Chapter 2741

"Dude, I'm afraid of you. Get out of my way, and I'll take a detour." Because the driver was terrified that he was a lunatic, he backed up the car, quickly turned the steering wheel, and fled.

The passing car owner glanced at Chester as he stood in the traffic of people coming and going.

They all thought he was insane, and no one dared to provoke him.

Chester continued walking forward after leaving the road. He was too tired to answer the phone when it rang.

His slippers were torn as he walked until he was exhausted, and the phone rang again as he sat in a chair by the roadside.

He pulled it out, and it was a message from the Dean.

After more than ten seconds of listening to the phone ring, Chester pressed the answer button, "President..."

"You finally answered the phone, Mr. Jewell. There is an operation at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the family has signed, you should come over to prepare." The dean was dying of anxiety.

Chester looked down at his empty right hand and continued shaking after leaving Neeson Corporation. He said, "I can't do it anymore."

"What?" The dean nearly went insane. "Only you stand a good chance of succeeding in that operation. The family members have gathered here to greet you as a savior."

"Savior?"

"Is that right, I'm just a cold and ruthless executioner." Chester said bitterly.

"What the h-e-l-l are you talking about?" The dean didn't understand a single word.

"It's not so much that I don't want to move as it is that my hand... Something isn't right. If I were to perform this operation, there might not be a ten percent chance." Chester said softly.

"Is what you said true?" Dean almost puked blood.

"I'm not going to make fun of this." Chester's voice sounded hollow.

"All right, then I can only ride it myself." The dean hung up with a bitter smile.

Chester hung up the phone and desperately tried to control his trembling hand, but after a while it began to tremble slightly, and his heart twitched densely as well.

He was an excellent physician. This symptom occurred frequently for him. He was aware that he was not ill.

It's simply because adrenal hormones were soaring and nerve regulation was abnormal, resulting in palpitation, tremors, muscle soreness, and muscle tremors.

He had never experienced such symptoms before today. Because he realized today that he had been moved and had fallen in love with someone.

This type of love appears fleeting and shallow. But it was already buried in the bones when it was discovered. However, it didn't work.

Because Charity stated that it is impossible to live this life, the next life, the next life, and the life after life.

Neeson Corporation.

Charity stood in front of the window for a long time after Chester had left. She noticed Chester's crazy expression on the road downstairs and watched him walk aimlessly forward like a confused child until he gradually vanished from her sight.

Charity lowered her gaze gradually.

Miguel said, "Charity, I heard from Gage that Chester came to you again and said some strange things. He won't have any doubts about your identity."

"Chester is already aware." Charity paused for a moment before speaking softly.

The phone was silent for a while before Miguel inquired, "Then... what did Chester say?" He'll be sorry once he realizes you're Charity."

"He could have regret, but what could he do with regret?" What?" Charity inquired quietly.

Miguel was stunned for a moment, and it took him a long time to say, "After all, you two dated previously. He is well aware that he has consistently misunderstood you. He doesn't want to use himself to atone for his sins now that he knows you're not dead."

“How do you make it up then?” Charity was a little perplexed.

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2742

Chapter 2742

“For instance... to marry you? But I know you will never marry.” Miguel said tentatively.

“To make up for your sins is to marry me, that’s not atonement. It’s to let him continue to enjoy life. Don’t worry, it’s impossible for me and him.” Charity smiled.

“All right, I’ll just ask casually.” Throughout the phone, Miguel smiled.

After hanging up, a teammate tapped him on the shoulder and asked, “You’re laughing, you’re calling that childhood sweetheart friend again?”

Miguel gave him a sidelong glance but did not respond.

“Hey, it’s been a while since I told you, and I still haven’t confessed? Isn’t it okay?” Brother winked, then looked down.

Miguel’s face darkened unexpectedly. “Whether you believe it or not, I’ll show you with my fists. Look, can I pull it off?”

“...Brother, I was just kidding.”

The brother took two steps back and said, “I’m doing it for your own good. I have some words to say earlier or I really plan to be a good brother with others for a lifetime.”

“You don’t understand, people don’t like me. I’m afraid to say it, even friends can’t do it.” Miguel sighed sadly.

“Well, let’s do it, because you just keep silently guarding, waiting for someone to meet the right one, and then you can arrange some money. Come on.” his brother said as he patted him on the shoulder.

Miguel: “...”

Why is this the case? I’m sick of it.

...

Chester did not go to work or the hospital for the next two days.

