

LET ME GO, MR. HILL!

Chapter 2861

Prev ChapterNext Chapter

After finished talking with shaun, Charity hung up the phone.

She caught up with Chester.

Seemingly aware of what she was going to do, Chester turned back and reminded again, “Don’t help me, I have to learn to walk alone.”

Charity’s long eyelashes trembled quietly was it because he could only rely on himself in the future?

“No, you are so rich, you can find a servant to push you.” Charity said.

Chester laughed lowly at himself, “Don’t the servant have his own family and his own affairs, and he can’t be with me 24 hours a day.”

Charity was silent for a while.

It seemed to be the case.

Chester squinted his eyes. His eyes were bleak, “Even if it’s Kaiden, he has to get married and have children, how can it be possible to surround me every day! Even if I give more money, he can’t stand to be with me all year round. After all he’s a man.”

Mrs. Robbins couldn’t bear it anymore, so she said, “Don’t say that, you’re still young, you can find someone else and get married and have children and someone will take care of you.”

Chester: "Forget it, I'm like this, don't be a drag...I'm gone."

dev=tl

Chester sighed, "The purpose of getting married and having children is to give each other happiness, not to let them take care of a disabled person like me. Anyway, I still have hands and feet, and when I can learn to walk by myself, I will install prosthetic limbs. You can live a good life by yourself."

Charity gave him a deep look.

Now Chester's face is disheartened.

She couldn't understand a little that Chester was pretending, or was it real.

If it is said to be installed, it is like this, so it should not be possible to install it.

When Chester arrived at the ward where he was staying, Kaiden had already cooked a piece of pasta clumsily, and the batter was a little bit burnt.

After Mrs. Robbins saw it, she was surprised: "Is this thing edible? I won't get sick after eating it."

Kaiden's face flushed red, and he wanted to cry without tears.

He really didn't do it on purpose, it was the thoughtful Chester who arranged for him to do it as badly as possible.

In fact, he can cook well....

At this moment, Chester's soothing voice came from his ear, "I think it's alright, just follow the local customs and eat some food. It's really inconvenient to buy things in this place, Kaiden, bring it for me."

"Oh, alright." After Kaiden bit his head, he saw Chester holding the spoon and bowing his head and eating directly.

What.....

He had tasted it himself, and it was very unpalatable.

“Don’t eat it.” Charity moved the plate away, “I’ll make you a bowl of noodles.”

“Yes.” Mrs. Robbins nodded quickly, “The pasta made by Eliza will be delicious. Eliza, hurry up. Go and do it again for Young master Jewell.”

“Don’t be so troublesome...” Chester reached for the plate, but Charity had already thrown it into the trash can.

Chester frowned and looked at her helplessly.

Charity ignored him, rolled up her sleeves and went to the kitchen to look at the ingredients.

Mrs. Robbins hurriedly took out the souvenirs she had called, “It’s not something valuable, but it’s all from our hearts. These mushrooms and honey are native products of my hometown and taste authentic.”

“Auntie, you are a thousand miles away. It’s too polite to take it all the way.” Chester looked sincerely grateful.

“Don’t say that, you are Eliza’s savior, this is what we should do.” Mrs. Robbins was very apologetic, “We are all sorry to see you like this.”

“Don’t say that, I hurt Eliza. Too much, this is all retribution.” Chester touched his legs with relief, “This may be a relief now, at least in the dead of night, I won’t lose sleep because of Eliza’s pain and regret.”

Mrs. Robbins Complicated, her lips moved slightly.

Chester squeezed out a bright smile, “It’s my fault that I met Eliza too late, I used to not know how to love someone. In the eyes of my parents, I’m just a tool that can bring them benefits and money. I’m a ba*tard, selfish, relying on my identity, do whatever I want, love, I understand too late, when I can understand, I have already hurt Eliza in a mess.”

As Chester said, he lowered his eyes lonely, covered with thick eyelashes
Look at the bottom of the eye.

“Auntie, you also persuade Eliza to let her find a good man earlier. Not all men are like me and Monte. There are still many good men in this world, and she deserves better.”

Chester’s words were extremely forbidding, and his voice trembled slightly.

Mrs. Robbins’s eyes were red.

This child was so pathetic.

Mrs. Robbins: “Okay, auntie understands that you are at fault, but the most wrong thing is to love someone you don’t understand. Well, after all, your parents will never fail to guide you to establish correct values since you were a child, so it is said that people What’s the use of having money, even children can’t educate them well.”

“Really, this is the first time someone has told me such a thing.” Chester looked like he was just waking up from a dream.

Kaiden, who was on the side, didn’t even see that look. If there is an Oscar trophy, he must award one to Chester.

It was only a few minutes before Mrs. Robbins felt so sorry for Young master Jewell.

But thinking about Young master Jewell's direction was right, instead of trying to please the other, it was better to spend more effort on conquering Mrs. Robbins.

Charity listened to Mrs. Robbins's words very much.

Some thoughts, Kaiden did not understand.

