

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1927

Catherine kicked the two men, and they rolled down the stairs. Sure enough, the two men were members of Snowden. They swiftly regained their strength even though their eyes hurt so much that they could hardly open.

Nevertheless, Catherine and Freya were no ordinary women. Recently, Catherine had been practicing quite a lot with Shaun. Shortly after, she knocked the two men conscious.

Catherine and Freya headed to Unit 1go8 under nobody's watchful eye.

They knocked on the door for a while before a lady's voice sounded from inside. "Who are you?"

"Madam, we're here to provide kitchen hood cleaning services."

Catherine deliberately raised the bottle in front of her.

"I don't need your services. Please leave."

"Madam, our services are free of charge. Let us clean for you."

After that, a hush descended over the apartment. Freya said, "She's quite cautious."

Catherine sighed. Since she could not enter the apartment, she had no choice but to ask Elle to bring some people in.

Ten minutes later, Elle gave her a call instead of coming over.

"Miss Jones, some Liona members are blocking us. They've probably informed Rodney about it. I've just contacted Young Master Hill and he's on his way here."

Catherine flew into a fury. She did not expect Rodney to be so protective of Sarah and even band together with Liona members.

Freya stood in the corridor, feeling like an idiot.

All of a sudden, she dashed to the door and knocked violently on it. "Sarah Neeson, come out! I know you're hiding inside. Even if you can fly, don't expect Rodney to save you."

No matter how she kept knocking on the door, the door remained closed.

Freya's phone rang, and it was a call from Rodney.

Upon answering the call, she snorted. "What's the matter? Are you worried that something will happen to that hypocrite?"

Rodney was indeed really worried. When he was sleeping at home earlier, a Liona member phoned him, saying that Elle had brought some people to the apartment. Sarah also called to tell him that Freya was scolding her at the door.

He could not figure out why Freya would go there.

He was so worried about Sarah that he could not even be bothered to explain the situation to Freya.

“Freya, there’s nothing going on between Sarah and me.”

“Nothing? Do you take me for a retard?” Freya wished she could chop that b*stard with a knife. “You always accompany her until late at night. You lied to me a few times to have dinner with her. You even left me alone in the cinema to look for her yesterday.

Rodney, do you think I’m an idiot? It’s fun deceiving me, huh?

“Let me tell you that I’m not an idiot. You’re an idiot. She cuckolded you and treated you as backup, yet you continue to cling to her so obediently. Have you no shame? Is there no other woman in this world? Why are you so despicable? You might as well be a dog. It’s humiliating for Dani to have you as her dad. It’s also humiliating for me to have slept with you. I wish I could sanitize my entire body. I’m afraid I’ll get infected.”

She was panting right after bombarding him with criticisms.

Rodney was stunned.

This woman’s words were so rude and vicious.

It finally dawned on him that her criticisms back then were considered.

This was brutal.

Every word pierced his heart.

“Freya, don’t get me wrong. There’s a reason why I’m hiding Sarah,” Rodney said earnestly, “She’s not as evil as you made her out to be. She had her reasons for doing all those things back then.”

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South Chapter 1928

“Reasons?”

Freya was so exasperated that tears began to build up in the corners of her eyes.

Oh, God. Why on earth was she touched by his behavior back then?

“Are you f*cking out of your mind? You just believe in everything Sarah says?”

Being criticized over and over again, Rodney was offended. "In your eyes, am I always so silly? Do you think I can't tell right from wrong? Just wait there. Don't hurt her. I'll come right away."

"Hah. Come as fast as possible because not only will I hurt her but I'll also kill her."

Freya lost her temper and nearly flung her phone.

Catherine did not hear what Rodney said. However, from Freya's expression, she could guess what nasty remarks he had made to provoke Freya.

When Rodney and Freya previously argued because of Sarah, it was not a big deal since they had no feelings for each other. Nevertheless, things were different now. They had slept together, and moreover, Rodney had been treating Freya very well. No one would be able to accept such a huge difference in treatment.

What was worse, that woman was Sarah.

Freya was almost out of her senses. She found a fire extinguisher and wanted to slam it aggressively on the door.

Catherine immediately stopped her. "Don't act impulsively. That's an extinguisher. If you destroy it, it might explode. It's not worth doing this because of Rodney."

"Will it explode?" Freya asked tearfully.

"I'm not sure." Catherine was speechless. "Just hold on. Shaun is on his way here."

Upon being persuaded by Catherine, Freya abandoned the idea and leaned against the wall.

At this point, she was imagining how to kill Sarah, that b*tch, and put Rodney through a living hell.

After struggling for over ten minutes, she slowly regained her composure.

It was not worth getting into deep waters because of the two b*stards.

At this moment, the door suddenly opened.

Sarah appeared with crutches after not seeing Catherine and Freya for a long time. She was dressed in a costly silk pajama shirt. On this cold day, cozy heat could be felt from inside.

A middle-aged woman was cautiously holding Sarah beside her. Sarah exuded the aura of a rich young lady.

The minute she caught sight of Freya, she said miserably, “ I didn’t expect you guys to come here looking for me. I’m left with nothing now. Why can’t you guys let me go?”

Catherine frowned grimly.

At the sight of Sarah’s annoying hypocritical look, Freya could not help but instantly slap her.

Sarah fell to the floor. Her face immediately swelled up, and her mouth started bleeding. She gnashed her teeth and covered her legs. It seemed that she was in excruciating pain.

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South Chapter 1929

The caretaker beside Sarah was shell—shocked. She quickly extended her hands to hold Sarah. “Oh no! Miss Neeson, are you alright?”

“It hurts so much.” Sarah’s face contorted.

Thinking that Sarah was putting on an act, Freya pointed at her and criticized, “Go on acting. You’ve always enjoyed acting, right? How shameless of you to ask me why I’m not letting you go when you’ve done so many crazy things. Although Wesley didn’t expose you, don’t treat us as fools.”

“Sarah, it’s high time we settled our scores, ” Catherine said impassively, “Do you want to leave with us or wait for others to drag you away later?”

Sarah clenched her teeth, her tears streaming down pitifully. She roared with a hoarse voice, “I wasn’t involved with Wesley’s affairs. I’m not even close to him. Please let me go. I guarantee that I won’t make a move against you two. Freya, I promise that I’ll stay away from Rodney. I won’t snatch him from you. Please.”

She got up arduously before falling to her knees.“

I’ve lost everything. All I want to do is live the rest of my life.”

Freya smirked. “Stop pretending— ”

“Sarah, what are you doing? Quickly get up.” Rodney’s tense voice sounded from behind.

Sarah’s face stiffened. Before she was brought to her senses, Rodney promptly lifted her from the floor.

Sarah instantly leaned on his chest with a helpless expression.

“Rodney, let go of me.”

Rodney lowered his head, only to see her teary and swollen face. His eyes flashed with rage. "Your face_"

"I was the one who slapped her," Freya said loudly. Her eyes were fixed on her husband, who was holding the woman she hated the most.

She had an overwhelming urge to kill this shameless pair.

Rodney looked at Freya with annoyance. "Why do you have such a fiery temper? As I said, she had her reasons. Some things aren't as simple as you think. She's also a victim in the incident related to Wesley."

"Victim?" Freya's eyes were full of sarcasm. "Rodney, I'll cut to the chase. Are you insistent on protecting her?"

"Freya, I can't let you hurt her," Rodney said without hesitation, "I owe her a lot. As for you, you're already the prime minister's goddaughter. Moreover, my family is very fond of you. You can get whatever you want. The position of Young Madam Snow belongs to you too. Do you know how many people out there admire you? Whereas for Sarah, she has nothing. Don't assume that there's something between us just because I'm saying these things. Both of us are innocent."

He believed that he had done a good job at conveying his message.

Nevertheless, Catherine anxiously grabbed Freya's shoulder upon hearing it.

Apparently, his words almost made Freya go insane.

"It turns out that you think I already have so much." Freya burst into laughter with tears rolling down her face. "Do you think I long to be Young Madam Snow? What a lame position. If I hadn't gotten pregnant by accident and your sister hadn't begged me to marry you, I wouldn't have married you. You're extremely disgusting, you know that?"

I've never seen such a disgusting man like you. You don't deserve my love. What on earth makes you deserve to be loved? You're just trash."

She began to insult him senselessly.

She could finally understand why many couples had a falling out and ended up as enemies when they divorced.

They had done the most intimate thing in bed, yet they began to attack each other with the cruelest remarks.

Rodney's expression changed drastically. His eyes were filled with shame and indignation.

As much as Sarah wanted to laugh, she quickly stood up for Rodney and said, "Freya, you're going too far. Rodney is just concerned about you. Why do you have to hurt him by saying such nasty words? He's your husband, after all."

"Please. He's not my husband. I'm going to divorce him. I don't want to stay with him any longer." Of course, Freya was aware that Sarah was trying to tear her and Rodney apart.

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1930

Freya did that because she could no longer put up with Sarah. She did not feel like playing along with her.

Another reason was simply that she did not want to be with Rodney anymore.

From the moment Rodney stood here and started criticizing her, she had completely given up on him.

"I've told you everything. Why don't you believe that there's nothing going on between us?" Rodney thundered in fury. "I'm hiding her here not without reason."

"So can you tell us what the reason is?"

In the corridor, Shaun and Chester, who were dressed in black suits, walked up to Rodney with grim expressions on their handsome faces.

No one would expect these three good buddies to end up in a war of words.

Shaun said icily, "Can you tell me why you're hiding this matter from us and even your wife? You know that we've been looking for her everywhere.

You told us that you're willing to get Snowden members to assist me, yet you're protecting her behind our backs. You're playing hide and seek with us, huh?"

He stretched out the last word to express his exasperation.

Chester's dark eyes contained a hint of disbelief and disappointment. Clearly, he could not figure out why Rodney was so muddle-headed.

In the face of everyone's doubt, Rodney frowned and gritted his teeth. "There's no point in explaining to you guys right now.

Shaun, give me half a month and you'll know the answer."

Sarah said with a low voice, "I'm willing to stay here throughout this period without stepping out. If you don't believe me, you can send someone to guard the door.”

After raising his eyebrows, Chester lit a cigarette. “ What’s your plan?”

Rodney said, “Shaun will recover his memory in half a month. Actually, Sarah did all those things in an attempt to cure his illness, including when he fell down the stairs before.”

“Hah.” Freya was the first person to let out a laugh. She stared fixedly at Rodney as though he was an incurable fool. “Do you really trust her?”

“I do.” Rodney nodded without the slightest hesitation. “ If she were lying, she wouldn’t have allowed us to keep watch of her here. Also, if she’s really lying to me, I would be the first person who wouldn’t let her off the hook. Anyway, what she said is true. She’s not lying.”

“Rodney, thank you for believing in me,” Sarah said emotionally. Rodney patted her on the shoulder with gentle eyes. The scene made Freya lower her gaze.

Shaun, Chester, and Catherine furrowed their brows.

“In fact, just half a month is enough time, ” Rodney said, “It’s not a long period.”

“What if I reject?” Shaun asked with a discreet smile.

Rodney felt powerless. “Shaun, let me remind you that Wesley never mentioned that Sarah was guilty. You guys just presumed that she was involved in the matter. Even if you want to capture her without any proof, the police won’t file a case. Although my uncle is fond of you, that doesn’t mean you can capture her unscrupulously.”

“I got it.”

Shaun broke into a smile, yet his eyes were not beaming at all. He put his hand around Catherine’s shoulders. “ Let’s go. With Snowden members here, Sarah won’t be able to escape.”

Catherine was seething with rage. “But...”

Shaun glanced at Freya. “I think Miss Lynch knows what’s going on. At least, the two of you didn’t come for nothing today.”

“Young Master Hill is right.” After letting out a snort, Freya turned around and left without bothering to look at Rodney.

Catherine immediately went after her. Shaun then followed suit. Chester blew some smoke out and shot a pensive look at Sarah.

“Sarah, I didn’t know you were so brilliant.”

He sneered before striding away.

When he turned around, he noticed that Rodney was hugging Sarah.

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1931

Rodney was hugging another woman in front of his wife.

Hah. Chester knew that Rodney had a low EQ but he did not expect him to be so foolish.

Unfortunately, Rodney might still be unaware of what he had lost at this point.

Catherine held onto Freya until they walked out of the elevator.

It took merely a minute to go down.

However, Rodney was so stunned that he did not go after Freya.

Freya had no idea what she was even hoping for. Perhaps she was hoping that Rodney's stupidity was not incurable.

She was hoping that Rodney was truthful at least when he told her that he loved her.

When she reached the lobby, a chilly wind blew past her. After a shudder, she became fully awake.

What on earth made her fall for Rodney back then? Did she fall for him because he treated Sarah well or because the woman he loved was blessed?

Hah. Nevertheless, she had forgotten that she was not Sarah.

Rodney could protect, tolerate, obey, and pamper the woman unconditionally only because she was Sarah.

No matter how evil and wicked she was, she would always be his sweetheart in the depths of his heart

What made Freya think that Rodney would treat her in the same way he treated Sarah once he fell for her?

She lost. Funnily enough, she lost to Sarah.

Catherine lost to Sarah, so did Charity. The same happened to Freya as well.

Why did the three of them lose to the same woman?

"Freya..." Catherine held her with unease. "It doesn't matter. He's just trash. Look at yourself. Given that you're rich and beautiful, you can easily find a man in the future. In fact, I think you can try being with a handsome young man. A few days ago, I stumbled upon a piece of news about a pretty president having constantly changing out boyfriends and they're all handsome young men. She does whatever she wants in life, which makes people admire her.”

At this point, Catherine did not bother saying that Rodney was just temporarily muddle-headed and would learn from his mistakes.

She found it inappropriate to offer her friend this sort of consolation.

There was no need to do so. If she were in Freya’s shoes, she might have killed Rodney straight away.

He did not learn from his mistakes despite having been terribly deceived by Sarah in the past.

Indeed, he was incurable.

Upon hearing Catherine’s words, Shaun twitched his mouth.

“Cathy, do you admire the rich lady who keeps getting different boyfriends?”

“Ahem.” Catherine rolled her eyes at him. Obviously, she was trying to comfort Freya, so he should know how to shut up. “Well, all women do.”

Shaun sensed her threatening gaze and shut his mouth glumly.

“Young Master Hill, Young Master Jewell, do you think what Rodney just said is true?” Freya suddenly asked.

Chester’s eyebrows twitched. After staying quiet for a moment, Shaun said, “I suppose so. Recently, I’ve always been dreaming about my past. I feel that I’ll recover my memory soon.”

The rest went silent. In fact, they believed in Sarah’s words too. Since Sarah had the audacity to suggest having Shaun’s people keep an eye on her, it clearly meant that she did not plan on escaping. She was fully prepared.

“What a scheming woman.” Catherine frowned. “She must’ve done something to Shaun’s brain earlier. I’m sure she was around when he fell down the stairs. I’m also very certain that she had an affair with Wesley.”

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1932

“Sarah... has come prepared,” Chester said glumly, “She probably conspired with Wesley back then, but she also made a backup plan for herself in case he failed. Now that Wesley has failed, Nathan, the prime minister, has the upper hand in everything. The Snow family has become the most influential family in Australia, and one of the members is the heir. The fact that Rodney is her ex-boyfriend is the primary reason why Sarah came back.”

Catherine and Freya were both astounded at the same time. Freya stammered, “Do you mean that she plotted this long ago just in case Wesley failed.”

“If Wesley had succeeded, the first thing he would’ve done is get rid of Shaun and Catherine. When Shaun fell down the stairs, he was like a fool, so Wesley did not doubt him. If Shaun had passed away, nothing would trouble Sarah anymore. She could depend on Wesley and act unscrupulously in Australia.”

Chester said indifferently, “But Wesley failed and Shaun is still alive. Hence, she came back to prove herself innocent of the crime in front of Rodney. She’ll claim that she was accused or that it was Wesley who forced her.”

At first, Catherine and Freya were confused about it. Upon hearing Chester’s analysis though, the two of them grasped the point.

Sure enough, only the most manipulative person could see through Sarah’s mind.

It was no wonder that Rodney would defend Sarah.

“But... it’s a fact that Sarah cuckolded Rodney. Didn’t you also catch sight of Sarah being intimate with another man in front of Rodney?” Catherine asked Chester curiously, “As a man, would you forgive her just like that?”

Chester smiled sarcastically. “If Sarah has made preparations in regards to Shaun’s illness, why couldn’t she do the same with her break up with Rodney? At that time, Rodney had left the Snow family. Indeed, he was worthless to her, so she wanted to get rid of him.

“But now that Nathan has become the president as well as the most important figure in Australia, Rodney’s status is elevated after returning to the Snow family. What’s more, the Snow family kicked Rodney out of the house previously not because they planned to give up on him. Rather, they just wanted to teach him a lesson.”

Shaun nodded and opened his mouth slowly. “ Similar to my analysis back then, Sarah could always go back to Rodney if Wesley failed. That was why she did something that would make Rodney forgive her. For example... She could say she did not leave Rodney back then because she wanted to.

Instead, her intention was for Rodney to go back to the Snow family.

“She hoped for him to live better and soar higher. She didn’t want to be his stumbling block. She did everything for his own good without meaning to hurt him.”

“Right. This is the most probable reason.”

Chester agreed. “If I’m not mistaken, when I saw Sarah and President Yard behaving intimately previously, it was probably just an act. She got President Yard to put on an act with her at the last minute. When Rodney heard Sarah’s explanation, he would definitely doubt her and probe into the matter.

“After discovering that Sarah and President Yard might be innocent, Rodney probably felt that he owes Sarah because he thinks that Sarah has sacrificed a lot for him. As such, he’s very guilty toward her.”

Freya was dumbfounded.

She had to admit that Shaun and Chester were Rodney’s best buddies as they knew his character so well.

Of course, Sarah understood Rodney very well too. Otherwise, her plan would not have worked out.

A moment later, she muttered, “Sarah might’ve planned this plot very well, but it still goes to show that Rodney has feelings for her. He still can’t get over his sweetheart.” Chester stayed quiet.

Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South

Chapter 1933

In fact, Chester could have begged for mercy and spoken up for Rodney. However, considering that Rodney was protective of Sarah, it was not easy to deal with the issue. Dealing with it would make Freya suffer too.

He was not bothered to beg for mercy on behalf of Rodney.

Even Chester, who was cold and distant, felt that Rodney was ignorant of the truth.

Shaun had nothing much to say either.

Given that Shaun had lost his memory, he was not very close to Rodney. Now that Rodney was covering up for Sarah and opposing him, Shaun did not even feel like being friends with him anymore.

Catherine asked with discontent, “So are we going to wait for half a month without doing anything? Is there a way to expose Sarah's true colors?"

"How should we do it?" Chester asked, "Should we look for President Yard who put on an act with her before this? I'm guessing he doesn't know Sarah's intentions either. He went along probably because he assumed that Sarah wanted to fulfill Rodney's wishes."

Shaun scoffed. "This matter sounds simple, but you all know full well that Sarah has done many evil deeds. Rodney is still hopeful about her, which is why he chose to believe in her. Deep down, he continues to hope that the girl he has had a crush on for over ten years is kind. He believes that she was forced to do those bad deeds before this."

Catherine went quiet.

Although the comments might hurt Freya's self-esteem, they could be the truth.

It was fine if other people did not believe that Sarah did those things, but Rodney did.

That was why he had been defending her.

Freya let out a sardonic laugh. "You're right, Young Master Hill. Rodney isn't clear about the situation. In fact, he doesn't want to get it clear. No matter how protective he is of Sarah, I won't let her off."

"Right. Sarah is too evil," Catherine said, "Shaun, she deserves to die more than a hundred deaths for what she has done to us in the past. She secretly took away Aunty Jennifer's ashes and threw them elsewhere. She was also the one who incited Thomas to infuriate Uncle Boris, and she ruined the entire Neeson family. I definitely won't allow her to get away just like that."

At the mention of the Neeson family's matter, Chester blinked his eyes, which flashed with a hint of grimness.

Shaun wrapped his arm around Catherine's shoulder. "I'll discuss this with Uncle Nathan and contact Uncle Titus as well. Bear in mind that if it weren't for the drug Sarah provided, your mom wouldn't have fallen sick. Rodney has been feeling guilty about it. We can all pressure him by then."

After pausing for a moment, Shaun said coldly, "By the way, I promised Rodney that I'd wait for half a month, but I didn't tell him that death awaits Sarah even if I recover half a month later."

After that, Catherine asked the two men to leave first.

She stayed there to keep Freya company. "Do you want me to have a drink with you?"

"The bars aren't open in the daytime." Freya wanted to find a place to get a drink too. When she thought about Dani, she had no choice but to tell herself that escaping reality by drinking would not help. "Cathy, I want to consult a lawyer about divorce-related matters. I also want to fight for Dani's custody. "

New chapters PDF Download