

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1764

Wesley was stunned. By the time he came to his senses, his mind flashed with unease.

“It was because those people had already received a piece of news.”

Rodney laughed and said, “Today, the whole world has blacklisted and is boycotting Golden Corporation. Moreover, Sheryl from Hill Corporation plans to cancel the transfer of shares to Jeffery, while Wade was arrested half an hour ago. Oh, by the way, Jeffery and Sheryl are suspected of massive fraud. The police are now on their way to arrest them. So what do you have now? Only Golden Corporation that deals with the local market remains.”

Ryan reminded gently, “Rodney, although Gavin owns shares in Golden Corporation, he’s now suspected of rebelling. We suspect that Golden Corporation is involved in some shady dealings. We have the right to halt the company’s operations and shut it down. In other words, there won’t be a company called Golden Corporation from today onward.”

“I see.” Grinning, Rodney said, “In that case, you’re left with nothing, Wesley. How can you assist the Snow family and dominate the business industry now? Pfft. You’re f*cking shameless.”

Wesley’s head buzzed.

“This is impossible. It’s impossible.”

With a pale face, he shook his head. He still could not resign himself to this fact.
“Sheryl couldn’t possibly have canceled the share transfer.”

Furthermore, if Sheryl assisted Golden Corporation, she would be able to solve the company's crisis as well. She wouldn't dare to reject me. She wouldn't dare do so."

He took out his phone and was about to call Jeffery to look for Sheryl.

Matthew was still in his clutches. If she chose not to help him, he would kill Matthew.

"You don't have to look for Sheryl."

Looking at his mad behavior, Shaun interjected nonchalantly. "Sheryl has already learned the truth."

"Truth?" Wesley began to laugh wildly. "She's mentally ill. How would she know the truth?"

"I didn't know that you've always taken me for someone who's mentally ill."

Suddenly, a female voice rang out.

Nathan and the others moved away as Titus walked in holding Sheryl. Sheryl fixed her eyes ferociously at Wesley.

Never had she thought that she would one day fall into this young man's clutches for such a long time.

It was because of him that she harmed her biological daughter and son. She nearly ruined her whole family as well.

Following behind her was a young and thin figure. That person was none other than Matthew.

Matthew glowered at Wesley resentfully as well.

Wesley's legs turned to jelly. He tottered a few steps backward and hit the chair behind him.

Titus' gaze was cold. "You planned to threaten my wife with Matthew because you thought he was still with you, right?"

"He... How did he escape?!" Wesley roared hysterically.

He had asked his confidant to hide Matthew in a place where no one would think of searching. It was the most bustling karaoke place in Melbourne. Who would have thought that he would hide someone in the most bustling place?

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1765

"You have only yourself to blame for being wicked and insane. Even your dear ones hate you."

Shaun said indifferently, "You sank so low as to kill your biological sister's son. How could she not take revenge on you?"

Unfortunately, she knows you too well even though you tried to drive her back to Melbourne. She knew from earlier on who you'd assign important tasks to. By getting people to tail you, she found out where your confidants usually headed to. Since Matthew is so important to you, you surely wouldn't let him die. Needless to say, you'd usually ask your confidants to keep an eye on him, so we got to know where Matthew was."

"I see. It's that b*tch!"

Knowing that he had already lost his trump card, Wesley roared madly. "If I had known this earlier, I would've killed that b*tch so that she'd be reunited with her son."

“Calling you a scumbag is an understatement.” Rodney sighed and said, “How dare you treat your biological sister so viciously?”

“He’s just inhumane,” Shaun said coldly, “He cares about nothing but power and status. He’ll stop at nothing to achieve his goals.

He even dared to scheme against people who shouldn’t be offended. Wesley, you’re clever. But sadly, you utilized your skills in the wrong area.”

“You know nothing.” Wesley looked ferocious like a madman. “Do you think I wish to be so despicable? If I were born like Shaun who inherited Hill Corporation, I wouldn’t have needed to go to great lengths to do all this. If I had your status, that damned b*tch, Catherine, wouldn’t have betrayed me over and over again.”

“Damn, you’re f*cking shameless.” No longer being able to control himself, Rodney criticized him, “Shaun and Catherine truly love each other, yet you went all out to tear them apart. You became the third party and kept causing them to break up. What’s more, do you actually like Catherine? You probably just want to take advantage of her.”

“Exactly.” Shaun expressed disdain. “In fact, something’s wrong with your character. Don’t shift the blame to Catherine. If you ask me, it’s very unfortunate of Catherine to have met you.”

