

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South]

Chapter 1631

“But I don’t want to... become a fatty. I want to be... handsome. I want you to like me.” Shaun raised his head, his clear eyes looking very serious.

Catherine’s pretty face was reflected in his eyes. Catherine’s heart was doused in honey from his gaze.

Although Shaun was acting silly now, his hair had been shaved into a crew cut after he got hurt. His chiseled, good-looking face was utterly handsome.

In the past, he was very handsome when he had a stern expression. However, his naive look at that moment was very cute too.

“Mm, I like you a lot now.” Catherine could not resist it. She lowered her head and kissed Shaun on the lips.

Shaun blinked his thick eyelashes. Then, he kissed her back on the lips as well. “Cathy, I like you too...”

Although Catherine clearly knew that what he had for her was pure adoration and definitely not romantic feelings, her heart still could not help but start to throb.

She lowered her head and kissed him again. “Shaunny, open your mouth.” Shaun was confused.

He did not think too much and simply listened to Catherine’s words. “Shaunny, close your eyes...”

“Oh.”

Shaun quickly closed his eyes obediently.

He thought that Catherine's lips were soft and sweet. He liked them very much. After kissing for a long time, Shaun felt his body becoming hotter.

However, Catherine pulled away at that moment.

Shaun pressed his lips together. "Cathy... Your mouth... is more delicious than chocolate."

Catherine's face heated up from feeling awkward. She felt like she was an indecent hoodlum. Shaun was so innocent right now, yet she did not even spare him. "Shaunny, you must remember this.

Only I can kiss you the way I did just now. Other people can't kiss you like that."

"Why?" Shaun was puzzled.

"Because... Because this part of you is mine. Do you know that?" Catherine tapped his delicate-looking lips.

"Oh, I'm yours..." Shaun nodded, but he seemed like he did not fully understand her. Then, he smiled goofily.

His smile was like the bright sun.

Catherine's heart was about to melt. She quickly changed the topic. "Come, I'll feed you."

Shaun obediently ate a bowl of rice.

After he finished eating, Catherine had some food too. Then, she rolled up her sleeves. "You have to take a bath today. I'll prepare your clothes for you."

After everything was prepared, Catherine brought Shaun to the bathroom.

He had a wound on his head and it could not be in contact with water, so he could only take a shower.

Catherine went on her tiptoes and helped Shaun to unbutton his hospital garment. She was familiar with his body, but it was her first time helping him bathe. Catherine's small face flushed hot due to awkwardness.

Shaun innocently looked at her and let himself be moved around by Catherine. However, as he was showering, he suddenly felt that his body was having a weird reaction. When he spoke, his throat was very hoarse. "Cathy, I... I feel uncomfortable."

Catherine was dumbfounded.

Did Shaun not injure that part of his body after getting stabbed in prison last time? After they got back together, they never really had sex before. He had even looked for andrologists for medical consultations previously.

Catherine knew that Shaun had always been uncomfortable about this. She could only encourage him in silence.

However... How did he suddenly recover?

F*ck, he had the intelligence of a two-year-old with a perfectly healthy body.

The heavens might have shut his doors, but they opened a window for him as well.

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 1632

Catherine was on the verge of crying. Were the heavens playing a prank on her?

"Cathy..." Shaun lowered his head and looked at Catherine. Due to the steam from the hot shower, his dark eyes looked as though he was about to cry.

Catherine gazed at his thin, red lips. She suppressed her embarrassment and circled his neck. She kissed him softly. "Good boy. It's okay. I'm right here..."

After bathing, it was 8:00 p.m.

Catherine had made do and bathed with Shaun as well. After changing into a new set of clothes,

Shaun lay down on the bed with a satisfied expression.

On the other hand, Catherine still felt a little awkward and dumbfounded.

She was thinking about whether to call Chester to ask him why the problem of Shaun's sexual dysfunction had suddenly recovered. However, she thought that such matters were very awkward to talk about, so she just let it slide.

