

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2805

Chapter 2805

Chester hung up the phone after he finished speaking.

Catherine quickly located Charity's phone and dialed it, but she was unable to connect Charity.

She quickly found Ryan, asked Miguel's phone number, and then asked Miguel for Charity's bodyguard's phone number.

Catherine exhaled a sigh of relief after finally contacting Gage, asking, "Where's Eliza, I'm her friend, is she okay?"

"It's fine, I'm looking at the documents." Gage said to the woman in the back seat, "are you looking for something for her?"

"That's right, Chester asked me to tell her that Luciano has escaped and may cause trouble for Eliza. Please pay attention because he is insane." Catherine inquired.

"Where are you now?"

"I'm on my way to the store." Gage said, looking at the viaduct in front of him, "We're heading to the viaduct soon, but we'll be fine because we have two bodyguards in the car and the villa is also watching."

"In short, pay attention, drive slowly, and tell Eliza not to go to the supermarket and to return home as soon as possible." Catherine advised.

"Okay." Gage hung up the phone and told Charity who had spoken to Catherine, "Let's not go to the supermarket, Miss Eliza. In the supermarket, there are far too many people."

"Okay." Charity frowned and nodded.

It stands to reason that Luciano should be arrested by police as soon as the incident occurs. He escaped, and he found out from Patterson family's mouth that he had revealed what was behind him?

This time, it appears that the Patterson family has not learned enough lessons, and they are unable to protect themselves and must deal with themselves.

A person who uses drugs is not very rational. It is terrifying for such a person to seek vengeance. Luciano will not care whether he is arrested or not, nor will he care if he dies as a result of it. This is superior to the Patterson family. Finding someone to deal with him was much more difficult in the past.

“Miss Eliza, it appears that a black off-road car is always following us. We switched lanes, and the car switched lanes as well.”

Mae, the female bodyguard in the passenger seat, spoke up unexpectedly.

Charity returned her gaze, it was a Range Rover.

In the face of a Range Rover, your sedan appears to be a baby.

“Accelerate. It’s fine if it doesn’t catch up.” Charity said.

Gage stepped on the accelerator and quickly changed lanes to accelerate.

The Range Rover is hot on its tail, and despite its massive size, many cars subconsciously avoid it.

“There’s really a problem. But why does it keep following us like this?” Gage asked solemnly.

Mae hurriedly checked the map and said: “Will he consider crossing the river, which is two kilometers away? Make it there.”

“It’s conceivable.” Gage took the wheel, and the car is now on the Ring Expressway viaduct, at a time when the majority of trains are disembarking. The car cannot come to a halt. Let alone other people, once it stops it is dangerous for a Land Rover car to collide with another car, but the problem is that there are too many cars in the driveway, and it is difficult to get rid of them.

“This is the only way to get rid of it. Even if it collides with another car, don’t stop.” Charity said, taking a deep breath.

There’s no other way. Hurry, because the car next to him was rubbing against him because it was going too fast. His car did not stop and continued driving forward, but the car rubbing against him did, and the car behind him also collided.

Chapter 2806

Land Rover car smashed into the blocked cars and rushed out, chasing like a bull.

“You’re seriously ill, Mad.” Gage clenched his fist against the steering wheel.

If he is in an open place on weekdays, he can freely use his driving skills. However, driving around the city on the highway is extremely dangerous. There are still a lot of big cars around. People will be killed if you don’t get it right.

When the judge makes his decision, he will not release you because you fled for your life and caused a series of car accidents.

He was terrified, but the man behind him was gravely ill.

They don't even care about ordinary people's lives.

Charity can now be completely sure that the person behind is definitely Luciano.

The Land Rover quickly caught up to the Audi A8 sedan, following behind like a cat and mouse. "What should I do now, Ms. Eliza?" Gage inquired solemnly. "If it really hits, our car will definitely not be able to hit the Land Rover. That thing is still an extended version, just like a truck."

"Get rid of it. I'm sorry for causing you all to suffer." Charity clenched her fists, guilt flashing in her eyes.

Mae bit her lip and didn't say anything, but those who are involved in their work have long put their lives at risk, but if that was the case, they would be dead, not reconciled.

"Don't worry, Miss Eliza. I'll fight for your safety until the last moment."

