

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2827

Chapter 2827

When Charity was discharged from the hospital in the afternoon, Mrs. Robbins and Freya helped her carry the luggage.

Charity also carried some fruit in her hand.

When the elevator door opened and was about to enter, only to find that the nurse was pushing a hospital bed inside. The person on the bed was a little familiar, his face was slightly sallow, lips were pale, and cheeks were thin.

It was not until a closer look that Charity recognized that this person was Chester.

Kaiden and Mrs. Jewell stood at the door.

As soon as Charity saw Mrs. Jewell, she was angry and said, "You still have a face to appear in front of my son. Now you are good and you are going to be discharged from the hospital comfortably. My son doesn't know how long he will stay in the hospital. You b*tch, get out or stay away, I will hit you if I see you again."

"Mom..." Chester said softly, "Don't embarrass her."

"I think you are fascinated by that woman." Mrs. Jewell almost vomited blood, "Is it worth it for such a thing? Look at you when you were in pain and sleepless at night, did she come to see you? It's better than her to save a dog."

"Do you want to come in?" Kaiden was afraid that they would continue to quarrel, so he quickly said, "Sit down, you won't be able to stand inside."

"Okay."

Charity took a step back. Her eyes fell on Chester's face.

Chester was laying on the bed and was not able to see Charity.

It wasn't until the door was closed Freya broke the silence, "The elevator over there is coming soon, and the same goes for us on the other side."

"Well." Charity nodded and entered the elevator opposite her.

Mrs. Robbins suddenly said: "I used to deal with Mr. Jewell's bodyguard every time I delivered soup before. I have never been in. I saw the injury on his leg just now. I didn't expect it to be so scary."

Freya also choked, "It's quite scary. It's all like this, and he hasn't been amputated. He also has a wound on his face and stitches. If he hadn't been arguing with you, I wouldn't have recognized it as Chester. He used to look really good and nice."

Charity remained silent. She didn't say a word until she got into the car.

Mrs. Robbins and Freya didn't talk about Chester anymore.

After arriving at the villa, Freya stayed for about half an hour before leaving.

In the evening, Miguel came over, but his mother didn't follow him. He came alone and brought some food in his hand, "Auntie, Eliza, I brought her a roast duck. Eliza used to like it very much. From that store, you can try it later, it's very delicious."

"Okay, thank you." Mrs. Robbins nodded, "Eliza is upstairs, and she started to work when she came back. Alas, she has something on her mind. She didn't tell me and I don't even know what she's thinking."

"What's wrong with her?" Miguel asked with concern.

"When I left the hospital, I met Chester who was going for a checkup. After that, she acted too calm. It was okay to be calm, and she didn't talk much." Mrs. Robbins sighed.

Miguel frowned, and after a while, he mumbled, "She may have no idea how to face Chester."

"Maybe, I don't know, I saw Chester's leg, it was very scary. I didn't see it with my own eyes. I really don't know how badly it hurts, how painful it is. You said it would be fine if he scolded Eliza like his mother, at least Eliza would be more comfortable but he still didn't care at all. Don't care, don't let his mother say Eliza, if he doesn't love Eliza very much, he won't be like this." Mrs. Robbins murmured.

Miguel's throat froze, suddenly he didn't know what to say.

Mrs. Robbins asked again: "Hey, I read the news before, and I heard from the neighbors that Chester is very bad. He is the kind of second-generation rich man who plays with women. I really can't understand it. Miguel, you have contact with him. Well, how is Chester?"

"I don't know Chester very well." Miguel whispered.

“Yes.” Mrs. Robbins nodded, “By the way, how’s the blind date today, I heard from your mother that it seems that you went on a blind date with the daughter of a political commissar.”

Miguel’s face stiffened, he did not expect his mother to put Mrs. Robbins was informed about this...

At this time, there were footsteps on the stairs, and Charity went upstairs in a suit of household clothes. Miguel didn’t know if Charity heard the words just now.

However, even if Charity didn’t hear it, she probably knew it.

“Auntie, it was arranged by my mother on her own initiative. The girl’s parents are all powerful people. I won’t be too shameless if I don’t go there. Later, I will make excuses to say that each other’s personalities are not suitable. We can’t.” Miguel hurriedly raised his voice, said, “I have someone that I like in my heart.”

Seeing Miguel looking at her daughter, Mrs. Robbins’s brain hurt for a while, and she was silent for a while.

“Mom, can we eat?” Charity asked.

“Alright, alright, I’ll go serve the dishes.” Mrs. Robbins quickly escaped.

Miguel stepped forward, and said, “Charity, the only one I like is always you, and what I say will not change.”

“Miguel, I think it’s more appropriate for us to be friends.” Charity raised her head and looked at him, “Your parents really hope that you can honor the ancestors of the Clark family, and if you spread the word about me, it will be too difficult for you to go further in your position in the future. Sometimes people live not entirely for themselves, and for their parents.”

Miguel: “I’ll convince my mother.”