They’re looking for Chester everywhere, whether it’s the company’s leader or the person in the hospital, and the phone doesn’t answer.

12 a.m.

Kaiden discovered Chester in a mundane bar. His eyes were filled with disbelief when he saw Chester.

It was probably the first time he saw Chester make a mistake.

Chester was Unshaved, slightly messy hair, no glasses, scarlet eyes.

If Kaiden hadn't approached and looked closely, he wouldn't have recognized the once romantic and handsome Doctor Jewell, President Jewell.

Chester was already very drunk at this point.

The bartender explained. "Mr. You're this guy's friend. Come on, hurry up and bring him back." He's had two nights of drinking in a row, so he still drinks spirits as water. Something has gone wrong."

"Thank you very much." Kaiden paid the money, but when he turned around, Chester was staggering out.

"Mr. Jewell, please wait for me." Kaiden pursued him.

"Please do not touch me." Chester shook his hand, and as he walked out of the bar, he vomited all at once. His vomit still stained with blood.

Kaiden was terrified and immediately called an ambulance.

After admitting Chester to the hospital, the doctor stated that he had consumed too much alcohol and was experiencing stomach bleeding.

When the nurse was administering the infusion, Chester grabbed her hand and muttered, "Charity...Charity..."

The nurse knew Chester.

After all, Chester is the most powerful young doctor in this hospital, but in their eyes, Chester is too high and unattainable, and Chester was always dressed elegantly in a white lab coat, so how could he be so drunk?

Chester's handsome face always looks good, no matter how bad it is, and now it's even more decadent and makes people blush.

Kaiden quickly yanked Chester's hand away, reminding the nurse to insert the needle.

The nurse regained consciousness quickly and inserted an infusion needle into Chester.

When Kaiden left, he was still listening to Chester muttering hoarsely: “Charity...I’m sorry...I’m really sorry.”

Charity?

Is it a female name?

The nurse is fantastic.

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2743

Chapter 2743

Dr. Jewell was gentle and elegant during the week, but he was notoriously cool in the hospital. There were also numerous attractive female doctors who pursued him.

It’s just that Chester teased a handsome face and said ruthlessly, “If you come and want to be slept with by me, as long as you’re not sick, or if you’re beautiful enough. I’ll consider it but I want to like and be in charge of the person, that’s absolutely impossible.”

Everyone was privately telling me not to fall in love with someone like Chester because he had no heart and would never fall in love with any woman.

It is said that the former dean’s daughter jumped upstairs when she fell in love with him.

Chester remained unconcerned.

Over time, no one in the hospital dared to dream of conquering Chester’s high mountain. Some people like it, but they secretly admire and love it.

Now The nurse hear him calling someone else’s name and notice his inebriated appearance.

The nurse was convinced that it was going to rain red. Kaiden, on the other hand, also predicted that it would rain red. He had been following Chester for ten years, watching him travel the world and meet all kinds of beautiful women.

–Is Chester affected by love?

Chester had no idea how long he had slept. When he awoke, he was surrounded by saline bottles beside him.

He was in a lot of pain and wanted to vomit, but he couldn't.

His stomach was in knots. But he didn't want to move. All he wanted was to lie down quietly.

"Get up, Eat some porridge. If you don't eat anything, I believe you'll travel to the West to study scriptures." Shaun said through his ear.

"Thank you. you have a tendency to look down on me. A scumbag like me is unqualified to travel to the West. If I die, I will almost certainly go to h-e-l-l." Chester snarled, his throat clenched.

"You...you'll be fine." Shaun looked at him with a strange expression.

"I have a problem, it's not serious. you can take me for an autopsy. Let my body contribute to mankind." Chester said quietly.

"You're seriously ill." Shaun shook his head, overcome with emotion. "Did you know that you had stomach bleeding last night, and if Kaiden hadn't found you and taken you to the hospital, you really wanted to get drunk to death and not go to work for two days? It didn't take long for you to be released from prison and you already has a lot of possessions. Waiting for you to deal with it, if you continue to waste Jewell's resources in this manner, other hospitals will take them away."

"You may wonder why I am so wealthy." Chester sat down, staring at the ceiling, when he suddenly smiled, "F*ck! you can still spend money on your wife and children. What about me, for the sake of my parents? They probably left before me, and the money I earned for them will last them a few lifetimes."

Shaun said venomously. "Then you should find a wife and start having children sooner. You're still young, so it's not like you won't be able to have children. With your fighting ability, you can build a football team in a year. Now, when you go to bed at the end of your 100-year life, you will have 180 descendants, which is absolutely magnificent."