Gage concentrated on the front, looked for an opening, flashed to the left lane, and circled in front of a large truck. However, the Land Rover soon caught up, and the large truck caused another rear-end collision as a result of the emergency braking.

"D*mn it, you're sick." Gage's forehead began to sweat profusely.

Mae clenched her fists and said, "It appears that he will do something on the bridge. It's a stream. You will die if you fall."

"How is the traffic on the bridge now?" Charity inquired.

"It is not blocked, but there are many cars."

"We can avoid this danger, but it may result in other casualties, Miss Eliza, do you want to try?" Gage gritted his teeth.

"..."

Charity leaned back in her seat, sweating profusely.

She was not afraid of death in general, but she was terrified of dying in the water.

She's been through it before, and that feeling of terror and despair will never leave her.

She couldn't stop herself from looking out the window. Outside was a white car with the window half open and a mother holding a small child who was smiling sweetly.

Mae and Gage followed her line of sight as well, and the three remained silent.

This road may have several such families.

Many families will be torn apart if it is not done properly.

"I mean, just let it go." Charity said quietly, "Dodge if you can, and try not to let him catch up but I don't want to trade other people's lives for mine, but yours is not mine to decide, and the steering wheel is not in my hands."

Gage said wryly, "I will pay attention to what you have to say. I am alone. I have long since lost my parents."

"I don't want to hurt others." Mae bit her lip.

Charity quietly lowered her gaze.

The car soon drove across the river on the bridge.

Gage tried everything he could to use the gap in the car to get rid of the Land Rover, but it was still insane. He rushed across the bridge with frantic acceleration and collided with the rear of the car.

Charity, who was sitting in the back, only felt a buzzing in his head before the car quickly turned and pushed the Land Rover into the guardrail with a "bang."

The Land Rover in the back continued to press the accelerator, while the Audi in front sped out of the guardrail.

"You jump down quickly." Gage yelled.

"We can't jump down because the airbag has squeezed us." Mae yelled.

Charity's situation was not much better, and she was in the back, where the impact was greatest. Her head was bleeding, and everything around her appeared to be spinning.

There appeared to be a scream from outside in the haze.

A black sports car rushed over to her as she struggled to look out the window.

"Bang" was heard.

The sports car will be defeated by Audi's Land Rover.

At the same time, the black front of the car was smashed in half.

Charity blinked back, vaguely seeing the people inside the sports car, blood all over their heads.

Chapter 2807

There was chaos all around.

Someone was yelling.

Someone was assisting in the rescue of people.

Someone was desperately clutching the Audi in order for it not to fall into the river.

Charity hazily remembered being the first to be rescued. After that, everything became hazy.

The people heard some voices faintly in their head.

“Isn’t this the well-known Eliza?”

“It appears so.”

“It appears that Land Rover seems to be chasing her.”

“Come quickly, the person in the car appears to be seriously injured.”

“In the Land Rover. The mental illness ran out again.”

“...”

Nothing was heard after that.

“Du...Du...” The sound of the instrument gradually woke up Charity. When She opened her eyes, She discovered herself in a VIP ward.

“Charity, You’re awake!” Miguel’s worried and nervous expression grew larger in front of her.

“Charity, do you feel any discomfort?” Catherine hurriedly squeezed over as well.

“Charity, do you remember me? My name is Freya. Are you sure you don’t have amnesia? You will not forget me.” Freya’s voice sounded anxious in her ears as well.

"I'm not amnesic. I just feel sick." Charity struggled to pull her lower lip.

"That's the aftereffects of a concussion." Miguel sighed with relief, "You bled profusely when you were admitted to the hospital, which terrified me. Fortunately, only a minor concussion and minor skin injuries were sustained."

"Oh." Charity blinked, tried to think about it, and then exclaimed, "By the way, how did I end up in the hospital? I remember going to the supermarket after work..."

Catherine, Miguel, and Freya exchanged quick glances, and after a moment, Catherine said vaguely: "Yes, your car was hit by Luciano's car as it crossed the river bridge and nearly fell into the river. Fortunately, some kind people on the way saved you inside."

"Who is Luciano?"

Charity was suffering from a headache, and it took her a while to remember who Luciano, the drug-addicted neurotic, was. "Has he been caught?"