After she woke up the next day, she was still in a blur. Shaun came close and kissed her again.

“Cathy, I feel uncomfortable again.”

Catherine felt that she was doomed.

What happened to Shaun having the intelligence of a two-year-old? Why did she feel like he was improving tremendously in that area and was even better than before?

Of course, not long after, someone knocked on the door outside.

Catherine quickly pushed him away. “The doctor is here. Be good. You can't believe this anymore.”

“Why?” Shaun pouted. He had an unwilling expression.

“Because we can only kiss in private. I'll feel embarrassed if someone sees us. If you don't listen to me, I won't care about you anymore.” Catherine had no choice but to threaten him.

Shaun looked unsure of what she meant, but he was afraid that Cathy would ignore him. Therefore, he nodded his head obediently.

Catherine took a blanket to cover his body. She only went to open the door after tidying up a little.

It was Chester and two other doctors who were experts in neurology and psychology respectively.

“We’re here to visit Shaun.” Chester raised his eyebrows. “Did you just wake up? It’s already 8:30 a.m.”

“... I was too tired, so I overslept,” Catherine replied. She could not possibly say that she and Shaun had already woken up, just that they were ‘lying in bed’.

“We came to have a look at Shaun’s condition today,” Chester explained, “If his injury has recovered, you guys can be discharged as soon as possible.”

Catherine nodded. She wanted to go back as soon as possible as well. Staying at home was definitely more comfortable.

The neurologist walked to the bedside and asked Shaun, “Does your head still hurt today?”

Shaun gazed at the doctor’s white robe. He shook his head in fear. “I’m not getting an injection.”

“Don’t be scared. There won’t be an injection, but you have to stay still.” The doctor examined

Shaun’s head. He asked again, “Do you feel uncomfortable anywhere? You have to reply honestly, okay?”

After thinking about it seriously for a while, Shaun lifted the blanket and pointed to a spot near his waist. He said aggrievedly, “It’s uncomfortable here.”

Catherine had the urge to dig a hole and bury herself in it. She pretended that she was blind and could not see what was going on.

“Ahem, Shaun has recovered?” Chester recovered from the shock. He held a fist to his mouth and coughed twice.

“That’s right. Why did he suddenly recover? I just found out about it too.” Catherine acted shocked and innocent with a flushed face. She quickly went over and covered Shaun with the blanket.

The doctors calmed down. One of them cleared his throat and said kindly, “This is normal. Hmm... I think he can be discharged tomorrow.”

“Really?” Catherine was delighted.

“Mm, there’s not much problem with his external injury. This is a problem with the internal part of his brain. His recovery can’t be hastened.” The doctors then left.

When Chester was about to leave, he smiled ambiguously and said, “It seems like I don’t have to go overseas to look for an andrologist for Shaun anymore. This is surprising. He just miraculously recovered.”

Chapter 1633

“That’s right. I didn’t expect it either.” After some time, Catherine showed a rueful look.

Chester gave her a profound glance. He did not say anything else about that matter and just said, “You should bring him to the andrology unit for a check-up today just in case, so you can confirm whether it’s just temporary or if he has really recovered. I’ll inform Doctor Leonard, who has been following up on his case.”

“Thank you.”

“No need. Shaun is my friend after all.” A hint of sadness flashed across Chester’s eyes.

He and Shaun had known each other for a long time. Shaun was probably the person who knew him the best. He did not expect that things would turn out like this in the end.

Catherine saw everything. Even though Chester would not make a good husband or boyfriend, he was absolutely amazing as a brother and a friend.

After having lunch in the afternoon, Catherine brought Shaun to the andrology unit.

There were not many people around at this time, so they did not have to worry that someone would spot them.

Doctor Leonard had been entrusted with this important task by Chester, so he stayed back and worked overtime.

At first, Shaun was not really willing to follow Doctor Leonard into the examination room. Hence, Catherine tried hard to persuade him. She used chocolates and the television to coax him. Finally, she managed to get him to go inside.