“Wesley, you took advantage of me and hurt my daughter. I won’t let you get away with it.” Sheryl suddenly walked up to Wesley and glanced at him grimly. After that, she turned to say to Nathan, “I want to take him away.”

Nathan smiled slightly. “Madam Costner, you’re welcome to do so. Mr. Costner has told me all about it. Given that Wesley, Rebecca, Jeffery, and a few others are suspected of massive fraud, the police plan to arrest them. Also, Wesley is suspected of being involved in Gavin's plot to rebel. Even if you hadn't made that request, he would either be in jail forever or executed."

"That's too light of a punishment for him," Titus said nonchalantly.

"That's true." Nathan gave Wesley the death stare. "Congratulations, President Lyons. I believe the consequences you're going to suffer will be much worse than Gavin's."

Wesley's legs trembled with fear as he fell backward.

He had heard about the Costners' method of dealing with things when he got someone to investigate them in the past.

However, he was overly obsessed with benefits at that time...

"No, no..." He shuddered and thundered, "You guys can't treat me this way! I'm Catherine's husband, and she's my legal wife. Let me go! If you guys let me go, I'll divorce her right away even if I'll be left with nothing."

Sheryl was trembling with anger. She did not expect that he would still threaten her at this point. She wished she could take a gun and shoot him to death.

Upon noticing that she was about to lose control, Titus promptly pressed her shoulder. "Sherry, don't worry. Legally speaking, their marriage will be invalid once she's dead."

"That's right." Matthew curled his lips playfully and snickered. "From today onward, Wesley will no longer exist in this world. You're going to be the Costners' dog that's locked up in a kennel.I'll pay you back with interest after how you treated me."

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1766

Wesley thought about the situation.

Feeling anxious, he tried to flee. However, Shaun shot him in the thigh straight away.

Wesley fell to the floor. Soon, the Costners' bodyguards dragged him away.

Along the way, his hysterical howls could be heard. Streaks of blood were also left on the floor.

At the sight of the scene, everyone was numb with fear.

They would never forget how they had just gone to extreme lengths to please Wesley just moments earlier.

In the blink of an eye, the superior Wesley was now being dragged out of the place like a wretched stray dog.

Gavin sank to his knees and bowed. "P-Prime Minister Snow, it was my fault. I won't... do it anymore. I- I wasn't like this back then. It was... all Wesley's doing. He egged me on. He was the one who egged me on."

"Yeah, Prime Minister Snow. My daughter and I didn't know that they were plotting to rebel." Dazed, Madam Mead pulled Hanna to kneel together. Amid her tears, she screamed, "We're innocent! Because of Gavin, we were dragged into the mess."

“You... You damn b*tch. What are you saying?” Gavin’s blood boiled. He finally saw why people said married couples went theirseparate ways in the face of obstacles.

“I’m just stating the facts. Do you want to involve our daughter?” Madam Mead looked at Gavin pleadingly. She felt the need to maintain the Mead bloodline regardless.

Gavin had a lump in his throat. At that moment, he was so dejected that he did not know what to say.

Just before this, he had thought of getting a few pretty young women to give birth to a few baby boys for him after he was in power. Little did he expect that he would become a laughing stock within seconds.

At this point, he really regretted his actions. If he were given a second chance, he definitely would not have allowed himself to be persuaded by Wesley.

Nathan fixed his sharp eyes on Gavin calmly.

Gavin, if it weren’t for your burning ambition, how could Wesley have been able to trigger the beast inside you using just a few words? In fact, I noticed that you started being conceited after I was appointed as the prime minister. When you were at the foot of the mountain, you aimed to reach the peak. But once you arrived there, you found a higher mountain and wanted to climb higher.

However, you forgot that you wouldn’t have been qualified to climb the mountain if it weren’t for me.”

Gavin gloomily plopped down on the floor. All of a sudden, he felt as if he had become ten years older.

Shaun walked up to him and stared down at him. “Minister Mead, I recalled you saying that you wanted my mom to accompany your old friends.

You even claimed that she was the most beautiful woman in Canberra back then. Since you couldn't win her heart then, you claimed that you wouldn't mind fooling around with her now even though she has aged."

His voice was flat enough to make the Meads' blood curdle.

"I- I... was joking." Gavin shuddered non-stop. He dreaded losing his wife and daughter. He would just end up as a toy for these influential figures.