But Chester knew very well in his heart that Charity had taken Eliza's body and felt very guilty towards Mrs. Robbins. He always felt that he owed Mrs. Robbins a daughter.

In this world, Mrs. Robbins's words in front of Charity were worth ten words by others.

Therefore, Chester made up his mind that to win over Mrs. Robbins's heart, it was undoubtedly the best way to be pitiful.

When Charity cooked two plates of beef stick spaghetti and brought it over, Mrs. Robbins's attitude seemed to have almost treated Chester as her own son.

"Hurry up and eat, our charity's cook is really good." Mrs. Robbins said with a smile, "Kaiden, you can eat it too."

Kaiden was hungry and was about to take it and start it.

The cold Chester swept over with a dark look.

Forehead.....

Kaiden, who could read his eyes, could only bite the bullet and wave his hand, "No... no need, I just ate the pasta I cooked myself, let young master Jewell eat less."

Chester was simply too ruthless and stingy.

It was not enough to taste the craftsmanship of other girls.

In that case, don't blame him for being rude, two bowls of pasta, be careful to spoil it.

"If I knew you had eaten, I wouldn't make so much." Charity was a pity.

"No, I'm just hungry, I should be able to finish it all." Chester moved both plates over.

Just kidding, it was the first time Charity made breakfast for Chester, so Chester wouldn't let others eat it.

After Chester tasted it, he did not expect it to be so delicious.

Of course, it may also be that Chester loves her and feels satisfied as long as he eats what she cooks.

The two large plates of pasta were all eaten cleanly by him.

Although he was full, it seemed that Chester had lived in his thirties and had eaten such delicious food for the first time.

"Don't hold on to yourself." Charity reminded strangely, looking at the plate she was eating.

"No, it's delicious, especially delicious." Chester burped his stomach abruptly as soon as he finished his praise.

It was eerily quiet all around.

For the first time, Chester's embarrassed ears warmed.

He tried to control it, but the second hiccup came out again.

It was rare for Charity to see his embarrassed face turning red, and she couldn't help but "puchi" a smile, it was really like the sun came out from the west.

"What's so funny." Mrs. Robbins rolled her eyes at her, "Chester, Auntie will pour you a glass of water."

“No, Auntie, let Kaiden... hiccup...” Chester couldn’t even speak.

He covered his forehead in frustration.

That look made Charity couldn’t help but laugh.

The crisp laughter and bright smile made Chester in a trance. He really hadn’t seen Charity’s smile so happily in a long time.

Mrs. Robbins couldn’t help but laugh.

Before Chester, in her eyes, always felt that he was a high-ranking person. With such a commotion, she seemed to be getting closer in an instant.

“By the way, Charity, what about the apple you took just now?” Mrs. Robbins suddenly asked.

Charity then remembered the small box that Chester gave her. She hurriedly found it and handed it over, “Shaun asked me to give you the apple.”

Chester automatically ignored the word “Shaun” and carefully After taking it, he put it in his arms.

50 minutes later, Shaun drove his car to pick Chester up.

After Chester and Kaiden got into the car, Shaun drove the car back to the wooden house.

On the lawn outside the wooden house, Catherine and Freya lay pampered on the chairs to bask in the sun, while Ryan brought three children to play alone.

“Ryan, it’s hard work.” Shaun joked, “You see that your child is so good, let Freya give birth to one for you.”

dev=tl

Freya pouted and said, “I don’t want to have one.

“It doesn’t matter, I have Dani. That’s enough.” Ryan quickly said with a doting face.

dev=tl

Freya was instantly moved, and when she thought of what Ryan said just now, she suddenly felt guilty, “Ryan, you are so kind.”

“Freya, it hurts to give birth to a baby.” Ryan rubbed her little face, “Would you like to be reborn? It depends on your own wishes.”

Freya: “Don’t worry, you are so good to me, and you treat Dani as your own. When we get married in the future, I will definitely be reborn.”

Freya looked up at Chester, Chester really was so kind to her and put her first in everything.

How can someone who loves you so wholeheartedly always make him pay?

What’s more, in his capacity, even if he doesn’t mind, the Prime minister and his wife will not agree to not have a biological child in the future.

Ryan stared at Freya dotingly, but said nothing.

A wave of dog food spread in the yard invisibly.

Not to mention Chester, a single dog, who ate dog food coldly, even Shaun, a married one, had sour teeth.

Speaking of this kind of heart, Shaun was really not as good as Ryan.

What was the retreat to advance.

People were really good at playing.

Shaun couldn't help but glanced at Chester in the wheelchair and whispered, "Look at others, as long as you have his emotional intelligence, you won't make yourself look like this ghost, tsk.... "

Yes, if you have it, you won't be confused by Sarah's memory." Chester reminded coolly.

Shaun: "..."

Chester suddenly said: "Speaking of which, if it weren't for you, would I have provoke a vicious woman like Sarah? I'm so unlucky."

Shaun was shot again, "Is it too late for me to push you back to the hospital now?"

"No." Chester said, and greeted Catherine and Freya gently, "Didn't I disturb you?"

