Chapter 2365

Freya regretted it. She had known that Dani would rather not have a father, So she could raise her child alone and should never have married Rodney. Let alone accepted Rodney in order to give her child a complete family.

Ryan hugged her back and pursed her thin lips deeply where she couldn't see. There was a flash of remorse full of self-blame in his eyes.

It was his misstep.

Ryan just wanted to reveal his relationship with Freya. He is all too aware of Freya's cowardice. Although Freya loves him but she has never had the courage to disclose the relationship between the two.

He was actually very scared. If he continued to spend it like this and took too long, the two would break up. However, he didn't expect Rodney to be so crazy..

In the past, Ryan thought that Rodney was fooled by Sarah, and that Rodney was too concerned about the first love in his heart but now he really understood that Rodney had changed a long time ago. No longer the cousin and relative who used to fight with him. Instead, he has become a selfish person and his bones have begun to slowly deteriorate.

Ryan remembered that Rodney was not like this in the past. He treated his friends with optimism, sincerity, generosity and cheerfulness.

Rodney and Sarah have been in contact for too long before and now he has changed completely.

In the future, he will never have any soft-hearted and sympathetic towards Rodney.

"It's not your fault. You chose to marry him before. One was for the sake of the children, and the other was because my dad was running for election. You didn't want to stigmatize the Snow family, so you got married."

Ryan's eyes flashed with deep distress.

If they owe her, the Snow family owes her.

"That's right."

Freya suddenly panicked. she remembered something and turned Ryan away and said: "Rodney knew all about our relationship and he will definitely tell your parents and also people from the Snow family will definitely know..."

"Freya, Are you afraid?" Ryan looked into her eyes.

Freya's eyelashes twitched. She lowered her head and bit her lip, "Actually, I don't care what the rest of the Snow family think about me but your parents were very good to me before. It's wrong, it wasn't you who seduced me. It was I who seduced you."

Ryan clenched her hand, "Freya, I said, from the moment I started expressing my heart to you and have already done everything. I am not afraid and also firmly believe that there is a way to get them to support us but this process may not be smooth. There must be twists and turns and what I can guarantee is that the twists and turns will definitely not affect you because I will stand in front of you and the most that splashes on you is just a little raindrop. I hope you don't be afraid for me, okay."

Looking at Ryan's quiet eyes, Freya was confused.

Aren't you afraid?

She has experienced the pain of being scolded by the nose while walking on the road and she really doesn't want to go through all that again.

Chapter 2366

"Ryan, I...I..." She was pale and stammered.

"Don't you want to?"

Ryan's eyes showed deep sadness, "Freya, are you not willing to sacrifice even a little for me? I said, only a little bit."

Freya felt very guilty after hearing this and said, "I'm sorry, Ryan, I'm willing to try and just hope you can understand me. It's not that I don't love you and it doesn't matter if someone hits me but I'm only afraid that others will scold me like Rodney did. It was the same before as Thomas who hit and bullied me but other people were listening to the one-sided words and they said that I seduced him. Obviously I was the victim walking on the street was scolded by people who were pointing at me. Even my parents couldn't raise their heads and couldn't stay in Australia anymore..."

"I understood, I understood."

Ryan hugged her tightly and said, "Freya, Trust me, I won't let it go any more. It all happened. When someone is looking for you, you can contact me at any time and I will rush to stand in front of you. If the distance between us is a hundred steps, I will take ninety-nine steps towards you and one step is enough for you."

Freya's eyes became hot again but this time she was impressed.

"Freya, you don't have to be afraid. We are open and aboveboard. You are divorced and I am not married and we are not related by blood. It is normal for a young man and a woman to be together for a long time."

Ryan's gentle voice sounded in her ears, "We didn't do anything shameful like all men and women walking on the road. we love freely and when the future is about, we get married or we break up because of incompatibility with each other and this is normal. Freya are you understand?"

"Understood."

Freya nodded and finally lifted her head from his shoulder. Her throat hoarse and resentful, "Well, so you still thought about breaking up with me and I thought you only wanted to marry me. Ryan you are a liar."

"Freya, Of course I really want to marry you but I can't control what's on your mind."

Ryan smiled bitterly, "If one day, you desperately want to break up with me then no matter how I try to save it, it will be useless. Then I can't stalk you all the time and it will cause you trouble. I hope the relationship between us is happy. If one day makes you more painful than happy, then I will have self-knowledge."