Chester choked, and then said weakly, "This world On, I just want Eliza to give birth to me. but it's impossible, it'll never be possible."

"..."

Shaun was stunned for a few moments before reaching out and probing. Probing Chester's brow.

"What are you doing?" Chester asked.

Shaun wondered. "Shouldn't Chester be troubled by love if you have a fever? Don't you look down on women, don't you think there is no one in the world? Are women deserving of you?"

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2744

Chapter 2744

"Are you my brother?" Chester clenched his teeth.

"Are you sure the woman you're referring to isn't Eliza? I've long suspected that you paid too much attention to her. Not to mention love, there must be some likes and appreciations but the Chester I know is calm and self-controlled. I read countless women, even if I like it, I can control it, so I won't torture myself into this life-or-death." Shaun said.

Chester chuckled to himself. Yes, if she was just Eliza, he could still retreat, even if he admired it. Furthermore, he had intended to give up and leave.

Chester suddenly realized that Charity had been hidden in his heart all these years when he learned that Eliza was Charity.

The more he hated her and hated her back then, the more he loved her.

He simply cannot see clearly. Until he was tempted again by Eliza. Only then did he realize how much he adored Charity regardless of her appearance.

It's just that he was too self-centered and discovered it too late.

Chester said softly, "I adore her. But she will never forgive me, we can't."

Shaun's expression was incredibly complex. "D*mn! Now you, too, understand love."

"I understood love, but it's too late now." Chester smirked, his eyes dark red. "Shaun, I don't know how to love someone and that's what caused the situation today. I haven't been able to do surgery, I can't sit down and work, and I'm full of her, so I can only numb myself with alcohol."

Shaun pursed his thin lips. Chester's pain was all he could feel. The most painful thing in the world was not being able to love her. "Chester, if you truly love her, try to win her forgiveness because you used to be. You forced her, but as long as you are sincere enough. you can do a lot of things to help her or the people around her. You can't do it once, twice, three times, ten times, a hundred times. You must learn how to spoil a woman, just as arrogant and vicious as before."

Chester said, "Look, I did a lot of hurtful things in the past, almost killing our children, but we finally reconciled."

"Between the two of you, where is the conflict? You go to atone for the sin. I once cut off Logan's finger, then I cut off my own to pay him back. It depends on whether you are determined enough." Shaun said, raising his broken hand.

"It would be better if she was just Eliza." Chester muttered.

"What?"

Chester said, "Shaun, you don't understand. What I did wrong to her is far more serious than what you did to Catherine. I owe lives to her."

Shaun was taken aback and exclaimed, "What the h-e-l-l have you done?"

Chester grimaced, "I believe Eliza will only forgive me if I die. But if I die, if I still... If I have another life, I recognize it, but I might not be able to see her in it."

The most painful thing in this world is knowing that now Chester has only loved Eliza, and she has only loved Chester. But it is impossible to be together.

Shaun suddenly found himself speechless. He imagined that if he were Chester, he would be in excruciating pain.

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2745

Chapter 2745

Shaun drove back to Hill's Villa after sending Chester back to Jewell's villa.

They all lived on a mountain, and it only took six or seven minutes by car.

Catherine was at home with the children, and when she saw Shaun return, she smirked, "Running out at 3 a.m., it won't be some beautiful woman asking you out."

Shaun didn't say anything, just walked over and tried his hardest. He hugged her before lowering his head and kissing her red lips.

"Wow, Daddy and Mommy are extremely shy." Suzie, who was building blocks with playing cards, covered her eyes.

"Why?" Catherine pushed Shaun away, her face flushed, and said, "What are you talking about in front of the child?"

"I just can't help myself." Shaun hugged her and rested his chin on her brow, "Thank you, Cathy, for being able to forgive me in the first place otherwise... I could be drunk every day, and life would be better than death."

"What's the matter with you?" Catherine looked at him, perplexed.

Shaun sighed, "Chester was admitted to the hospital last night for stomach bleeding caused by excessive drinking. His subordinates called me. Since the accident at Rodney, I've been Chester's only friend, even though he's scum to women, but he's always been..."

Catherine interrupted, "It's okay. I'm not interested in your brothers' relationship, why would Chester do this?"

"Because of Eliza, Chester said that he fell in love with Eliza, but they could never be together." Shaun's eyes were full of complexities. There is a lifeline connecting the two of them, which I don't understand. Are you hiding something from me, Cathy?"

