

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2721

Chapter 2721

“What’s the matter, is it more important than me?” Monte was pleased, but he asked sourly.

“I won’t tell you.” Charity said.

But when Monte smelled arrogance, his heart melted.

Eliza used to be too well-mannered, but she is still arrogant, which is a good thing.

Women are, indeed, more refreshed after a period of separation.

“It doesn’t matter if you don’t tell me but don’t get too close behind my back to other men. The man who took you home that night appears to be interested in you.” Monte stated solemnly.

“He is a friend of Rodney. It’s the blind date whom Rodney introduced to me a few days ago.” Charity said as she got into the car.

Monte was surprised that there was another reason for this, and he was concerned, “Eliza, are you deliberately trying to provoke me?” I admit that you made me envious, and the enviousness was terrible.”

Charity remained silent. She didn’t mean it at all.

Monte said gently, “Eliza, although I don’t know who that man is and it’s not easy to be friends with Rodney. The more political the person, the more stringent the requirements for the other half. Female stars’ careers eventually came to an end. We are not bad in business as long as we have the ability and can make money. The pressure from our parents will have no effect on our career. I don’t want you to be hurt again, understand.”

"I don't have to tell you either but I dislike him. I think he looks too dark, I like the gentle one." Charity said as she buckled her seat belt.

Isn't he like Sven?

"Gentlemen are, indeed, more considerate." Monte laughed.

"I'm going to drive away, bye." Charity lacked the courage to confront him.

Monte hung up the phone and went to the president's suite, where he found Karter in a good mood.

When the doorbell rang, Karter Jamieson yawned and opened the door quickly.

"Young master Jamieson, where were you last night, and I was going to call you to play at the bar?" Monte smiled as he entered.

Karter smiled his eyes shining with deep comprehension, "Having dinner with some former classmates." Then he continued and asked, "Young master Patterson, why is your face a little swollen?"

Monte touched his own With a toothache on his face. He said, "Don't mention it, but I was beaten by my father. I just told him that I want to break up the engagement with Sophie."

Karter said disapprovingly, "Didn't your father just want Sophie to be her daughter-in-law? Sophie is very generous, and so does the Thompson family. If you don't stop, it's clear that you're taking advantage of your Patterson family."

Monte sighed, "My father actually disliked Sophie's way of spending money. But the hotel business hasn't been as good as before. Young master Jamieson, last time I talked to The thing you mentioned..."

Karter said thoughtfully, "I mentioned it to my father, and he said that the Patterson family owns one of the best hotels in Australia and we can work together. But Patterson family is one of Australia's best hotels. Little, this isn't Australia's capital, what happened...?"

Monte sneered, "I just introduced some intermediary fees. Don't worry, there's no problem, I'll even go to the company. It's all set up, and we'll be able to provide customers with cross-border capital redemption in a timely manner. They can only cooperate with our hotel in the future if I am tied to those big customers."

Karter said, "Young master Patterson, you have the ability. I'm just going for your courage. I'm sure you'll be able to develop Patterson Industry better in the future."

"Thank you for your blessing."

"Miss Jones, the fish has already taken the bait." Karter said after Monte had left.

"That's fine, Mr. Jamieson. I'll bother you about it."

"Where can I speak with Jiang? It's an honor to cooperate with Miss." Karter didn't forget that his father, Devin Jamieson had contacted him the night before and told him that he had successfully reached an agreement with the Costner family, not to mention how happy Devin was, he even praised himself for being fan from one of them.

Devin hasn't praised him in a long time.

"Don't say that, because the entertainment projects in Neah Bay and Adelaide are very similar. You work together to expand the business. you will have to work hard in the future." Catherine said with a smile.

"It'll be fine once Monte gets going. If it works, I will send you the relevant information, and it will be up to you to contact the police."

“Trouble.”

Karter lit a cigarette in a relaxed mood after finishing the phone call. He didn't expect an unexpected harvest when he arrived in Canberra this time.

Despite the fact that he and Monte have known each other for many years, they are not good in relations.

Initially, Monte offered him many benefits, and he was unsure whether to work with the Patterson family, but he didn't expect that because Monte knew Catherine and them.

Ah.

What surprised him even more was Catherine and Eliza's friendly relationship. He also learned from Catherine that Eliza was a shareholder of Jewell Corporation and the well-known Reborn.

People in Australia may not be familiar with the name Reborn, but those who have studied in country M are.

It's ridiculous to think about Monte, who rejected his girlfriend, Reborn in favor of the Thompson family's daughter, Sophie who only knew how to spend a lot of money.

Monte, the loser, believed Eliza still had feelings for him.

Heh, Monte had no idea Eliza was planning to bring down the Patterson family in order to exact revenge.

But this woman, Reborn was cruel enough on her own. It's just dumping her, but it'll send people to jail and bankrupt.