Thank you, Ryan.

Freya hugged him by the neck, suddenly not so flustered and uncomfortable, "You are right, we are in a normal relationship and understand each other. My heart is open and honest."

Ryan pondered for a while and said, "It's good to understand and this kind of thing happened today. We won't go to the mall and I'll take you home first. I'll go to your house later and tell your parents about the two of us."

Freya was taken aback, "This...will be too sudden, aren't you afraid that my parents will stop us from being together?"

Ryan said, "Your parents will definitely stop us from being together. Although your parents have a good impression on me but I'm afraid that they don't want to offend my parents, so I'll go later and tell them that I love their daughter. I hope they can formally agree to my relationship with you."

Freya understood but at the same time she had to admit that Ryan was thoughtful in his work. In this way, his parents could accept it a little.

"Let's go."

Ryan started the car.

40 minutes later, the car drove into the Lynch family villa.

Freya's heart jumped violently, "It's over, I'm so nervous."

"There's nothing to be nervous about. I'll tell you later, trust me."

Ryan's eyes looking for battle It is very calming in the dark.

Chapter 2367

Freya and Ryan looked at each other for a while, then nodded heavily.

After the two got out of the car, Freya walked in front and Ryan followed.

When the door opened, Mrs. Lynch walked over with Dani in her arms and said, "So you were having dinner with Ryan at night. I thought you were going on a date."

Dani saw Ryan's eyes lit up and she reached out to hug.

Ryan took Dani and raised her head high and asked, "Did you miss me?"

Dani shouted "Aah"

Her little dimples of laughter showing.

Mrs. Lynch smiled, "Oh, the little guy likes you very much. Ryan, Come in and sit."

Mr. Lynch also got up and greeted Ryan to sit down, "Why are you here today?"

"Uncle and Aunt, I have something to tell you." Ryan hugged Dani and sat on the sofa with a serious expression.

"What's the matter?"

Mr. Lynch asked the servant to serve tea.

Freya lowered her head. Ryan glanced at her with soft eyes, "That's right, Uncle and aunt, I'm here today to officially tell you that I like Freya and I love her."

"Crack"

Mr. Lynch, who was flicking the tea cover was shocked that the cover in his hands fell to the floor and Mrs. Lynch was stunned and shocked for a while.

After the couple looked at each other, Mr. Lynch's expression became tense on the spot, "Ryan, I'll assume you didn't say anything about this matter today. You should reduce your contacts with Freya in the future..."

Ryan said quickly, "Uncle, Listen to me. I'm here today not to ask the two of you to agree but I'm here to tell you about our relationship. I understand your concerns very well and I'll tell my parents when I go back. If they don't Support, I will not entangle Freya and cause trouble to her."

Mr. Lynch's expression improved a little but he was still very cold, "Ryan, you are a good boy and you have helped our Lynch family a lot but we are all people with self-awareness even if Freya didn't get married or have children, I may not agree to pursue her. It's not that you are bad. On the contrary, you are too good also your future is boundless. Even for your family, Freya is not worthy of you and your parents are unlikely to agree."

"Yes."

Mrs. Lynch nodded her head and said, "Ryan, Aunt, also likes you very much and I also think my daughter is very good. The first time I got married, it was purely because I didn't know the person well but some things happened. You are the son of the Prime Minister. As for her, you are nominally your sister. If it spreads out and affects each other's reputation, your parents will be embarrassed."

Ryan said: "Aunt, you are not right. I don't think Freya's second marriage is not good for me or anything. She is not bad, so what about first marriage, many girls in their teens have not had their first time and Freya is not a conservative person. As for children, Dani is my niece and my half-daughter and I have long regarded her as my own daughter. Also Freya is a little older than me and like her very much. "

Just in time, the servant brought a cup of hot tea.

Ryan took over and said: "Don't just see Freya's divorce, she also has many advantages. She can create a big brand by herself at a young age and can study various cosmetics and skin care products, not to mention that she is still young, beautiful, earns more than me. She doesn't have the halo of her parents and she is still so good."

These words, Freya's father and Freya's mother were very comfortable.

Who likes to hear that their daughter is a second-hand person?

Chapter 2368

In the hearts of parents, daughters are priceless treasures.

"Uncle and aunty, I'm here today just to tell you about my feelings for Freya. I don't want to cause trouble to you and Freya. If my parents always object to my efforts, then I'll be self-aware and won't come and force..."

