

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2766

Chapter 2766

Monte rushed to the hospital for an examination after taking a quick shower and removing the smell from the woman's body.

"Monte, you son of a b*tch, I told you to treat Sophie well but now everyone knows your true face. Why you caused this kind of trouble? your uncle Thompson called to say he was cutting off contact with our family."

On the way, Monte received a call from his father. His father, Albert Patterson said, "I also heard from the Thompson family that you have infected with AIDS. You should be strangled to death when the time comes."

"Dad, I was duped by someone, and someone wanted to destroy our cooperative relationship with the Thompson family." Monte broke out in cold sweat.

"Being cheated." Albert scolded "If you really contract some kind of disease, don't appear in front of me in the future." Albert said before hanging up the phone.

Monte gripped his phone firmly. He had no idea Eliza would cheat her like that.

—Obviously, hasn't she always loved herself very much?

—She could even love him to the point of suicide....

Monte was suddenly taken aback.

—Is it possible that Eliza was born to hate?

After arriving at the hospital, Monte was quickly had a comprehensive physical examination, and he paid extra for an expedited examination result.

The results were available less than an hour later.

The outcome was...positive.

The doctor said, "It's positive."

"Positive...what do you mean?" Monte's brain exploded.

"Probably you have HIV in your body." the doctor said sympathetically, "but this is just a preliminary screening, and we will follow up later." Send the sample back to the CDC for another test."

Monte was enraged and yanked the doctor up, saying, "What is the re-examination screening, I will ask you once if I have AIDS."

"It is possible." The doctor retreated subconsciously.

Monte could only feel his body cold at the time. He pushed the doctor away and slammed the door shut.

Monte ignored the rumors outside and dashed to the villa area where Eliza lived.

"Get out of here, Eliza." Monte kicked and knocked on the door like crazy.

"Sir, Miss Eliza left for work this morning. Please don't make a scene in the community, or else don't blame us for being rude." A security guard said.

"Did Eliza return last night?" Monte's pupils constricted.

"I've returned." Monte suddenly felt foolish. He had intended for Eliza to stay overnight after the candlelight dinner. As a result, he spent the night in bed with an unfathomably filthy woman.

—Oh, Eliza, you're so sweet.

—As one would expect from the actress who played Chester.

Monte's face was pale. His entire body trembled and his eyes were filled with rage.

Neeson Corporation.

Secretary Judson said, "We have handed over the relevant evidence to the police, and the police have opened a case for investigation. Last night, the police arrested Manager Ortiz. His wife came to the company several times to find you, most likely to beg for mercy."

"No, the law will make the decision."

"All employees who are close to the manager will be investigated and eliminated." Charity said lightly.

"Okay."

Charity's phone rang as Secretary Judson simply nodded and left with caution.

It was Freya who called.

“Charity, you’re not a good enough sister, and you’re doing big things in a low voice. Monte’s beautiful video is your handwriting, right?” Freya asked, smiling.

“Yeah. It was decided temporarily.” Charity said flatly.

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2767

Chapter 2767

Freya: “Amazing, absolutely amazing.”

Freya began to tell her about the first-hand information she had received, “Charity, you have no idea, this issue has sparked heated discussions in the capital circle, and the group is discussing it. Sophie took her two brothers to the hotel early in the morning to arrest someone, I heard they were arrested, and Monte didn’t even wear clothes.”

This picture was also consistent with Charity’s expectations “I purposefully let someone edit the hotel address on the bedside table in the video. It’s not difficult for the Thompson family to find it.”

Freya said, “But...you set up such a woman. The circle is blown up, is that... true?” .

“What is that?” Charity was perplexed.

“AIDS.” Freya said, “The woman revealed that she had AIDS, which terrified Sophie so much that she couldn’t wait to break off the engagement with Monte on the spot.”

Charity:“???”

Freya continued: “Your arrangement is absolutely perfect. If you catch the adulterer on the spot, perhaps the Patterson family will reward you. The Thompson family may be able to continue this marriage for the sake of the family’s marriage and interests. This farce has been ruined. It’s only Monte’s reputation, but Monte has AIDS... You ask which girl in better circumstances would marry Monte in the future.”

Charity was taken aback.

Freya: “Since you have arranged the play, you should handle it very cleanly. You will not be suspected by the Patterson family.”

“When Monte awoke last night, he should have recognized my handwriting. He was dizzy from the restaurant that had invited me, and then from my people in the hotel. Although the hotel’s monitoring has been removed, Monte definitely knows.”

Freya blinked, “Then this It’s... Ryan told me, it’s fine if you pick it up cleanly.. If you tell the Patterson family that you caused Monte to contract AIDS, Monte’s father will be furious. The fuel-efficient lamp is said to have had blood on his hands when he was younger, and Monte is the only son under his knees.”

Charity frowned, “I really don’t know about that woman’s AIDS.”

Freya stated: “It appears to have been an accident, so be careful. Although Karter’s affairs have been settled, the amount involved is not excessive. Even if you are apprehended, the Patterson family may be able to settle the matter with a small sum of money. You should not have done what you did last night. Anyway, we are all behind the scenes and the Patterson family will fall sooner or later.”

