

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2823

Chapter 2823

Charity frowned and asked, "Luciano is already dead, so their compensation..."

The policewoman sighed, "We've looked for Luciano's wife and parents several times, but the Gagne family is large. They have money, but they are unwilling to pay it because they are relying on Luciano's death. It's no surprise that the Gagne family can teach such scum as Luciano."

"I've heard that Luciano earns hundreds of millions of dollars per year, and losing a few million dollars is a drop in the bucket. Similarly, for some people, that small sum of money can mean the difference between life and death." The traffic policeman said and couldn't stop complaining.

Charity is not surprised at all. It is said that the moral compass of most wealthy people is much lower than that of ordinary people. "According to the law, when the perpetrator dies, the perpetrator's family must also be compensated."

"Yes, but the victim must file an appeal. The lawsuit does not take a day or two, and the Gagne family may win if they can afford a good lawyer, but the victim cannot wait, and they must pay for their lives. Miss Eliza, your earning a few million dollars is easy for you, but many ordinary people cannot earn that much in their lifetime."

Charity could hear the police officers' complaints, but she was not enraged, instead, she thought about it and said, "How much are their medical expenses, I will help them pay, no matter what, it is my responsibility."

For a while, the traffic officers and police officers were embarrassed.

"Anyway, I do charity work every year." Charity explained, "Of course, I hope this is kept a secret, because if I go public, the Gagne family will not give me a penny, whether Luciano dies or not. Death, it should be from the Gagne family, and the family of the girl who was killed by Luciano in the hotel will not get a penny."

"Those family members are not fools, for sure." The policewoman looked Charity in the eyes and said more gently, "Miss Charity, I thank you on their behalf."

"I'm not qualified to accept this thank you. They're all unsuspecting victims." Charity was depressed.

The policewoman: "You also want justice for the hotel girl."

Charity was embarrassed. At first, she just wanted to exact revenge on the Patterson family.

“Don’t bother me, let’s go first, and if there’s any progress in this case, we might need to ask you to make a record.” The policewoman said, and stood up.

The policewoman looked down at her phone as Charity led them to the door and said, “Chester’s ward appears to be upstairs.”

“Are you going to Chester to make a statement?” Charity inquired.

“Yes, I should have gone a long time ago, but I heard he can’t speak and his condition is unstable. It seems to be better today.”

Considering the relationship between Charity and Chester, the policewoman paused and stated, “His situation is much more serious than yours.”

Charity: “Because of the death of Luciano?”

The traffic police said, “Not only that, but driving in the opposite direction at high speed is illegal. Although the goal is to save people, if everyone is like him, society will be a shambles. He was responsible for a string of car accidents in which a large truck and a car collided while driving in opposite directions. More than ten people were injured, four of whom were seriously injured and are still being treated in the intensive care unit.”

The traffic police continued, “I’m at a loss for words when it comes to this individual. He’s insane and a lunatic.”

“Please also provide me with a list of those who were injured in the car accident. I’m willing to compensate” Charity stated hesitantly.

The traffic police: “No need, Chester’s assistant has already paid the compensation, and it is very expensive, but I still want to say that ordinary people’s lives are also lives.”

After the traffic police finished speaking, they went upstairs.

Chapter 2824

Charity stood upstairs for a while after the traffic police had left.

Monica muttered on the side, “Those who are injured are also pitiful, they are nothing but misfortunes, but if it weren’t for Mr. Jewell, you too...”

The latter words turned into a sigh.

“After the police leave, please go and ask Shaun.” Charity said to Catherine.

Catherine: "Okay..."

After that Catherine went upstairs, She saw Shaun was communicating with the police and the traffic police as a representative lawyer.

She didn't bother asking Shaun until after the case investigator had left, "Is this very troublesome?"

"Chester's license has been suspended, but it's not a big deal. He can't drive like this any longer. It's a car accident. I requested that he lose more money in order to compensate the injured."

Shaun said hesitantly, "Charity's life is life, and ordinary people's lives are also life. I say this and hope you can..."

"I got it. you are doing the right thing. Husband, if one day I also encounter such a critical situation, don't come to save me, I don't want to be involved in saving myself." Catherine said, holding his fingers.

"Don't be stupid." Shaun gently hugged her, saying, "Everyone is selfish. if it were me, I'd do the same."

