

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2856

After Charity was surprised, she quickly guessed, “Shaun is going to see Chester?”

Catherine said: “Let’s go there during Christmas time, and take me and my two children to play there. By the way, Freya heard that we are going, and they want to go together. Ryan will also accompany me. I originally wanted to invite you, but I’m afraid you don’t want to go to Rwanda.”

Charity said with a smile: “Forget it, even if you invite me to go with you, I won’t go.”

Catherine: “Why, afraid of seeing Chester?”

“No.” Charity sighed faintly, “You are all in pairs, with your family. Why should I follow you? Be a light bulb and eat dog food.”

Catherine: “It’s not bad to eat some dog food. It makes you jealous, okay. Find a little fresh meat earlier.”

Catherine teased: “That Dominick was not bad last time, the world champion, a little wolf dog, and he is absolutely in good shape.”

Charity: “Forget it, we are a cooperative relationship.”

“No one treats you well, are you thinking about it?” Catherine tutted, “Charity, you are like a young flower, a few men see that you can resist your charm.”

“Take it down, I’m really not interested.” Charity smiled, and said, “You guys have a good time.”

Catherine: “Okay, when the tour group arrives in Rwanda, we will contact you again, and then we will go skiing together.”

Charity thought for a while, and said, “When you go to see Chester, call me, my mother wants to go and see Chester.”

Catherine: “Okay.”

The next day, Charity, Mrs. Robbins and the company’s employees boarded a ten-day tour of Europe.

After five or six days of touring, the director informed everyone to rush to Rwanda tomorrow morning.

Rwanda has beautiful scenery. Catherine, Freya and the others have been there for several days. They rented a small cabin there, skiing and soaking in hot springs every day, living a fairy-like life.

Freya also sent a lot of beautiful photos to Charity from time to time. Charity had studied abroad before and was not very moved, but Freya made Mrs. Robbins’s heart tick.

“Eliza, if we don’t join the group after we arrive in Rwanda, let’s stay at Freya’s place for a few days.” Mrs. Robbins smiled and showed her daughter’s phone, “Look, this is where Freya and the others live. The house is beautiful, and there are waterfalls and snow-capped mountains in the back.”

Charity silently flipped through the chat records of Mrs. Robbins and Freya, “When did you add Freya’s whatsapp?”

“When you were hospitalized. The girl, Freya is good-natured and generous. You are such a good friend.”<https://novelebook.com> Mrs. Robbins said, glanced at her daughter and sighed, “You are like you before, but after you entered the entertainment industry, you are just like a different person. “

Charity: “...”

Of course, the person has changed, and even the core has been changed.

Mrs. Robbins added: “And we only stay in Rwanda for a day and a half. One day to see Chester and half a day to go shopping is definitely not enough.”

“Okay, listen to you.” Charity actually felt that it was too much trouble following the tour group. She didn’t sleep well or ate well every day.

Back to the hotel at 8:00 p.m.

Charity received a message from Chester: [I heard from You master Hill that you and auntie are coming to see me here, please don’t come here, it’s too troublesome.]

Charity: [Don’t think too much, I didn’t come to see you on purpose, I just brought people from the company for a trip, and came to see you through Rwanda by the way.]

Chester: [Then you travel well, don’t delay the travel time for me, I’m fine, I’m fine.]

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2857

Charity looked strangely at the information.

If it wasn’t for Chester’s voice sometimes, she really suspected that Chester behind Whatsapp was a fake.

This guy has always been domineering, vicious and paranoid, when did he become so understanding.

Think about when this change happened.

It looks like the leg has been sawed off.

Could it be that Chester was greatly stimulated after losing his legs and changed his personality?

The next day, after the group arrived in Rwanda, Freya called Charity and said that she and Ryan drove to the hotel door to pick her up.

Charity greeted the tour guide before taking Mrs. Robbins and her luggage downstairs.

Mrs. Robbins felt timid when she saw Ryan's handsome and warm face. Even if this was the first time she saw Ryan, she had heard from others that Freya's boyfriend was the Prime minister's son.

"I'm so embarrassed to ask you to come pick us up, just tell us the address and just go by car." Mrs. Robbins was the first time she had contact with such a character. She felt like she was dreaming, and she was nervous when she spoke.

