and she pulled him, “What did you say? Don’t think about it? Is it possible that you are still thinking about that woman?”

Her eyes were lingering, and she said forcefully: “I won’t say anything if I don’t get divorced. Now that I’m divorced, I’ll be cut off completely. I don’t allow you to interact with her anymore, and our Shao family will never let her in again. .”

The daughter of a corrupt official, their family cannot afford to lose this person.

Bryan’s face became more serious, but his attitude remained steady, “You don’t need to worry about my business, and you don’t care about Sophia. There is still business in our company.”

Shao’s mother wanted to say something and others walked to the door and left without turning her head. She was suddenly very angry. Recalling what Sophia had said to her before, her eyes gradually became cold when she looked at the front.

On the way to the branch, Bryan asked the personnel at the headquarters to send Sophia a dismissal email.

A few minutes later, the woman called.

He didn't watch or answer.

The vibration stopped for a few minutes.

Half an hour later, Shao's mother called again.

Although guessing what it was, the man pressed to connect.

"Bryan, are you going to kick Xiaoxue out of the company? What are you doing?"

"You don't have to worry about company affairs, I have my own decision."

"No, I don't agree with this matter. Xiaoxue did not violate the company system, nor did she leak company secrets, but if she thinks about you, you will get rid of people. You are a fake public for personal gain." Shao motherly scolded. he.

"Before what happened last night, she should have considered the consequences, people who would only cause me trouble, why should I keep it?" Bryan said without emotion.

"you!"

Shao mother was speechless, "You don't know her mind, besides, you have been holding her by your side for so many years, how she said she has done so much for the company, you just because of that point last night I quit her because of the trivial matter. How do you ask me to explain to you Uncle Fu?

"Uncle Fu, I will explain it. Mom, I'm driving and hang up first."

"allow....."

Holding the steering wheel and driving steadily, Bryan quickly left Sophia's matter behind and thought about what Miller had said last night.

The car was parked in the underground parking lot. The man sat quietly in the car for a while and fell into thought. After a long time, he suddenly narrowed his eyes and couldn't help dialing the familiar number.

After being connected, it only rang and was hung up.

He suddenly sank his face, moved his fingers and swiped it.

This time the direct voice prompt, "The number you dialed is temporarily unavailable..."

Obviously, it was blacked out.

A breath of depression suddenly blocked his chest, and Bryan's thin lips slowly tightened.

Is she really angry this time?

At this time, Miriam on the mobile phone turned off the phone and continued the meeting without seeing it.

"Sister Miriam, you didn't look so good today, are you tired?" Assistant Xiao Zhang asked in a low voice.

Miriam recovered, touched her dry face, smiled, "It's okay, maybe I didn't sleep last night, so I can just apply makeup later."

She must have had a bad face without falling asleep last night.

"You should pay more attention to rest. I'll make you a cup of coffee later."

Chapter 50

She just wanted to answer, when she remembered that she was a pregnant woman, she shook her head, "No, I don't drink coffee."

"What about the tea?"

Miriam looked at him amused, "It's not necessary, if you really want to do something, you can make a cup of coffee for every colleague in the department. I believe they will like you very much."

Xiao Zhang, "..."

After the meeting, Miriam went to the bathroom to wash her face with cold water and put on a light make-up. When she came out, she was called by a colleague in the personnel department.

"Manager Lu, this is for a few interns just hired by your department. If you join today, you sign and take them over to make arrangements."

Miriam smiled and nodded, then lowered her head to sign her name, "Okay, I'm sorry to trouble you."

Afterwards, she looked at the three young people and said warmly: "Follow me."

"Good manager."

"Well, hello, I will work together in the future and work hard."

"..."

The people on the road got to know each other a bit. After arriving at the department, Miriam handed them to Xiao Zhang to arrange, and then returned to the office to continue working.

Sitting at the desk, she habitually looked out of the window, and unconsciously glanced at the building and the office opposite, and her mood suddenly became serious again.

Hastily retracted his sight and immersed himself in work.

In the office facing each other in the air, Bryan looked at the woman who broke into his office indifferently.

Sophia took off her sunglasses and showed her red and swollen eyes, and looked at him sadly, "Brother Chen, I was wrong about what happened last night. Don't drive me away."

"You didn't expect this result last night? Or do you think I will change my decision easily, and even let my mother come as a lobbyist for you." Bryan seemed not interested in taking care of it, and after looking at her, he continued Work hard.

Sophia's face turned pale, "I, I didn't tell my aunt...what to say."

"I also gave him a face and it was too ugly on your dad's side. Are you unable to speak or amnesia, and you want me to tell him what happened last night one by one?"

Sophia was crying and crying and begging, "Brother Chen, I was really wrong. This kind of thing will never happen again. You can punish me and let me do anything, please don't drive me away?"

"Being with me for so long, you also know me, I don't like trouble and people who cause trouble." Bryan finished speaking, and dropped a few words, "Get out."

"Brother Chen..." Sophia was very unwilling. She lost her job when she didn't get what happened last night, and she suddenly felt that Miller was just calculating her.

Seeing the man's indifferent attitude, she gritted her teeth, planning to go back and beg Shao mother again.

She must not leave Longteng, otherwise there would be no chance.

Turn around and leave.

"Wait." The man suddenly called to her, looked at her with a warm eyes, and said quietly: "You don't need to leave, but you don't have to go back to the headquarters in the future. Stay in the branch office and start from the grassroots."

Letting her stay is not softhearted, because Bryan knows she will not give up, and will toss his mother thinking about the law, and the Fu family will also come to the door thinking about the law, and he doesn't have much leisure to deal with these things.

Sophia's eyes still brightened when she heard the first half of his sentence, but the more she listened, her face worsened, and she said dissatisfied: "The grassroots? Even if I do something wrong, but my work ability is still there, you let me follow Starting at the grassroots level, what would those people think of me?"

It's all about not being his assistant anymore. She has to follow the expressions on the bosses at the basic level. How can she stand it?

"You can still choose not to do it." The man's patience was almost used, frowning obviously unhappy.

Sophia pursed her lips, feeling unwilling, but there is no other way. She wants to stay and can only do so, "I just do it."

In fact, she had other plans in her heart. Even if she couldn't return to Jincheng, she couldn't do anything here.

As long as Mother Shao is held, she is still afraid that she will not be able to enter the gate of Shao's family?

The man stopped looking at her, "Go out."