Catherine was stunned for a few seconds before she realized, murmuring, "It appears that Chester already knows."

"Know what?" Shaun was perplexed.

Catherine frowned and sighed. "Eliza is my friend. I can't tell you her secret but Chester should be very clear in his heart that he and Eliza really can't be together and the situation between us is different."

"What heinous act did Chester commit?" Shaun smirked.

Catherine gently said, "Somethings, maybe you didn't do it subjectively, but you acted as someone else's executioner and indirectly hurt someone's important family members. What kind of courage do you need? Only then can you reconcile with him. Even if you're desperate for the alleged love, your conscience will not allow it."

"No wonder Chester said he can be forgiven unless he dies." Shaun muttered something.

Catherine sighed, "Death isn't necessary. Just keep a distance from everyone in the future and when you don't know each other in the future, that's the best ending, and it's good for everyone."

Shaun frowned, "I never watched it. When Chester has lived like this, don't look at how cold he is usually, and as a result, once he falls in love with someone, I can't imagine that he will be well on his own, unless Eliza never marries in this life. If Chester discovers it, his personality will be suppressed for a long time. If it is not insane, it will turn into the devil."

Catherine wondered. "Eliza is still so young, why is that? Perhaps she will never marry or have children in her life."

Shaun sighed. "If you want to have children and marry in the future, you should persuade her to go abroad and leave the capital secretly. Don't let Chester find out, don't let him see."

Catherine was a little bit angry and was irritated.

Why did Eliza have to keep hiding when she married and made friends?

But she also understood Chester's personality.

How could someone like him comprehend that the pinnacle of love is fulfillment?

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2746

Chapter 2746

At 10 a.m.

Catherine called Charity and asked, "How have you learned about Neeson's situation in the last few days?"

"We must actively encourage corporate innovation."

"I didn't know anything about sports, so I knew Neeson had issues in the past, but I didn't know where to start."

"If you specialize in surgery, you still have to come." Catherine smiled and said.

No, you have greatly helped me. The core items would have been sold if you hadn't hired a senior manager to assist me in managing."

Catherine paused before entering the topic, "I heard from Shaun that Chester drank until he had stomach bleeding in the middle of the night last night. He appears to be inebriated these days, and he did not even visit the company hospital. Does he know who you are?"

Charity remained silent for a few moments before relaxing. "Yeah," she said lightly, "Chester left some clues, and he suspected it."

"I thought you were the one who revealed it." Catherine exclaimed, "This can be suspected. Tsk tsk, it's amazing. I talked to Freya before and she couldn't think of anything."

“Chester is very smart.” Charity could not deny this.

Catherine began gossiping, “Hey, isn’t Chester shocked, he must regret it to death, no matter if you are Charity or Eliza, he has always looked down on you. But now he finds out that he doesn’t know you well enough, you used to be a lover. A vain and cunning woman, only to discover that you are the king.”

Charity paused before saying, “Chester said he loves me.”

Catherine asked, “Wow. Then how do you feel?”

“Aside from sadness, I don’t feel anything. Chester told me I’m sorry, but what’s the use of being sorry, because I’m in prison, it’s a fact that my parents died. I can survive this way myself. Maybe God sympathizes with me. I can’t seek revenge from him because I still have basic reasons but I won’t be with him either.” Charity said lightly.

Catherine understands Charity’s state of mind. She would not do it if it were her.

Despite the fact that Sarah was the initiator, who made Chester believe so strongly in Sarah?

Shaun’s memory had been tampered with, but he could still understand. Chester, on the other hand, had a good brain and was smarter than Rodney.

Catherine stated solemnly, “But, after discovering that Chester fell in love with you, would someone like Chester willingly withdraw out of guilt and wish you happiness? Emotion is the most uncontrollable thing in the world. Yes, when you fall in love with someone, you will instinctively want to have it. Especially if you are someone like Chester, who has always wanted wind and rain since he was a child, and will silently guard you to marry someone else and have a child if you don’t see it.”

I have no plans to marry or have children.” Charity stated unequivocally.

“Charity, you are still young, especially your body. You are younger than us. Your life is too long, your parents left early and you are already alone. I sincerely hope you can have a happy family, have a child, and be able to start over.” Catherine exclaimed.

To be honest, Catherine felt that Charity no longer had any desires.

There was always something to be concerned about in life. Otherwise, life would be extremely boring at times.

Charity was taken aback.