However, not long after Shaun went in, his cries were heard from inside the room. "You can't take it off... You're not allowed to take it off! Cathy said that no one is allowed to take off my pants except her."

Catherine pretended to be deaf. That was right, she did not hear anything. Doctor Leonard came out of the examination room resignedly. "Miss Jones, please come in and lend a hand to persuade him. He's strong. There's nothing else I can do."

Catherine felt embarrassed, but she could only bite the bullet and enter the room.

Inside the room, Shaun was holding tightly onto his pants. His eyebrows, nose, and mouth were almost bunched together. He looked as though he would rather die than surrender.

Catherine walked to his side. She bent over and patted his short, dark hair. "Shaunny, listen to the doctor. He wants to examine you."

Shaun pouted his pink lips confusedly. "But you said... I can't let anyone else take off my pants. Only you can do that."

"Ahem." Doctor Leonard, who was lowering his head and drinking water, quickly used the cup to block his face. He pretended as though he had not heard a thing.

Catherine desperately wanted to dig a hole and bury herself in it. However, at that moment, she could only bite the bullet and say, "This doctor can do it too. He just wants to check whether you're healthy or not. Just this once. Be good, okay?"

“Mm, okay...” Shaun agreed reluctantly.

After finally persuading that little master, Catherine headed outside, relieved.

Behind her, Shaun said to the doctor, “Okay, you can take off my pants, but you... Can’t simply touch me. Catherine said that only she can touch it.”

Catherine stumbled and almost fell.

After finally finding her balance, she quickly ran out. Her entire face went red.

She was still too embarrassed to raise her head even after Doctor Leonard and Shaun came out.

“Can the patient’s family come over?” Doctor Leonard waved his hand. “I’ve conducted a check-up. He’s very healthy.”

Catherine asked awkwardly, “Then why was he like that before...”

“Actually, I’ve already conducted many examinations on him before this. Although he was injured, his wound was already gradually recovering. I’ve told him before that it might be due to psychological reasons that he was unable to recover. Some men would have trauma after getting hurt.” Doctor Leonard smiled and said, “His mind is just like a plain sheet of paper right now. He doesn’t know that he was injured before, so he doesn’t feel any pressure. Maybe this is why he went back to normal.”

Catherine understood.

However, it was still unknown whether this was misfortune or luck.

Chapter 1634

“Alright, don’t worry too much. ” Doctor Leonard held a fist to his mouth and coughed. He smiled and said, “Your teachings are very precise. You can keep improving them.”

Catherine was embarrassed.

She yanked Shaun and left the andrology unit with a flushed face.

“Cathy, your face is very red.” Shaun looked at her with a dumb expression. “Are you... having a fever “No.”

Catherine realized that Shaun’s speech ability was improving tremendously. He was way better than other two-year-olds in this aspect.

After returning to the ward, Catherine gazed at Shaun with a serious expression. “Shaunny, in the future, you mustn’t say the words I’ve said to you out loud when there are outsiders around, okay?”

The reply she got was Shaun’s dazed handsome face.

Catherine bit the bullet and gave an example. “For instance, what I said in private about how you can’t let other people take off your pants, the parts that you can’t let others touch except me, or things like I’m the only one who can kiss your mouth... Don’t tell other people about these things.”

Shaun blinked his eyes. After thinking hard about it, he said, “That won’t do. What if... What if someone wants to kiss me—”

“You can just tell them ‘Please don’t kiss me’ and that they can’t touch that area,” Catherine interrupted him. “You don’t have to bring up our conversation to others.”

“.. Oh.” Shaun nodded his head in a blur. “Why?” “Because... Because I’ll feel embarrassed.”

Catherine looked straight into his eyes. “Moreover, I don’t treat you as a little baby.”

“Then do you treat me like a big baby?” Shaun’s watery eyes glinted. Catherine could not help but curse him in silence.

“You’re not even a big baby. You’re already an old baby, okay?”

“No, I treat you as the person I love.” Catherine rested her face on Shaun’s chest. “You don’t understand it now. But in the future, I’ll slowly teach you about love.”

“Oh, I know. It’s just like how I love chocolates and cartoons.” Shaun nodded his head firmly.

Catherine laughed bitterly. What the hell could he possibly know? Forget it. She would teach him slowly.

5:00 p.m.

Catherine suddenly received a call from Aunty Yasmine.

“Catherine, we’re in trouble. Suzie has been kidnapped.” Aunty Yasmine’s flustered voice came from the phone. “I just picked Suzie and Lucas up from preschool. On the way back to the manor, Suzie said she wanted to buy something to eat. I accompanied her down. Just as I was counting the money, she was yanked onto a motorcycle by the rider and taken away. The driver and bodyguards chased after the motorcycle with Lucas but it drove onto a mountain road. The car couldn’t go after it.”

“What?” The glass Catherine was holding fell to the floor and shattered.

Shaun was startled. He quickly sat up and looked at Catherine in a daze. “Cathy, what’s wrong?”

Catherine had no time to care about him. She asked hastily, “Have you called the police?”

“I have. I’ve also informed Elle and Madam Hill about it.” Aunty Yasmine started sobbing as she spoke, “Eldest Young Master Hill has gotten into an accident and Hill Corporation is in trouble as well. I’m worried that this is the doing of the Hill family’s enemies. Their intention isn’t to blackmail us. They just want to get revenge.”

If it were blackmailing and kidnapping, they did not have to be worried about Suzie’s safety.

However, if it was pure revenge... Catherine almost lost her footing.

“Mom, we must save Suzie.” Aunty Yasmine’s voice switched to Lucas’ voice all of a sudden.

Usually, he was such an indifferent boy. However, his voice was wavering as well now. “I’m sure this has something to do with Wesley and Rebecca. For Suzie's safety, you should mobilize every member of Liona. No matter the result, we have to subdue both of them first."

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South]

Chapter 1635

"Don't worry, Lucas. I'll definitely rescue Suzie." Catherine could only try her best to console Lucas.

Even without Lucas' reminder, she knew that the kidnapping definitely had something to do with Wesley and Rebecca.

She immediately dialed Elle's number. "Do you know where Wesley and Rebecca are?"

"Wesley has gone to Melbourne while Rebecca is in the Costner family's villa." Elle had been informed of the incident as well. She was very worried. "I've noticed that there are many police and guards at the Costner family's villa lately. Maybe Prime Minister Snow mobilized them to protect the Costner family after something happened to Matthew."

Catherine's face was pale.

Wesley had gone to Melbourne. Even if she risked everything to catch him, it would be too late.

"Elle, ask Hadley to come to the hospital to take care of Shaun. I'll go to the Costner family's villa."

Even if it was a lion's den, Catherine had to capture Rebecca today. "Miss Jones, I'll go along with you," Elle said.

Catherine hung up. She turned around and said to Shaun, "Shaunny, I'm heading out for a while. Stay in the ward and don't go anywhere. Hadley will come over later."

Shaun was flustered upon hearing that. "I want to follow you."

“Be a good boy. Suzie is missing. I have to find her. Be obedient, Shaunny. If you dare run around, I won’t care about you anymore.” Catherine could not be bothered anymore. She simply turned around and left.

Elle’s car soon arrived. After Catherine got in, there were five or six cars behind her. The skilled members of Liona were inside the cars.

“I’ve brought all the remaining people in Liona. A small number of them have already gone to look for Suzie’s kidnapper,” Elle explained.

“How’s the investigation going?” Catherine asked.

“There’s some progress. The kidnapper seems to be related to Big Boss Davis, who was just let out of jail a week ago. Big Boss Davis committed all sorts of crimes in Canberra a few years back. After that, he was caught due to a case. He knows quite a lot of gangsters. Usually, he’s involved in assaults, fights, and blackmailing. As long as there is money involved, he’ll do anything.”

