

Let me go, Mr. Hill Author: Shallow South Chapter 2519

“Mom, you really know nothing.” Lydia rolled her eyes at her mother.
“Dad has been trying to matchmake Harold and Jessica. He’s purely interested in her power and wealth. Snow Corporation can never belong to our family if we rely solely on ourselves. Look how well Snow Corporation is doing. If Harold marries Jessica and gets her pregnant, he’ll be able to jump at the chance to take control of Snow Corporation.”
Mrs. Lennox then said, “But she’s now married.”
“We have to make her get a divorce then.”

Mr. Lennox said firmly, “With Forrest’s identity, the Snow family will never accept him. I’m going to look for Jason.”

“You want my son to marry a woman who has been married twice?” Mrs. Lennox was mad.

Mrs. Lennox fell quiet.

Harold said, “Dad, I’ll listen to you.”

He wanted to get both Jessica and Snow Corporation.

Whether or not he wanted to be with Jessica forever, he would decide after marrying her.

An evil glint flashed across Harold’s eyes.

At 10:00 a.m., Harold went along with his father to meet Jason and Wendy, who had arrived too. The two of them were wearing baseball caps while dressed in comfortable sports outfits. There was a handsome man following behind Wendy. The man had clear eyes and a mature look, but his face looked childish and innocent.

“Mommy, I saw a butterfly.” Rodney pointed at a distance and went to catch the butterfly excitedly like a kid.

A touch of sarcasm crossed Harold’s mind, but his eyes did not betray it. “Uncle Jason, Aunty Wendy, Rodney seems to be doing well.”

“Yeah.” Wendy darted a glance at her son’s back. She looked relieved but helpless and regretful at the same time.

Rodney’s current IQ was similar to a six- or seven -year-old kid. What was more, his IQ would remain like that forever.

On a brighter note, he was happy, at the very least. Having said that, as a mother, Wendy could not help but feel heartbroken to see her son end up in such a state.

Mr. Lennox said with a grin, “What matters is that he’s happy. Look how brightly Rodney is smiling right now.”

“I thought so too.” Jason draped his hand on Mr. Lennox’s shoulder with a smile. “I lost to you last time, so let’s compete again today.”

“We’ll compete later.” Mr. Lennox curled his lips known each other for over ten years, but am I really your friend?”

Jason asked with a smile, “Why am I not your friend? Please make it clear.”

Mr. Lennox threw a look at Harold. “We’ve been friends for years. Besides, considering that both our children weren’t married yet, I thought of matchmaking my son with your daughter. However, you didn’t tell me that Jessica has gotten married.”

“Jessica has gotten married?” Jessica and Wendy were both dumbfounded. The former said, “Don’t talk nonsense.”

Harold forced a smile. “Jessica hasn’t been feeling well the past two days, so I specially cooked some soup and brought it to her. However, I bumped into a man at her place, who claimed to be the brother of the Lynch family’s young lady. After looking into his background, I found out that the young lady of the Lynch family is Freya, who used to be Rodney’s... As to why her brother married Jessica, I tried to ask him, but he... looked down on me. He probably thought I was just a Snow Corporation employee, so I had no right to ask him. He even said that he’s Jessica’s husband and provocatively showed me their marriage certificate.”

Jason and Wendy exchanged glances and saw the shock in each other’s eyes.

“Jason, are you guys really unaware of this?” Mr. Lennox asked.

Jason’s face contorted in anger. He had no idea whether to be shocked or furious.

It was his son who worried him earlier, and now, it was his daughter.

What was more... it had to do with the Lynch family again.

Jason's head hurt at the mention of 'the Lynch family'.

"Jason, I don't know whether it is my place to say this, but I should remind you of this," Mr. Lennox said profoundly. "Don't you think the Lynch family is a little too ambitious? Not only has their daughter played up to the executive council, but Lynch Corporation has also moved over to Canberra. Now, his son has struck up a relationship with your daughter... Are the Lynch family's children so brilliant?"

Upon hearing that, Jason and Wendy frowned. "Mr. Lennox, thank you for letting me know. I'll take a raincheck on this game today to look for Jessica. By the way, please don't spread the news to the public."

Not wanting to linger around any longer, Jason quickly had someone take Rodney into the car before the family left frantically.

"Dad, you're awesome." Harold raised his thumb at his father.

Mr. Lennox glanced at Harold. "If anyone from the Lynch family abuses their power just because of Forrest and Jessica's relationship, how do you think the Snow family will view this issue?" Harold instantly grasped the point. "Dad, I know what to do."

"By the way, go and dig up Forrest's dark past." In the car, Wendy's head was buzzing. "Hubby, was what Chairman Lennox said true?"

"He won't lie when it comes to such a thing." Jason tried his best to control his temper. If he had a choice, he would definitely wish that those children of his did not come to this world. They really distressed him.

After arriving at the Snow Corporation, Jason called for Jessica.

“But President Snow is busy...”

“No matter how busy she is, she must come over now.” Jason slammed his hands on the table and lost his temper.

Ten minutes later, Jessica came. Having heard that Jason was mad, she knew that Harold must have informed Jason and Wendy about the incident that morning.

Despite that, she did not expect Jason would pick up a book from the desk and hurl it at her as soon as she walked in.

Luckily, Jessica was wearing a pair of sports shoes, so she managed to dodge the book. However, she staggered, which hurt a certain part of her body.

“Jessica, tell me what’s happening between you and Forrest.” Jason said furiously, “I heard that you’ve gotten married to Forrest. This must be a joke. You can’t be so muddle-headed—”

“Yes. We’re married,” Jessica answered coldly. Jason walked up to her and lifted his hand, about to hit her.

At the sight of her daughter’s weak body, Wendy hurriedly clutched her husband’s hand. “Calm down. Don’t hit her.”

“Do you think I want to?” Jason scoffed. “How ambitious of your daughter. She thinks she’s so great after being the head of Snow Corporation that she doesn’t need to inform her parents about her marriage. Jessica, are you planning to drive us up the wall? Do you know your identity? How can you get married to Forrest just like that?”

Aren't you worried that he intends to snatch Snow Corporation from you? You're supposed to be smart, but are you out of your mind now? Has Forrest made you muddle-headed?

“Aren't there any other men in this world? Rodney can't get over Freya and has become a fool now, and you? You've gotten married to Freya's brother. Since Ryan is now in a relationship with Freya, the Snow family has no choice but to be associated with the Lynch family, huh?”
