

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2698

Chapter 2698

“I may consider marrying Eliza if she can bring me a steady stream of benefits but the matter between her and Chester. If I marry her, it will definitely become a joke and my family will definitely not agree.”

Monte exhaled deeply, “It’s difficult to do, but as long as she wants to be with me. I will definitely take care of her for a lifetime and it won’t be the same as before if she wants to. If she want a child, I am willing to provide one for her and my parents will undoubtedly accept the child of our Patterson family.”

Karter agreed with a nod, “Indeed, Eliza is actually very intelligent. Such a woman will become a man when she is a wife. It’s a big help, because it’s just her and Chester’s broken affairs and even if she wins, no serious man will marry her.”

“No, perhaps I should have broken up with her sooner. There would have been no such problems. Eliza was very good to me in the past. I had many girlfriends, but she would always save my money and always buy me gifts”

Monte had some regrets about this. “I can’t bear the extravagance since I became engaged to Sophie. This is how I feel before I get married. I’ll be able to get it after I get married. Nobody gets their money from the wind.”

“The issue is that she is not as attractive as Eliza.” Karter laughed.

The two men exchanged knowing glances and smiles.

Within the Car.

The only thing that was quiet was the radio station. But, just in time, the radio broadcasted a slew of dull commercials.

Miguel remained silent and kept a cold face.

“Who owes you money?”

Charity noticed the cigarette case on Miguel’s shelf, picked it up, took out a cigarette, and was about to place it in her lovely red lips.

Miguel yanked it off quickly, tossed it aside and scolded, “What kind of cigarettes are you smoking?”

“Women cannot smoke, but men can.” Charity spoke softly.

“We frequently have to do special training, which is very stressful.” Miguel lifted his eyes and said in a low voice.

“Then you should rest well at home.” Charity looked back at him and replied, “Running out at night to join in the fun with Ryan.”

“That isn’t because you had other people’s girlfriends and wives.” Miguel chuckled, “Ryan called and asked me if I was interested in Eliza and he'd like to introduce him to other boyfriends. When I first heard it, I thought it was interesting and interesting. If it's so interesting, why are you so quiet? No wonder I haven't found a girlfriend in 10 thousand years, so I deserve it..."

"For what should I live for?" Charity was curious.

"I deserve to have to deal with my brother for the rest of my life." Miguel said, his honey-colored face flushed.

"..."

"Rogue." Charity said, rolling her eyes at him.

"I didn't said that." Miguel appeared to be innocent.

Charity secretly sighed, no wonder Freya has recently become more daring and unrestrained in certain areas. She used to be a reserved and reserved little girl, but someone did lead her astray.

With emotion, Miguel stated, "Look, I've made another sacrifice for you. If it weren't for me, Ryan and Shaun might offer you new partners again. How would you like to express your gratitude to me."

"Tell me how you want to thank me." Charity inquired.

"I don't really have a good taste in clothes. How about you pick me up when I go shopping with a big star one day?" Miguel pretended to think seriously.

Charity smiled, “Miguel, Really I want to tell you, you usually wear uniforms most of the time and there is no need to waste that money. Save the money.”

Miguel hummed lightly on the steering wheel and said flatly, “No, I just want to buy it. If I don’t dress up again, I probably won’t find a girlfriend in my life.”

After a few seconds, he cast an odd glance at Charity, “You don’t want to accompany me, or do you want to express your gratitude? To be honest, I’ll tell Ryan tomorrow that I no longer like her and that he should introduce me to someone else.”

“You are enough...” Charity was not only angry but also helpless.

Are people to be too busy? Their women are all pursuing careers, but men only want to accompany women.

“Then do you agree?” Miguel smirked and winked.

“Okay, okay, give me sometime.” Charity said, supporting her brow.

“Don’t say anything, because tomorrow is my vacation.” Miguel said.

Charity was about to say something when Monte abruptly sent her a message: [Eliza, tomorrow we will go to the restaurant you used to eat at the most for breakfast, I will pick you up in the morning, is it ok at 9 o'clock?]

Miguel glanced quickly and laughed lightly: “Trash, sc*m.”

Charity was speechless for a while.

It just so happened that a text message from Chester arrived at the same time, [At 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, Come to the company and I'll tell you all about it.]

Miguel snorted again, “Why are you always recruiting sc*mbags?”

Charity twitched her lips and said, “Where are your eyes directed? Are you driving or checking my phone, or what? Is it strabismus in your eyes?”

Miguel quickly assumed an innocent expression. ” I didn't see your phone directly. I just looked at the reflector on your side, it's because your phone is too large.”

Miguel also added, “Let's talk about it. Aren't they just trash and sc*m, if I'm not wrong?”

“Yeah, I've got my own scum suction physique, so are you scum as well?” With a half-smile, Charity inquired.

“Whether you want to try it or not, if you try it, you'll know.” Miguel stated obstinately.

“Boring.”

Charity was too tired to notice him and lowered her head to send text messages one by one to reject these men.

[I am currently only a shareholder of the company. Regardless of company affairs, just pay dividends and you have to discuss with me. Then I support you in managing the company. You may step down for me or don't sit in a shameless position.] Chester said as he refused to leave.

It's just arrogant.

Chester, who was enraged and called out, “Eliza, I had planned to talk to you about joining the board of directors tomorrow. You appear to be uninterested in the board of directors.”

“You allow me to join the board as a director!” Charity was taken aback.

Chester sneered, “I had this idea at first but now you seem to want to sit to your place as a shareholder.”

“Charity, I suddenly crave smoking, can you light a cigarette for me?” Miguel's gentle voice, which could drown a person suddenly appeared next to her.

Charity shivered in horror. She glared angrily at Miguel.

Miguel displayed a row of white teeth to her. “Charity, I like how you light cigarettes.”

“Eliza, what kind of man are you with at night?” “Is it Miguel?”
Chester’s send a voice message.