Madam Mead and Hannah had expected this.

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1767

Hannah hurriedly clutched the bottom of Shaun's pants and said amid her tears, "Shaun, my dad didn't mean it. Please don't take his words seriously."

"Do you guys take me for a fool?" Shaun smirked. He slowly bent over and spoke in a gentle tone, yet his eyes were frosty. "You guys shouldn't have threatened me with my mom. Minister Mead, since you were the one who suggested it earlier, I'll... let you part with your wife and daughter."

"No... No way." Madam Mead was so shocked that she burst into tears on the spot, whereas Hannah tightened her grip on the bottom of Shaun's pants. "Don't do that, Shaun. I can accompany you however you want. Don't you... have feelings for me during the time we spent together? I know you like me."

With that, Titus, Matthew, and Sheryl shifted their eyes to Shaun. There was displeasure on their faces.

Matthew smiled discreetly. "I couldn't tell." Shaun's face darkened, and he immediately broke free from Hannah's grip. "You're overthinking it. I felt like puking whenever you touched me back then. Actually, my mind was always occupied with another woman. Also, we've never done it before."

Hannah's face instantly turned ghastly. After she wept, the makeup on her initially exquisite face was ruined, causing her to look like a ghost.

Grinning, Ryan said, "Enough, Shaun. Don't scare them anymore. Anyway, the Meads have to be executed since they were involved in the plot to rebel."

The word 'execute' came as a tremendous shock to the Meads. Madam Mead panicked so much that she nearly passed out.

Having been leading an aristocratic life, Hannah could not resign herself to the fact and shrieked. "I can work like a horse for you! I can even sleep with you! Don't kill me. Just don't kill me. I have nothing to do with the plot."

"Same here!" Madam could not be bothered about other things. "Although I'm old, my skin is still in good condition. Besides, my performance will be to your satisfaction."

".. Shut up, both of you!" Gavin's eyes reddened with anger.

He never thought that his wife and daughter would give up their dignity. By doing so, they had trampled on his dignity.

"This is f*cking disgusting." A look of contempt washed over Rodney's face. "Hurry up and drag them away."

Shortly after, every one of the Meads was arrested. Even the Meads' relatives were taken away for interrogation.

The remaining guests rested their eyes on Nathan with unease.

Nathan raised his hand and pointed at the 30 people present. "Since you guys took Gavin's side earlier, all of you must be arrested and locked up. As for the rest, bring them away for interrogation. They can't be released until they're cleared of all suspicions."

Everyone was terror-stricken as they never thought that Nathan would have such a great memory. He had made a mental note of everyone who previously sided with Gavin.

At this moment, it dawned on those influential figures that Nathan had long since planned this in secret when everyone assumed him to be gentle and easy to deal with. He waited for those involved with the Meads to show their cloven hoofs, then destroyed them at one go.

From now on, Nathan would have the whole of Australia within his grasp.

"Sure enough, you had a trick up your sleeve, Prime Minister Snow." Titus smirked impassively.

You're head and shoulders above Gavin."

When Nathan became the prime minister, he already had the intention of getting rid of Gavin and those who planned to betray him.

However, a lot of people refused to obey Nathan back then, which also explained why he had not been able to officially take control of Australia.

In fact, Nathan had always pinched and put up with everything with the aim of prompting Gavin's supporters to slowly surface.

Now that all of them had shown their faces, it was time for Nathan to round them up in one fell swoop.

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1768

From today onward, the whole of Canberra would be at ease. Similarly, Nathan would be able to live without worries.

He could even hope to be re-elected four years later.

When he stepped down, he could let his son, Ryan, take over his position.

Nathan smiled. "Thankfully, we had Shaun this time. If he hadn't found Matthew and suppressed Wesley in time, I wouldn't have been able to deal with Wesley even if I managed to stop Gavin from rebelling. Moreover, considering Wesley's overweening ambition, I honestly don't feel like leaving him alive." Everyone turned their gazes to Shaun's tall and sturdy figure. Even Titus and Matthew could not help but admire Shaun.

Nathan patted Shaun on the shoulder and continued to praise him. "What's more, it was Shaun who suggested this plan. He deliberately approached Hannah to make everyone think that he had been left with no choice but to butter her up.

Another reason was that the Meads and Wesley had been taking delight in trampling on Shaun. They were under the impression that everything was within their grasp. When they became negligent, we managed to save Matthew. Shaun, I appreciate your hard work. It must've been tough for you."