"Well... Arrested." Catherine said quietly, "You first have a good rest, drink some porridge, just woke up, don't think too much." Catherine said quietly.

Charity had a headache and nodded tiredly, lightly saying, "Hmm."

Miguel quickly took the millet porridge and fed it carefully.

After five or six sips, Charity had lost her appetite. Her mind became very uncomfortable, and she quickly fell asleep.

Freya drew Catherine out after noticing she was sleeping, saying, "Why didn't you tell her the truth right now?"

"She's not feeling well right now. The more you tell her, the more she will think, which will be detrimental to her brain recovery." Catherine exclaimed, "Besides, what will she think now that she knows the truth? I sincerely hope that Charity will avoid her previous life and that her revenge will be exacted. She should restart her life and get closer to that person, the more you will live in the memory."

"However, there are so many videos on the Internet that she will see it sooner or later." Freya stated complexly.

"Inform her." Miguel's voice suddenly appeared behind her.

"You're not afraid!" Catherine said and surprised.

"I'm scared, but I don't want to win this way." A pair of stars like stars appear beneath Miguel's heroic brows. The eyes are sad and straight, "If it had been me, I would have done the same, but I went too late. If Charity is with me one day, I hope she will be willing. After all, even if I lose, I want to lose with integrity.”

Chapter 2808

Catherine’s and Freya’s eyes were always tinged with complexity.

Miguel was the most honest man they had ever met, perhaps because of their status and work.

“However, you’re not scared of Charity...” Catherine paused.

“She has never been with me, hasn’t she? I can’t think she must be with me just because I helped her. We are friends, I helped her willingly, if there is One day, she didn’t have any thoughts about me, and I couldn’t force or force it, it would only make the person you love feel disgusting and despicable.” Miguel said bitterly.

Catherine sighed deeply and said, “Then... Tell Charity, when she wakes up.”

“...All right, thank you.” Miguel nodded, turned, and walked into the ward.

“Why did you tell him to tell Charity, he wants to thank you as well.” Freya remained silent for some time.

“It would appear that Miguel was generous if he said it now.” Catherine smiled, “In fact, he is generous and tolerant, and when Charity wakes up, she will be shocked by what Chester did, but she will calm down. Following that, she will not ignore Miguel’s open-mindedness.”

Freya blinked, and after a while, she softly said, “Oh. Initially, I didn’t believe Chester truly loved Charity, but after a while, I did. I believe he is passionate about this matter, but the two of them have been misled by Sarah. You stated that if they hadn’t had so many things done by Sarah, they would have been married a long time ago, and Chester would not be so extreme.”

“Then, according to you, Shaun and I would never have divorced if it hadn’t been for Sarah, and you and Rodney would never have divorced if it hadn’t been for Sarah.” Catherine made a mocking remark.

“...”

Freya was also a little choked for a while, but she eventually said: “Sarah is a goddamn scumbag. She’s done so many heinous things, and it’s far too cheap to shoot her.”

“She is no longer alive. However, the living people are still suffering as a result of what she did.” Catherine exhaled a sigh.

Shaun’s tall and straight figure appeared from the corridor at this time. He hadn’t slept all night, his entire body was exhausted, and his eyes were bloodshot.

“How is Chester situation?” Catherine inquired.

“He’s still in the ICU, and in danger.” “The doctor said that even if he woke up, he would be disabled.” Shaun said, shaking his head.

“ . . . ”

Shaun: “Luciano passed away. The Gagne family has now rushed to the police station to report Chester’s deliberate murder.”

Catherine laughed. “On his way to kill Eliza, Luciano caused several traffic accidents and even hit Eliza’s car, which is murder. Luciano would have succeeded in his murder if it hadn’t been for Chester’s appearance.”

“I have to assist Chester in taking over this case.” Shaun stated, “Luciano is the Gagne family’s sole heir, and he has always been so arrogant. In the capital, the Gagne family also has a backstage.”

“Chester was the one who saved Eliza this time. I’m not that irrational. You assist him in winning this lawsuit.” Catherine said to Shaun.

Shaun sighed, “I didn’t expect Chester to be so crazy, I’ve known him for so long, I never thought he’d do such a thing. He’s a very calm person, I don’t understand why he’d suddenly be so care about Eliza.”

Shaun looked at Catherine firmly after speaking: “Are you hiding something from me?”
