

Let me go, Mr Hill By Shallow South Chapter 2921

Charity managed to deal with Mrs. Robbins, and then pushed Chester out. Looking at the haggard man in front of her, she felt very complicated.

Although Charity promised to get back together with him before. But she still hasn't fully figured out how to get along with Chester.

In the past few days, she took advantage of the fact that Mrs. Robbins had just finished her operation and ignored Chester, but Chester came to the door by himself.

"Charity, I just want to see how my auntie is recovering." Chester pursed his thin lips lightly, and after a pause for two seconds, he said softly, "And...I miss you too, you...."

Chester wanted to ask "Do you miss me", but he still choked the words in his mouth with self-knowledge.

Charity: "..."

She felt like a dumb machine, she suddenly didn't know how to express herself when faced with such love words.

"Cough, Charity, you won't go back on your word, will you?" Chester stretched out his hand, and gently cupped her injured hand nervously, "You can't count your words. Let me tell you, my heart is fragile now, no I must be able to bear it."

"I have no regrets." Charity looked at his tender and handsome face with complicated emotions, "I'm just not used to your appearance."

When the two were together before, Chester was always cold and dignified appearance, he suddenly became like... licking a dog, making her wonder what to do with him.

"What's wrong with me?" Chester was stunned, "You don't want me to humiliate you, scold you like before, or treat you like a little girl like when you were 18 years old."

"No, I'm not a masochist." Charity was speechless, "I haven't figured out how to get along with you, so I'm not used to it."

“It’s okay, I’ll get used to it slowly, as long as you don’t break up with me.”
Chester smiled, looked at her hands and said, “Does your hands still hurt?
When will the stitches be removed?”

Charity: “The doctor said it will be dismantled today.”

Chester: “Let’s go, I’ll go with you.”

After Chester finished speaking, Charity glanced at his wheelchair in disgust and sighed, “You still want to go with me like this? Forget it, you go back to the ward to rest, I’ll go by myself.” She added, “I’ll push you away later, even more tired, let’s talk about our affairs after we leave the hospital, okay?”

“Okay.” Chester was very disappointed, but thinking of being able to hold hands and kiss her after he was discharged from the hospital, he cheered up all of a sudden.

Charity looked at his lonely and bright eyes for a while, expressing that she couldn’t understand what he was thinking.

After Mrs. Robbins was finally discharged from the hospital, Chester was also discharged.

After moving back home from the hospital, Charity felt that she was too tired. After a good night’s sleep, she was still woken up by the phone call.

What surprised her was that the call was from Cindy.

“Charity, have you and Hugo sold the shares in FYG Videos?” Cindy’s voice was extremely gloomy.

Charity was taken aback, she was too busy recently, and forgot to sell the shares. She arranged for an assistant to announce the news in the past two days, “Yes.”

“Why didn’t you tell me before?” Cindy asked. She was half dead with anger. After the news of the cooperation between KC Technology and FYG Videos spread, the stock price soared for a few days at first. When she wanted to take back the management rights and increase financing, who knew that Charity and Hugo would sell the shares without a word.

After this incident broke out, it obviously had a bad influence on the outside world. The outside world thought that the prospect of FYG Videos was not so good, which caused the stock price to plummet today.

What makes Cindy even more depressed is that some investors who originally agreed to invest in FYG Videos changed their minds.

Now she didn't even answer the phone.

Cindy blamed all of this on Charity.

"You are too insidious. The trick you played with Hugo has deceived all the shareholders." Cindy said and she was extremely angry.

Charity took the pillow and leaned back, and smiled casually, "Cindy, shopping malls are like battlefields, who cares about courtesy before soldiers, businessmen are all interested in the interests at hand. Let me tell you the truth, I don't want to cooperate with you. I can also see your ambition for FYG videos. You want to manage power and you want to expand FYG videos, that is your business. To be honest, I'm not optimistic at all."

Cindy said coldly: "Now FYG Videos is developing and its momentum is very strong. There are a lot of users, and it has great prospects. Didn't you invest in it at the beginning? And if you quit now, you'll regret it."

"The shopping mall is not as easy as you think, and I don't regret it. If you sincerely wish that I can lead FYG Videos to a higher level. Anyway, I have almost earned enough money." Charity said lightly, "It's just that I'm afraid you won't go so well."

Cindy asked: "What do you mean?"

Charity smiled, "For more than a year, Chester was not around, and you really swelled up next to Hank Jewell and his wife. Cindy, do you think that Hank Jewell can be easily dealt with if a leg is broken, so you are not afraid, and dare to provoke only."