...

The next two, Charity and Chester were hospitalized in order to recover from their injuries without disturbing each other.

Miguel has been coming to the hospital every day for the past few days to spend several hours with Charity.

Also Mrs. Clark arrived with her son, Miguel. She and Mrs. Robbins traveled to the capital by high-speed train.

Mrs. Clark's mood was complicated after seeing her son greet Eliza in front of Eliza.

On the way back from the hospital, Mrs. Clark sat in her son's car and asked, "What happened to Eliza and that Chester? I read the news before, didn't Chester force her, why did Chester sacrifice his life to save her this time?"

"Probably...he likes her as well." Miguel stated hazily.

"Miguel, tell your mother honestly, do you like Eliza?" Mrs. Clark asked her son.

Miguel opened his mouth and paused for a few seconds before answering honestly, "I like Eliza very much...."

“Miguel, didn’t you say that Eliza was your sister?” Mrs. Clark said excitedly, “When Eliza was in college, I mentioned this to you on purpose. We were both pleased with you at the time. I went to a location, but you said you didn’t like her at the time.”

“I didn’t understand that feeling at the time.” Miguel couldn’t say he was tempted because Charity had replaced Eliza’s core.

Mrs. Clark said firmly, “I read the online news that Monte, and Chester have all slept with Eliza and I disagree with you being together. You can treat her as a sister, but when you date and marry, I will follow you. but your Dad will not agree.”

“No one promised to date me, nor did they say they want to be with me. Mom, it’s too much for you to say these words.” Miguel felt depressed.

Mrs. Clark said, “Miguel, I know you grew up with Eliza and yes, you like her as well, but what kind of place is the entertainment industry? I’ve heard it’s very chaotic. If you’re not in this position, you’re in business, you’ll marry if you marry, but sooner or later you’ll transfer to the military region to become a leader, you’re a highly valued person in front of the president and Eliza’s reputation is too bad, it’ll ruin your future.”

“I’ve been living here for the past two days, and several agency leaders have entrusted people to come. Miguel, you have a bright future, and you may even become a military leader in the future, according to the matchmaker, as long as you marry a girl with a good background and a good family background, and your in-laws will support you in the future.”

Chapter 2825

“Oh, don’t you look down on me too much?” Miguel laughed.

“I did not say that. You came here on the battlefield, and now you are responsible for the security of the Presidential Palace.” Mrs. Clark said, “Your father and I worked very hard to cultivate and watch you. To honor the Clark family’s ancestors, Miguel, don’t make mistakes, it’s not easy for you to be here today. Listen to me, I’ve promised you a blind date with a member’s daughter.”

“Mom...” Miguel said, his face flushed, “Why do you do such a thing on your own without my consent, it’s too much.”

“I don’t want to force you. You’ll have to wait a long time for Eliza.” Mrs. Clark was serious. “You’re not happy right now, but you’ll thank me in the future.”

Miguel: “I don’t need to thank you. Eliza means a lot to me, but I’m not worthy of her.”

Mrs. Clark disagreed at all, “Don’t be stupid, you are not the same. The people of the world, take that Chester, he sacrificed his legs to save Eliza, and it is impossible for a woman to be indifferent. My son is very good, so he can’t be used as a spare tire for others.”

“Mom, I am not good.” Miguel had a headache.

Mrs. Clark: “Anyway, you have to go on a blind date with her this time. Since you agreed to release the pigeons again, don’t offend the woman’s family.”

Miguel was irritable and tightened the steering wheel.

...

The next day.

Mrs. Clark brought the boiled chicken soup to the hospital.

“Didn’t I tell you not to come?” Mrs. Robbins blushed, “You come every day, but you rarely run away. Eliza is fine. After the results come out today, she will be discharged from the hospital in the afternoon.”

Mrs. Clark said with a smile, “I made chicken soup, so you don’t have to rush back to cook it at noon.”

“Thank you auntie!” Charity expressed gratitude.

“Eliza, Auntie still wants to ask you for help.” Mrs. Clark sneered and said, “I came to meet your friend Freya yesterday. I heard she’s the prime minister’s son’s girlfriend. I’m a little filthy around here. Eggs and wild mushrooms collected in the countryside, please help me to pass them over to her, it is my heart.”