"No, welcome. "Catherine joked, "You can come here, lest Shaun run over to you on Christmas Eve."

"Someone is jealous." Shaun hugged his wife.

"I'm not jealous, I'm afraid the child will miss you." Catherine said softly.

Chester choked on the dog food again. He couldn't help but look back at Charity.

Charity, who noticed his gaze, seemed to know what he was thinking, and said calmly: "Isn't it just dog food? you'll get used to it."

Mrs. Robbins said, “What kind of dog food can you eat, you guys are unmarried. Unmarried women, don’t you know how to find the other half by yourself?”

Chester whispered, “I don’t care, but Eliza can think about it.”

“What are you thinking about, My daughter just wants artificial insemination to have a child.” Mrs. Robbins blurted out.

“Artificial insemination?”

Chester, Shaun, Ryan, three big men, cast a stunned and surprised look at Charity.

Catherine and Freya were quite calm, after all, they had heard it from Charity before.

“What’s wrong with artificial insemination?” Freya shouted: “Nowadays, there are too many sc*mbags, it’s better to go to the father and keep the child, so that after the child is born, he has to take care of the man to take care of the child. Taking care of the child is natural. Man, why is it, the problem is that it is still thankless.”

Catherine nodded in agreement, “I read a news a few days ago that a woman quit her job and took up the responsibility of taking care of the family’s children at home. After the children grow up, the husband is tired of it. Now, he kicked his wife away and raised a mistress outside, and when it was over, he gave his ex-wife tens of thousands of dollars in divorce fees, tsk tsk, find a nanny outside to clean up, and she can earn at least $3,000 a month.”

Freya: “Now his wife has to warm the bed, do hygiene, and has children. I have come here and have experience with this.”

Ryan bit the bullet and said, “My dear, I’m not that kind of person.”

dev=tl

“Who I know.” Freya snorted, “Whether you treat me well or not, we won’t know until the day I die, when the coffin is covered.”

dev=tl

At this time, Catherine said with a half-smile, “I’m here too. You see, I raised my two children by myself until they were three years old. As soon as I came back, some people would fight with me for custody. The most difficult three years for the children were vacancies, and some people would leave for no reason. A baby who can wear clothes and go to the toilet.”

Freya gave Shaun a sideways look, “I helped Lucas and Suzie too at that time, and I didn’t sleep all night every night.”

Shaun’s scalp trembled. He didn’t understand why the topic was so crooked, and it finally became his criticism conference.

In order to keep his position, Ryan also stood up and criticized righteously: “Brother Hill, this is not yours. Miss Jones, if I knew you at that time and you were a friend of Freya, I would definitely won’t let him bully you like this.”

Freya gave him a look of “you know each other”.

Shaun’s eyes widened. This person was drinking with him last night, and he betrayed him in the blink of an eye. Is he still human?

He had to look at the rest of the people, praying that someone could say a few words for him.

When his eyes fell on Chester, Chester lowered his head silently, reducing his sense of existence.

But this topic made Charity a little bit moved.

“That...can I be twins?”

“Twins, triplets are fine.” Seeing that Shaun successfully changed the subject, he took out his mobile phone quite cooperatively, “I’ll recommend my friend’s whatsapp to you. You can ask him any questions if you don’t understand. If you prepare today this year, maybe you will be able to welcome your two babies next year.”

“Thank you...” Charity received the business card recommendation from him, and quickly Click through.

When Chester next to her saw it, a dark light flashed in the depths of his eyes.

It wasn’t until he pretended to go into the house to drink water that he pushed Shaun aside in annoyance, “D*mn, who asked you to recommend her what to do with test tube babies, do you know that test tube babies are very painful for girls?”

“Tsk, are you heartbroken that others suffer, or are you heartbroken that she’ll pregnant with another man’s child?” Shaun teased.

Chester glared at Shaun angrily, "Of course there are. Why are you so diligent in recommending that your friend will give you a referral fee?"

"Who told you not to speak for me just now?" Shaun gloated lightly. With a laugh, he said, "You don't know how aggrieved I was just now?"

"How can I talk to you, Charity, she... Eliza, she..." Chester blurted out in a hurry, and suddenly Realizing that he made a mistake, he quickly changed her name, but Shaun had already noticed it.

Shaun: "Wait, what did you just say, Charity..."

"Shaun, you heard it wrong." Chester's face darkened, and he quickly denied it.

dev=tl

"No, I heard it right." Shaun's mind turned quickly, he had thought that Chester's feelings for Eliza were too strange, and his wife seemed to know something, but she refused to tell him that he In fact, he has been very curious for a long time, "You said Charity is Charity, but why did you call Eliza Charity just now?"

"I'm talking about thinking." Chester refused to admit it.

"No, what you're talking about is Charity!" Shaun raised his eyebrows, "I always feel that you are hiding something from me. If you don't tell me the truth, I'll tell Eliza that Chester has no heart for her, and now it's on purpose. Playing pitiful, let me play along..."
