

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2848

Dominick remembers that when he and some athletes went abroad to compete, everyone chatted about female stars in the entertainment industry.

At that time, most of the male athletes expressed their love for Eliza.

The main reason is that in addition to not having the kind of cosmetic beauty, she also has an indescribable orchid temperament on her body, and those eyes are like calm, and confident.

At this time, his assistant smiled and said, "I can't believe that there are people like Miss Eliza is rare in this society now."

Charity smiled lightly and looked at the time, "It's very late, do you want to have dinner together?"

The assistant didn't answer, just glanced at Dominick.

Thinking that Dominick would refuse, she unexpectedly raised her eyebrows, "Yes."

This time, it was Charity who was surprised. She was just polite, thinking that Dominick hated herself so much that she would refuse.

In the end, Charity chose a restaurant, accompanied by her secretary and director, who filmed the advertisement.

Except for Dominick, who didn't talk much with a cool face, everyone else was more talkative.

When the meal was almost over, Charity glanced at the leftover saucy and pan-fried cod on the table, thought about it, and asked the waiter to bring a packing box.

“I didn’t expect Miss Eliza to be quite frugal.” Dominick picked his teeth with a toothpick with a half-smile, and continued, “But I remind you, it’s not good to eat wild vegetables.”

“I have a cat at home.” Charity explained with a smile.

Dominick raised his eyebrows. His eyes flashed thoughtfully.

After dinner, everyone said goodbye.

Dominick didn’t go on the same road with his assistant. He drove his car to the place where he met Charity to feed the cat yesterday, but he really met Charity with a lunch box to feed the cat there.

“Boom!”

At this time, there was thunder in the sky, and it was about to rain heavily.

Charity glanced at the top of her head, lowered her head and said to the skinny cat, “Hey, why don’t you... go back with me, my house is quite big.”

The kitten “meows” and bows its head to eat the fish seriously.

Charity thought she agreed and reached out to hug it, but the wild cat stretched out its sharp claws and scratched on the back of her hand, leaving a scar immediately.

“Tsk tsk, your brain is short-circuited, these wild cats are very vigilant, you think they are like domestic cats.” The man’s mocking voice sounded above her head.

Charity turned her head and saw Dominick standing behind her. Dominick was full of youthful vigor.

She blinked, her mind dazed, probably didn’t expect Dominick to be here.

That confused look made Dominick’s tongue touch his cheek.

“What are you looking at, I’ll get out of the car to buy a bottle of ice water.”

Dominick bent over, grabbed the cat's neck by the back, and picked it up directly.

The cat was so frightened that its eyes widened, and it didn't dare to move.

"Hey, will it hurt if you do this?" Charity has never raised a cat, but it seems very uncomfortable to see a cat like this.

"That's how I catch cats." Dominick glanced at her and saw an abandoned cardboard box next to the store.

Dominick threw the cat in, then glanced at the back of his hand, "Where's the cat? Leave the cat to me for the time being tonight. Now you go and get your own vaccine now, and I'll deliver the cat to you tomorrow."

Charity was surprised, "You don't hate me, when did you become so kind?"

"It's one thing that I hate you, but for the sake of your love for small animals, I'm not that crazy." Dominick said. "Now you go back to your house."

Charity thought it was funny.

This man was quite arrogant.

Charity: "Okay, I'm leaving, remember to give the cat to me tomorrow."

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2849

At night.

Charity went to the hospital for a rabies vaccine. Considering that she was going to officially raise cats tomorrow, she went to the pet supermarket to buy cat food and cat litter.

In the early morning of the next day, she called Dominick: "Where are you, when is it convenient for me to come over to get the cat?"

“Didn’t I say I’ll bring it to you?” Dominick didn’t know what he was doing, so he panted.

The man’s low-pitched voice came through the microphone, which was indescribably ambiguous. Charity was a little embarrassed to hear, “I don’t know how to call at the right time.”

Dominick: “It’s really not the right time.”

“I’m sorry, I don’t know. Are you...that?” Charity said. Her scalp was hot.

“That?” Dominick was puzzled, “Which one?”

Charity: “Okay...Okay, I understand.”

“What do you know? I’m training.” Dominick wiped the sweat from his forehead, “If you want to get the cat, come directly to our training base. Well, I put the cat in the car.”

“Training?” Charity was stunned and embarrassed.

“What else can I do if I’m not training.” Dominick paused, suddenly thought of something, and gritted his teeth angrily, “Eliza, you shouldn’t have been thinking about something dirty just now.”

Charity: “...”

“My brain is really dirty.” Dominick said and hung up the phone angrily.

Charity was ashamed.

Charity drove over, and Dominick’s assistant, Oakley Castonguay, came out to pick her up.

“Ms. Eliza, you are here at the right time. The director of the base management center is here today. Do you want to go in and say hello?” Oakley winked at her, “When the time comes, you want to donate money, invest or something. You can work with him directly, as many brands do.”