Mr. Lynch suddenly snorted coldly: "You don't want to force it, that means your love for my daughter is nothing more than that and the love that can be easily obstructed by parents is very weak and my daughter is not uncommon."

Freya was stunned for a moment and finally raised her head, "Dad..."

Ryan was overjoyed, "Of course I don't want to give up easily. In fact, as long as Freya agrees, even if my parents don't support her, I can live with her outside. I asked myself that I have the ability to make my parents unable to force me even if they wanted to and to protect the integrity of the Lynch family, but... I don't want to cause trouble to Freya. Anyway, I respect her and don't want to stop her."

"Hmph, you said nice things."

Mr. Lynch suddenly said, "No wonder you took my daughter's heart away."

"Dad..."

Freya blushed.

"You think I can't see it,"

Mr. Lynch said helplessly, "Daughter, Since Ryan has come to the door today, it means that he has agreed with you. why did you agree, and you don't like him too, I want to say, you two have been dating secretly for a while, right? Now I'm afraid that don't want to hide it anymore and the two of you won't be able to hide it for long."

Ryan sighed, "Yes, we don't want to hide it anymore because we don't like to be so sneaky. we are unmarried and sitting upright also we should be generous when we fall in love. Besides, if we don't get the consent of the family, we will continue to talk in the future."

"That's right."

Mr. Lynch nodded, "If that's the case, Ryan, just follow your words. If your parents don't agree, we won't agree either. Maybe your parents can't force you but I can't let my daughter suffer. Wronged."

"Thank you uncle, I will go back and tell my parents and I will definitely convince them that my parents are actually not that old-fashioned."

Ryan bowed solemnly, then handed Dani back to Freya and left.

Freya, who was hugged Dani embarrassingly at a loss in the eyes of her parents.

"When were you with him, don't lie to us?" Mr. Lynch snorted and stared at his daughter.

"Just...on the night of New Year's Eve, Ryan came to Melbourne to find me and promised to try."

Freya did not deceive her parents.

"It's been so long."

Mrs. Lynch was taken aback and then looked at her daughter's complicated eyes, "You're very careful about hiding things and you're very courageous."

"Afterwards, when I went abroad for training, he always helped to take care of Dani and in many things. He took care of me behind my back. Even though we were about the same age, he was actually very mature. When I was with him, I was protected here."

Freya told the truth, "Ryan is really good to Dani."

“Did Ryan like you a long time ago?” Mr. Lynch asked suddenly with a frown.

Freya thought for a while and said, “Ryan told me later that before I married Rodney, he had a crush on me but he came too late and didn’t think about what to do, even Rodney was not good to me and he secretly warned Rodney to let him cherish me, but... later Rodney cheated and refused to divorce, and forced me to divorce without giving me a child. Where is Rodney’s opponent in the girl’s family, Ryan helped me get divorced and I was kicked by Rodney and broke my bone. Ryan really helped me a lot.”

“Ryan is really good.”

Mrs. Lynch sighed and introduced, “Ryan helped our Lynch family approve the land so that the Lynch family can gain a firm foothold in the capital and this villa...”

“He is deliberate.”

Mr. Lynch sighed, “As expected of Nathan’s son.”

Mrs. Lynch said, “What’s more, if Ryan didn’t help out behind Rodney, our daughter would be able to get away with Dani? Don’t look at Wendy and the others, but they are also biological without Ryan. Maybe the family will help Rodney.”

Mr. Lynch admitted that what Mrs. Lynch said was the truth.

Mr. Lynch snorted coldly, “I just said, as long as Ryan’s parents agree then I have no opinion. Anyway, it’s just a relationship, not marriage. Didn’t those people in Melbourne secretly laugh at my daughter’s after and before divorce? What’s the matter, even if it is divorced, my daughter can find the Prime Minister’s son to fall in love.”

Freya: “...”

She thought it would be difficult to get her parents’ consent.

Unexpectedly, her father was quite able to think about it.

.....

On the other side, Ryan received a call from Nathan not long after he left from Lynch's new villa.

"Ryan, no matter where you are, you must come back to the old house for me within one hour."

Nathan Snow's voice was full of coldness, "We are all here waiting for you."

Ryan looked at his watch, it was 8 p.m.

Most likely, Rodney went to the old house to talk about his relationship with Freya.