“Monte always appears in front of me and disgusts me. I’m not trying to teach him a lesson.” Charity frowned.

“Forget it. Everything has been done. You should be cautious and bring security wherever you go. Is there enough staff?” Freya asked. “Do you want me to ask Ryan to lend you some people?”

Charity said, “You haven’t married yet. Don’t bother Ryan all the time. I know what you’re thinking.”

After hanging up the call, Charity called Gage and asked, “Where did you find that woman last night?”

Gage stated, “Only those from the outside. These women have no money and will do anything if you give them money.”

“That lady has AIDS.” Before speaking, Charity was silent for a moment.

Gage rubbed the back of his neck, “This is... also normal. Women who conduct business in that area are particularly vulnerable to infection. It’s not bad and filthy.”

Charity: “.....”.

That appears to be the case.

Gage said, “Besides, you said... A b*tch like Monte is not worthy of a high-priced woman.”

Charity was stunned for a moment before smiling helplessly “During this time, you two should forget about it. Be cautious, because Monte’s father is said to be ruthless. We’ve done too much and left too many traces. The Patterson family will definitely take revenge.”

Gage said, “...OK . Right. Don’t worry, I’ll definitely protect you but do you want to find Miguel and arrange for some people to come here?”

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2768

Chapter 2768

“Don’t tell Miguel.” Charity said, raising her head and giving him a complicated look.

“Why?” Gage asked, a little dazed.

“Miguel has his own problems that don’t always bother him.” Charity took her responsibilities seriously. “I know your brothers have a good relationship but since you are here to protect me, all you need to do is do your job well and you don’t need to tell him everything.”

Gage was humiliated.

In private, Gage told Miguel a lot of things.

Miguel was well aware of Charity’s daily activities.

Charity said, “Gage, I know Miguel cares about me as well but everyone has a little privacy and secrets. Furthermore, his responsibility is to protect the president. If he always worrying about my affairs will affect his promotion.”

“I see. I will pay attention to it later.” Gage said solemnly.

Charity said, “You will find two more capable bodyguards during this time. You are in this industry, you can’t have no connections at all.”

“All right, I’ll go look for it.” Gage gave a nod.

The top floor of Jesmong Corporation.

As soon as Monte walked in, a hard-shell book was smashed in front of him and his head swelled on the spot.

“What are you doing, do you want to kill your son?” Monte’s mother Estrella gave Albert a worried look and rushed over to see her son’s condition, but when she learned that Monte might have AIDS, she abruptly back.

Albert scolded angrily, “I would kill him now if I hadn’t given birth to him. I checked, and the woman you slept with was sold outside with $100 and can sleep once, and people do have AIDS, I think most of you have it.”

“Dad, I was hurt by Eliza” Monte said, his face pale.

"I tell you to keep yourselves safe after getting engaged, and you just didn't listen. Eliza even dares to do it with Chester, so you should be careful, this woman is not a fuel-efficient lamp. she must have held a grudge when you abandoned her," Albert said angrily.

Monte's complexion was pale. He didn't understand.

—Eliza, whom I had previously known, was not like this. She was soft-hearted and would be if she killed a fish.

—Eliza loves me so much.

Estrella said angrily, "This has to be avenged for Monte. She must be made to live rather than die."

Albert glared at Estrella and said, "It's not that easy. I checked Eliza, she not only the newly appointed president of Neeson's Corporation, the major shareholder of Fraga Pictures, but also a shareholder of Jewell Corporation's a few days ago and even Chester can't do anything about her."

"This... How is it possible, she is a very ordinary girl. If it weren't for me, she wouldn't even be able to enter the entertainment industry." Monte wondered.

"Stupid thing, that just means you don't know her. Since she caused you to contract AIDS, she has to take responsibility for this, or else our Patterson family will never end with her." Albert snorted coldly.

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2769

Chapter 2769

"What exactly is the responsibility? Just find someone to take care of her, and don't let her leave the capital in good health." Estrella yelled angrily.

Albert rubbed his brow, his wife was simply shallow.

Probably because Albert was used to eating brocade clothes and jade in his life, he never looked directly at Eliza, who was an actor.

"Mom, doing this...isn't right."

Monte responded hesitantly, "There is no problem if Eliza is the same as before, but Dad recently stated that she is the president of Neeson Corporation. If any of Fraga Pictures and Jewell's shareholders, especially the last one, if any of Jewell's shareholders take it out, they can be on an equal footing with Dad."

“Jewell Corporation has always been different than it used to be. I heard Jewell’s profit was cut in half last month while I was playing poker.” Estrella explained.

“The skinny camel is bigger than the horse, and some of Australia’s best medical resources remain ahead of Jewell’s. After death in front of you, will you choose Jewell’s first, or another hospital?” Albert asked.

Estrella remained silent.

Albert sneered, “But our Patterson family is not easy to bully. The responsibility, I believe, is that because Eliza harmed our Monte, she must compensate herself by marrying Monte. Consider this: is it better than the Thompson family, with so many resources?”