Ryan has a keen personality, and has been in contact with people like Mrs. Robbins since he was a child. Seeing this, he smiled gently, "Auntie, Eliza and Freya are good friends, you are Eliza's mother and my elder, so don't be so nervous."

"Yes." Freya glanced at the man who was driving and smiled, "Auntie, Eliza is my good friend, we should pick her up."

Mrs. Robbins sighed, "I and Eliza just came out of a small place, and can make friends like you."

"We also came out of a small city." Freya said with a smile, "If Ryan is a person who cares about his status, he will not be interested in a second marriage like me."

"Ah, your second marriage?" Mrs. Robbins was taken aback, "You are such a good girl, who is blind and doesn't know how to cherish you."

"I'm more blind now."

There was nothing to do in the car anyway, so Freya and Mrs. Robbins chatted about her divorce.

Ryan didn't care either.

After driving for an hour, the car arrived in front of a wooden house under the snow mountain.

Catherine was playing with Suzie, Lucas, and Dani at home, and Shaun didn't stay at home. He was going to accompany Chester.

Catherine joked: "Since Shaun came to Rwanda, he has been guarding Chester every day, saying that he is here with us for Christmas, I think he is here to accompany Chester, and he can only return home at night."

Charity looked around, "Is Chester very close to here?"

Catherine pointed to the mountain in front, "The past two mountains are the hospital where Chester lives, and it takes 20 minutes to ride a bicycle. Well, it's too late today, let's go see it tomorrow."

Charity nodded, drooping her jet-black eyelashes, thoughtfully.

In the evening, a group of people were barbecuing in the yard, and the laughter of the children made Mrs. Robbins a little jealous. What a beautiful child, it would be great if one of them was her grandson.

After thinking for a while, Mrs. Robbins leaned over to Charity and said, "Didn't you say you don't want to get married and want to be a test-tube baby, then go for it. Mom supports you and gives birth to twins, and I'll take them for you."

Charity, who was eating meat skewers, choked in shock, "Mom, why are you...?"

Before Charity could finish her words, she saw Mrs. Robbins looking at Suzie and her cold eyes. Suddenly she understood.

She doesn't talk about her mother, even she is a little jealous.

Anyway, She doesn't plan on getting married.

If she does IVF earlier and gives birth to a baby, her body will recover more easily.

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2858

"Husband, you are willing to come back." Suddenly, Catherine's sour teasing sound came from her mouth.

Shaun walked in wearing a trench coat, his figure tall and straight in the night.

"Wife, you won't be jealous, right?" Shaun bent down and hugged Catherine, who was sitting on the rattan chair, with a smile on his handsome features,

"With such a beautiful wife, how can't I be willing to come back!"

Catherine deliberately said, "You stay with Chester half of the time every day, don't you feel ashamed to say?"

"Isn't this a special situation?" Shaun asked Catherine and her daughter while laughing. He nodded, and then explained to his wife, "Chester has been here by himself for a few months. It's very pitiful. Usually, apart from Kaiden, there is no one to talk to."

"Okay, I'm joking." Catherine squeezed the back of his hand, "If you want to accompany him, go accompany him, I saw Chester the day before yesterday, and I feel that others have changed a lot."

"Yes."

Freya also went, nodding in agreement, "No. I know why, I used to hate and hate this person, but now I feel very pitiful."

Ryan also said: "Tomorrow is Christmas Eve, don't his parents plan to come to see their son?"

"How is that possible?" Catherine said, "If it wasn't for Hank Jewell's madness, Chester's leg would still be saved."

"That being said, it's been so long after all, and even if he doesn't get along with Hank Jewell, Chester is his mother's biological child anyway, and his mother doesn't even care about asking?" Ryan lived in a happy family since he was a child, and it was difficult to understand that there were such cruel parents.

Shaun shook his head, "Don't mention it, his mother made a few phone calls, but the words are all blaming him for helping outsiders, and his mother's health is not very good, knowing that his son is lame and unreliable, he will definitely only be in the future. If she can rely on her husband, she will not come to see her son."