"Okay."

Ryan whispered.

"Ryan, You're very smart. you should know what I'm going to ask. Think about it on your own way and don't let me down." Nathan Snow said and hung up the phone.
Ryan looked grim.

He drove for more than 20 minutes and the phone rang again, this time from Jessica, "The people in the Snow family already know about you and Freya."

Ryan laughed softly, "Even you who are in a meeting abroad are alarmed."

Jessica was silent for a while, then said, "My mother told me just now. It seems that Rodney found you and took pictures but you don't seem to be such a careless person."

Ryan had to admit that the person who knew him best in this world was Jessica, "I deliberately let him see Yes."

"You want to use his mouth to make it public?" Jessica understood in seconds.

Ryan said, "Freya and I can't keep secret like this all the time even if we are happy, it's only a short-lived happiness. When secretly, Freya will feel uneasy and stressed. She doesn't want to face it at all but I don't want to continue."

Chapter 2370

Jessica smiled and said, "Ryan, You are a responsible person and you are more promising than Rodney. I can tell you what to do next and no one will support even my parents are very angry. I don't know what Rodney said over there. They seem to want to take back Dani's custody."

Ryan immediately laughed angrily, "Rodney probably told them that Freya and I had been eyeing each other before divorced. When Rodney saw it, he scolded Freya in public for being cheap. Anyway, he blamed the two of us for the reason for the divorce. He seemed to be a victim."

"Rodney... How did it become like this." Jessica was very stunned. she couldn't believe what Ryan said was her own brother.

Ryan said bluntly, "Sister Jessica, what is the situation between me and Freya? I have never lied to you. Freya herself is also clean. If Rodney still has a little conscience in his heart, I will always treat him as my brother. To be a relative, but he is like this, I can't do it."

Jessica took a long time to say: "Ryan, others don't know you but I know your means to leave him a way to survive, is it my brother, also A relative."

Ryan said, "Jessica, You think about me too hard. I never thought to cut off Rodney's life and we didn't have such a big hatred between us. Freya and I are together and Rodney was never ours. A stumbling block or in other words, I didn't take him seriously at all."

Well, Jessica smiled wryly. She thought too much.

Rodney may be more of a rambunctious neurotic in Ryan's eyes.

"But...Sister Jessica."

Ryan reminded in a low voice, "Brother Rodney is not what he used to be. He has been in contact with Sarah for too long and his behavior and thinking have been influenced by her and even Sarah has been affected by him. Sarah played with him like a fool and made his behavior more extreme. If it goes on like this and you don't have to discipline him with tough methods, it's not surprising that he will break the law. I'm not joking."

Jessica was startled, her brows furrowed.

"Believe it or not, you can communicate with him privately." Ryan reminded.

“Well.”

Jessica pondered, “Ryan, You are going back to the old house now. How are you going to fight against them?”

Ryan smiled, “Sister Jessica, I helped you become the ruler of the Snow Corporation before but now the Snow family is on the surface. Grandpa still decides, but in fact it’s because my dad and your dad listen to my grandfather’s words. As for your dad, everyone knows that we are for the uncle’s face. I don’t have the right to speak or prestige anymore. I helped you before, now it’s time for you to help me.”

Jessica thought about it and said, “You want me to support you? It’s okay, but against your father... “...”

Ryan reminded, “Sister Jessica, the favor you owe is me not my dad. Why do I support you? isn’t it all because we don’t like being controlled by the family? That’s right, my dad who is the Prime Minister but before he took office and after he took office, his contacts were all busy with and now I am more familiar with him than he is.

Jessica said complicatedly: “Ryan, you want to remind me, in fact, your father has nothing to do with you, right?”

Ryan said, “I never fight unprepared battles. I will go all the way and definitely not let you suffer. Besides, my father is actually a bit similar to my grandfather. They all think, women, sooner or later, they will marry.”

“Ryan, your indeed very powerful and it is not to mention that you are still so young, you Man, I bet.”

“Thank you first.”

With Jessica’s words, Ryan was even more confident.

Growing up in a place like the Snow family made him understand very early that the person who is qualified to speak is never an older person but who is the most capable.

It was around 9 p.m.

Ryan stepped and walked into the hall of the old house.

Several elders of the Snow family have all arrived, even Nathan and his wife have come from the Prime Ministerial palace with a very bad expressions.