“Uncle Nathan, don’t say that. I just got rid of an albatross for myself too,” Shaun said with a frown, “If it hadn’t been for Wesley and Gavin, I wouldn’t have ended up in this state.”

Upon hearing what he said, Sheryl felt both embarrassed and upset.

She knew that the Hill family would not have ended up in this state if she had not incited things.

Her thin lips twitched with difficulty. “Shaun... Hill Corporation is yours. I’ll return it to you.”

“That’s wonderful, Shaun— ” Rodney was cheerful but before he could finish his sentence, Shaun lifted his hand to stop him.

Shaun’s calm face gave nothing away. “Hill Corporation has been renamed Jere Corporation, so it’s not mine.”

Sheryl’s face turned crimson with shame.

The name ‘Jere Corporation’ was simply an object of ridicule now. “I’m sorry. At that time, I didn’t

“The fact is that I lost.”

Shaun cut in, “As the former chairman of Hill Corporation, I failed to secure the company due to my incompetence. Although it was a hostile takeover, I’m still a failure. A competent person would’ve been able to solve the crisis even in the face of a hostile takeover. Secondly, Rebecca spent a huge amount of money to buy the shares from the shareholders back then. Even my biological aunt and uncle have taken your money and left. In thatcase, it doesn't make sense to return the company to me. The company is yours, and I'm just a shareholder.”

From his frankness, Titus and Sheryl found him praiseworthy.

Sheryl was filled with complicated feelings. Her daughter had really good taste, but sadly...

“So... I’ll let Catherine... take charge of the company “She won’t want it.” Shaun disapproved of her decision. “I’m guessing that she won’t even want to acknowledge you as her mother.”

Sheryl’s chest was in knots, which made her suffocate.

As she was about to speak, she suddenly saw a commissioned officer walking in while holding a boy’s hand. The boy was cool and seemed to be around three years old.

“Hey, Lucas. Were you terrified?” Grinning, Rodney walked up to Lucas. He stretched out his hand to pinch Lucas’ face.

Lucas immediately blocked his hand and walked straight to Shaun with an indifferent expression.

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1769

Shaun’s eyes beamed. He lowered his head and caressed Lucas’ hair. “Good job. When I get back, I’ll tell Mommy about it and ask her to praise you.”

“Ahem. Forget it. I don’t want her to worry about me,” Lucas promptly answered.

Sheryl stared at Lucas in a state of disbelief.

She previously did not know that Catherine was her daughter. Now that she had found out the truth, it hit her that this little boy in front of her was her grandson.

In addition, Lucas bore a close resemblance to Catherine and herself as well.

Sheryl's eyes reddened as she looked at the boy.

The more she reflected on the matter, the more she hated Rebecca and the rest.

Due to their interference, Sheryl became so foolish that she failed to recognize her own daughter and grandchildren.

She was filled with resentment, yet she dared not step forward. She was afraid that the kid would hate her.

Matthew darted a glance at her. Then, he turned and said to Lucas with a smile, "Kiddo, come here. Can you guess who I am? I'm your uncle."

Lucas' eyes swept over Matthew, Sheryl, and Titus before he said coolly, "Don't simply take me for your relative. My mom doesn't have a brother, so I don't have an uncle."

At the sight of his cold expression, Rodney raised his thumb in admiration in spite of himself.

This kid was indeed arrogant and offhand. Did he know who the Costners were? They were the kind of people admired by others wherever they went.

Matthew was not mad. Instead, he took great interest in Lucas. "Hey, you're interesting, kiddo.”

He grinned and walked forward to pinch Lucas' delicate face.

Lucas nimbly stretched out a hand to block his hand. "I hate people touching my face."

At that moment, Mathew broke into laughter, and so did Titus. "Your mom gave birth to such an interesting pair of fraternal twins. Unfortunately, she's not my biological daughter."

After pausing for a moment, Titus cast a disdainful look at Matthew.

Matthew was speechless.

What was wrong with him? He just did not have a girlfriend and a pair of fraternal twins. What was so great about those things?

When he got married later, he would give birth to triplets. Even Sheryl's gaze revealed a sense of warmth.

Nevertheless, she only fixed her deep gaze on Lucas without moving forward.

As much as she wanted to step forward to hug Lucas, she knew that she might lose the only chance of saving her relationship with her daughter if she acted so recklessly again.

She fought back her urge, which resulted in her shortness of breath.

Titus noticed her condition. "I'm going to bring Sherry to the hospital. Also, Matthew is still injured. We'll leave first."