Charity was stunned for a few seconds before responding, “Auntie, you don’t have to do this. I’m a good friend of Freya and Miguel has a good relationship with her boyfriend, and they are friends. Besides, Ryan probably dislikes receiving gifts.”

Mrs. Clark: “It’s one thing to have a good relationship, and it’s another thing entirely to ask your friend to hand it over to the president. Eliza, I’m playing with your mother’s old friend. You’re not going to help me with this.”

“...Okay.” Charity is extremely embarrassed, but in order to keep everyone happy, it is best to agree bravely. “Auntie, have you informed Miguel of this?”

“He, a wood, what’s the point of being practical these days when you have to please? But today he doesn’t have time, so he went on a blind date.” Mrs. Clark sighed.

“Blind date?” Mrs. Robbins was the one who spoke up this time.

Mrs. Clark said with a smile, “Yeah. I’ve been living in Miguel’s family area these past few days, and only then did I realize that there are many people from prominent families who want to introduce him to a blind date. No, I’m with a member of the military today. My son went on a blind date, and the woman is really good, which will greatly benefit Miguel’s future promotion.”

“That...that’s good.” Mrs. Robbins turned to face her daughter before embarrassing her.

“I think it’s also good. his father and I are eager for Miguel to marry and start a business as soon as possible. When the time comes, the elderly couple will transport him to Canberra in order to bring the child. He’s just such a son, and all our efforts are on him.” Mrs. Clark said with emotion.

Mrs. Robbins: “Miguel worked very hard and will not disappoint you.”

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2826

Chapter 2826

Mrs. Robbins spoke briefly with Mrs. Clark before sending her away.

When Mrs. Robbins came back, she asked her daughter, “Mrs. Clark’s words...are you trying to imply something?”

“Is there any need to say it, even you heard it?” Charity asked with a light smile.

“It’s not Mrs. Clark’s fault. If I were her, maybe I would think the same way she does.” Mrs. Robbins sighed. “Which parent doesn’t want their children to have a better and more successful career, and the neighbors usually say that Clark family has a good son who will undoubtedly rise to the position of high-ranking official in the future. Every festival, the city, county, and county leaders will come to her house to visit. When Mr. Clark and Mrs. Clark mention Miguel, there are a bunch of folds on the smiling faces.”

Charity laughed as she listened. “I don’t blame you. I understand. Then...If Miguel can meet the right girl, I will give my heartfelt blessing.”

Charity felt guilty in her heart because Miguel was so kind to her and helped her so much. She considered having a good relationship with him once she was cured.

She felt a faint sense of relief in her heart after hearing from Mrs. Clark just now that Miguel went on a blind date.

“Really... you’ve never liked Miguel?” Mrs. Robbins inquired cautiously.

“Mom, what Aunt Clark said is right We are not from the same world. I am a public figure who has always been the subject of heated debate. If Miguel marries me, he will be discussed and will have an impact on development.”

“Then we can’t delay others, lest your Aunt Clark have any opinions on us. After all, the neighbors are in trouble.” Mrs. Robbins nodded.

In the afternoon, all of the results came out. Charity was in good health and could be released from the hospital.

When Freya came to help, she pointed to the things Mrs. Clark had given her and explained the situation.

Freya said quickly. “I can’t take it anymore. Ryan told me that these things must not be accepted. Usually, many people give me more valuable items, which I refuse to touch.”

“I’ll let Miguel take it back, this is a f*cking idea, I guess he doesn’t know it.” Charity said calmly.

“I just said he got into a fight with Ryan’s friend. how could he do something like that?” Freya frowned, “His mother did this to embarrass you and me.”

Charity: “It’s natural for parents to want to do everything they can to help their children.”

Freya remembered the Mrs. Clark who met yesterday and knew she was After Ryan’s girlfriend, and frowned a little annoyed, “I don’t like his mother very much. She’s not from the world. To be honest, I thought you and Miguel were good together before, but I guess you and his mother might not get along. If this is true, Eliza may be fine, but you are not.”

“Mrs. Clark has also made it clear that she does not want me to be with Miguel. I’ll still be friends with him in the future.” Charity shrugged.

“You think so openly, it appears that you may not have a man-woman relationship for him, and it has nothing to do with your illness.” Freya expressed her feelings.

Charity silently pursed her lips. She didn’t need to remind Freya of this because she had already noticed it herself.
