Let me go, Mr. Hill By Shallow South Chapter 2033

"Good..."

Chester lifted Eliza's chin softly before he leaned over to kiss her.

Eliza subconsciously resisted him.

"Did you forget what I said?" Chester nibbled her lips and stared at her. Their long eyelashes almost tangled together.

Eliza was filled with despair. Ultimately, she had no choice but to surrender to her fate. She opened her lips slightly and accepted his kiss.

She was still not done eating the egg, so the taste was still in her mouth. If this had happened in the past, Chester would have been disgusted. However, he found the egg particularly delicious today.

He kissed her so passionately that it was as though he was going to eat her up.

Only until he kissed Eliza's neck did she dodge him. "I didn't rest well last night. I'm exhausted."

"Okay. I'll let you rest for two days." Chester was not in a hurry, and he stroked her long hair.

"I want to go to the hospital to visit Freya this afternoon. No matter what, I need to thank her," Eliza said lethargically with her head down, as if she had surrendered.

"Okay. I'll come with you." Chester nodded. "No need. Can you respect my dignity?" Eliza's tone sounded despondent. "Being your woman is a disgrace to them. Isn't your main goal to sleep with me? So fulfilling your goal should be enough. Do you need to go as far as trampling my dignity?"

"Lizzie, you shouldn't think of it this way. Do you know how many women in the same industry as you want to be with me?" Chester looked down and called her by her nickname. Those unaware of the situation would think that he was talking to someone he deeply loved.

Nevertheless, his words had long since made Eliza numb. She would not be moved.

No one understood Chester more than she did. He had always been like this. When he wanted to get a woman, he would be as gentle to her as a prince, as if she was the only person he loved in this world.

Yet when he was sick of her, he would be as cruel as a devil.

"But I'm not like them." Eliza looked up and exchanged looks with him. His gentle face was reflected in her dark eyes.

Chester stared at her in a daze, feeling as though he had returned to his youth.

Back then, he was very close with a woman. From her eyes, he could also see himself.

However, later on...

He felt his heart being twisted. All of a sudden, he uncontrollably kissed her eyes and thin lips afterward.

Only after a long time did he say, "Okay."

In the afternoon, Eliza's manager, Hailey, came to the duplex apartment.

After she rang the doorbell, Chester opened the door.

She came in, carrying some clothes. When she saw Eliza eating on the couch in a pajama set, she was overwhelmed with mixed feelings.

"Hailey, you're finally here with the clothes." Eliza rose to her feet and took the clothes over. Then, she went upstairs to get changed.

"Young Master Jewell... " Hailey looked at Chester, not knowing what to do. "You and Eliza..."

"It's what you see. She'll stay here more often from now on, so please buy her more clothes and send them over. Also, don't set too tight of a schedule for her. Don't let her go too far as well. I don't want my woman to be too busy. Do you understand?" Chester ordered.

"I got it."

Given that Hailey had been in this industry for over ten years, she had encountered this kind of situation a lot. It did not take her long to pull herself back together.

After Eliza got changed, she was ready to leave. At that moment, Chester suddenly clutched her arm and pointed at his thin lips.

That behavior made Hailey look away quickly. She was filled with dread.

Although she was not too familiar with Chester, she had heard from other managers that he was always cold and distant toward women. Even before he was engaged to Cindy, he would give her the cold shoulder during the occasional company events, let alone asking a woman to kiss him of his own accord.

Without much thought, Eliza kissed Chester numbly before she left.

Only after getting into the van did Hailey let out a sigh of relief. "Lizzie, it's really not up to us to stop Young Master Jewell from having any woman he wants. But let me remind you not to fall head over heels with him as you did with Monte previously."

It had been a long while since Eliza last heard the name 'Monte'.

She zoned out for an instant.

Hailey added, "Relationships are the most difficult issue for women to overcome. When Monte got engaged, I saw you broke down and even attempted to kill yourself. Therefore, I hope you won't repeat the same mistake again. Chester is a more charming man than Monte. As you can see, many female celebrities are devastated because of him. But having said that, not everyone can dream of having a man like him. His affection is temporary. I've come across such a situation a lot in this industry."

"Don't worry, Hailey. I'll never fall for anyone again." A sincere smile spread across Eliza's face. She knew that Hailey was offering her such advice for her own good.

"That's good. Why don't you take this opportunity to gain more openings from Young Master Jewell?"

Eliza shrank absentmindedly into her seat. Openings?

She did not give much thought to it.

In fact, her life was supposed to have ended yesterday.

It felt like she was barely alive today.

Sarah was still alive, and moreover, she was being threatened by Chester.

A sense of hatred and disgust was hidden in the depths of her heart. However, she felt powerless.

In truth, she did not want to be alive because living was making her unhappy.

Upon arriving at Militaire Hospital, she found Freya's ward with some things in her hands.