“Don’t worry, President Costner. We’ll arrange for the best doctor to treat your wife,” Nathan said politely.

Titus nodded and said to Shaun, “I’ll come and meet you afterward. Thanks for saving my son.”

After he finished speaking, he left with Matthew and Sheryl. Shaun led Lucas, Nathan, and the others to walk out as well.

“Shaun, why didn’t you accept Hill Corporation just now?” Rodney thought that it was a waste. “What’s more, the Costners owe you for saving Matthew. You deserve it.”

“I saved Matthew for my own sake,” Shaun said simply, “Moreover, I can make a comeback at any time as long as I’m still competent.”

“You’re right.” Nathan shot an admiring look at Shaun. “Shaun, are you interested in joining politics?”

“Forget it. I’m more interested in making money.” Shaun shrugged. “In fact, I’m not desperate for money now. I just hope that nobody will come and cause me trouble so that I can live a peaceful life. Plus... I have something more important to deal with.”

“What’s that?” Rodney asked curiously.

“Pursuing a woman.” Shaun’s sexy, thin lips curved up. “I’ve already taken revenge, but I need a girlfriend.”

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South
Chapter 1770

Rodney was at a loss for words.

He wondered why he previously never realized that Shaun was so flirty.

Was this Shaun's true character after losing his memory? "Let's go."

Shaun held Lucas' hand and they got in the car.

Lucas sat in the back seat nonchalantly and scoffed with mixed feelings. "I can't deny your well-intentioned actions in approaching Hannah before this, but Mommy has completely given up on you."

"You don't know about this kind of stuff, you brat. This is a matter between adults."

Shaun knocked on the steering wheel gently. "What's more, it doesn't matter even if she doesn't love me anymore. I can make her fall for me again."

Lucas frowned. "You've lost your memory and forgotten your relationship with Mommy, so why won't you let her go?"

"Hey, as our son, don't you hope that Mommy and I can make peace with each other and provide you with a complete family?" Shaun reminded lazily, "After all, I'm your dad."

"Really? I nearly forgot about it." Lucas snorted. Shaun did not know what to say.

However, he could not blame the kid. It was true that he had not been a competent father.

“Lucas, your words have made me reflect on myself. I realize that I’ve been an incompetent father. Now that I’ve dealt with all my enemies, I have nothing much to do. I’ve decided to be a qualified father during this period.”

Shaun suddenly became serious. “From today onward, I’ll be the one sending you and Suzie to preschool.”

“We have a chauffeur. We don’t need you to send us.” Lucas rejected him.

“The chauffeur isn’t your dad. There’s no use rejecting me. You’re only three years old. It’s my duty to raise you.” Shaun had made up his mind.

Lucas knitted his brows deeply.

minutes later.

The car finally entered the Yule family’s villa.

Before the car was parked, Catherine rushed out of the villa.

One could tell that she had been anxious the whole night as she did not even tidy her hair.

The night breeze blew through her hair. Under the streetlights, her bright eyes were filled with anxiety until she saw Lucas.

Only then did she gradually begin to calm down. Her eyes even revealed a look of disbelief.

“Mommy...” Lucas got out of the car. He was still wearing the same black suit, looking cool. He was not injured anywhere. "I'm fine."

“That’s great.”

Catherine walked up to him and squatted down, then she hugged him tightly.

Suzie, who was licking a lollipop, ran out in a daze.

As soon as Lucas spotted her, he blurted out, “Oops.”

“What’s the matter?” Catherine was so nervous that her heart clenched.

“There was a lot of tasty food tonight. They were all Suzie’s favorites. I wanted to bring some home but I forgot,” Lucas suddenly said.

Catherine was speechless.

With a tingling sensation inside her, Suzie frowned slightly. “How tasty was the food?”

After some thought, Lucas replied, “They served the most delicious chocolate cakes in the world and some desserts that were made of the best cream in the world. I found them very yummy. There were also steaks, mud crabs, lobsters, kebabs, and many more kinds of tasty food. The ingredients used were super fresh. Anyway, I’ve never had such delicious food in my life even though I ate the same thing in many restaurants before.”

With that, Suzie’s mouth watered. She was sulky. “Was the food that yummy? If I had known earlier, I would’ve tagged along.

Why didn’t you guys bring me along? It’s unfair that you had all that food for yourself. You guys will be eaten up by the devil.”

More New Chapters PDF Downlaod Here: