Chapter 2221

Rodney remembered what Eliza said.

Eliza said that Sarah knew that Freya had not kidnapped her at all.

However, whose words are worth believing.

Perhaps, the only certainty is that Eliza is indeed the real murderer.

"Sarah, it wasn't Freya who kidnapped you." Rodney looked into her eyes weakly and said.

Sarah froze, of course she knew that Freya did not kidnap, but when she woke up, Rodney said that it was Freya, and she was disfigured and lame again, so she naturally wanted to blame Freya. Only by letting Rodney know that Freya is vicious will he give up Freya completely.

But now where did Rodney know about it?

At that moment, a lot of thoughts ran through her mind, and after more than ten seconds, she pretended to be ignorant and said, "How was it possible, didn't you say that when you went to save me, you got both the stolen goods, she hated me, she thought I want to destroy your marriage, so I want to destroy me in that terrible way."

Then Sarah hugged her head in pain, "It's too painful, all that is a nightmare for me, I've been in my life forever. I don't want to think about it."

Rodney sympathized with her.

It was a nightmare for her, and it wasn't for herself.

Rodney was also very tired, so he didn't have the strength to hug and coax her, "I always thought it was her, but today I learned that the person who kidnapped you was Eliza, not Freya, she just helped Eliza to blame.

"What?"

Sarah couldn't act anymore, her eyes widened, she couldn't believe it, "Impossible, I don't know Eliza, I have no grievances with her, is it Freya thinking? When I came back to you, I lied to you in this way.”

“No, Eliza was Charity’s childhood friend, she was guarded by Chester, and Freya took the blame, I never doubted her. I checked, and on the day of the incident, Freya was in the ministerial palace and did not contact the kidnappers.”

Rodney murmured and explained the truth to her.

Sarah was completely stupid, she didn’t expect that it was Eliza who harmed her.

Eliza was still involved with Charity, and she was that slut Charity, how could she die without even bones left, so she didn’t stop.

No, what Eliza did to herself, she had to take revenge.

But the only person she can rely on now is Rodney. After Rodney knew that Freya had not kidnapped her, she would definitely think of that ex-wife and child again, and she must not let him have a chance to go back.

After making up her mind quickly, Eliza broke down and cried,

“How could this be, why does

Freya help Eliza to blame, she is helping the criminal to cover up the truth, no wonder Eliza dares to be so fearless, what did I do wrong? Now, Charity’s death has nothing to do with me, and I don’t want anything to happen to the Neeson family, I’m the only one left in the whole Neeson family now, I’m alone, I don’t even have a relative, who knows my suffering.”

After crying Sarah hurriedly grabbed Rodney’s hand, “Rodney, hurry up and call the police, you must not let Eliza go unpunished.

” Eliza is now Charity’s woman.” Rodney whispered.

“Charity is your brother, can’t you be better than a woman?”

Sarah bit her lip in disbelief, “If

Eliza always wants to be extrajudicial, she has Chester with her back, and there is another

Freya helped, maybe she will find ways to deal with me, Rodney, I’m so afraid.”

Rodney opened his mouth with difficulty, and finally whispered: "She dares not, and I will not let her hurt."

Sarah threw herself into his arms and burst into tears, "Rodney, I hate it so much, this world is unreasonable, people who hurt me can't be punished, Freya can hate me and kill me.

Abandon me, why are you covering up the murderer?"

Rodney was startled, then fell silent.

Yes, he just thought that Freya didn't kidnap Sarah, but he forgot that she helped the murderer.

Eliza's breaking the law, and even her behavior can be called vicious. If the murderer is not severely punished, it may become more severe in the future.

the next morning.

Rodney went to Freycatheli Company early, and he waited in the parking lot for nearly an hour before seeing Freya's car drive in.

Soon, Freya came out carrying her bag, wearing a pair of retro jeans, showing off her slender long legs and buttocks curves, a light-colored shirt and a cashmere vest on her upper body, and her long curly hair neat and neat. Her head was shaped like a ball, with diamond-encrusted pearl earrings hanging from her ears, and her whole body exuded the breath of youth and sunshine, and she couldn't look like a woman who had given birth to a child.

Rodney was stunned for a while. The last time he saw Freya was years ago. She was wearing a heavy down jacket. Now that spring is here, her whole body seems to be glowing with radiant vitality.

Faintly, Rodney felt that the aura on Freya's body was not the same as before. Now she is more bright and radiant.

After being in a trance for a moment, seeing that Freya was about to enter the building, Rodney quickly got out of the car and rushed over, "Freya..."

Hearing the familiar voice, Freya subconsciously wanted to speed up the pace, but she didn't want to pay attention to Rodney at first, but thinking that he had come here to block people, he would probably catch up. Freya stopped, turned around, and frowned when she saw Rodney's unshaved face. Freya remembered that Rodney used to be more delicate and good-looking at the age of 30. Now she doesn't know if Rodney and Sarah got worse. The company has too many troubles, and it doesn't take care of it as much as it used to. There are even wrinkles on the clothes, heavy eye bags, and the hair is too long. It looks like he is older than his real age. When she liked Rodney before, a large part of the reason was also because of his appearance. Men love beautiful women, and women are no exception. In addition, Freya had just separated from Ryan in the morning, and after Ryan's clean and handsome face flashed in her mind, for the first time, a thought of disgusting Rodney's appearance arose in her heart. "Is something wrong?" Freya asked calmly. Rodney looked at Freya's young and beautiful face, her chest slammed hard, and said hoarsely: "Of course there is something, why did you ask Ryan to answer my call last night, did he block me, I belong to Dani Father, why did he block me on his own initiative?" "I blocked you." Freya said lightly, "So late, a married man keeps calling me, I need to avoid suspicion, Ryan also told you that if you want Dani to go to the ministerial Palace, I don't think it is necessary for us to always keep in touch." Rodney blurted out embarrassedly: "Since you know that you want to avoid suspicion with me at night, why don't you know how to avoid suspicion with Ryan, you are so late, you are still alone, do you have any sense of shame?"

Freya's mouth twitched, too lazy to explain, and said perfunctorily: "Yes, of course I don't have the same shame as you, but this is also my own business, you are not qualified to teach me. "

Why am I unqualified, we have a common daughter, your behavior will also affect my daughter, since you decide to raise her, you have to set an example for her, Dani will marry in the future, if you have no reputation, it will drag her down."

Rodney was like a hedgehog, originally he didn't come to say this, after seeing her, the thorns on his body instinctively grew.

Freya curled her lips, "You are a person who has real misconduct and cheating in marriage. I really don't know where the face is accusing me. Forget it, anyway, I have never been as shameless as you, you can say whatever you like."

Maybe. It was because she had experienced Rodney's shamelessness too many times, and Freya had gradually gotten used to it, and even managed not to get angry or argue with him about right or wrong.

Don't mind, wasting your saliva.

Suddenly, Freya didn't even have the mood to talk to Rodney, she turned around and wanted to leave.

Rodney grabbed her wrist and pulled in front of him.

"What are you doing?" Freya was frightened and pulled back his hand.

While struggling, Rodney lowered his head and saw that her fingernails were dyed with chestnut brown nail polish, her fingers were greenish pink and white, this color decorated her little hands, the water was transparent and bright, so bright color penetrated all the way. In his heart, he held his heart tightly.

Before, she had never painted nail polish, and it was only today that she learned that there are women who can look so good with nail polish.

It's just such a hand that Rodney can't hold it longer.

Thinking that other men would hold these beautiful little hands in the future, a surge of irritability arose, making his face even more gloomy.

Freya saw that Rodney had been staring at her hand, frowned and rubbed her wrist, "Rodney, before the divorce, we often quarreled and after the divorce, come to me to quarrel, you are not tired of arguing, can you? Don't always look for me."

Rodney pursed her thin lips in embarrassment, and suddenly said, "I know, you didn't kidnap Sarah, you helped Eliza to blame."

Freya fiercely froze, "How do you..." The sentence "How do you know" almost blurted out.

Fortunately, Freya only spoke halfway, so she quickly closed her mouth. No matter where Rodney learned the truth, she couldn't say it herself. Once she said something, it would be recorded. It can constitute evidence to top the crime, but it is enough to ruin Eliza's career.

"I don't know what you're talking about." After a while, Freya regained her composure and said lightly.

Rodney clenched Freya's fists, the short time just now was enough to see the look in her eyes clearly, "So far, do you still have to hide it from Eliza, how long have you known each other, you just protect her like this, cover up A ruthless criminal, Freya, your actions are helping the emperor and obstructing justice."

Freya chose not to answer his question.

A surge of anger rushed to the top of Rodney's head, he controlled her shoulders with force, and roared unbearably, "Freya, is Eliza comparable to our marriage and family? If you hadn't helped Eliza, we would have as for divorce, Dani doesn't have no father, you think you are helping

Eliza, you are wrong, you are hurting her, friends don't help her that way, you are too selfish, you think about the pain of those victims Is it?"

Freya's shoulder was very painful when she was buckled by Rodney, she struggled hard, but couldn't let it go. she couldn't bear it and grabbed his wrist and twisted hard before throwing him away.

Chapter 2224

"You can't finish, even if there was no kidnapping by Sarah, I would have wanted to divorce you a long time ago, okay?"

Freya said with a face full of boredom, "Rodney, haven't you figured it out yet? From the moment you hid Sarah, there is no possibility for us. I really don't understand why you are always so persistent, like a lunatic. I didn't see you like this before getting married. If I had known earlier, I would not have married you at all."

Rodney's face was pale, "Okay, I am at fault, but I never thought about divorce from you, you shouldn't help Eliza..."

"You said so much, don't you just feel bad for Sarah's injury?"

Freya said impatiently, "You must have evidence and the ability to sue, don't bother me, really I don't understand, other couples divorced for the sake of their children, and they didn't bother to the point of becoming enemies. What about you?, you're asking me for trouble every three days. Whether I set your house on fire or kill your parents, there's no end to it, divorce? Can I stay away, go to the doctor if you are sick, don't come to me."

There was undisguised disgust in her eyes.

Rodney's whole body was nailed to the spot like a nail.

"Don't quarrel with me anymore." Freya said, "Every time you're doing it for Sarah, you're basically the same as scolding me. If you keep harassing me like this, I can only ask your parents, or Call the police and deal with it."

"Also, don't tell me that you are Dani's father. If you want her, you can go to the ministerial Palace to see Dani, and if you want to know her situation, you can also add Dani's Whatsapp, or ask Your parents, and we are already strangers, understand."

After Freya finished speaking, she simply turned around and left.

This time Rodney didn't drag her anymore, he just stared at her back with full of pain.

He came today, not to quarrel with her, he just wanted her to understand that he should not cover up the murderer, but she was full of disgust for him, and said he was sick and asked him to see a doctor.

Rodney slammed a punch against the wall.

The whole body was uncomfortable and oppressed as if about to collapse.

After getting out of the elevator, Freya walked towards the office with a bad look on her face.

Freya's office was on the same floor as Catherine. she went directly into Catherine's office in a bad mood and explained:

"I was so pissed off. she threw her bag and complained angrily, I was entangled by Rodney when I was downstairs, and didn't know how Rodney knew that I had committed the crime to Eliza."

"Rodney accused me that I cover up the murderer, obstruction of justice, sick of it, rather happy summer woman is the real poison, okay, I do not know how many wicked things wicked dried up, to the number of lives."

"I had really like him only when I was blind, and feel sick when I think I've even slept with Rodney before. I still blame me, saying that I helped Eliza to let me divorce him, my God."

"Why did I divorce him? Does Rodney has no idea? Why does he blame me, is it right that he cheated? "

"No, I can't meet this person, talk to me, I'm afraid I'll die young."

Freya sat on the sofa. she closed her eyes and was looking dizzy.

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2225 | Novel By Shallow South Chapter 2225

Catherine was stunned. In fact, Eliza sent her a Whatsapp message last night, and she almost expected Rodney to come over, but she heard Eliza say that Rodney was scolded by Chester last night. However, I should ask Freya to apologize first in this morning.

After all, he kicked and hurt someone, and was really cheating, so Rodney should have regretted it a bit.

But unexpectedly, Freya was so angry.

Well, Rodney was already a deeply hopeless mentally retarded patient.

Of course, there was another possibility, that after Rodney returned last night, Sarah took eye drops again.

Sure enough, then you can't even think about looking at your opponent.

"Okay, don't be angry, I asked Eliza to tell him the truth."

Catherine patted her head gently.

"Ah?" Freya widened her pupils in shock, "Cathy, what do you want to do?"

"One of my plans, don't worry, it's useless for Rodney to know about Eliza, the evidence has been wiped out. It's clean." Catherine explained, "But I thought he would come to apologize to you today."

"Apologize?" Freya pulled off her collar with a wry smile, "Look, he grabbed my shoulder. It's red, he definitely didn't come to apologize, he's just trying to trouble me for Sarah."

Catherine glanced at Freya, she had nothing to say, her eyes turned slightly, but it landed on her fingernails, "Newly made nails? It's beautiful."

"After dinner with Ryan yesterday, I saw someone doing manicures, so I made one." Freya shook her head, "How about it, look good."

"I don't think it's important to look good. It's enough if someone thinks it looks good."

Catherine glanced at her earlobe with a smile, "The earrings are also pretty, Ryan gave them?"

"Yeah, when Rodney got married last time, he saw that I was in a bad mood, he went shopping with me, and bought me this pair of earrings." Freya talked about her new relationship, and her mood finally improved. "Before I was pregnant and after giving birth, I didn't dress up very much. Now I think, what if I have a child, I have to live beautifully."

"Yes, you have a lot of energy after falling in love. Sure enough, women still want to be in love."

Catherine was really happy for her, "The earrings were beautiful and the nails were beautiful, it seems that you were quite satisfied with your new relationship."

"There was nothing wrong at the moment," as thinking of something, Freya suddenly frowned in disgust, "I used to think Rodney was pretty good-looking, but today I see him, vicissitudes and decadence, and he didn't have the temperament he used to have at all.

Thinking about Ryan's good-looking face, divorce seems to be a good thing. When Rodney and I are not like you and Shaun, we have such a deep relationship, we don't have to look back."

Catherine smiled and nodded.

She found that Freya really thought about it.

"By the way, there is news to let you know." Catherine handed her a document, "I have reached a cooperation agreement with the Quel beauty brand in country F, and they agreed that our company will send two formulators to Quel in country F. Would you like to go to the two-month training at the Institute of Medical Aesthetics, if you don't want to go, I can only send the rest of the team."

"Quel?"

Freya was shocked, Catherine had worked abroad before, Of course, it is clear that Quel Corporation is the world's top luxury brand. The fields involved are not only beauty and skin care, but also perfume and lipstick. There are even more than 300 of the world's top biological and dermatological experts.

As for Freya, Catherine has won the Global Newcomer Award, she is always a newcomer in the circle, and she is still very different from those seniors.

“My God, how did you win it?” Freya said incredulously, “A global company like Quel would cooperate with a small company like us?”
“Of course it’s impossible for our company, but... Sheryl helped her out. She agreed to a request from the boss of Quel, and let us replace two R&D personnel to study.”