“Then it should have something to do with Rebecca. She’s been short of people recently, so she must’ve spent money to hire these people.” Catherine clenched her fists. “I just don’t know the reason why Rebecca kidnapped Suzie. I’d rather she do it to threaten me.”

Catherine was really afraid that after Rebecca had those people kidnap Suzie, they would kill her right away.

As she kept thinking about it, she became more afraid.

Suzie was her life. If she could save Suzie, she was willing to even give up her life.

On the way over, Catherine called Rodney. “Even if the police shoot me, I have to get into the Costner family’s villa today for Suzie’s sake.”

“F*ck, Rebecca must be crazy. She won’t even spare a child.” Rodney gasped when he heard about the incident. “If there’s a confrontation when you arrive there, try to buy some time. I’ll come over immediately. As long as I’m there, the security guards won’t dare to shoot.”

“Thank you.” Catherine was grateful.

No matter how much she hated Rodney before, she was sincerely thankful to the people who were willing to help her and Shaun during this period. “ Don’t tell Freya about this in case she comes over with her big belly. It’s not safe.”

“Okay, I know.” 50 minutes later.

A row of cars stopped at the villa’s entrance.

Catherine got down from the car. A row of security guards at the gate blocked Catherine. “Who are you people?”

“ I want to meet Rebecca and Sheryl. ” Catherine’s expression was cold.

The security guards glanced at the people behind her. One of them asked coldly, “Do you have an appointment?”

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South] Chapter 1636

The guard was met with silence. He said coldly, “ It’s obvious that you’re here to create a ruckus by bringing so many people here. Leave immediately. We have distinguished guests inside. If you want to barge in, then I have no choice but to take my gun out.”

There were more than ten security guards behind him.

Catherine felt as though her chest was about to burst from anger. However, she could only hold it in. She could not lose her life due to recklessness. If that happened, she would not be able to rescue Suzie. “I want to meet Titus.”

“President Costner isn’t here.”

“I have to go in today no matter what. I suspect that the people inside kidnapped my child. She’s in danger.” Catherine met the security guard’s gaze with red eyes.

The guard frowned. "Our duty is to protect the people inside. I can't let you goin."

Catherine did not expect the guards of the Costner family's villa to be so strict.

She took a deep breath and restrained herself. She took her phone out and called Titus.

The phone rang for more than ten seconds. When the call was connected, she said hastily, "Mr. Costner, I beg you. Please let me into your villa. I want to meet Rebecca. My child is missing. I'm sure that it's Rebecca who kidnapped her..."

"Mom..." Suzie's voice sounded through the phone all of a sudden. Catherine was stunned. She thought she had misheard it. "Suzie..."

"Mom, it's so scary. A bad guy kidnapped me. They even wanted to throw me into a pond. It was this uncle who saved me." Suzie cried as she said, "Mom, I miss you so much. I won't go and buy candy anymore. It's too scary."

Catherine's heart almost cracked upon hearing Suzie's words. "Suzie, let me talk to the uncle who saved you."

The voice on the other end of the call quickly changed to Titus'. "Wait there. I'll come over soon. Your child is okay."

"Thank you, Mr. Costner," Catherine said as she sobbed.

Titus' heart felt uncomfortable hearing that. He exuded a dark and chilly aura.

He lowered his head and looked at the little girl in his arms, whose face was tear-streaked. Her small face was pink and round. She was wearing a pink princess dress. She was so cute that it could even make a cold man like him go soft-hearted.

However, there was someone who was cruel enough to harm this child.

That person even wanted to take her life. Moreover, that person was his wife.

Titus found it unbelievable. Why did Sheryl, who was so lovely in the past, become like this?

“Don’t cry, you’re okay now. I’ll bring you to where your mom is.” Titus patted Suzie’s head. He secretly placed his hand at the back of her head and plucked a few strands of hair.

“It hurts.” Suzie hugged her head.