Freya nodded, "Last time I was shopping, I saw Cindy shopping jewels with a middle-aged woman. The woman was so similar, I think she bought a lot of things for Cindy, it should be Chester's mother..."

"There is something wrong. I don't care about Chester, but I treat Cindy as a treasure." Catherine looked contemptuous.

She always felt that Chester's parents were seriously ill, and their brains were abnormal. No wonder Chester used to be so cold-blooded when he did things.

Charity always listened silently and didn't say a word.

On the contrary, the more Mrs. Robbins listened, the deeper the sympathy in her eyes.

Early the next morning, Mrs. Robbins took Shaun to ask when to see Chester, and she planned to go with Charity.

So after breakfast, Shaun took Mrs. Robbins and Charity to the hospital.

Just a ten minute drive away.

When Charity was about to get out of the car, Shaun suddenly handed her a small gift box, "I'm going to buy something in the town later, you bring this to Chester."

"Is this an apple?" Charity Thinking that tonight is Christmas Eve.

Shaun nodded, "If it's inconvenient, forget it."

"Yes." Charity took it.

When she turned around and walked to the hospital with Mrs. Robbins, Shaun took out his mobile phone and sent Chester a message: [She is here.]

In the ward.

Chester quickly clumsily got up from the bed, "It's time to get in touch and walk."

"No, I haven't had breakfast yet." Kaiden was taken aback.

Chester gave him a deep look, "She's here."

Kaiden: "..."

Come on, your bitterness will finally come in handy.

It's time to pretend to be busy.

So, as soon as Charity came in, she saw on the grass a young man in a white hospital uniform who was struggling to walk with a cane, and the trousers next to him were empty.

When the wind blew, the empty trousers fluttered in the wind.

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2859

Looking at Chester from a distance, Charity stopped her legs.

Frankly speaking, there were too many legless people in that society. But every time Charity glanced at them, she felt very pitiful, and there was no excess emotion.

But that thin man with his back turned to her reminded her of Chester.

Charity felt as if something was blocked in her heart, and she was very uncomfortable.

Until the man staggered, his crutches flicked, and he fell to the ground in an embarrassed manner, revealing half of his angular face.

Mrs. Robbins exclaimed “Ah”, “This... This is Chester.”

After speaking, Mrs. Robbins ran up to help people, but when she realized that she was still carrying a lot of specialties, she hurriedly reminded her dazed daughter, “Eliza, hurry up and help this man.”

“Huh? Huh.” Charity woke up suddenly and walked over quickly.

Chester was still struggling desperately on the grass to stand up, but it was not that easy for a person without a leg. He finally got up a little and then fell down. In a hurry, the back of his hand burst into blue veins, and the hospital clothes were also covered with green grass.

A soft arm supported him.

Chester shook her off without turning his head, and said rudely, “Don’t touch me, I’ll stand up by myself.”

“What if I want to help you?” Charity held his arm, where she lost a lot of weight. She remembered Chester still had muscles.

The familiar female voice made Chester's heart skip a beat, but his face showed panic, hesitation, overwhelm and more emotions. In the end, his handsome face was full of embarrassment, "Why are you suddenly here?"

"Shaun didn't follow. What do you say?" Charity looked at the man in front of her without blinking.

It's still the same face, but it seemed to be a lot more unfamiliar.

The last time she saw him was a few months ago, he had a wound on his face, and now the front line on his face has also been removed, leaving a finger-long scar at the corner of his eye. Some people have ugly scars, but to Chester. He said that his handsome appearance influenced a lot, but that scar made him feel a little more rebellious and wild.

In the past, Chester was very handsome, and his badness and wickedness were not superficial, but now, he subconsciously gives people a feeling of not being messed with.

It's just, looking down, that empty leg made people feel that he was very pitiful.

"Shaun...He said he had something to do in the morning, I thought he would come in the afternoon." Chester silently blocked his legs with his hands, but obviously it didn't work.

"Mr. Jewell!" Mrs. Robbins hurried over. If she had apologized to Chester before, now, that kind of apology has reached the extreme, and even her eyes are full of pity.

Such a good-looking man became like this in order to save her daughter.