Estrella exclaimed, “Is there a mistake? Eliza is not worthy of our Monte, and she is not worthy of carrying shoes.”

Albert was enraged, “It’s really a woman. Doesn’t everything about her become our Patterson family’s when she married to our son, and if we have another boy and girl again, our grandsons can become Jewell’s shareholders? Besides, now that everyone knows Monte has AIDS, would a wealthy family’s daughter be willing to marry him?”

Estrella was furious.

Of course, those poor women are unworthy of marrying Monte’s family.

“I understand, Dad. I’ll marry her first, and then I’ll pay her back for what she did to me.” Monte clenched his fists, his eyes filled with hatred.

“I know. It’s good because if you can’t stand it, you’ll make a big mess. But you have to be a little hard before you can implement a soft one.” Albert patted him on the shoulder.

The next day.

The secretary’s phone call woke Charity up while she was sleeping.

“Ms. Eliza, a bad news. The company’s distributors are clamoring to terminate the contract.”

“I’ll be there as soon as possible.” Charity changed her clothes and ran over.

Employees were unwilling to work when they arrived at the company, and they all stood together and talked a lot.

“It’s too bad for the company. Manager Ortiz had previously messed it up. After finally extracting the tooth decay, the dealer returned to cause more havoc.”

“How can the company’s products be sold without the help of a dealer?”

“I heard that Ms. Eliza was looking for a sports celebrity to endorse his product, but he was rejected.”

“The company’s situation is bad. A celebrity cannot run a business. I believe we should have changed jobs sooner.”

“ . . . ”

Charity walked all the way in, and the group of employees fell silent, each withdrawing without saying anything.

“All executives from various departments, please report to the meeting room immediately.” Charity gave the order.

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2770

Chapter 2770

After ten minutes, only five executives entered the conference room.

Secretary Judson called to inquire about her resignation. She resigned and didn’t even want this month’s salary.

The finance department’s primary communication channel: “Stop calling, I know why they didn’t come. Someone called me last night and said that if I was willing to change jobs, they would pay me $500,000 and introduce me to other homes. If I hadn’t stayed at Neeson’s for over ten years, I would have left if I had a connection with a promising company.”

“I also received this call, and the dealer should have been encouraged by those people. Only the planning department was left. One of her managers said she now regrets it too.”

The company’s most important marketing, sales, and public relations departments have all been poached, and the remaining departments are dispersed as well. How can this business continue to exist?

Charity correctly predicted who did this.

The Patterson family unexpectedly came directly to her company.

“People leave when they leave, and a group of people who are unable to keep them will not be loyal to the company. Why can’t it work as long as the company has money?” Charity addressed the human resources department, saying, “It’s the graduation season soon, you guys Go to the university to recruit and see, the company's salary can be improved. These college students are just out of the society, they are enthusiastic, and their ideas are creative. I will give them a platform to let them realize their dreams. After that, I will pay 200 million to the company account."

The executives' hearts were suddenly stabilized by $200 million. "What about the dealers? Without the dealers, the company cannot operate at all."

"Before, the old dealers were left in their hands. The most important thing when selling our products is to find suitable spokespersons, and when product advertisements are released, high-quality distributors will naturally come to the door."

Charity was really not in a hurry.

It was only the matter with the spokesperson that gave Charity a headache.

Charity called Hugo after returning to the office.

"Eliza, I inquired about this on your behalf. There were many Olympic champions last year, but they have all already signed endorsement deals. These champions are not the same as celebrities from the entertainment industry. Unless you don't want to be an athlete anymore, they usually have to train and don't have as much time to shoot commercials."

"OK, I'll think of something." Charity put down her phone because she was suffering from a headache.

When she took over the Neeson family, the situation was at its least embarrassing.

"Ms. Eliza, Dominick's agent, has visited our company and informed us that Dominick is willing to sign a contract with us. The person is at the door." Secretary exclaimed excitedly as she walked in.

"Let her come in." Charity was startled.

"Ms. Eliza, it's the first time we met, hello, my surname is Lord." A slightly fat woman in her forties said as she entered the office.

"Hello, Miss Lord. I just heard about Dominick. I am willing to cooperate with us, but our company has contacted you before." Charity asked the secretary to pour tea.

Miss Lord gave a helpless smile, "Yes, your Neeson family has been in decline in recent years, and it stands to reason that you will not be supported by the palace. Yes, but Dominick's mother was diagnosed with a lung tumor a few years ago. At the time, it was Dr. Chester's operation that saved Dominick's mother's face. Dominick has always owed Dr. Jewell a favor."

Charity understood, “So... Chester asked you to come?”

Miss Lord gave a nod.

The matter of Eliza and Chester is well known to everyone who made a fuss some time ago.

Everyone thought that Chester would take exact revenge on Eliza, but they couldn't understand it right now.

“Many doctors can perform lung tumor surgery but Dr. Jewell's medical skills are top-notch in the medical field. It is said that no matter how difficult the operation, he has a 90 percent chance of success. I wanted to request an operation from Dr. Jewell but he was very busy, and Dominick had been begging for a long time...”