“I’m sorry. Grandpa’s hand was caught in your hair.” Titus calmly put the hair into his pocket.

“Grandpa?” Suzie widened her eyes. She even forgot she was crying. “Uncle, you’re so handsome. You’re as handsome as my dad. Your eyes are blue too. Calling you ‘Grandpa’ would make you seem too old.”

Titus was amused by her words. “According to seniority, you do have to call me ‘Grandpa’.”

“Then I’ll call you ‘Handsome Grandpa’,” Suzie said as she lifted her gaze.

“Okay.” Titus pinched her pinkish little face. He had never interacted with a little girl before. He unconsciously asked, “Do you want to have candy?” Suzie shuddered, her face turning pale. “No, no. I don’t dare to eat candy anymore. If I hadn’t wanted to eat candy, I wouldn’t have gotten kidnapped. I wouldn’t have been almost hit by a car last time either.”

Let me go, Mr. Hill [by Shallow South]

Chapter 1637

“Hit by a car?” Titus narrowed his eyes.

“Mm.” When Suzie recalled that incident, fear flashed across her petite face. “It was also because... I wanted to have cake. Then... Then a car came flying

... because someone hit it. Luckily, Dad was amazing. He saved Lucas and me...” “Who hit the car?”

Titus’ brows were knitted together in a tight frown.

“Lucas said it’s Meanie Wesley,” Suzie said angrily, “He’s a bad guy.” “Meanie Wesley?”

Titus raised his eyebrows.

“Mm.” Suzie nodded her head firmly. Her fists were flying around as she was outraged. “In the past... he was nice to us. But... It was all fake. Hmph, he’s a liar. He even beat Mom up. He also had an affair... Disgusting!”

“How does a little kid like you know so much?” Titus asked. “Your dad and mom told you these things?”

“Lucas told me.” Suzie pouted. “He’s just older than me by a few minutes, but...he knows just a little bit more than me...”

Titus finally understood.

Catherine must have given birth to a pair of twins— a boy and a girl. Lucas must be her brother. “He knows quite a lot then.”

“Just so-so.” Suzie was not very convinced. “He’s also a little stupid sometimes. He was tricked badly by Meanie Wesley. He even... wanted him... to be our dad.”

Suzie was stammering, but Titus understood her words.

That Meanie Wesley she was talking about must be Wesley Lyons.

Children would not lie. Moreover, Catherine had not taught her children to say these things. It was also a pure coincidence that he rescued Suzie today. There was no way Catherine and Shaun had planned to talk about these things in front of the children beforehand.

There was only one possibility—everything Suzie said was true. “Suzie, where’s your dad?” Titus’ azure eyes looked gentle.

“Daddy...” Suzie’s eyes suddenly reddened. She sniffled and said, “He became stupid. He’s even calling me his sister now.”

Titus asked, “What happened?”

“I don’t know.” Suzie lowered her head. She was clearly upset. Titus rubbed her head and pressed his lips tightly together.

Half an hour later.

A car arrived at the gate of the Costner family's villa.

The door of the sedan opened, and Suzie ran out of the car. She flung herself into Catherine's embrace while crying. "Mommy, I was so scared."

"It's okay, darling." Catherine hugged Suzie tightly, her heart throbbing in pain. "Mommy's here. Let me have a good look at you."

She let go of Suzie and checked her body nervously.

Luckily, aside from her dress that got slightly dirty, and her braids that were a little messy, Suzie was not hurt. However, the marks on her hands and legs showed she had been tied up with a rope.

"Tell me what happened." Catherine's voice could not help but waver slightly.

"Mommy, those bad guys...put me into a bag. It was so scary." Suzie appeared terrified as she cried. "They said... they'd throw me into a pond."

Catherine's heart trembled. She could not imagine what would have happened if Titus had been slightly late. Her child would have been thrown into a pond and drowned alive.

That image made her incomprehensibly angry. Had those people lost all of their humanity?

What made her more disappointed was knowing the person behind the scenes who gave the orders.