“Thank you.” Charity was very grateful. Sports brands really needed to be familiar with people in the sports center, but she lacked the connections and resources in this regard.

“Let’s go, I’ll take you in.” Oakley led Charity over.

Director Lord of the base was watching the training of Dominick and the team members.

Charity and Director Lord shook hands, Director Lord smiled and said, “Ms. Eliza, you are lucky, many brands have come through me to endorse Hall, but I didn’t expect him to cooperate with Neeson Corporation alone.”

“Me too. I found Dominick, who was asked by an acquaintance.” Charity said modestly, “Neeson Corporation is not as good as before, otherwise he really doesn’t like it.”

“Dominick will go to New Zealand to participate in the competition at the end of the year, he trained very hard, I feel that he has another chance of winning the championship.” Director Lord said while looking at the training ground.

Dominick was wearing thick sportswear and was training on a ski machine. He slid down from a height of ten meters, and then made a series of rotations and grabs in the air. Sometimes he fell badly when he fell.

Charity had long known that athletes were not easy, but she did not expect to train in such an environment every day.

Ten minutes later, Dominick limped over, with a gloomy face and a very bad mood.

“Hey, what are you doing here?” Dominick said angrily, “It’s all because of you that it affected my technical performance.”

Charity thought it was true, and quickly apologized: “I’m sorry, I...”

“Don’t pay attention to him.” Director Lord reprimanded, “Which game wasn’t live broadcasted by a crowd of people, it’s because you haven’t trained well recently.”

“Okay, Director, I’ll go and give her something, wait a moment. Come and train.” Dominick scratched his hair irritably.

After saying goodbye to the director, Charity followed Dominick to the parking lot.

The car had a window gap open, and Dominick handed her the cat in the cardboard box, and said, “The vaccine is ready and the nails are cut, thank me.”

Chapter 2850

Charity was extremely surprised, and asked, “Is this the wild cat I met yesterday?”

The hair on the cat’s body was washed clean and fragrant, and her sharp nails were gone.

“Thank you.” Charity thanked him sincerely, “I’ll pass it on to you and how much it cost?”

Dominick said, “It’s only a few hundred dollars, I’m not that short of money.”

A Hundred dollars was a small amount of money for the two of them, but Charity wanted to give it, “Give your payment ID, I will transfer it to you.”

Dominick: “You women are troublesome.”

Dominick opened his Payment QR code.

Charity was stunned for a moment, she originally thought she ordered a payment code.

But adding a friend and transferring the money was the same.

After Dominick waited for her to finish scanning, he directly put the phone into his trouser pocket, "Okay, I have to go to training."

After that, Charity left. After Charity got in the car, she gave him $500.

She thought that the encounter with Dominick should be over soon.

Unexpectedly, the next day, the love scandal between her and Dominick broke out on the Internet.

A paparazzi took photos and videos of her meeting with Dominick, saying that the two had dinner in private, and even fed wild cats together. She also went to the training base to visit Dominick.

For a while, Charity, who had already quit the entertainment industry, was on the hot search again with vigour.

[Eliza is endless, and it's okay to get entangled with Monte and Chester, and come to hook up with our temple again, please, you two are not from the same world at all. Can you not delay the competition in the temple?]

[Dominick is the champion of winning glory for the country, Eliza is not worthy of it at all.]

[I used to like Eliza quite a bit, but now I'm really disgusted. Chester just lost a leg to save her, and she is still in the mood to fall in love with some. Who is this boy?]

Charity immediately asked Neeson Corporation to release the fact that Dominick was the spokesperson of the company, and stated that she and Dominick had dinner just for an ordinary dinner after filming the advertisement, and then she would be scratched by a wild cat. The cause and effect were clearly explained.

It's just that after she finished explaining, another big V said that she was deliberately hyping up Castonguay Palace, in order to use this scandal to let the outside world know that Neeson Corporation was going to make a comeback.

The next day, Hugo Cheever called Charity, "I checked, those who first spread the scandal between you and Dominick should be from the Jewell family."

"Jewell family?" Charity raised her eyebrows, "Hank Jewell?"

"Yeah." Hugo nodded, "They are looking for Fraga Pictures's counterpart which has been doing a lot on social media and online platforms over the years."

"Send Letters by lawyers to those media who spread rumors about me and Dominick's scandal." Charity said bluntly, "Don't let any of them go."

Hugo: "Would you like to be so troublesome?"

"Yes." Charity nodded and said solemnly, "I don't care, Dominick is different. He is a sports star, If the trouble gets too big, the country will disqualify him from the competition."

"Does this count as our Ms. Eliza's anger at the crown?" Hugo joked.

"Don't be joking, I'm not even friends with him. I just don't want to delay a good seedling." Charity sternly reminded.

Hugo didn't say anything more soon.

After hanging up, Charity opened Whatsapp on her mobile phone and wanted to send a message to apologize to Dominick, when suddenly a stranger added her.

This person was Chester, and Charity deleted him a long time ago.