Charity: “Miguel, don’t be so naive, your parents regard you as an honor in your hometown. In their hearts, your promotion is a sure thing. If you insist on being with me, it will only make your mother disgusted. Me, she and my mother are also neighbors and friends for decades, so don’t make friends until the end.”

Miguel looked at Charity’s calm appearance, and his heart suddenly felt as if he had dug a piece of meat, empty, “Charity, you are not only worried about my career and the relationship between our two. you are actually never liked me.”

Charity told the truth: “Maybe, in fact, the words your mother said today, when you reminded me that it was impossible, made me feel more relieved, and I did think about getting cured as soon as possible. I can have a relationship with you, but after this incident, I don't want it anymore."

"Why?" Miguel clenched his temples and said with difficulty, "Because Chester saved you, so you found yourself still..."

Charity sighed: "Anyway, it's a fact that he did this to save me. Although I didn't plan to be with him, I still can't be completely as if nothing happened in my conscience, as if this incident had never happened. I probably won't fall in love or get married in the future, just Well, it's actually quite good to be alone."

"To put it bluntly, you want to be single for the rest of your life." Miguel gritted his teeth and found it difficult to accept this fact.

"No, I don't want to. Although my condition is not getting better now and my feelings are very indifferent, I can feel it...I may not love you." After Charity said it, she seemed to relax, "When I was a good friend with you before, I was actually quite relaxed and comfortable. Later, the surface of your feelings became more and more clear, and I became more stressed. I'm sorry."

Miguel was stunned. He didn't speak for a long time, and his heart was aching.

In fact, there were some things that he didn't notice, but he just felt that as long as she didn't refuse, there would still be a chance.

"Charity, I said I can wait..." Miguel struggled helplessly.

"Miguel, sometimes you think about life too simply." Charity looked at him seriously, "Maybe it has something to do with the environment you grew up in, maybe your family is not rich, but your parents love you a lot, and you too Living in a healthy environment, growing up and the only hardship you have ever suffered is on the battlefield."

Miguel: "What's wrong with that?"

"Yes, of course, think about it, if I insist on being with you, will your parents like me, even if our relationship used to be friendly, they will hate me. It would be great if I didn't show up. It would not delay your future. You will definitely be able to marry someone who is helpful to your future Second-generation daughter of an official, after a long period of time when your mother-in-law and daughter-in-law do not get along, you will also have a rift with your parents, and now you think it's okay, that's because you're not mature enough."

Just thinking about this, Charity would rather not get married in her entire life. "I'm sorry, I don't want to face all this. I've been very tired in the first half of my life. And in the second half of my life, I just want to live a relaxed and comfortable life."

"Okay, I understand." Miguel pulled his lips bleakly. His handsome face was infinitely sparse.

Miguel: "Charity, I really like you, but if we are together will make you full of stress and unhappiness, then I won't make you embarrassed."

When Mrs. Robbins came out with the dishes, Miguel had already left.

"What about Miguel, why did he leave without eating?" Mrs. Robbins asked Charity.

"I made it clear to him, let him calm down, I don't think he has an appetite to eat if he stays." Charity sat down and filled a bowl of soup.

Seeing her calm appearance, Mrs. Robbins couldn't help sighing: "Miguel is actually a good boy, but unfortunately you have no part in it. It's all right, after all, you are all still young in the future..."

"In the future I will... Maybe not get married." Charity told the truth, "Mom, I might do artificial insemination to have a baby, but I don't want to get married."

Mrs. Robbins was stunned for a long time, "Eliza, did your mother's marriage affect you?"

Charity: "Mom, it's okay for you to be alone now. Okay, I asked you to remarry, but you don't want it either. You say you are freer. If you marry someone, maybe you will serve others. Luck is really important in finding a man. I've seen, some people behave very well before marriage, but they are selfish after marriage and don't care about the family. And they also don't care about the child, when they have a child."

Mrs. Robbins: "That's what I said..."

Charity: "Wait for artificial insemination in the future. I have a child of my own, and I won't be lonely in my old age."

"Yes." Mrs. Robbins was persuaded, "Then I'll go with you."

As her daughter said, if she finds a sc*mbag, Better to be alone.

After dinner, a strange call came to Charity's phone.

The man said with a smile, "Miss Eliza, I'm Jorge Chadwick. I heard that you were discharged from the hospital. I don't know where you live. I bought some supplements and wanted to visit your house. I should have come to the hospital for a visit, but it's just that I went abroad a few days ago."

Charity immediately remembered that Jorge Chadwick is the son of Dalton Chadwick and when Chester was in prison, the Chadwick family jumped the most. It's because Chester is also in the hospital, so I'm afraid of being seen."

"Miss Eliza, you're really smart." Jorge Chadwick said with a smile, "Have you heard that Chester plans to hold a board of directors the day after tomorrow."

Charity: "But I'm just a shareholder and did not enter the board of directors."

Jorge Chadwick said in surprise: "Miss Eliza, you don't know yet, before Chester's accident, he has already passed the approval of your board of directors."