Cindy's heart skipped a beat, and then she remembered that she had taken off like that a few nights ago, but Chester still pushed her away, her face turned red with anger. "Did Chester tell you something? Eliza, don't be shameless. You kept saying that Chester hurt you and humiliated you, Did you remember how he was scolded on the internet back then? and in the end, you didn't fall in love with him in the end. You are so disgusting.”

“No matter how disgusting I am, I'm not as disgusting as you! People eat unclean things, and they refuse to touch you when you take off your clothes.” Charity couldn't help mocking. She added, “That's fine. Don't you look down on Chester now? I think he is a cripple but in order to enter the wealthy circle, I have to crawl on the bed of this cripple. And I've to say you are really dedicated, but you are not professional, and you are not willing to lose your mind at all.”

Cindy said, “Eliza, you have said enough. Do you think Chester really likes you? It's wrong. He just hasn't been new to you. I know what kind of person he is better than anyone else.”

After Cindy hung up the phone, She was actually quite uneasy. Could it be that she couldn't get in touch with investors recently because she offended Chester.

She hurriedly dialed the number of a politician's wife, who was always well-informed, and she usually gave gifts, but the phone was not answered, and she hung up directly.

After Charity washed up, she took another look at Levi.

Levi was still sleeping and his little face flushed from sleeping.

During this period of time, his cheeks grew a little longer, and his little face became more and more red and white.

Looking at that face, Charity secretly sighed. If Levi grew like this, he would probably look more and more like someone.

After kissing her son, Charity went downstairs.

In the kitchen, Chester's clear figure came out, “Charity, I learned how to cook with Nanny just now, and I made a bowl of wontons for you.”

Charity's eyes subconsciously couldn't help falling on his waistband, and she frowned instantly, “Now the pain is gone, can you still cook?”

Chester froze, "I can't just sit. I'm feeling much better."

Charity took the bowl, "Have you eaten?"

The first time Charity ate breakfast made by Chester.

She tasted a wonton, and Chester looked at her anxiously, "Nanny made the wontons, I just made a soup with bones, and cooked it..."

"You still use bones to make soup, it's extravagant." Charity smiled, "It tastes good."

Chester's heart finally dropped, he asked, "What are you doing today?"

"I haven't been to the company for a few days, I just need to go." Charity said.

After finishing speaking, Chester looked at her anxiously, "Are... what's the matter?"

Also Chester added, "You go, I will accompany Levi at home, but... do you want to go to a movie tonight? I remember that you liked watching youth romance movies..."

Charity said, "How long ago was that, and I got tired of falling in love."

After Charity finished speaking. Chester's face froze.

Chester blinked, as if saying something wrong again.

"Then...it seems that a popular overseas drama has been released recently, do you want to watch it?" Chester asked tentatively, "You see, you have been too tired recently and need to relax."

"Let's go." Mrs. Robbins came over and just heard what Chester said, "Chester is right. Charity, you are still so young and don't guard us every day, and you live like a house girl. Young people should be young for the event, we will look after it for you."

Charity thought about it, and readily agreed.

After eating, she went to the company.

She hadn't been there for a while, and the company had a lot of business. During the period, a reporter from the financial news came to interview her why she wanted to sell the shares of FYG Videos.

Charity didn't hide anything, when interviewed by reporters, she only said that she didn't agree with FYG Videos's future development concept, so she quit.

At 5:00 p.m., Chester contacted Charity, "I'm downstairs, come down."

Charity put on her coat and walked down. Chester's car was parked on the side of the road, and he was sitting in the car with a chic posture. The young girl couldn't stop looking back at him.

With him like this, no one would think that he had three legs and was missing two legs.

However, Charity nervously got into the driver's seat. Chester saw her worry, and quickly said, "Don't worry, I have a driver's license for the disabled, so it's fine."

Charity fell silent and let him drive. He took her to dinner.

She kept her head down and played with her mobile phone.

Until it got dark, the car stopped at the entrance of a relatively expensive western restaurant in the city.

Chester handed her a mask, "Big star, put on one."

Charity didn't want to cause trouble, so she got out of the car wearing the mask and went around to the driver's seat. Neatly, she reached out to help him.

Chester looked at her hand, and slightly hooked the corner of his mouth. After he got off the car, he didn't let go, and kept holding her in the palm of his hand.

Charity twitched her fingers, and if she couldn't get him out, she let him go.

The two walked into the western restaurant holding hands like other couples.

After entering the restaurant, Charity sat down first to send a message to her assistant, and Chester sat next to her then.

Charity glanced back at him, it was obviously a rectangular table, he didn't sit across from her, but sit next to her.

Chester took the menu from the waiter, lowered his head and asked her softly, "Charity, what do you want to eat? Do you want some dessert?"