No matter if it was a huge grievance before, Mrs. Robbins felt that there was no need to care about it anymore.

Mrs. Robbins: "Eliza, quickly help Mr. Jewell in and sit."

“No, I can walk by myself. The doctor said that I have to walk more, and I can’t lie down all the time, otherwise my body will decline.” Chester said as he wanted to bend over to pick up a cane.

But Charity was faster than Chester, she put the crutches into his palm.

When the two hands touched, Charity found that there were some thick calluses on his fingers, which should have been left by practicing walking with crutches recently.

“Why are you alone here, Kaiden?” Charity asked with a frown.

“Kaiden’s going to help me make breakfast.” Chester sighed lightly, “Today on Christmas Eve, people of this country is on holiday, and we have to cook by ourselves.”

Mrs. Robbins was surprised: “In such a big hospital, there is even one kitchen. If no one stays, what about the patient?”

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2860

“No way. In Christmas eve, except for the doctors and nurses on duty, most of them have gone back.” Chester explained, “This hospital is more advanced. Fortunately, the ward we live in has a kitchen, so we can ask someone to do it.”

Mr. Robbins: “It’s too much trouble.”

Mrs. Robbins is a mother who can’t stand the kind of young people who are lonely and lonely during festivals. Hearing Shaun talking about Chester’s unfeeling parents, she couldn’t bear to say, “Why don’t you spend the next two days with us!”

Chester was startled, and hurriedly shook his head, “No need, we’ll just do something ourselves. That’s alright, and the hospital won’t allow us to stay overnight.”

Mrs. Robbins: “You can come back after dinner. We live not far from here anyway, you see your friends are there.”

Mrs. Robbins said for a long time, Seeing Chester lowered his head, she said nothing.

She hurriedly gave Charity a wink.

Charity didn’t say a word, and Mrs. Robbins pinched her waist angrily, staring at her with warning eyes.

Charity was completely speechless.

But in this world, the one she owes the most was Mrs. Robbins, and the one she couldn’t refuse the most was Mrs. Robbins.

“My mother is right, you can go to the wooden house for dinner with us.”

Charity raised her head to persuade, “I’ll let Shaun take you back at night.”

“Forget it, I’ll be alone.” Chester said. Looking at his legs in disgust, “I look so scary, I don’t want to scare the children.”

“It’s not scary. I think it’s okay.” Charity was not used to his inferiority complex, and she didn’t even think about it to say.

“What’s wrong!” Chester said bitterly, “A few days ago, a child saw me and cried.”

“Nothing, that child is too timid.” Charity encouraged, “Let’s talk about it. You will go out sooner or later, you can’t stay in the hospital all your life.”

“That’s right.” Mrs. Robbins also agreed, “I think you can come with us later, come over after dinner, Charity, call Shaun and ask him to finish shopping and pick us up. “

Charity: “Okay.”

Charity walked aside, picked up the phone, and dialed Shaun.

Shaun was surprised, “I told Cathy about this before, but Cathy was afraid that you would mind, so I didn’t agree.”

“No, I have no opinion.” Charity was in a complicated mood, but she didn’t expect Catherine to care about her so much. If Mrs. Robbins hadn’t spoken, maybe Chester would have spent Christmas Eve alone.

“Then I’ll come over later.” Shaun thought for a while, and then added, “Eliza, I understand that you hate Chester very much. I don’t know what happened between the two of you, but I feel that it should not only be forced you to be as simple as that, but Chester has already been punished for becoming like this. His career is gone, his family is gone, and he doesn’t even have a healthy body. A proud person like him is almost completely broken. After taking his wings, I sincerely hope you don’t hate him anymore, after all, hating someone can be very tiring.”

Charity glanced at Chester, who was struggling to move his body on crutches, and whispered, “I don’t hate him anymore. He’s gone.”

Since Chester lost a leg to save Charity, she has completely let go of the past.

Maybe she sent herself to prison, but at that time, without Chester, there would also be Rodney, Shaun.

As for the death of her parents, it was caused by Sarah’s two siblings.

Chester's biggest mistake was that he trusted Sarah too much.

In fact, if Chester hadn't forced her to sleep with him, to be honest, she wouldn't have hated this person so much later.