Tsk, men should not be overly concerned.

In the hospital.

Chester and the dean emerged from the meeting room.

A doctor said helplessly, “Young Master Jewell, go back and study this brain surgery. I also know you have been very busy recently. but at the moment, you are the only one in the hospital who can complete this surgery.”

“This surgery is feasible. Yes, but there is only a 10% chance, you can make it clear to the patient’s family.”

After Chester finished speaking, he noticed Dr. Lord from the Department of Psychiatry walking towards him.

“Doctor Lord, let’s talk for a minute.” Chester inquired politely.

“What does Young master Jewell want to inquire about?” Dr. Lord hurriedly accompanied Chester to the side.

“You said, a woman was taken by After being hurt by her boyfriend. She resists the touch of the opposite sex, and even has no interest in that kind of thing, is there a psychological problem?” Chester coughed a little unnaturally in the face of Dr. Lord’s wrinkled face.

Dr. Lord’s eyes took on new significance.

Mr. Jewell was extremely strong. He had a new goal as soon as he got out of prison.

Young people really have a lot of energy.

“Is this woman doing this to everyone, or just you..., no, I mean to other men as well.” Dr. Lord pressed the issue.

Chester is tough enough to ignore what Dr. Lord says, saying, “It’s the same for all men. The other party doesn’t even want to fall in love or have children.”

“This could be because he has had negative stimulation and has a strong affection for both sexes. Shadow, which leads to no interest in men at all, it is best to take her for a check to see if it is serious. if it is not serious, you can suggest she watch more positive love movies to change her mind and make her believe that not all men are sc*mbags.”

“She doesn’t want to be checked.” Chester said, frowning.

“This is normal. Many women, especially those who have been hurt, do not believe there is anything wrong with them, and even believe that avoiding more heterosexual contact can reduce more. Simply put, it is a form of self-protection.”

“Cough, in fact, if you encounter such a woman, it is better to stay away, Young master Jewell.” Dr. Lord said after a brief moment of thought.

Chester was speechless.

Dr. Lord took a deep breath and gathered his strength. He felt obligated to save the woman as an excellent psychiatrist. “This type of woman used to cast a shadow on men, causing damage, if you encounter emotional damage again. It may be more serious, even distorted, extreme, serious, and may manifest in ways of self-harm or harming others, so I recommend that Mr. Jewell avoid such type of women a little bit is better both for her and for her personal safety.”

“Dr. Lord, why don’t you speak frankly, just say that a sc*mbag like me should not hurt this woman?” Chester smiled and asked.

“Mr. Jewell, that’s not what I meant...” Dr. Lord shivered, a cold sweat breaking out on his embarrassed back.

“Okay, don’t say it, I understand. Everyone in Australia knows your words are perfectly fine.”

“You are a good psychiatrist.” Chester patted on Dr. Lord’s shoulder.

He has done his best, unlike Sarah, who is also a psychiatrist.

Dr. Lord slapped his lips shyly, his heart pounding in his chest.

Fortunately, Chester said nothing else, thanked him, and then left.

Chester pulled the collar of his shirt with upset after getting into his car in the hospital’s underground parking lot.

He suddenly wanted to talk to someone. He looked through his contacts and could only call Shaun, saying, “Come out for a drink at night.”

“I need to check with my wife to see if she agrees or not.” Shaun said.

“Are you a f*cking wife slave?” Chester gritted his teeth.

“You just have a feeling. You can’t make your wife unhappy,” Shaun chuckled.

Chester softly sighed. This friendship will come to an end soon.

...

Chester sat in the bar for a long time at 8 p.m. and Shaun arrived late.

"I would be friends with you if I didn't have a f*cking friend who could tell my heart." Chester poured a glass of wine, touched it with his fingertips, and it slid steadily in front of Shaun.

"Would you mind telling me what's on your mind? Come on, talk about it." Shaun said as he held the glass.

"I'm afraid I'll have to give up." Chester explained, "When I was released from prison, I vowed to exact revenge on Eliza. No other woman has ever dared to cheat on me like she does. She later became Jewell's shareholder, which I find very interesting. I've met many women, but there is only one I admire, and Eliza is the first."

"The precursor to temptation is to become interested in a woman and begin to appreciate it." Shaun remarked.

"Do you believe I'm tempted?" Chester was taken aback.

Shaun said, "If you're not tempted, you're on your way to being tempted. I told you a long time ago that you should stay away from Eliza. Don't play with her, do you think about this woman these days? It's annoying, but I want to see her again, oh, by the way, I heard that you go to other people's villas every night to disturb people."

Chester was taken aback, then embarrassed and said, "How do you know about this?"

Shaun sighed, "You are always so noisy to Eliza, so she asked Catherine today if she could come to our Hill's Villa to live for a while."
